

From: Regina Ford
To: Court Of Appeals Filings
Subject: Emergency Motion to Stay and Notice of Appeal – Regina Ford v. Zack Alleyne – Case No. 2026CP2100023
Date: Tuesday, May 26, 2026 12:25:38 PM
Attachments: Email Letter.png
Bond to stay.pdf
1.5.2026Filing.pdf
appeal1.5.2026.pdf
Proof of Filing.pdf
Gmail - Lease Agreement.pdf
Order and November payment.pdf
Emergency motion to stay.pdf
Forma Pauperis.pdf

 EXTERNAL EMAIL: This email originated from outside the organization. Please exercise caution before clicking any links or opening attachments. ***

Emergency motion to stay.pdf
(1,836K)

Text messages that confirm Zack.pdf

Appellant Respectfully Submits that the eviction was granted based on text messages submitted by respondent concerning alleged late or missing payments but Theres additional written communication and documentation addressing these payments that the respondent Omitted there's records used only parts of the communication and that prior payment concerns had been cured,advance payment made in 2025 to stay ahead in Payments Appellant further states that advance payments made at the beginning of 2025 and agreements between the parties concerning payment arrangements and occupancy terms were not fully presented. Appellant prepared and presented a defense specifically addressing the allegation of nonpayment of November rent, which Appellant states had been timely paid and tendered. Appellant additionally disputes Respondent's characterization of the tenancy as month to month and states that documentary evidence exists supporting a long term tenancy arrangement and ongoing course of dealing.