APPEAL FROM SUMTER COUNTY
Court of General Sessions
R. Kirk Griffin, Circuit Court Judge

Appellate Case No. 2023-001586

The State of South Carolina,

Respondent,

v.

Diontrae Travon Epps,

Appellant.

PETITION FOR REHEARING

Appellant Diontrae Travon Epps respectfully petitions for rehearing pursuant to Rule 221(a), SCACR, on the basis that this Court overlooked and misapprehended material facts and principles of law in affirming his conviction and sentence. Specifically, Petitioner is requesting that this Court rehear the issues raised on appeal based on the following reasons:

(1) The Trial Court erroneously granted the State's motion for continuance to Appellant's detriment. (R. 47, lines 7-20). The Trial Court allowed the State to use the continuance as a shield and sword against Appellant by being able to admit additional and "voluminous" amount of untimely disclosed evidence at the subsequent trial (e.g., the Facebook video clip, medical diagram, and the list outlined in Court's Exhibit #4). (R. 253, line 6 – 254, line 21). See General Sessions Docket Management Order (S.C. Sup. Ct. dated May 24, 2023) (emphasis added); see Rule 5(c), SCRCrimP; Cf. State v. Price, 441 S.C. 423, 895 S.E2d 633 (James, J., dissenting) (noting "[w]e should not permit the State to resort to the judicial branch for relief from the State's own poor choices, as embarrassing as they may be for the State."); Cf. State v. Rowell, Op. No. 28215 (S.C. Sup. Ct. refiled on September 18, 2024) (noting "[t]he nature of the fox's disguise matters little to the chicken."). Notably, Defense Counsel repeatedly expressed his willingness to proceed with the original trial and his concern about the resulting prejudice created by a continuance. (R. 43, lines 2-8; R. 45, line 14 – 46, line 1; R. 46, lines 5-7; R. 110, lines 15-21; R. 115, lines 2-22; R. 925 – 933).

(2) The Trial Court erroneously denied Appellant's motion to dismiss despite it being the best remedy to correct the prior error in granting the continuance. (R. 254, line 22 – 256, line 3). The State's admission of its negligence in disclosing evidence to Appellant proves that a Brady violation occurred, and the unnecessary continuance rewarded that misconduct. (R. 235, lines 5-9). See Gibson, 334 S.C. at 528, 514 S.E.2d at 326 (citations omitted) (finding "[i]t does not matter whether the prosecutor's misconduct in failing to reveal Brady evidence is due to negligence or an intentional act because a court may find a Brady violation irrespective of the good faith or bad faith of the prosecutor.").

(3) The Trial Court erred in refusing to suppress the Facebook video clip of Appellant purportedly threatening Decedent because the untimely disclosure by the State resulted in unfair prejudice denying Appellant's right to a fair trial. See U.S. Const. amends. V, VI, XIV; S.C. Const. art. I, §§ 3, 14; Rule 5(d)(2), SCRCrimP. This unjust and unfairly prejudicial behavior will continue until the State suffers the appropriate consequences for their actions instead of benefiting from its admitted negligent actions. Therefore, the Trial Court failed to suppress the untimely disclosed evidence and failed to sanction the State for the egregious nature of the discovery violations. (State's Exhibit #1; R. 925 – 933).

(4) The Trial Court erroneously found that the State authenticated the Facebook video clip when the Decedent's girlfriend conceded that she did not create the video, did not know when the video was recorded, did not receive the video from the person who created it, did not know the individuals in the video, and agreed that it was not the complete video recording. (R. 285 – 288). See Rule 901(b), SCRE. Investigator McFadden admitted that he does not know who recorded the video and does not know when it was recorded. The erroneous admission of this prejudicial evidence was not harmless because it likely affected the outcome. Therefore, the Trial Court erred by admitting a Facebook video clip of Appellant purportedly threatening the Decedent because the State's witness did not have sufficient knowledge to authenticate the video. See Rule 901, SCRE.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing reasons, the Appellant respectfully requests that this Court grant the Petition for Rehearing.
