Good morning. My name is Natasha Foster. I am facing an immediate emergency.

A 24-hour Writ of Ejectment was posted on my door last week, and the execution window has already completely expired. The sheriff could arrive to set me out at any minute.

I have already formally filed my appeal, and it has been assigned to a case number. However, my Emergency Motion to Stay has not yet been signed by a judge.

I am a 7-year tenant. If the sheriff arrives before a judge looks at this, I will lose absolutely everything I own. I need to speak with the duty judge or file an Emergency Ex Parte Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order / Stay of Execution right now. I am also prepared to sign the undertaking to pay my rent into the court escrow account.

Thank you,

Natasha Foster
