TO: PLAINTIFF ABOVE-NAMED AND HER ATTORNEYS, CEZAR E. MCKNIGHT, ESQUIRE, AND KIMBERLY HODGE, ESQUIRE:

YOU WILL PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that Defendant Williamsburg County, by and through its undersigned attorney, will move before this Honorable Court upon ten (10) days’ notice or as soon thereafter as possible for an Order dismissing Plaintiff’s Complaint pursuant Rule 56 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The Defendant hereby submits this Motion on the basis that Defendant does not own, control, or maintain the premises where the alleged incident occurred, that Plaintiff has failed to produce evidence establishing any negligent act or omission by Williamsburg County or its employees, and that Williamsburg County is entitled to immunity under the South Carolina Tort Claims Act as a matter of law.

This action arises out of an alleged incident occurring at the Williamsburg County Economic Development Building (“Development Building”), located at 130 West Main Street, Kingstree, South Carolina. Plaintiff claims she slipped due to wet conditions at the entrance caused by rainfall (Complaint ¶ 9).

Defendant seeks summary judgment on the grounds that Plaintiff incorrectly alleges that Defendant Williamsburg County owns the Development Building and is responsible for any alleged hazardous condition at the entrance to the building. Plaintiff has offered no factual evidence to establish that Williamsburg County owns, controls, manages, or maintains the Development Building or the area where the alleged incident occurred.

Further, Plaintiff has failed to offer factual evidence of any affirmative negligent act by any employee of Williamsburg County. Accordingly, the statutory exception provided by § 15-78-60(8) 1 is directly applicable, granting immunity to Williamsburg County from Plaintiff's negligence claim.

This Motion is based upon the pleadings, any discovery which has been conducted in this case, the applicable statutory and case law, and South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. A Memorandum of Law, affidavits, and exhibits will be submitted in support of the motion.

Respectfully Submitted,

COMES NOW THE PLAINTIFF, by and through undersigned counsel, respectfully submits this Memorandum in Opposition to Defendant Williamsburg County's Motion for Summary Judgment pursuant to Rule 56, SCRCF. Defendant's Motion is procedurally premature, improperly shifts the Rule 56 burden, and ignores multiple genuine issues of material fact that preclude summary judgment as a matter of law.

INTRODUCTION

Defendant seeks summary judgment while simultaneously failing to respond to Plaintiff's outstanding discovery requests that go directly to the core issues raised in its Motion—namely ownership, control, maintenance, inspection, and statutory immunity. Rule 56 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure does not permit a party to obtain judgment as a matter of law by withholding evidence uniquely within its possession. For this reason alone, Defendant's Motion must be denied or continued pursuant to Rule 56(f), SCRCF.

Moreover, even setting aside the procedural defect, Defendant has failed to meet its heavy burden of demonstrating the absence of any genuine issue of material fact. The evidence and reasonable inferences, viewed in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, establish disputed issues concerning Defendant's control and maintenance of the premises, the existence of an unnatural accumulation of water, Defendant's failure to inspect or maintain the entrance, and the applicability of immunity under the South Carolina Tort Claims Act.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

Summary judgment is a drastic remedy that should be granted only when it is clear that no genuine issue of material fact exists and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. All evidence and reasonable inferences must be viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. The burden rests squarely on the moving party, and summary judgment is inappropriate where further inquiry into the facts is desirable or where discovery has not been completed. Furthermore, summary judgment is proper when the pleadings, depositions, affidavits, and discovery on file show there is no genuine issue of material fact such that the moving party must prevail as a matter of law. Williams v. Jeffcoat, Op. No. 28112 (S.C. Sup. Ct. September 18, 2024).

ARGUMENT

I. DEFENDANT'S MOTION IS PREMATURE AND BARRED BY RULE 56(f), SCRC

Defendant filed its Motion for Summary Judgment before responding to Plaintiff's duly served Interrogatories and Requests for Production. Those discovery requests seek information and documents exclusively within Defendant's possession, including ownership and control of the premises, maintenance and inspection policies, prior incidents, and design or drainage features of the entrance where Plaintiff fell.

Rule 56(f) allows for a court to deny a Motion for Summary Judgment so that discovery may be completed. Plaintiff has submitted a supporting Affidavit pursuant to Rule 56(f), South Carolina Rules Civil Procedure, establishing that she cannot present facts essential to justify her opposition because Defendant has failed to respond to discovery. South Carolina courts routinely deny or continue summary judgment under these circumstances. Defendant cannot refuse to produce discovery and then argue that Plaintiff lacks evidence. "Summary judgment much not be granted until the opposing party has had a full and fair opportunity to complete discovery." Baughman v. AT & T 306 S.C. at page 112.

Accordingly, Defendant's Motion should be denied or continued until discovery is completed.

II. GENUINE ISSUES OF MATERIAL FACT EXIST REGARDING OWNERSHIP, CONTROL, AND MAINTENANCE OF THE PREMISES

Defendant argues that it does not own, control, or maintain the Williamsburg County Economic Development Building. Ownership, however, is not the sole basis for premises liability under South Carolina law. Liability may arise from control, maintenance, or responsibility for the premises.

The building at issue is identified as a Williamsburg County facility, houses county services, and was being used by Plaintiff to conduct county business at the time of her fall. Whether Defendant exercised control or maintenance responsibilities over the premises is a factual issue that cannot be resolved on summary judgment—particularly in the absence of discovery responses addressing those issues.

III. GENUINE ISSUES OF MATERIAL FACT EXIST REGARDING NEGLIGENCE AND UNNATURAL ACCUMULATION

Defendant contends that Plaintiff's fall resulted solely from a natural weather condition. Plaintiff, however, has alleged and will present evidence that the water accumulation at the entrance was unnatural due to the design, configuration, and maintenance of the entrance area, as well as Defendant's failure to inspect and remedy hazardous conditions.

Whether an accumulation of water is natural or unnatural, whether the entrance design contributed to the hazard, and whether Defendant exercised reasonable care are classic questions of fact for a jury. These issues cannot be resolved as a matter of law at the summary judgment stage.

IV. STATUTORY IMMUNITY UNDER THE TORT CLAIMS ACT IS NOT ESTABLISHED AS A MATTER OF LAW

Defendant's reliance on S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-60(8) is misplaced. Immunity under that provision does not apply where a hazardous condition is affirmatively caused or exacerbated by negligent acts or omissions, including negligent design, inspection, or maintenance.

Plaintiff has alleged such affirmative negligence, and discovery is necessary to determine whether Defendant's acts or omissions contributed to the hazardous condition. The applicability of statutory immunity therefore presents disputed factual issues that preclude summary judgment.

V. ISSUES OF NOTICE, REASONABLENESS, AND FORESEEABILITY ARE FOR THE JURY

Whether Defendant had actual or constructive notice of the hazardous condition, whether its inspection procedures were reasonable, and whether the harm to Plaintiff was foreseeable are all questions for the jury. South Carolina courts consistently hold that such issues are ill-suited for summary judgment, particularly in premises liability cases.

CONCLUSION

Defendant has failed to meet its burden under Rule 56, SCRPC. Its Motion is premature due to outstanding discovery, improperly shifts the burden to Plaintiff, and ignores multiple genuine issues of material fact. For these reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests that this Court deny Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment or, in the alternative, continue the Motion pursuant to Rule 56(d), SCRCP, until discovery is completed.

Defendant Williamsburg County submits this memorandum in support of its Motion for Summary Judgment, filed pursuant to Rule 56(c) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, and would respectfully show unto the Court as follows:

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On or about October 12, 2023, Plaintiff traveled to the Williamsburg County Economic Development Building located at 130 West Main Street, Kingstree, South Carolina for the purpose of paying her water bill. See Complaint ¶ 7. Plaintiff alleges that there was significant precipitation in the form of rain, thus creating a hazardous condition whereby persons could fall and be injured, that the precipitation resulted in an unnatural accumulation of water that constituted a slipping hazard, and that the manner in which the entrance was arranged caused the Plaintiff to be distracted and thereby not being able to see unnatural accumulation of water. Id. at ¶¶ 9-11. Plaintiff claims that she slipped and fell on the unnatural accumulation of water and was severely injured. Id. at ¶ 12. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Williamsburg County was responsible for maintenance and upkeep of its facilities. Id. at ¶ 8. Security camera footage depicting the incident is provided herewith as Exhibit 1.

Plaintiff's claims are premised upon the allegation that Defendant Williamsburg County owned or controlled the premises and is therefore responsible for the alleged hazardous condition. However, the undisputed evidence demonstrates that Williamsburg County does not own, maintain, or control the Williamsburg County Economic Development Building or the entrance area where the alleged incident occurred.

The recorded deed for the property, attached hereto as Exhibit 2, establishes that on January 5, 2012, First Citizens Bank and Trust Company conveyed the property to Williamsburg County Development Corporation for consideration in the amount of $150,000. The deed was recorded on January 12, 2012. Williamsburg County Development Corporation is registered as a South Carolina nonprofit entity and is legally separate and distinct from Williamsburg County.

The evidence further demonstrates that Williamsburg County merely occupies interior office space within the building. Correspondence between representatives of the Williamsburg County Water Department and the Williamsburg County Development Corporation, attached hereto as Exhibit 3, reflects that the County was given the opportunity to occupy space within the building for a monthly payment of $1,000 covering rent, utilities, insurance, and maintenance. This correspondence confirms that Williamsburg County's presence within the building is that of a tenant rather than an owner or entity responsible for maintenance of the premises.

The Affidavit of Lane Mixon, attached hereto as Exhibit 4, further confirms that Williamsburg County does not own the building and does not maintain, manage, or control the entrance area where Plaintiff alleges the incident occurred. Rather, Williamsburg County leases interior office space within the building for use by the Williamsburg County Water and Sewer Authority.

Additionally, security camera footage depicting the incident is attached as Exhibit 1 shows Plaintiff entering the building while wearing high-heeled shoes. The footage does not depict Plaintiff slipping on water or any other substance on the floor. Instead, the video shows Plaintiff losing her balance while walking just inside the entrance of the building and falling without any observable slip. The video evidence therefore contradicts Plaintiff's allegation that a hazardous condition caused her fall.

Plaintiff filed this lawsuit asserting a single cause of action against Williamsburg County for negligence and recklessness. For the reasons set forth below, the County respectfully requests that the Court grant its Motion for Summary Judgment and dismiss Plaintiff's claims against it.

LEGAL STANDARD

A motion for summary judgment shall be granted if "the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Rule 56(c), SCRPC; see also Progressive Max Ins. Co. v. Floating Caps, Inc., 405 S.C. 35, 42, 747 S.E.2d 178, 181 (2013). "In determining whether any triable issues of fact exist, the trial court must view the evidence and all reasonable inferences that may be drawn therefrom in the light most favorable to the party opposing summary judgment." Progressive Max Ins. Co., 405 S.C. at 42, 747 S.E.2d at 181 ; Wachovia Bank, N.A. v. Coffey, 404 S.C. 421, 425, 746 S.E.2d 35, 38 (2013).

"The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Dawkins v. Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003) (citations omitted). "Once the party moving for summary judgment meets the initial burden of showing an absence of evidentiary support for the opponent's case, the opponent cannot simply rest on mere allegations or denials contained in the pleadings. . . . Rather, the nonmoving party must come forward with specific facts showing there is a genuine issue for trial.” Ellis v. Davidson, 358 S.C. 509, 518–19, 595 S.E.2d 817, 822 (Ct. App. 2004). “[W]hen plain, palpable, and indisputable facts exist on which reasonable minds cannot differ, summary judgment should be granted.” Id. at 518, 595 S.E.2d at 822. When the “success of the proposed actions is a question of law,” deciding that question on summary judgment “is appropriate.” Manning v. Quinn, 294 S.C. 383, 386, 365 S.E.2d 24, 25 (1988).

I. DEFENDANT WILLIAMSBURG COUNTY OWED NO DUTY BECAUSE IT DID NOT OWN OR CONTROL THE ENTRANCE WHERE PLAINTIFF FELL

To prevail on a negligence claim, Plaintiff must demonstrate the Defendant owed her a duty of reasonable care. Bishop v. S.C. Dep't of Mental Health, 331 S.C. 79, 502 S.E.2d 78 (1998). The existence or non-existence of a duty is a question of law. Jackson v. Swordfish Invs., LLC, 365 S.C. 608, 620 S.E.2d 54 (2005). “The law creates a legal duty to keep the same in repair and to operate properly such parts of the premises which the lessor reserves possession and control of for the common use of several tenants and this is peculiarly applicable to halls, entrances, porches or stairways of which no particular tenant has exclusive possession or control.” Cooke v. Allstate Management Corp., 741 F. Supp. 1205 citing Daniels v. Timmons, 216 S.C. 539 (1950). In the present case, the landlord/lessor maintains possession and control of the common area (side entrance/hallway) where Plaintiff was allegedly injured. Defendant owes no duty to Plaintiff because the injury occurred in a common area that Defendant did not own or control.

The recorded deed for the property located at 130 West Main Street, Kingstree, South Carolina, attached hereto as Exhibit 2, demonstrates that on January 5, 2012, First Citizens Bank and Trust Company conveyed the property to Williamsburg County Development Corporation for consideration in the amount of $150,000. Williamsburg County Development Corporation is a South Carolina nonprofit entity separate and distinct from Williamsburg County

The evidence further demonstrates that Williamsburg County merely occupies interior office space within the building. Correspondence attached as Exhibit 3 reflects that the County occupies space in the building for a monthly payment of $1,000 covering rent, utilities, insurance, and maintenance. This correspondence confirms that Williamsburg County's presence in the building is that of a tenant rather than an owner or entity responsible for maintenance of the premises.

Additionally, the Affidavit of Lane Mixon, attached as Exhibit 4, confirms that Williamsburg County does not maintain, manage, or control the entrance area where Plaintiff alleges the incident occurred

Here, the deed, correspondence, and affidavit of Lane Mixon conclusively establishes that Williamsburg County is not the titled owner of the premises, and Plaintiff has produced no evidence creating a genuine dispute of material fact regarding ownership or control of the premises.

Because Williamsburg County lacked possession or control over the entrance, it owed no duty to Plaintiff as a matter of law. Absent a duty, Plaintiff's negligence claim fails, and summary judgment should be granted.

II. THE COUNTY IS ENTITLED TO THE PROTECTIONS AFFORDED BY THE SOUTH CAROLINA TORT CLAIMS ACT, S.C. CODE ANN. § 15-78-10, et. seq.

Even assuming arguendo that Williamsburg County owed some duty, Plaintiff's claims are barred by the South Carolina Tort Claims Act. The South Carolina Tort Claims Act (the Act), S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-10, et. seq. (Supp. 2004), which provides the exclusive remedy in tort against the County, is a limited waiver of governmental immunity. Under the Act, "[t]he governmental entity is not liable for a loss resulting from ... snow or ice conditions or temporary or natural conditions on any public way or other public place due to weather conditions unless the snow or ice thereon is affirmatively caused by a negligent act of the employee.” S.C. Code. Ann. § 15-78-60(8) (emphasis added).

The Plaintiff’s Complaint expressly attributes the alleged hazardous condition at the entrance of the building to “significant precipitation in the form of rain”. See Complaint ¶ 9. Plaintiff alleges she slipped due to wet conditions caused by rain, and no evidence in the record establishes that any employee of Williamsburg County affirmatively created or contributed to the condition. The affidavit of Lane Mixon further confirms that Williamsburg County does not control or maintain the entrance. See Exhibit 4. Because liability under S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-60(8) requires an affirmative negligent act by a governmental employee, and none has been alleged or supported by evidence, the statutory exception applies and Williamsburg County is immune from liability as a matter of law.

The Tort Claims Act further mandates that its provisions “be liberally construed in favor of limiting the liability of the State.” S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-20(f). Applying that directive, and viewing the undisputed evidence in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, Williamsburg County is entitled to immunity from claims arising from temporary wet conditions attributable to rainfall. Accordingly, summary judgment should be granted and Plaintiff’s claims be dismissed.

III. THE ALLEGED RAINWATER WAS AN OPEN AND OBVIOUS CONDITION FOR WHICH WILLIAMSBURG COUNTY OWED NO DUTY

South Carolina courts have established that natural accumulations of water from rain, without more, do not create premises liability. In Young v. Meeting Street Piggly Wiggly, 288 S.C. 508 (1986), the Court of Appeals held that “Since it is impossible to keep commercial premises entirely free of tracked-in rain during bad weather, a merchant’s liability may not be based solely on the presence of moisture." The court noted that "the risk of harm imposed by some accumulation of water on the floor of business premises during rainy days is not unusual or unreasonable in itself, but is one to which all who go out on a rainy day may be exposed and which all may expect or anticipate."

This principle was recently applied in Pacicca v. Jackson, 2023 WL 8242180, at *3 (D.S.C. Nov. 28, 2023), where the federal district court granted summary judgment, finding that accumulated rainwater constituted an "open and obvious danger" where the plaintiff admitted "it was raining as she entered" and that "it (was) reasonable to expect that when it's raining outside, people can carry rainwater on the bottom of their shoes if they walk inside a building." The court held that "defendants had no duty to warn guests, including plaintiff, of open and obvious dangers, i.e., slipping associated with accumulated rainwater."

Here, Plaintiff alleges that the incident occurred during significant rainfall. See Complaint ¶ 9. Moisture tracked onto interior tile during active precipitation is a condition equally apparent to all entrants and does not give rise to liability.

Plaintiff attempts to avoid this rule by alleging that the arrangement of the entrance "distracted" her. However, conclusory allegations of distraction are insufficient. Plaintiff identifies no hidden defect, visual obstruction, or affirmative conduct by Williamsburg County that diverted her attention or rendered the condition unavoidable.

Because the alleged rainwater was open and obvious, Williamsburg County owed no duty as a matter of law and summary judgment should be granted.

IV. DEFENDANT HAD NO NOTICE OF ANY ALLEGED DEFECT OR DANGEROUS CONDITION

If Defendant is found to owe Plaintiff a duty, Plaintiff must prove that the Defendant had actual or constructive knowledge of the dangerous condition and failed to remedy it. Garvin v. Bi-

Lo, Inc., 343 S.C. 625, 628 (2001). In South Carolina a defendant will be charged with constructive notice whenever it appears that the condition has existed for such length of time prior to the injury that, under existing circumstances, he should have discovered and remedied it in the exercise of due care; conversely, absent evidence of such preexistence, the defendant may not be so charged. Olson v. Faculty House of Carolina, Inc., 344 S.C. 194, 206 (Ct. App. 2001).

Mr. Mixon, in his sworn affidavit, states that he had never received any complaints of the entrance to the building being slippery, nor was he aware of anyone (except for the plaintiff) having ever slipped or fallen at the entrance to the building. See Exhibit 4. Moreover, the video evidence attached as Exhibit 1, demonstrates that Plaintiff did not slip on any substance but instead lost her balance while walking in high-heeled shoes. Thus, Plaintiff cannot establish that any condition on the floor caused her fall. Defendant had no actual or constructive knowledge that the entrance to the building presented a dangerous condition. As a result, Defendant should be granted summary judgment on any purported notice theories of negligence.

V. PLAINTIFF'S RESPONSE IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT AND RULE 56(F) AFFIDAVIT DOES NOT RENDER SUMMARY JUDGMENT PREMATURE

On February 13, 2026, Plaintiff filed a Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment. In Plaintiff's Response in Opposition, Plaintiff asserts that Williamsburg County filed its Motion for Summary Judgment before responding to Plaintiff's First Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production. This assertion is incorrect.

Plaintiff served Interrogatories and Requests for Production on December 4, 2024. Defendant served its Answers to Plaintiff's Interrogatories and Responses to Plaintiff's Requests for Production on March 27, 2025, and produced responsive documents in accordance with the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, as reflected in the certificate of service attached hereto as Exhibit 5. Contrary to Plaintiff's assertions, Defendant has not withheld discovery and has complied with its discovery obligations.

Plaintiff's counsel never contacted Defendant's counsel to raise any alleged deficiency in these discovery responses, never served a deficiency letter, and never filed a motion to compel or otherwise sought relief from this Court prior to filing the present opposition. Instead, Plaintiff's Rule 56(f) affidavit is premised entirely upon the mistaken assertion that Defendant failed to respond to discovery, an assertion directly contradicted by the certificate of service and the record before this Court.

Out of an abundance of caution and in response to Plaintiff's opposition, Defendant's counsel re-served Defendant's previously produced discovery responses together with the original certificate of service confirming the March 27, 2025 production. This further demonstrates Defendant's ongoing cooperation in discovery and eliminates any claim that Plaintiff has been deprived of information necessary to respond to Defendant's Motion.

Moreover, on February 23, 2026, Plaintiff served Supplemental Interrogatories, and Defendant intends to serve timely responses. The existence of ongoing discovery does not render a properly supported motion for summary judgment premature. Rule 56(b), SCRCPP, expressly permits a defending party to move for summary judgment "at any time."

Here, Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment and accompanying affidavit of counsel pursuant to Rule 56(f), SCRCPP rests on an incorrect factual premise, namely that Defendant failed to respond to discovery, and does not identify any specific evidence that would alter the purely legal issues raised in Defendant's Motion. Because the record establishes that Defendant has not withheld discovery and has complied with its discovery obligations, Plaintiff's procedural objection provides no basis to deny summary judgment

For the reasons set forth herein, Williamsburg County requests that the Court grant its Motion for Summary Judgment and dismiss the Plaintiff's claims against it, with prejudice.

Respectfully submitted this the 6th day of March, 2026.

Subject: Old Exchange Bank Building

Mr. McGill,

On behalf of Williamsburg County Water & Sewer Authority, I would like to say thank you for the opportunity for our Department to occupy a part of "the old Exchange Bank building". This building has all of the right ingredients for this County Department to conduct business in a professional and convenient manner for our customers, especially the drive thru window.

With that being said, I have spoken to Walt Ackerman, Williamsburg County Director of Finance, regarding the lease for our occupied portion of the old bank building, and he and I have agreed to offer the Williamsburg County Development Corporation $1,000/month for rent, utilities, insurance, and maintenance. We both feel this amount is fair to the County and the Cooperation, as I have compared it to similar square footage leases elsewhere in the town limits of Kingtree.

Furthermore, it is my understanding that the Williamsburg County Water & Sewer Authority moved into this building on May 14, 2012; therefore, we also expect to pay the Cooperation back rent for the previous 16 months. However, we suggest this figure be reduced by the following building maintenance expenditures that this Department has incurred since occupying the building.

Custom Sign & Graphics (outdoor sign and clock)	$1,225.25
Diebold (drive thru speaker repair)	$1,971.97
Giles Plumbing (sewage backup)	$225.00
Johnson Fire Safety Systems (fire extinguisher maintenance)	$277.67
	$3,699.89

Therefore, the total back rent due through September 14th should be $16,000.00 - $3,699.89 = $12,300.11. This should help offset your future cost of some necessary roof repairs that Spann Roofing is expected to complete soon.

Please let me know if the Corporation is agreeable to this offer and we will begin payment asap.

Sincerely,

	)	PROPOSED ORDER GRANTING
vs.	)	DEFENDANT WILLIAMSBURG
	)	COUNTY'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY
Williamsburg County,	)	JUDGMENT
Defendant.	)

This motion came before the Court on March 11, 2025, upon Defendant Williamsburg County's Motion for Summary Judgment. Cezar McKnight appeared on behalf of Plaintiff; Lindsey Birchmore appeared on behalf of Defendant. After reviewing the memoranda submitted by the parties; considering the applicable statutes, rules, case law, and other legal authorities; hearing the oral arguments; and taking the evidence in the light most favorable to Plaintiff as the non-moving party, the Court GRANTS Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, and this case is hereby dismissed with prejudice.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Pursuant to Plaintiff's Complaint, on or about October 12, 2023, Plaintiff traveled to the Williamsburg County Economic Development Building located at 130 West Main Street, Kingstree, South Carolina for purposes of paying her water bill. Plaintiff claims that there was significant precipitation in the form of rain, thus creating a hazardous condition whereby persons could fall and be injured, that the precipitation resulted in an unnatural accumulation of water that constituted a slipping hazard, and that the manner in which the entrance was arranged caused the Plaintiff to be distracted and thereby not being able to see unnatural accumulation of water.

Plaintiff claims that she slipped and fell on the unnatural accumulation of water and was severely injured. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant Williamsburg County was responsible for maintenance and upkeep of its facilities.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On December 5, 2024, Plaintiff filed her Summons and Complaint. Contemporaneous to its Answer, Defendant moved to dismiss Plaintiff's claims pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. Defendant's motion came before the Court on May 29, 2025 and was denied by Form 4 Order on June 2, 2025 to allow for additional discovery. On February 11, 2026, Defendant filed its Motion for Summary Judgment and the motion came before the Court on March 11, 2025.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

A motion for summary judgment shall be granted if "the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Rule 56(c), SCRPC; see also Progressive Max Ins. Co. v. Floating Caps, Inc., 405 S.C. 35, 42, 747 S.E.2d 178, 181 (2013). "In determining whether any triable issues of fact exist, the trial court must view the evidence and all reasonable inferences that may be drawn therefrom in the light most favorable to the party opposing summary judgment." Progressive Max Ins. Co., 405 S.C. at 42, 747 S.E.2d at 181 ; Wachovia Bank, N.A. v. Coffey, 404 S.C. 421, 425, 746 S.E.2d 35, 38 (2013).

"The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Dawkins v. Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003) (citations omitted). "Once the party moving for summary judgment meets the initial burden of showing an absence of evidentiary support for the opponent's case, the opponent cannot simply rest on mere allegations or denials contained in the pleadings. . . . Rather, the nonmoving party must come forward with specific facts showing there is a genuine issue for trial." Ellis v. Davidson, 358 S.C. 509, 518–19, 595 S.E.2d 817, 822 (Ct. App. 2004). "[W]hen plain, palpable, and indisputable facts exist on which reasonable minds cannot differ, summary judgment should be granted." Id. at 518, 595 S.E.2d at 822. When the "success of the proposed actions is a question of law," deciding that question on summary judgment "is appropriate." Manning v. Quinn, 294 S.C. 383, 386, 365 S.E.2d 24, 25 (1988).

DISCUSSION and CONCLUSION

The Court has reviewed and considered: the pleadings and filings of record, including Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment; Defendant's Memorandum in Support; Plaintiff's Response in Opposition; all accompanying Exhibits and Affidavits; and the arguments presented. Based upon this review, the Court finds there are no genuine issues of material fact requiring resolution by a factfinder.

The undisputed evidence establishes that Defendant Williamsburg County is not the owner of the premises and at the time of this incident did not maintain, manage, or control the entrance area where the incident allegedly occurred. Based on the undisputed evidence of ownership and control, the Court concludes as a matter of law that Williamsburg County owed no duty to Plaintiff with respect to the entrance area at issue. Plaintiff, in an attempt to create a disputed fact, submitted an Affidavit from Ms. Ruby McKnight. However, Ms. McKnight states that her employment with Williamsburg County ended in 2020, which was three years before the incident. Therefore, her statements are not relevant to the facts presented.

Additionally, in light of the undisputed weather-related, temporary condition and the absence of any affirmative negligent act by a County employee, the Court concludes that Williamsburg County is immune from liability under the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-60(8). Summary judgment is warranted on this independent ground.

Plaintiff alleges the incident occurred during significant precipitation, and the County's memorandum asserts that moisture tracked into the entrance was a condition equally apparent to all entrants. The Court concludes that the alleged condition of tracked-in rainwater was open and obvious and does not, without more, impose liability on Williamsburg County. Summary judgment is appropriate on this ground as well.

Defendant's certificates of service reflect that it served its Answers to Plaintiff's First Set of Interrogatories and Responses to Plaintiff's First Set of Requests for Production on March 27, 2025, and re-served the responses with the original certificates after Plaintiff filed her Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment. Plaintiff's opposition asserted that the motion was premature due to alleged outstanding discovery, but that assertion is contradicted by the record. The Court finds no procedural basis to deny or defer ruling on the motion.

The undisputed evidence establishes that Plaintiff has failed to present admissible evidence creating a genuine issue of material fact under Rule 56, SCRCPP. See Rule 56(e), SCRCPP; see also Lord v. D & J Enterprises, Inc., 407 S.C. 544, 553, 757 S.E.2d 695, 699 (2014) ("The initial responsibility may be discharged by pointing out to the trial court that there is an absence of evidence to support the non-moving party's case. . . . Once the moving party carries its initial burden, the opposing party must do more than rest upon the mere allegations or denials of [the opposing party's] pleadings . . ."); Kitchen Planners, LLC v. Friedman, 440 S.C. 456, 460, 463-65, 892 S.E.2d 297, 300, 301 (2023) (rejecting "mere scintilla" standard for Rule 56(c), SCRCPP, summary judgment motions and reiterating that "it is not sufficient for a party to create an inference that is not reasonable or issue of fact that is not genuine” (quotation omitted)).

Accordingly, the Court finds that Defendant has met its burden under Rule 56, SCRPC, and that Defendant is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Defendant’s Motion for Summary Judgment is GRANTED.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

2 THE COURT: Looks like No. 5 will be the next
3 up. That's Young versus Williamsburg County.

4 MS. BIRCHMORE: Lindsay Birchmore on behalf
5 of Williamsburg County.

6 THE COURT: All right. I got you.
7 David Anderson?

8 MS. BIRCHMORE: I'm with David Anderson.
9 We're in the same office.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Who's on the other side?
11 Hodge? McKnight?

12 MR. McKNIGHT: Here, Your Honor. Good
13 morning. How are you, sir?

14 THE COURT: Fine.
15 What you all got?

16 MS. BIRCHMORE: Your Honor, may it please the 17 Court. I represent the defendant, Williamsburg
18 County. We're here today on our motion for summary
19 judgment.

20 THE COURT: All right. We got everybody we 21 need, fire away.

22 MS. BIRCHMORE: Thank you, Your Honor.

23 So this case arises from a slip and fall that 24 plaintiff alleges occurred while entering the 25 Williamsburg County Economic Development building,

1 in Williamsburg County, during a rainstorm. She
2 was going to pay her water bill. This happened
3 October 12 of 2023.

4 Your Honor, today we're here on behalf of our
5 motion for summary judgment. The evidence
6 establishes a few key points, one being that 7 Williamsburg County does not own or control the 8 entrance where this incident occurred.

9 For a little context, this is Williamsburg
10 County Economic Development building. Williamsburg
11 County operates the water and the sewer department
12 out of this building. There's also a few other 13 offices in this building; such as, I think the 14 congressman has an office in this building, and 15 there might be another department in this building.
16 Plaintiff alleged that she fell while walking
17 inside one of the entrances to this building.

18 So, Your Honor, Williamsburg County does not
19 own this building. Williamsburg County Development
20 Corporation, they bought this building back in 2012
21 from the bank, which used to own this building.
22 And the Development Corporation is a separate
23 entity from Williamsburg County. They are a
24 non-profit entity.

25 Your Honor, we've produced the deed, which

1 relays this information, and we've also produced
2 some correspondence between the Williamsburg
3 Development Corporation representative and the 4 Williamsburg County Water and Sewer representative
5 kind of laying out the terms of them occupying the 6 space in this building.

7 In that correspondence, back in 2013,
8 Williamsburg County Water and Sewer stated that 9 they would pay a thousand dollars per month for 10 rent, utilities, insurance, and maintenance to the 11 Development Corporation for use of this building.

12 So, Your Honor, our first argument is that 13 Williamsburg County did not owe a duty to 14 plaintiff. In this instance, Williamsburg County
15 doesn't own, maintain, or control the building
16 entrance where the plaintiff allegedly slipped and 17 fell.

18 Secondly, Your Honor, we have produced the 19 video evidence of this fall. There is actually 20 security camera footage of the incident. Your 21 Honor, this video shows plaintiff entering the 22 building in high-heeled shoes. She merely loses
23 her balance when walking inside the building. If 24 you want, we can show that video, but I believe
25 Your Honor has a copy of it as well. The video

1 doesn't show a slip on any water or any substance.

2 Plaintiff does allege in the complaint that 3 it was raining that day that she walked into the 4 building. She alleges she slipped on an unnatural
5 accumulation of water, but the video evidence
6 doesn't show any slip at all. It just kind of 7 shows a trip on her high heels. So because this 8 video contradicts plaintiff's theory of causation,
9 a reasonable jury could not find that a dangerous
10 condition caused plaintiff's fall.

11 Third, Your Honor, plaintiff's complaint
12 still states that there was significant rainfall at 13 the time of the incident, and case law in South
14 Carolina, in particular the South Carolina Court of 15 Appeals in Young versus Meeting Street Piggly
16 Wiggly, the court ruled that businesses cannot keep 17 floors completely free of rainwater during storms.
18 Anyone entering a building during rainfall can 19 reasonably expect moisture may be trapped inside.

20 So because this condition was open and 21 obvious, there was no duty to warn -- if there was 22 any duty at all to the County -- to warn plaintiff.

23 The evidence also shows that the County had 24 no actual or constructive notice of any dangerous
25 condition in this building that they don't own.

1 There's been no prior complaints, no prior
2 incidents. We've also produced the affidavit of 3 Lane Mixon (phonetic), which is the director of the 4 Water and Sewer Authority. They're the ones that 5 operate out of this building. He's -- he also 6 confirmed that there is no notice or any incidents
7 like this one in the past.

8 Lane Mixon also was the one that was 9 coordinating with the Williamsburg Development
10 Corporation to use this building, so he's 11 knowledgeable on that issue as well.

12 Lastly, Your Honor, even if the Court assumed
13 that the County did owe a duty to plaintiff in this 14 instance, the South Carolina Tort Claims Act still 15 bars this claim. The statute provides immunity for 16 losses resulting from temporary or natural
17 conditions caused by weather. This is Section
18 15-78-68. In particular, it says that snow or ice
19 conditions, or temporary or natural conditions, on 20 any public way or other public place due to weather
21 conditions, unless the snow or ice they're on is 22 affirmatively caused by a negligent act of the 23 employee, the statute provides immunity for losses.

24 So, Your Honor, there is no evidence that any 25 county employee created the condition here. There

1 was significant precipitation in the form of rain,
2 as alleged in plaintiff's complaint. Therefore, at 3 the end of the day, the County would be statutorily
4 immune from this claim.

5 I did want to point out briefly that 6 plaintiff's counsel did file a response in 7 opposition back in mid-February, but stated that 8 the defendants brought this motion prematurely
9 because they did not respond to discovery requests
10 sent by plaintiff. The record reflects that 11 defendant served responses to plaintiff's
12 interrogatories and request for production on 13 March 27, 2025, and those responses were reserved
14 out of an abundance of caution after receiving 15 those responses in opposition.

16 I'll note that plaintiffs never filed a
17 motion to compel or never raised any deficiency
18 issues with the defendant's, so I just wanted to 19 point that out for the Court. And the defendant
20 also provided the certificate of service for those 21 responses. So we argue that this motion isn't 22 premature.

23 So, in summary, Your Honor, the evidence
24 shows Williamsburg County did not own or control
25 this building or the entrance. They did not

1 maintain it, and the video evidence contradicts
2 plaintiff's theory of causation. And the alleged
3 condition, which is the rainwater during a storm,
4 is open and obvious. And this claim, at the end of 5 the day, would be protected under the Tort Claims
6 Act. So because there is no genuine issue of 7 material fact, Williamsburg County respectfully
8 requests that the Court grant summary judgment as 9 to the defendant's motion.

10 Thank you so much.

11 THE COURT: Thank you, Counsel.

12 All right. Mr. McKnight.

13 MR. McKNIGHT: Thank you, Your Honor. May it
14 please the Court. Your Honor, we submitted -- I
15 don't necessarily know where I want to go first. I
16 think we're going to go to the most obvious thing.
17 I've submitted to the Court an affidavit of a lady
18 whose name is Ruby McNight. She's been an employee
19 of the Williamsburg County government from 1992
20 until 2020. She worked in the maintenance
21 department. And under oath she's testified --
22 given a statement that, not only as part of her
23 duties as a Williamsburg County employee, she was 24 responsible for cleaning that building.

25 Beyond that fact, Your Honor, she also worked

1 with Mr. Nixon. And just so the Court will know
2 that that lady, Ruby McNight, is my mother. Her
3 and Lane, prior to my mother stopping smoking, were 4 smoking buddies who stood out behind the back of 5 that building and smoked.

6 So it's clear from the facts and the evidence
7 that we can provide that Williamsburg County
8 government had control of that building in that 9 they were responsible for the maintenance of it,
10 had their employees in there performing the 11 maintenance, particularly mopping up and cleaning
12 after rain spills and the like. They cleaned that 13 building every day, daily. And those were county
14 employees that did it.

15 So I think it's disingenuous, at best, to 16 suggest that Williamsburg County doesn't have 17 control over the building, because they do. And 18 all of the employees that work in that building,
19 save for the employees of Congressman Clyburn's
20 office, are all employees of Williamsburg County.

21 Beyond that, if you took the time to look at 22 the video, that video of Ms. Teavis Young -- and 23 the assertion that she has on high heels is 24 laughable. Does she have on a heel? Yes. Teavis
25 doesn't wear high-heel shoes. She's 54 years old,

1 never been married, and she's a missionary at the 2 methodist church down the street from my mother's
3 house. She is as conservative as one can be. So
4 she doesn't wear high heels.

5 If you look at what she's -- the video 6 doesn't give you an instance to see what is on the 7 floor, you just see her fall. So that video is not
8 dispositive of anything. In fact, the video 9 further lends credence to the fact that there is 10 a -- there is a genuine issue of material fact 11 before the Court for the trier of fact to decide.
12 So we ask that you set aside their motion to 13 dismiss on that.

14 Lastly, they -- there are discovery responses
15 that they have submitted were mostly, Your Honor, 16 of them objecting to -- essentially objecting to 17 every interrogatory that we had. What we then did
18 was sent subsequent ones that they just now
19 responded to. So that's why we filed the motion
20 saying that the issue wasn't ripe necessarily for a 21 motion for summary judgment, because there's still 22 issues of fact that can be borne out with more
23 discovery. No depositions have been taken yet.

24 You know, going past this, if we survive
25 summary judgment, we definitely intend on taking

1 depositions. But we don't believe that they've met
2 their burden under the law with regard to just 3 having their motion for summary judgment granted.

4 Give me just a second. I'm trying to scroll
5 through here. But let me hit some highlights so
6 the Court will know. Hold on. Let's see.

7 Item two, the defendant argues that it
8 doesn't own, maintain, or control the Williamsburg
9 County Economic Development building. Ownership,
10 however, is not the sole basis for premises
11 liability in South Carolina law. Liability arises
12 from control, maintenance, or responsibility for 13 the premises. The defendant also contends that the 14 fall resulted solely from a natural weather
15 condition. However, the plaintiff has alleged --
16 and will present evidence -- that the water
17 accumulation at the entrance was unnatural due to 18 the design, configuration, and maintenance of the 19 area.

20 If you look at the floors, Your Honor, 21 they've essentially got shiny marble floors at an 22 entrance with no mat that creates a slippery --
23 that creates an unnatural accumulation of water.
24 And so whether the accumulation of water is natural
25 or unnatural, or whether the entrance design

1 contributed to the hazard, and whether the
2 defendant exercised reasonable care are classic
3 questions of fact for a jury. Those issues cannot 4 be resolved as a matter of law at the summary
5 judgment stage.

6 The defendant's reliance on Code 15-78-68,
7 Paragraph A, is misplaced. Immunity under that 8 provision does not apply where a hazardous
9 condition is affirmatively caused or exacerbated by 10 negligent acts or omissions, including negligent
11 design, inspection, or maintenance.

12 So -- and whether the defendant has actual 13 constructive notice of the hazardous condition, and 14 whether its inspection procedures were reasonable,
15 and whether the harm the plaintiff was foreseeable,
16 are all questions for the jury. And South Carolina
17 courts have consistently held that such issues are 18 ill suited for summary judgment, particularly in 19 premises liability cases.

20 So we believe that they failed to meet their 21 burden under Rule 56. Its motion was premature due 22 to outstanding discovery, and improperly shifts the 23 burden to the plaintiff, and ignores multiple 24 genuine issues of material fact.

25 So with all of that in mind, Your Honor, we

1 respectfully submit to the Court, and ask the 2 Court, to deny their motion for summary judgment,
3 let this matter continue on, and go towards --
4 further in litigation, if necessary.

5 Thank you.

6 THE COURT: All right. Anything else?

7 MS. BIRCHMORE: If I could respond briefly,
8 Your Honor, I would appreciate it. As to 9 plaintiff's counsel's argument regarding the 10 affidavit that he submitted of his mother, Ruby
11 McNight, this was filed yesterday at 4:00 p.m. I
12 would like to point to Rule 60. This rule states
13 that opposing affidavits may be served no later
14 than two days before the hearing, unless the Court
15 permits them to be served at some other time, and 16 that the moving party may serve reply affidavits at 17 any time prior to the hearing -- or before the 18 hearing commences.

19 This affidavit was filed yesterday at 20 4:00 p.m. We haven't had time to prepare a 21 response affidavit to this affidavit as called for 22 by Rule 60. So, Your Honor, we respectfully
23 request that the Court not consider this affidavit
24 because it was filed less than 24 hours ago.

25 I will state, though, we did have a chance to

1 look at the affidavit, and we did call the County
2 regarding this. Williamsburg County Development
3 Corporation coordinates all of the cleaning of this 4 building. During this time, until 2020 I believe,
5 they were using Williamsburg County maintenance
6 employees. They hired them separately. The County
7 wasn't in charge of cleaning up. The Development
8 Corporation was using those maintenance employees
9 to clean the building.

10 Your Honor, this fall occurred in 2023, and 11 in 2020 the Williamsburg County Development
12 Corporation hired on a third-party cleaning
13 service, Rose Cleaning, to clean the building.
14 They have been cleaning the building since 2020.
15 So during the time that this incident occurred, no
16 Williamsburg County employees were cleaning or 17 maintaining this building.

18 So as plaintiff argued that Williamsburg
19 County did control, maintain, or is responsible for 20 this building, it is just not the case. I mean,
21 Williamsburg County pays Williamsburg County
22 Development Corporation, this nonprofit entity, a
23 thousand dollars for rent, utilities, insurance,
24 and maintenance. So the fact that they did use
25 Williamsburg County's maintenance department

1 employees at some point before this incident, it
2 was still the responsibility of the Development
3 Corporation to hire people to clean and maintain
4 the building.

5 Your Honor, as far as plaintiff's arguments
6 as to discovery in that there is outstanding
7 discovery, like I said earlier, plaintiff's counsel
8 sent -- served discovery requests in, I believe,
9 December of 2024. Defendant's responded in March
10 of 2025. Since then, we have not heard anything
11 about any deficient answers, any Rule 11 letters, 12 no motions to compel filed. The first time that we 13 knew that they -- the response in opposition to our 14 motion for summary judgment stated that we have not 15 responded. So that is when we re-served them the 16 same responses. And I think a day or two after 17 they filed this response in opposition, they did 18 serve supplemental interrogatories or request for 19 production. The 30 days is not past since they 20 have served those discovery requests, and we have 21 not responded, but we will respond in due time
22 before the 30 days is up.

23 We have served some supplemental requests --
24 or supplementary discovery document production just 25 from a document that we found in our preparation of

1 this motion. I believe it was the correspondence
2 about the lease agreement from Williamsburg County
3 and the Development Corporation.

4 So as to the fact that there is outstanding
5 discovery, we've responded over a year ago, and we
6 never received any notice of any deficient
7 responses from plaintiffs.

8 Your Honor, also, I wanted to mention that
9 plaintiff's counsel has argued that there was no
10 mat at the door that plaintiff entered. If you
11 want to review the video -- we can pull it up, if 12 you would like -- there is a mat at the front door, 13 and you can see the plaintiff wiped her feet off at 14 the front door. I believe there is two mats laid 15 horizontally -- or vertically at the -- at that 16 door. So there was mats at that door. Regardless,
17 Williamsburg County does not own or maintain this 18 building, so we would still respectfully request 19 that the defendant's motion for summary judgment be 20 granted on that aspect.

21 Williamsburg County Development Corporation
22 assumingly has their own insurance that would cover
23 this claim. They would be the correct party for 24 plaintiff's claim.

25 Thank you, Your Honor.

1 MR. McKNIGHT: Your Honor, if I may have a
2 brief reply. Your Honor, their motion -- their 3 memorandum in support that lists the affidavit from 4 Mr. Nixon, they filed that at 6:30 p.m. on Friday,
5 March the 6th. And so they essentially filed
6 something after hours, on a weekend, and now wants
7 to hold us to the letter of the law of the rule,
8 when they filed this on the weekend when they 9 probably figured nobody would see it. So when I
10 finally saw it on Monday and Tuesday coming in,
11 that's when we addressed that. So while,
12 technically, not in compliance of the rule, I think 13 we get to be fed by the same spoon. If they can 14 come in serendipitously and at the end file motions
15 right before a hearing, and file memorandums and 16 affidavits, I think we should have the same
17 ability, too. So we respectfully ask that you 18 consider that affidavit as we've submitted it. And 19 that is all my reply. Thank you.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Is 20 days too quick for 21 proposed orders?

22 MS. BIRCHMORE: That's great. Thank you,
23 Your Honor.

24 MR. McKNIGHT: Thirty, Your Honor, please.
25 I'm a one-man show over here. I need a little bit

1 more time, please.

2 THE COURT: All right. You got it. Thirty
3 days.

4 MR. McKNIGHT: Thank you, Judge.

5 MS. BIRCHMORE: Thank you, Your Honor, I
6 appreciate it.
