

The South Carolina Court of Appeals

Attia Elbadawy, Appellant,

v.

Dorchester County and D.R. Horton, Inc., Respondents.

Appellate Case No. 2026-001187

ORDER

On May 22, 2026, Appellant filed a notice of appeal from two circuit court orders—one that denied Appellant's motion for a temporary injunction and one that explained a certified copy of the order denying the temporary injunction had been filed and mailed to Appellant. The order explained Respondent D.R. Horton had not been properly served and that issues raised in the motion were on appeal at the time of the hearing, thus, the circuit court lacked jurisdiction to consider the motion. On June 16, 2026, Appellant filed a second notice of appeal from two May 26, 2026 orders that again denied the motion for a temporary injunction—on the basis "the precise issues raised in this action have been raised in another action, ruled on, and are on appeal in another action"—and indicated a certified copy of the order denying the temporary injunction had been filed and mailed to Appellant.

Also on June 16, 2026, Appellant filed a motion to stay and preserve the status quo pending appeal. Respondent did not file a return. On July 15, 2026, this court denied Appellant's June 16, 2026 motion to stay.

On July 16, 2026, Appellant filed a second motion to stay, explaining he had sought clarification, to no avail, from the circuit court regarding why two orders were issued denying the temporary injunction and arguing that while this court had ruled on the motion to stay as it related to the May 7, 2026 order, it had not ruled on the stay as it related to the May 26, 2026 order and thus, Appellant was requesting a stay of the May 26, 2026 order.

On July 22, 2026, the court denied Appellant's motion to stay the May 26, 2026 order. On July 30, 2026, Appellant filed a motion to reconsider, which we construe as a petition for panel review of the July 22, 2026. See Rule 241(d)(2), SCACR ("Upon the issuance of a final order by an individual judge or justice, an aggrieved party may petition the full appellate court for review of that decision."). No return was filed.

After careful consideration, the petition is denied.
