MOTION TO RECONSIDER HOLDING CASE IN ABEYANCE

The SC Court of Appeals has held the instant case in abeyance. Ms. Perez objects.

The South Carolina Judicial Branch's Court Rules govern how cases are managed, including stays, suspensions, and abeyances¹. While the specific

Meagan Jackson (2) Appellate Case No. 2026-000473 (SC Court of Appeals – March 18th, 2026); See also South Carolina Appellate Court Rules 240 and 267 , the requirement to “state the grounds” means that when a court orders abeyance rule is found in the appellate section, the general principle is that any order placing a case in abeyance must state the reason for the abeyance so that all parties and the public understand the scope and purpose of the stay². The general principle is that any order placing a case in abeyance must state the reason for the abeyance so that all parties and the public understand the scope and purpose of the stay³.

In this case, there is no explanation for placing the case in abeyance , i.e. , the specific condition or event that must occur to remove the pause is not identified.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, Appellant, Elvira Perez, respectfully moves the Court Of Appeals to reconsider its decision to hold the case in abeyance.

Respectfully Submitted ,
