Subject: Questions regarding submission of Record on Appeal - Smith v. King Asphalt, Appellate Case No. 2025-001327

To the Clerk of Court:

I am Michael Smith, appellant pro se in Smith v. King Asphalt, Inc., Appellate Case No. 2025-001327.

I am getting the Record on Appeal ready to file. It is about 1,500 pages and the file is large. I want to make sure I send it the way the Court wants it.

Can you tell me:

1. Can I file the Record by email, or does the Court want it another way for something this size? (I had planned to send to ctappfilings@sccourts.org)
2. How many pages or how big should each part be? (I had planned for <250 pages per segment)
I plan to Bates number all the pages straight through first and then break it into parts. (sending multiple smaller files)
3. How should I name the parts? (I had planned to name with "1 of X" and the Bates span for each)
Example: Record on Appeal - Smith v. King Asphalt, Appellate Case No. 2025-001327 - file segment 1 of X - Bates Numbers X to X
4. Is there a size limit on emails to the Court, and if so what is it?
5. Does the Court also want a USB drive (digital version copy) mailed in?

I will serve the same thing on the attorney for King Asphalt the same day.

Any guidance would be appreciated. Thank you for your help.
