At the hearing, Plaintiff's argument focused on spoliation by way of personal and business property contained within Plaintiff's former place of business being disposed of by Defendants. However, the arguments of the parties, and a later review of the record, confirm that a spoliation letter was sent to Defendants after the Motion for Sanctions had already been filed. Moreover, Plaintiff had not been in possession or control of the property for over a year at the time of the hearing.

In Kershaw County Board of Education v. U.S. Gypsum Co., 302 S.C. 390, 394, 396 S.E.2d 369, 372 (1990), the Supreme Court upheld a jury charge that "when evidence is lost or destroyed by a party an inference may be drawn by the jury that the evidence which was lost or destroyed by that party would have been adverse to that party." As an initial matter, however, the party seeking the inference "must be prepared to make a showing that the document or evidence might reasonably have supported whatever presumption is being requested of the fact finder."

Pringle v. SLR, Inc. of Summerton, 382 S.C. 397, 405, 675 S.E.2d 783, 787 (Ct. App. 2009). Here, Plaintiff brings a cause of action for breach of contract, negligence and "damages" in the form of fifty-two (52) separately enumerated types of personal property and eight miscellaneous items related to future earnings, seeking $1,500,000.00 in damages. (Amended Complaint). Similarly, Plaintiff's Motion for Sanctions based upon spoliation of evidence relates to items contained within the formerly leased property no longer within Plaintiff's custody and control. It would seem to this Court that Defendant has filed a lawsuit which, in significant part, is related to personal property he can no longer access based upon his eviction from the property. This also seems to be the basis for Plaintiff's motion for sanctions, albeit with separate personal property items. Therefore, this Court finds that Plaintiff has not met the showing that the evidence might have reasonably supported the presumption being asked of a potential jury that Defendants breached their contract with Plaintiff and were negligent in evicting Plaintiff and/or changing the locks illegally. In fact, the items listed within Plaintiff's motion are entirely different than those sixty (60) specifically listed items contained within Plaintiff's Complaint.

This Court respectfully denies Plaintiff's Motion for Sanctions, Spoliation of Evidence and Request for Adverse Inference and Injunctive Relief on the grounds that Plaintiff has failed to make a showing that the document or evidence might reasonably have supported whatever presumption is being requested of the fact finder, that Plaintiff did not send a spoliation letter until after his motion was filed, and the fact that Counsel for Defendants stated on record that Plaintiff was welcome to come collect any items still contained within the real property at a time most convenient to him.

IT IS SO ORDERED!

This Court has reviewed the pleadings, along with the record, prior filings, and evidence presented at the May 14, 2026, hearing date, along with the applicable law and finds that the motion does not present any newly discovered evidence, manifest errors of law or fact, or an intervening change in controlling law that would warrant relief under SCRCF Rule 59(e).

AND IT APPEARING TO THE COURT that after considering the documents of record, the Motion, and reviewing the arguments of counsel, the Court finds that the Court's Order is sufficient and the Motion should be denied;

NOW, THEREFORE, and based upon the foregoing, it is ORDERED as follows:

1. Plaintiff's Motion to Reconsider filed on August 12, 2026, is hereby DENIED.
