Columbia, SC 29201

RE: John G. Littleton v. B&K Services, Inc.
C.A. No.: 20263-000131

Dear Jasmine:

On October 1, 2026, the Court requested an explanation as to why the transportation of the B&K Services, Inc. T-shirt is necessary to aid the Court.

Appellant's position is that the T-shirt is pertinent to the appeal. Appellant must establish an employer-employee relationship for Appellant's claim to be compensable. The T-shirt is a major piece of evidence in establishing the employer-employee relationship. Appellant believes a visual of the evidence puts the Court in the best position to evaluate the argument, as opposed to citing transcripts to establish Appellant wore a B&K Services, Inc. T-shirt to work.

Appellant refers to the T-shirt in its final brief. In Appellant's Record on Appeal, on page 613, Appellant produced a page with "B&K Services Inc. T-shirt (to be transported from the SCWCC)." Pursuant to SCRCP 210 (f), because the T-shirt is large and Appellant does not have a photograph of the T-shirt, Appellant has no other means to accurately reproduce the T-shirt. Appellant's understanding of SCRCP Rule 210 (h) would preclude the T-shirt from being entered into evidence and being considered if it is not made part of the Record on Appeal.

Further, Respondent has a thumb drive containing a recording of Appellant that is in Respondent's Designation of Matter, and has been requested to be transported from the SCWCC. Respondent will be referencing the recording in its final brief in order to establish that an employer-employee relationship did not exist. Page 614 of the Record on Appeal states, "John Littleton Recorded Statement to GEICO (To be transported from the SCWCC)" in order for Respondent to cite the recording and enter it into evidence.

Appellant requests clarification from the Court that the above-referenced pages are the correct way to both cite the evidence and make it part of the Record on Appeal. Attached are copies of the two pages of the Record on Appeal referenced herein. In the alternative, the Appellant requests the Court's guidance on how to preserve the opportunity to present the T-shirt in the event there is an oral argument.

Please let me know if you need anything further.

Sincerely,
