Dear Southern Reporting Transcript Staff:

Please route this request to the reporter identified in the attached September 30, 2025 order as having reported the August 27, 2025 hearing before Judge James O. Spence.

I am Mark-Anthony Nunnally, an individually self-represented Appellant in The Bank of New York Mellon v. Timothy Allen Nunally, et al., Lexington County trial court case 2024-CP-32-01094. The related Court of Appeals case is 2026-001103.

I request a complete, certified transcript of the entire recorded August 27, 2025 proceeding, including all on-record arguments and rulings.

Please provide a full-size, searchable PDF with page and line numbers and the reporter's certification. Please also advise whether a certified paper original must be ordered separately.

The Court of Appeals has extended the deadline to serve the Record on Appeal to October 28, 2026. If possible, I request delivery by October 23, 2026.

Please confirm:

1. The responsible reporter's name and that your office holds this record.
2. Whether a certified transcript already exists and can be supplied promptly.
3. The estimated total cost, required deposit, and payment instructions.
4. The earliest available delivery date and any expedited charge.

Please obtain my approval before incurring expedited charges. If an order form is required, please send it promptly.

If delivery before October 28 is unavailable, please advise promptly in writing of the earliest achievable date. If another custodian holds this record, please identify that custodian and route this request if possible.

Thank you for your assistance.

Respectfully,

Mark-Anthony Nunnally
