Dear Mr. Grizzard,

Please find attached the completed transcript you requested for the August 24, 2026, hearing in Grizzard v. McCormick Magistrate.
The final transcript came out to fewer pages than initially estimated, so you are due a refund of $17 for the overpayment.

Please let me know your preferred method to receive the refund:
- Money order/cashier's check (by usps mail)
- Venmo
- PayPal
- Cash App

If you would prefer a money order, please provide the mailing address where you would like it sent and I will get that out to you in the mail tomorrow. If you prefer one of the other methods, please provide your contact information and I will send the refund immediately.

Sincerely,
Tara Scott

To proceed, please mail a cashier's check or money order for $51.00 payable to me at:

Once payment is received, your request will be placed in the queue for typing. If the final transcript is fewer than 12 pages, I will refund the difference upon delivery. If it exceeds 12 pages, the remaining balance will be due upon delivery.

While the rules allow up to 60 days to complete a transcript, I will take your original request date into account to process this as quickly as possible. If you no longer wish to pursue this request, no further action is required. I will also notify you upon my receipt of payment.

Please feel free to contact me by email if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Tara Scott, CVR
