To: Chief Justice J. Yoal,

I'm writing you this letter in regards to my P.C.R. Case # (2004-CP-40-4980). I recently went back to court for a P.C.R. reconstruction hearing that was held on July 16, 2013 because the state has alleged that they couldn't find the transcripts from my first hearing with this letter I'm just praying that you will look into the facts of my case. I presented issues during my first P.C.R. hearing that are not addressed in my final Order which has become prejudicial to me being that they're not preserved for appellate review. My Plea attorney actively represented conflicting interests by representing my co-defendant prior to taking my case and all these facts came out during my first hearing. I'm just trying to receive justice and I feel the state is seeking to avoid having all my issues properly addressed and ruled upon. I'm currently on my writ and I will greatly appreciate any time or efforts you put into reviewing my case. I sincerely thank you for your considerations as well.

Sincerely,

Maurice Kelly
