NOTICE OF PROBATION /CSP VIOLATION
HEARING AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF NOTICE

You are hereby directed to appear at a Probation/CSP Violation Hearing in General Sessions Court on October 24th at 9:00 (am / pm) in the Beaufort County Courthouse, Beaufort, South Carolina.

You may have an attorney represent you at this hearing. If you cannot afford an attorney and you desire the representation of the Beaufort County Public Defender, you must apply for an appointed attorney with that office. If you choose to appear at the hearing without an attorney, you may be required to represent yourself. You are hereby advised that there are dangers and disadvantages to self representation. An attorney may better understand courtroom procedure and may be better able to think of and present defenses to your violations. By appearing without an attorney you are acknowledging these dangers but are knowingly and voluntarily choosing to proceed without counsel.

At the violation hearing you will have an opportunity to speak, and you may present witnesses or documentary evidence on your behalf. If requested, you will also have an opportunity to confront and cross-examine any witnesses called to testify against you; however, the Department may elect to present affidavits of witnesses or police officers in lieu of testimony. State v. Pauling (Ct. App. 2006). It is your responsibility to have your witnesses and attorney present. If you are released on bond prior to your hearing date, you must report to the Probation Office immediately upon your release.

You are required to be present at your hearing as scheduled above. If you do not appear, a bench warrant or a failure to appear warrant will be issued for your arrest. Furthermore, the Court may choose to proceed with the hearing in your absence. This directive remains in effect until you are granted leave by the Court.

This directive has been read to me and I have been provided with a copy. I was also given an opportunity to ask questions about this directive before it was signed.

BEGINNING 1:27 P.M.

BY THE COURT:

THE COURT: I am reading it, Ms. Albany.

AGENT ALBANY: And the victims are present, your Honor.

THE COURT: All right, Ms. Saxon, how are we going to get her caught up quickly?

MS. SAXON: It's my understanding that she is now employed again. She has a full-time job.

THE COURT: Her arrearage is $2,030.00. How do I get that paid?

MS. SAXON: She thinks she can pay it off over the course of a couple months.

THE COURT: Okay. But again, there is still going to be continuing restitution that she has to make on a monthly basis.

MS. SAXON: Right.

THE COURT: So tell me, are you going to be able to pay the arrearage that you owe and the current amount?

AGENT ALBANY: Your Honor, her case closes on the 24th.

THE COURT: Okay.

AGENT ALBANY: I mean the 26th.

MS. SAXON: Sixth.

AGENT ALBANY: I'm sorry. Of this month.

1 THE COURT: Okay. And we can't extend it?

2 AGENT ALBANY: No, she's already been on it five
3 years.

4 THE COURT: And the victims in this case?

5 AGENT ALBANY: Ms. Susan.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Yes, ma'am. What's your all's
7 position?

8 MS. SUSAN CATO: Well, I'm disappointed that 9 probation can't be extended, because she does owe this 10 obligation.

11 THE COURT: Clearly.

12 MS. SUSAN CATO: And her effort to pay has been 13 very diminished since 2011, when she made regular 14 payments, although they were, you know, not what she was 15 supposed to make. But this year, she's only made six
16 payments, and it's been several months with no payments
17 at all. So, you know, she owes the money. She stole
18 the money. So, it's just misfortunate that she hasn't 19 been able to pay it, but that doesn't diminish the fact
20 that she still owes the money.

21 THE COURT: Understood.

22 AGENT ALBANY: Your Honor, we tried to work with 23 her. She recently just got a job, September of last 24 year, and she's been making the payments as she can,
25 even though she did get behind on the payments. We do

1 realize that she still owes. So, that's why we brought 2 it before you, so you can make a decision as to what we
3 need to do with her. Because she reported; she did
4 everything else; it was just the monetary obligation.

5 MS. SAXON: I mean it was definitely -- obviously,
6 it was a lot. We talked about the best course of 7 action. We don't really know which one is -- we can
8 convert it to a civil judgment, if you would be okay
9 doing that, and let that court handle it from there.

10 THE COURT: And she is until April. Is that 11 correct? When is she -- oh, end of this month.

12 AGENT ALBANY: Yes, ma'am, the 26th.

13 MS. SAXON: The 26th, on Saturday.

14 THE COURT: I guess, Ms. McAllister, we can -- I
15 mean, the truth is, I know we're can revoke the three 16 years right now and just send you to prison. I mean, I
17 assume you don't have any way of coming up with any 18 substantial amount of money right now. Is that correct?

19 DEFENDANT MCALLISTER: Yes, ma'am.

20 THE COURT: Ms. Saxon, let me do this. Let me just 21 -- give me a little bit of time and let me think about 22 this.

23 MS. SAXON: Certainly.

24 THE COURT: Let me just think about this. If you
25 don't mind, are you working? Do you work every day?

1           DEFENDANT MCALLISTER: Yes, ma'am.

2           THE COURT: I certainly don't want you missing any
3 more work.

4           MS. MCALLISTER: No.

5           THE COURT: Come back tomorrow morning. I'm trying 6 to figure out what in the world I can do with her. And 7 actually, if you all will just sit tight, I might be 8 able to come up with something between now and the next
9 few minutes. I'm trying very hard. I don't want to 10 make you all come back. I don't want to make you come
11 back, if I don't have to, if I can figure out someday
12 and something to do.

13          MS. SAXON: No, it's okay to come back. We can 14 step down for a few minutes.

15          THE COURT: Yes. Yes.

16          MS. SAXON: And maybe between the three of us, we 17 can come up with something.

18          THE COURT: Yes. Possibly.

19          MS. SAXON: Okay.

20          AGENT ALBANY: Well, I still have one more case to 21 present in front of you.

22          MS. SAXON: And you can do that.

23          THE COURT: Just take a seat, you all, and let me
24 see. Okay, let me see.

25                    END FIRST PORTION OF HEARING 1:32 P.M.

1 CONTINUE HEARING 1:57 P.M.

2 THE COURT: All right. I have to say that,
3 unfortunately, based on all the probation violations
4 that I've been seeing today and monetary problems, it
5 goes back to my original thought, which is, when you
6 have people that owe these great amounts of money, that 7 we know people have to be able to pay back, and we
8 should just put them in prison on the front end. You
9 know, I mean, unfortunately, you know, again, that's all
10 I can do. I can't extend your probation. I understand
11 that you went without work, but again, you have only 12 paid 17,000 out of about 50 that you owe.

13 Again, I can tell you, the only thing I can do is 14 revoke you. Since you've paid roughly a third, you've 15 got three years hanging over your head, I'm going to 16 revoke you two years, and I'm going to terminate your 17 case, and reduce everything to a civil judgment.
18 There's nothing else I can do. Okay? Thank you.

19 MS. SAXON: Thank you, your Honor.

20 AGENT ALBANY: Thank you, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: I do find you violated your probation.

22 AGENT ALBANY: Your Honor, that --

23 THE COURT: I will say this, Ms. Saxon, if, for any 24 reason, money falls from the sky, and she is able to pay
25 off the balance of it, she can, obviously, get out. But

1 again, I think if that could happen, she would have done
2 it, so. Okay?

3 OFF-THE-RECORD DISCUSSION

4 RELATED TO ANOTHER CASE.

5 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Thank you, ladies,
6 for being here.

7 MS. SUSAN CATO: Can you explain to me what just 8 happened.

9 THE COURT: I just put her in prison for two years.

10 MS. SUSAN CATO: Thank you.

11 THE COURT: There's nothing else I can do. Again, 12 I can't get money out of her. I don't have the power to 13 extend it. If I could, I would. I wish I could put her
14 on probation for the next 20 years, because I would love
15 to get you paid back, but unfortunately, --

16 MS. SUSAN CATO: I understand.

17 THE COURT: My hands are tied, so.

18 MS. SUSAN CATO: Thank you.

FOURTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
 IN THE COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS
 MOTION TO RECONSIDER
 PROBATION REVOCATION
 WARRANT NO(s): I260686
 INDICTMENT NO(s): 2008GS0700248

2013 OCT 31 AM 9:30
 CLERK OF COURT
 BEAUFORT COUNTY, SC

This matter comes before the Court on Defendant's Motion to Reconsider Probation Revocation and sentence imposed on October 24th, 2013, pursuant to Rule 29 of the South Carolina Rules of Criminal Procedure and based on both Federal and State case law. The Defendant pled guilty before the Honorable Carmen Mullen on October 27th, 2008 to one count of Breach of Trust with Fraudulent Intent Value $5,000 or more. The Court sentenced the Defendant to three year suspended upon five years probation and restitution in the amount of $58,097.50 plus supervision fees and court cost.

At the time of her sentencing the Defendant was employed, earning roughly $2400.00 a month. Based on the Defendant's income, her initial repayment amount was $750 a month. The payment was restructured in August 2010 to $500 a month after the Defendant had lost her job and was on unemployment. Through the five year probationary period the Defendant was required to pay between 30% and 60% of her monthly income towards restitution and was able to repay $17,525 of the restitution she owed, averaging a payment of $292 a month over 5 years. The Defendant's probation was set to expire on October 26th, 2013 and because she had not been able to fully repay her restitution the case was brought back before the Honorable Carmen Mullen to be reviewed on October 24th, 2013.

Based on the court ordered repayment plan the Defendant was not expected to repay the total restitution back in the five year period and the Defendant is currently only four months in arrears ($2030.00) on a sixty month sentence. The Defendant has had no violations during her five-year probationary period and the amount that she did repay reflects a bona fide effort on her part to meet her restitution obligation. However, based on her arrearage and her inability to pay the restitution in whole the Defendant was revoked two days before her probation was set to terminate and sentenced to two years in the South Carolina Department of Corrections with the remainder of restitution converted to a civil judgment.

CASE LAW/ANALYSIS

It is well established, in both Federal and South Carolina case law, that probation may not be revoked solely on the ground that the probationer failed to pay fines or to make restitution.<sup>1</sup> Before probation can be revoked solely on financial grounds the judge must determine on the record that the probationer failed to make a bona fide effort to pay.<sup>2</sup> Depriving someone of their conditional freedom without the finding of willful violation to pay directly contravenes the Fourteenth Amendment's due process requirement.<sup>3</sup>

In State v. Spare<sup>4</sup> the South Carolina Court of Appeals provided a roadmap for making the findings required under Bearden and Barlet.<sup>5</sup> The Court of Appeals held that "the circuit court may not revoke probation solely on the basis of a failure to pay money unless the record reflects the court made the following findings:

1. The State has presented sufficient evidence to establish that a probationer has violated the conditions of his probation;<sup>6</sup>

2. The probationer made a willful choice not to pay in that the probationer had the funds to pay and chose not to do so or lacked the funds to pay and did not make a bona fide effort to acquire the funds;<sup>7</sup>
3. If the court finds the probationer could not pay despite sufficient bona fide efforts to acquire the resources to do so the court may not imprison the probationer unless it also finds that alternate measures are not adequate to meet the State's interests in punishment and deterrence.”<sup>8</sup>

None of the required findings from Spare were made in the case at hand. The only determination made on the record in this case was a blanket finding of willfulness not to pay which was not supported by factual evidence. The State, represented by the Department of Probation, did not offer evidence of a violation as no such violation existed. At the hearing it was the position of the Defendant's probation agent that probation be terminated and the remainder of the restitution be converted to a civil judgment. The Defendant's probation agent stated that the Defendant had done her best to pay considering her financial situation, and that while the payments were not always timely and not necessarily always full, they did occur. The Defendant's situation is similar to that of the defendant in Spare – in that case the court noted that from all indications the defendant was making progress, albeit slowly, toward paying his restitution and that although frustrating, that evidence alone did not support the court's finding of willfulness.

At no time during her probation did the Defendant willfully fail to pay her restitution. The Defendant struggled finding and maintaining employment but never stopped making a bona fide effort to pay her restitution and fees. The sentence of the Court to revoke her probation has caused the Defendant to lose her current job and will most certainly lead to the loss of her home. The State did not seek to have her probation revoked but merely terminated. The Defendant, aside from financial issues, did not violate any conditions of her probation.

CONCLUSION

Based on the above facts and in light of the case law on this matter, the Defendant respectfully requests that the Court reconsider the sentence imposed in this matter. The Defendant respectfully requests that the Court terminate the Defendants probation without any revocation as there is no evidence of a violation or willful failure to pay and convert the remainder of the restitution to a civil judgment.

Respectfully submitted,

Re: The State v. Tonja McAllister
Appellate Case No. 2013-002401

Dear Counsel:

Upon reviewing your notice of appeal, the following deficiency or deficiencies have been noted under the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules (SCACR), and any deficiency must be corrected within ten (10) days of the date of this letter:

- The caption/title does not comply with Rule 267(a), SCACR. Specifically, opposing counsel is not listed.
- The notice of appeal is not accompanied by the order(s) and/or judgment(s) challenged on appeal.

Very truly yours,

V. Claire Allen, Deputy
CLERK

Re: The State v. Tonja Mcallister
Appellate Case No. 2013-002401

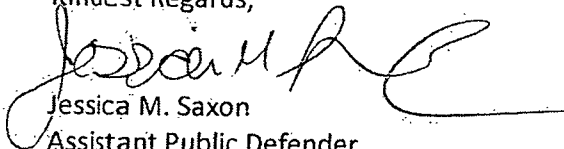

Dear Ms. Allen,

I have corrected the deficiencies noted in your letter dated November 14th, 2013. Enclosed please find a corrected and clocked Notice of Intent to Appeal with a proper caption listing opposing counsel and the missing order(s) and/or judgment(s) challenged on appeal.

I will no longer be handling Ms. Mcallister case once the Notice of Intent to Appeal has been properly filed. It is my understanding that the family has hired Ms. Kate Brobston of the private bar to handle the appeal. Ms. Brobston is an attorney with The Law Offices of Jim Brown and can be reached at (843)-470-0003.

If there is anything further required of me, please do not hesitate to call.

Kindest Regards,
