Pursuant to Rules 26(c) and 45 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, Defendant Safeco Insurance Company (“Safeco” or “the Insurer”), by and through its undersigned attorneys, hereby moves to quash the third-party subpoena sent to the Insurer on or around May 14, 2014 (attached as Exhibit A).

As explained below, the grounds for this motion are that this Court no longer has jurisdiction over any claims against the Insurer due to the Insurer’s pending appeal of this Court’s prior motion refusing to compel arbitration, and all proceedings—including discovery—against the Insurer in this suit are stayed pending the outcome of the aforementioned appeal. Accordingly, this Court should quash the subpoenas.

BACKGROUND

The Insurers have been sued in several lawsuits filed in Abbeville County. In each of the Complaints filed by the Abbeville plaintiffs—including Wiltshire—they allege they were harmed by the tortious acts of Laura B. Willis, an insurance agent operating under the supervision of the Southern Risk Insurance Agency. The Abbeville Plaintiffs further allege that the Insurer(s) had a duty to properly investigate, train, and supervise Willis, that they failed to detect and stop her wrongdoing, and that they engaged in unfair trade practices, civil conspiracy, conversion, fraud, and negligent misrepresentation.

In each pending lawsuit, the Insurers filed motions to compel arbitration of the various Abbeville Plaintiffs' claims against them, explaining that at the time of Willis' alleged wrongdoing, the Insurers' relationship with Willis and Southern Risk was established and governed by an Agency Agreement containing an arbitration agreement. The motions further explained that the Abbeville Plaintiffs' claims against the Insurers were premised on this contract, that in South Carolina and other jurisdictions a defendant may compel arbitration of the claims of a plaintiff who was not a signatory to the arbitration agreement, and that the Federal Arbitration Act requires arbitration of the claims against the Insurers.

This Court denied the motions to compel arbitration, and the Insurers filed motions to alter or amend that order. On April 21, 2014, this court denied the Insurers' motion to alter or amend the prior order refusing to compel arbitration, and on April 25, 2014, the Insurers filed their notices of appeal with the Court of Appeals.

Only one of the Abbeville Plaintiffs served any discovery requests on the Insurers.¹ Montgomery responded to those requests, objecting to the requests on a variety of grounds including that Montgomery’s appeal of the order denying its motion to compel arbitration divested the court of jurisdiction over the claims against it and brought further proceedings—including discovery—to a halt pending resolution of the appeal.

¹ In Spires v. Willis et al., No. 2012-CP-01-342. In the suit brought by Southern Risk Insurance Services, LLC against Safeco and others (No. 2013-CP-04-1287), Southern Risk served Requests to Produce and Interrogatories on Safeco. Safeco responded to

On May 14, 2014, Defendant Southern Risk Insurance Services served subpoenas duces tecum on the Insurers in each of the Abbeville lawsuits, demanding the production of “any and all records regarding” each Abbeville Plaintiff’s insurance coverage, including but not limited to their entire insurance file, policies, payment logs, notes messages, invoices, past due correspondence, insurance suspension correspondence and any and all documents regarding that Abbeville Plaintiff. (See Ex. A.)

ARGUMENT

This Court should quash Southern Risk’s subpoena because all proceedings against the Insurer, including discovery—compelled or otherwise—is stayed pending resolution of the Insurer’s appeal. An order denying a motion to compel arbitration under the FAA is immediately appealable. See 9 U.S.C. § 16(a)(1)(C); Cape Romain Contractors, Inc. v. Wando E., LLC, 405 S.C. 115, 121 n.4, 747 S.E.2d 461, 464 n.4 (2013) (citing Towles v. United HealthCare Corp., 338 S.C. 29, 34-35, 524 S.E.2d 839, 842 (Ct. App. 1999)). The appeal of such an order stays further proceedings in the trial court and divests it of jurisdiction over the suit. See Rule 241, SCACR (“As a general rule, the service of a notice of appeal in a civil matter acts to automatically stay matters decided in the order, judgment, decree or decision on appeal.”); Rule 205, SCACR (“Upon the service of the notice of appeal, the appellate court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the appeal.”). The South Carolina Court of Appeals has recognized that an appeal of an order these with the same objections noted above.

denying arbitration deprived the trial court of further jurisdiction over the suit. See MailSource, LLC v. M.A. Bailey & Assocs., 356 S.C. 363, 588 S.E.2d 635 (Ct. App. 2003) (affirming trial court's ruling that it could not grant an injunction because the pending appeal of an order denying arbitration divested the trial court of jurisdiction).

Discovery proceedings should not continue in the trial court once a notice of appeal of the denial of a motion to compel arbitration has been served and filed. See, e.g., Levin v. Alms & Assocs., 634 F.3d 260-64 (4th Cir. 2011) (holding the appeal of an order denying arbitration automatically divests trial court of jurisdiction and thus halts discovery because “[d]iscovery is a vital part of the litigation process and permitting discovery constitutes permitting the continuation of the litigation, over which the district court lacks jurisdiction”); Bradford-Scott Data Corp. v. Physician Computer Network, 128 F.3d 504, 505-06 (7th Cir. 1997) (staying discovery pending appeal of an order denying arbitration, noting that “[c]ontinuation of proceedings in the district court largely defeats the point of the appeal and creates a risk of inconsistent handling of the case by two tribunals” and thus holding that “preparation for trial must be suspended until the court of appeals renders a decision”).

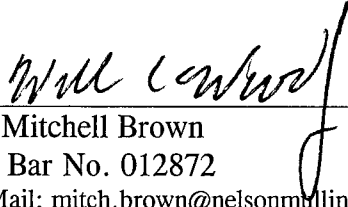

Because the Insurer has appealed the court's denial of its motion to compel arbitration, the trial court lacks jurisdiction over this matter, and all litigation proceedings including discovery must be suspended pending resolution of the appeal. Accordingly, this Court should quash the subpoena and prevent any impermissible discovery pending resolution of the Insurer's appeal.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Safeco seeks an Order Quashing the subpoenas duces tecum dated May 14, 2014 and providing such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper. This motion is based on the South Carolina of Civil Procedure, the Federal Arbitration Act, applicable federal and state case law, and such other and further authorities and/or arguments as may be advanced in the memorandum in support of this motion and exhibits submitted to the Court prior to the hearing of this matter, and at any hearing.
