The Appellant, Rhonda Meisner respectfully requests oral argument in the above captioned case. The basis of the request is that the review by the Court of Appeals in matters in equity are in view of the Court of Appeals own determination of the issues on appeal. Since the equitable review has merged with many legal issues in the case including the interpretation of the South Carolina Appraisal Statute, the interpretation of the guaranty agreement and the effect on the parties personal valuation of the property in question, the Appellant respectfully requests the opportunity for oral argument. Additionally, SCBT is currently attempting to enforce the judgments enrolled against Ms. Meisner by the Master in the lower court and has placed liens on personally owned property referencing the judgments enrolled by the Master's order in this case.

Respectfully Submitted,
