

The South Carolina Court of Appeals

Bilal A. Al-Haqq, Appellant,

v.

South Carolina Department of Corrections, Respondent.

Appellate Case No. 2014-001122

ORDER

By letter of June 5, 2014, this Court gave Appellant ten days to provide proof that he timely served the Administrative Law Court (ALC) with the notice of appeal. Appellant responded to this Court's letter, providing proof he timely served Respondent.

We note that Rule 203(b)(6), of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules, requires that Appellant timely serve both the Respondent and the ALC. Accordingly, within ten days, Appellant must provide proof that he timely served the ALC with the notice of appeal. Failure to do so will result in the dismissal of this appeal. See Mears v. Mears, 287 S.C. 168, 337 S.E.2d 206 (1985) (explaining service of the notice of intent to appeal is a jurisdictional requirement, and the appellate courts have no authority to extend the time in which the notice of intent to appeal must be served).
