My name is Millango A. Woody. SCDC # 227810
I'm writing you in concerns of my case. Appellate case number 2013-002317. I have some issues I would like to address. First one is that out of 26 jurors of two were black and none was chosen in my trial. There should have been at least one African American on the jury panel. Secondly I would have liked a DNA test. I wasn't told that the child had a sexual transmitted disease until the day of the trial. There was no way to defend myself for that. My wife India Woody has HIV so my doctors test me every 6 months due to that fact. I could have gotten all my medical records stating that I have never had any sexual transmitted disease from Jan 2006 until even now. Thirdly my wife wasn't able to testify due to the fact the my lawyer didn't want her to because she had HIV. Ms. Manigault my attorney stated that she did not want to put her business out about her disease. My wife fully wanted to testify anyway but wasn't called to the stand. We have been together since December of 2007 and married in June of 2012. She can testify that the child never came to spend the night at my mother's house or never even seen my wife's and I house at all. The child never knew my mother's name at all. In court she was asked my mother name and she couldn't say it. To spend so much time at a person's house and not even know her name. My mother has all ways lived in a three bedroom and the child testified to only two bedrooms.

Last issue is that the state had an expert witness testified to what the child told her see pg. 174 lines 8-12. Please see State v. McKeeley (S.C App. 2012) 397 S.C. 464, 725 S.E. 2d 139 Criminal Law 474.3 (3)

Thank you for looking into these matters.

One other issue is that the state had to start name calling to get the jury to look at me in a bad way and that effected the case too. See pg. 229 lines 6-8
