v.

KERMIT G. WHITE, JR. pro se

APPELLANT'S ANSWER TO RESPONDANT'S MOTION TO DISMISS CONSOLADATED APPEALS NAD APPELLANT'S REQUEST FOR AN EMERGENCY HEARING ON THE ISSUES BELOW

Appellant Asserts:

- 1.) That on August 25, 2014 Appellant sent an e-mail to Rachel Filer, authorizing agent for State Street Holdings, LLC, informing her of Appellant's appeal including the case number with the SC Court of Appeals (attached).
- 2.) That Appellant never received a response.
- 3.) That Respondent chose not to Motion for a bond hearing.
- 4.) That upon receiving notification of Appellant's appeal Masters in Equity failed to notify Appellant that a bond hearing would be required.
- 5.) That Appellant never received a "Deficiency" notice from the SC Court of Appeals that a bond would be required for his appeal.

6.) That Appellant was told of the requirement for a bond by Respondent during a hearing in Masters in Equity on September 26, 2014.

7.) That this hearing should have not taken place considering the above circumstances.

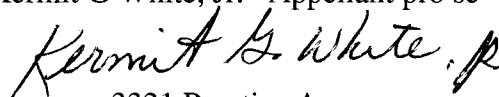

8.) That during this above-mentioned hearing Appellant was evicted from his home by order of Masters in Equity.

9.) That Appellant has been served an eviction notice giving him until November 10, 2014 to leave the premise.

10.) That after talking to Sgt. T in the Civil Process unit with the Richland County Police, Appellant learned that it might take up to 4 or 5 days to execute the eviction.

Therefore Appellant requests an “emergency hearing” to consider these statements and attachments and to Stay his eviction until his appeal can be heard. Appellant additionally asks the Court to deny Respondent’s Motion to Dismiss with prejudice. See Sloan v. Dept. Of Transportation, 379 S.C. 160, 167, 666 S.E.2d 236, 240 (2008) for the above assertions and to reconsider his Motion to Remove Respondent from his deed.

You are the REGISTERED AGENT of State Street Holdings, LLC. I sent the below e-mail to Elizabeth Evans but it was returned undeliverable. So it looks like you are the responsible party.

A Notice of Appeal of Foreclosure was filed with the S C Appeals Court and with the Richland County Court on July 29, 2014.

Appellate Case No. 2014-001656

You are hereby notified that anymore attempts to contact my tenants will result in a complaint with the S C Attorney General's Office along with legal action to stop your harassment. You are also given notice that any attempt to trespass on my property will result in a police action to have you removed.
