APPEAL FROM RICHLAND COUNTY

Court of Common Pleas
DeAndrea Gist Benjamin, Circuit Court Judge
Case No. 2013-CP-400-1643

Appellate Case No. 2014-000583

Samuel T. Brick, Appellant

v.

Richland County Planning Commission and Fairways Development, LLC, Intervenor, Respondents

APPELLANT'S MOTION FOR RELIEF FROM THE TWENTY DAY
FILING LIMITATION PERIOD FOR FINAL BRIEF

Samuel T. Brick, Appellant, Pro Se, moves that this Honorable Court relieve him from the requirement of Rule 210, SCACR, to file copies of the Record and its Briefs with the Court within twenty days of filing the Record of Appeal with the Appellees. Appellant filed a motion to relieve him from filing fifteen copies of his briefs and record on October 17, 2014. A Reply was filed on October 28 by Respondent Richland County Planning Commission and Appellant filed a Reply to that on October 31, 2014. The Record on Appeal was filed with the Respondents' counsels on November 17, 2014. The Final Briefs are due to be filed with the Court and Counsels on December 8, 2014.

Appellant is one of two Army Reserve Ambassadors for South Carolina. The annual conference for Army Reserve Ambassadors is from December 3 to the 5th in Arlington, Virginia. As an Ambassador, military orders are published for attendance at the Conference and such Orders have been approved. Since the Court has yet to act finally on the Motion for Relief from the Copies and from including certain designated matter, and since Appellant will be out of the state on military business the week of December 1st, request that Appellant be relieved from the twenty day requirement and be given ten days after mailing of the Order on his Motion for relief to file the Appellant's Final Briefs or until December 19, whichever period is later. AND SO APPELLANT PRAYS.

Very respectfully submitted,

Samuel T. Brick, Appellant, Pro se
