

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Lloyd Caldwell. I am a inmate at the South Carolina Department of Corrections. I recently took a plea of nine years and after having some time to think it over, I feel I may have been wronged. The solicitor of my case had offered me a plea of zero to five. I did four that day and later it went up to zero to ten. When I got in front of the judge I was informed that I was accepting a zero to twelve plea. I would like the court to look back over my sentencing. I would ask the court to consider giving me a sentence reduction. I am not by any means denying my guilt. I believe my sentence was a little long and would appreciate if someone could review it. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely Yours
