In Re: The Estate of James Brown and The James Brown
2000 Irrevocable Trust u/a/d August 1, 2000, Respondents.

MOTION OF DAVID SOJOURNER, JR., LIMITED SPECIAL
TRUSTEE AND LIMITED SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR
OF THE JAMES BROWN TRUST AND ESTATE,
TO INTERVENE IN APPEAL

On July 29, 2013, Appellant Adele J. Pope (“Pope”) appealed four administrative orders issued by the Honorable Doyet A. Early III, circuit court judge for the Second Judicial Circuit Court of Common Pleas, and the Honorable Liz Godard, Clerk of Court (“Orders on Appeal”). See Notice of Appeal (July 29, 2013).¹ Three of the Orders on Appeal were dated and filed on June 13, 2013, and one was dated and filed on July 10, 2013. This Court certified Ms. Pope’s appeal pursuant to Rule 204(b), SCACR, by order dated December 17, 2014.

For the following reasons, David C. Sojourner, Jr., as Limited Special Administrator of the Estate of James Brown (“Estate”) and as Limited Special Trustee of the James Brown August 1, 2000 Irrevocable Trust Agreement (“Trust”) hereby moves to intervene in the above-captioned appeal pursuant to Rules 202 and 240 of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules.

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On May 8, 2013, this Court issued a written opinion in Wilson v. Dallas, 403 S.C. 411, 743 S.E.2d 746 (2013), which affirmed in part and reversed in part a May 26, 2009 order of the Aiken County Court of Common Pleas that approved an agreement settling various matters involving the Estate and Trust of James Brown (“Decedent”) and remanded that matter to the circuit court (“lower court”).

On remand from the Wilson v. Dallas decision, on May 29, 2013, the lower court held a conference concerning the status of approximately a dozen pending cases affecting the Estate and Trust. The lower court issued the Orders on Appeal on June 13, 2013, consisting of three orders affecting the orderly administration of the Estate and Trust, and July 10, 2013, consisting of a Form 4 order denying Ms. Pope’s motion to reconsider those orders. See Amended Notice of Appeal (July 31, 2013) and attached orders. These four orders are the subject of the present appeal. See id.

Order 1: Order 1 was issued in civil action numbers 2008-CP-02-1647 (that case addressing challenges to the validity of Decedent's will and trust, spousal claims, and an omitted child claim), 2007-CP-02-122 (addressing whether to award costs and fees to former fiduciaries Albert Dallas and David Cannon), and 2008-CP-02-872 (addressing will, trust and other property matters). Order 1 carried out this Court's affirmation, through Wilson v. Dallas, of the lower court's May 26, 2009 removal, for cause, of Ms. Pope from her prior fiduciary positions with respect to Decedent's Estate and Trust.²

Following this Court's May 8, 2013 remand, Ms. Pope had filed motions, memoranda, and proposed scheduling orders in the underlying actions, all inconsistent with this Court's removal of Ms. Pope as fiduciary. Order 1 recited this Court's removal of Ms. Pope, and concluded: "It is now the law of the case that Ms. Pope has been removed from her fiduciary positions and is no longer a party to the James Brown Estate and Trust litigation."³ Accordingly, the lower court affirmed Ms. Pope lacked standing to proceed with any of the motions she had then-recently filed. The lower court directed the Clerk of Court to remove Ms. Pope's filings from these pending cases and to remove Ms. Pope as a party of record.⁴ The lower court further directed the Clerk to open a new civil action for review of Ms. Pope's fee petition and assign that matter a separate case number.⁵

Order 2: Order 2 was issued in thirteen specified cases pending in the Second Judicial Circuit Court of Common Pleas and related to the Decedent's Estate and Trust. Order 2 appointed Russell L. Bauknight ("Bauknight") as the fiduciary to temporarily conduct the orderly administrative duties of the Estate as Special Administrator and of the Trust as Special Trustee,⁶ until the lower court could appoint fiduciaries pursuant to the Wilson v. Dallas opinion.⁷ Order 2 directed the Clerk of Court to list Mr. Bauknight as the proper fiduciary in all Aiken County civil actions involving Decedent's Estate and Trust.⁸

The lower court also ordered that, pursuant to this Court's direction in Wilson v. Dallas, persons interested in serving as fiduciaries for the Trust and Estate file applications for such appointment with supporting documentation within forty-five days.⁹

Order 3: This is a Form 4 order in civil action number 2008-CP-02-1647 (described above), which merely assigned a new case number to review Ms. Pope's individual fee request as required by Order 1, above.¹⁰

After the lower court issued these three June 13, 2013 orders, Ms. Pope filed a motion to vacate, set aside, alter or amend all three. The lower court denied Ms. Pope's motion on July 10, 2013 and Ms. Pope included this Form 4 order ("Order 4") in the present appeal.¹¹

⁶ In Wilson v. Dallas, this Court voided Mr. Bauknight's previous appointment, but directed "the circuit court, upon proper application, to appoint fiduciaries to oversee these matters in accordance with the provisions of Brown's estate and trust documents, to evaluate the propriety of all fees . . . that are related to this case." 403 S.C. at 450-51, 743 S.E.2d at 768.

On July 29, 2013, David C. Sojourner, Jr. (“Sojourner”) filed Petitions for Formal Appointment as Limited Special Administrator and Limited Special Trustee pursuant to the lower court’s instructions in Order 1. The lower court received five applications from other individuals, including Bauknight. Sojourner and Bauknight proposed a bifurcated approach, through which Bauknight would manage the business dealings of the Estate and Trust, and Sojourner would defend the Estate and Trust against the various will and trust challenges.

On September 4 and September 11, 2013, the lower court conducted hearings to receive testimony from the various applicants. On October 1, 2013, the lower court issued an Interim Order. After a full consideration and discussion of all applications, the lower court appointed Bauknight to serve as Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust with full, absolute, and exclusive authority to carry out the Estate’s administration and the Trust’s administration, and all business and matters related thereto...except as limited by the appointment of [Sojourner].

See October 1, 2013 Interim Order, attached hereto as Exhibit A at p. 20 ¶ 1.

Also in the October 1, 2013 Order, the lower court appointed Sojourner as Limited Special Trustee (“LST”) for the sole, exclusive, and specific purpose of defending the Trust in the Will and Trust Challenges, until final resolution thereof” Id. at p. 20 ¶ 2.

The lower court made these appointments expressly with the requirement that Mr. Sojourner, in his limited capacity, shall remain independent from Mr. Bauknight, [and] shall act with sole and absolute authority in his limited capacity. . . .

Id. at p. 20.

In an October 10, 2013 order containing requirements of separation and independence similar to the October 1, 2013 Order, the Aiken County Probate Court appointed Mr. Sojourner Limited Special Administrator (“LSA”) of the Estate. See October 10, 2013 Order, attached hereto as Exhibit B (both October 2013 Orders collectively referred to hereinafter as the “Appointment Orders”).

ARGUMENT

I. SOJOURNER IS AN ADVERSE PARTY AND HAS A DUE PROCESS RIGHT TO RESPOND TO THIS APPEAL.

Sojourner’s appointment as the LSA of Decedent’s Estate and LST of Decedent’s Trust is directly related to the Orders on Appeal in this matter. Because his appointment and related fiduciary powers are implicated by this appeal, Mr. Sojourner is a real party in interest who is directly affected by this appeal and should be joined as a party.

Rule 202, SCACR, governs the designation of parties on appeal, explaining that the “adverse party” shall be known as the respondent. Cf. Bank of America, N.A. v. Drape, 405 S.C. 214, 220, 746 S.E.2d 478, 481 (Ct. App. 2013) (“A real party in interest for purposes of standing is a party with a real, material, or substantial interest in the outcome of the litigation.”). Here, Ms. Pope is appealing from administrative orders of the lower court which, in part, found she had no standing in the Estate and Trust Challenges and set into motion the procedure through which Mr. Sojourner was eventually appointed as the LSA and LST. Following issuance of the Appointment Orders, Bauknight’s and Sojourner’s fiduciary roles related to the Estate and Trust became vested.

Some of the cases implicated by the Orders on Appeal are specifically related to the Will and Trust Challenges that Mr. Sojourner was exclusively appointed to defend. Civil action number 2008-CP-02-1647, for instance, involves a number of challenges to the validity of Decedent’s will and trust (the “Undue Influence Claims”), spousal claims of Decedent’s alleged surviving spouse, Tommie Rae Brown, and omitted child claims of Decedent’s alleged heir, James Brown II. Pursuant to the lower court’s Appointment Orders, Mr. Sojourner was appointed LSA and LST “solely, specifically, and exclusively for the purpose of defending the Trust and Estate against claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges until final resolution thereof.” See Exhibit A at p. 20 ¶ 2. The “Will and Trust Challenges” specified by the lower court include “the ongoing spousal elective share matter, the omitted spouse matter, the omitted child matter, and the legal challenges to the validity of the will and trust that were involved in the settlement agreement.” Id. at p. 9 ¶ 8.

Mr. Sojourner is a necessary party to this appeal because, as the LST and LSA for the purpose of defending the Trust and Estate against claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges, he is the only party who can speak for the Estate and Trust on those matters. Those matters are directly implicated by the orders on appeal as they set into motion the procedure through which Mr. Sojourner was appointed and specify that Ms. Pope is not to be a party to those actions. Mr. Sojourner’s legal rights, obligations, and interests as fiduciary are implicated by any decision made by this Court with regard to the Will and Trust Challenge cases and therefore Mr. Sojourner has a due process right to be a party to this appeal.

II. BAUKNIGHT AND SOJOURNER DO NOT REPRESENT THE SAME LEGAL INTERESTS.

Intervention may be denied where an existing party represents the same legal interests as the proposed intervenor. See Rule 24(a), SCRCPP (“anyone shall be permitted to intervene in an action ... unless the applicant’s interest is adequately represented by existing parties.”).

However, “[i]ntervention should be liberally granted, particularly where judicial economy will be promoted by the declaration of rights of all parties who may be affected. In re Horry County State Bank, 361 S.C. 503, 507, 604 S.E.2d 723 725 (Ct. App. 2004) (citing Berkeley Elec. Co-op., Inc. v. Town of Mt. Pleasant, 302 S.C. 186, 189, 394 S.E.2d 712, 714 (1990)). In this case, no existing party, including Mr. Bauknight, represents the same legal interests as Mr. Sojourner and therefore, intervention should be granted.

As outlined above, the Orders on Appeal involve over a dozen pending cases involving Decedent's Estate and Trust. Some of these cases involve matters outside of the Will and Trust Challenges that Mr. Sojourner was appointed to defend. For example, civil action number 2007-CP-02-122 involves the determination of attorneys' fees and costs to be awarded to former fiduciaries David Cannon and Albert Dallas, and civil action number 2013-CP-02-1348 involves a review of the attorneys' fees and costs paid as a result of the appeal from the May 2009 settlement agreement. With regard to these and some other cases, Mr. Bauknight, as the Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust, has full, absolute, and exclusive authority to carry out the Estate's administration and the Trusts' administration, and all business matters related thereto, and . . . specifically [has] the authority and power to act on behalf of and bind, the Estate and the Trust for all purposes, except as limited by the appointment of the Limited Special Trustee and Limited Special Administrator[.]

See Exhibit A at p. 20.

However, with regard to cases implicating or potentially affecting the Will and Trust Challenges, Mr. Sojourner is a necessary party to this appeal and his interests as LSA and LST are not presently represented by Mr. Bauknight. As the LSA and LST, Mr. Sojourner is the only party with authority to defend the Trust and Estate against claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges. See Exhibit A at p. 20 (appointing Mr. Sojourner "solely, specifically, and exclusively" for this purpose). As to the Will and Trust Challenges, Mr. Sojourner's authority and responsibilities do not overlap with Mr. Bauknight's. Id. ("This interim appointment is made with the requirement that Mr. Sojourner, in his limited capacity, shall remain independent from Mr. Bauknight"). With regard to the effect of the orders on appeal upon the Will and Trust Challenges, Mr. Sojourner is the only party with authority to bind and represent the Estate and Trust. For these reasons, this Court should allow Mr. Sojourner to intervene in this appeal.

III. NO PREJUDICE WOULD RESULT FROM ALLOWING SOJOURNER TO INTERVENE.

In deciding whether intervention is appropriate, this Court has held it must consider whether allowing intervention will prejudice the existing parties to the appeal and whether disallowing intervention will prejudice the intervenor. Davis v. Jennings, 304 S.C. 502, 504, 405 S.E.2d 601, 603 (1991) (quotation omitted). Here, allowing Mr. Sojourner to intervene will cause no prejudice to the other parties. Yet, great prejudice could result to Mr. Sojourner if intervention were not permitted and this Court were to reverse or remand the orders on appeal.

Since October 1, 2013, Mr. Sojourner has become intimately familiar with the facts and procedural history of the Will and Trust Challenges. He has become deeply ingrained in the development of the Will and Trust Challenges and has the lower court's authority to represent Decedent's Estate and Trust in these matters. Permitting Mr. Sojourner to intervene in this appeal would not prejudice any other parties to the case, as all of those parties have been litigating these matters with Mr. Sojourner since October 2013.

This Court has explained: "It is necessary to ask why a would be intervenor seeks to participate, for if the desired intervention relates to an ancillary issue and will not disrupt the resolution of the underlying merits, untimely intervention is much less likely to prejudice the parties." Davis v. Jennings, 304 S.C. at 505, 405 S.E.2d at 604 (quotation omitted). Mr. Sojourner seeks to intervene in this appeal to represent the Estate and Trust in matters which the lower court appointed him to defend, following this Court's decision in Wilson v. Dallas. Those matters include, specifically, the Will and Trust Challenges. See Exhibit A at p. 9 ¶ 8 (defining "Will and Trust Challenges"). The interests Mr. Sojourner was appointed to represent are not just ancillary to the issues on appeal, they are central to those issues. Permitting Mr. Sojourner to intervene would not disrupt the resolution of the underlying merits of this action and therefore does not cause resulting prejudice to any of the original parties.

On the other hand, denying Mr. Sojourner the right to intervene in this appeal would significantly prejudice the interests of the Estate and Trust. Mr. Sojourner was exclusively appointed to independently represent the Estate and Trust with regard to matters implicated by the Will and Trust Challenges. If the lower court's June 13, 2013 administrative orders were to be reversed or remanded, Mr. Sojourner's appointment as LSA and LST could be jeopardized, causing his interests as fiduciary of the Estate and Trust, as well as the work he has done defending the Estate and Trust since October 2013, to be compromised.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, the LSA respectfully requests that he be allowed to intervene and participate fully as a party of record in the above-captioned appeal.

IN RE:

THE ESTATE OF JAMES BROWN A/K/A JAMES JOSEPH BROWN

INTERIM ORDER

10-3-13
Liz Anderson
Anita Knoepfle 4:30
Deputy Clerk

This matter comes before me on applications for appointment filed by, or on behalf of, five individuals (hereinafter, the "Applicants") seeking appointment as Personal Representative of the Estate of James Brown (the "Estate") and Trustee of the James Brown August 1, 2000 Irrevocable Trust Agreement (the "Trust"). The Court has also received an application for appointment of Limited Special Administrator of the Estate and Limited Special Trustee of the Trust.

BACKGROUND

In Wilson v. Dallas, 403 S.C. 411, 450, 743 S.E.2d 746, 768 (2013) (the "Opinion"), the South Carolina Supreme Court affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded this Court's May 26, 2009 Order confirming the James Brown Estate and Trust Settlement Agreement. The Opinion reversed the compromise agreement, affirmed this Court's May 26, 2009, removal of the prior fiduciaries Mrs. Pope and Mr. Buchanan, and vacated Mr. Bauknicht's fiduciary appointments made in conjunction with the compromise agreement. The Supreme Court further remanded to this Court the question of who shall serve as fiduciaries of the Estate and Trust. In its Opinion, the Court instructed this Court, "upon proper application, [to] appoint fiduciaries to oversee . . . matters in accordance with the provisions for succession outlined in Brown's trust and estate documents.”

On May 29, 2013, this Court held a status conference concerning the Opinion and, by Order dated June 13, 2013, required all applications of those interested in serving as fiduciaries of the Estate and Trust to be made within 45 days of the date of that Order (July 29, 2013). Mr. Bauknight was ordered, in the interim, to continue to oversee the orderly administrative and fiduciary duties of the Estate and Trust as Special Administrator and Special Trustee, which he has done in a professional manner. Mr. Bauknight has continuously served in a fiduciary capacity for the Estate and Trust since May 26, 2009 and there has been no lapse in his authority or fiduciary service.

A. The Applicants

This Court received a total of six applications, each of varying form. The following identifies the Applicants and summarizes the form of the applications received:

- (1) Mr. Russell L. Bauknight – by Petition for Formal Appointment of Successor Personal Representative and Trustee filed with this Court on July 29, 2013 (attached as Exhibit 1)
- (2) David C. Sojourner, Jr. – by Petition for Formal Appointment as Limited Special Administrator filed with the Aiken County Probate Court and this Court on July 29, 2013, and Petition for Formal Appointment as Limited Special Trustee filed with this Court on July 29, 2013 (attached as Exhibits 2A and 2B)
- (3) Judge Neal W. Dickert – by letter of recommendation delivered on his behalf to this Court by David B. Bell on July 17, 2013 (attached as Exhibit 3)
- (4) Mr. Scott Keniley – by letter delivered to and filed with this Court on July 24, 2013 (attached as Exhibit 4)
- (5) Dr. W.M. Grooms, CPA – by letter filed with this Court on July 24, 2013 (attached as Exhibit 5)
- (6) Rev. Larry Fryer – by e-mail delivered on August 12, 2013 (attached as Exhibit 6).

B. In Court Examination of the Applicants

On September 4, 2013, this Court conducted a hearing to receive testimony and answer questions posed by the Court from the Applicant parties. A transcript of the hearing is attached to this Order as Exhibit 7. All of the Applicants appeared at the September 4, 2013 hearing, except Rev. Fryer. On September 11, 2013, this Court reconvened the hearing to receive the testimony of Rev. Fryer. A transcript of that subsequent hearing is attached to this Order as Exhibit 8. At the conclusion of the September 4, 2013 hearing, this Court gave the Applicants ten (10) days to file written opposition to any of the Applicants.

FINDINGS OF FACT

As an initial matter, this Court wishes to express its gratitude to those Applicants who graciously volunteered to serve the Estate and Trust, as well as the State of South Carolina as a whole. Their willingness to assist the Estate and Trust in these matters is greatly appreciated by the Court.

As noted, the Supreme Court remanded the appointment of fiduciaries of the Estate and Trust to the sound discretion of this Court. This Court has carefully reviewed the Will and Trust, all applications and memoranda filed on behalf of, and in opposition to, the Applicants, and has considered the testimony provided by the Applicants. James Brown passed away nearly seven years ago on December 25, 2006. These factual findings and this Interim Order are made cognizant of the age of this matter and in an effort to expedite the efficient administration of the Estate and Trust. The overarching goal of this Court is to create an atmosphere where the prompt resolution of the various contested claims and a final resolution of Estate and Trust matters can occur without compromising the positive gains achieved since this Court issued its May 26, 2009 Order.

Based on the foregoing, this Court finds:

1. Russell L. Bauknight has continuously served as a fiduciary to the Estate and Trust, both in his roles as Personal Representative and Trustee, and his continuing roles as Special Administrator and Special Trustee, with general fiduciary powers, since May 26, 2009. In that time, he and his counsel have protected the interests of the Estate and Trust in an effective and skillful manner, to wit:

(a) Notwithstanding the fact that he inherited the Estate on the verge of insolvency, with less than $13,000 in the Estate's bank account, Mr. Bauknight oversaw the repayment of over $14 Million on the Pullman bond debt seven years ahead of schedule.

(b) Mr. Bauknight engaged Mr. Peter Afterman to lead the marketing of intellectual property of the Estate. The Court notes that Mr. Afterman is a widely-respected Grammy Award winning music manager who also markets the music of the Rolling Stones. Mr. Afterman has been instrumental in marketing the intellectual property of the Estate. Mr. Bauknight hired Mr. Afterman on a deferred-pay basis so that he received payment 15 months after he began work for the Estate.

(c) Mr. Bauknight negotiated an arrangement with Universal Music to set up a fully-staffed division to assist in the marketing of Mr. Brown's music without charge to the Estate or Trust.

(d) Mr. Bauknight secured a deal launching the James Brown YouTube channel.

(e) Mr. Bauknight has recovered the domain name JamesBrown.com, which, prior to its recovery, had been held by an unrelated party for at least a decade. The Court understands that securing this domain name is part of a larger plan to market merchandise related to James Brown and otherwise promote the Estate's business interests and Mr. Brown's legacy. Mr. Bauknight convinced Universal Music to build the JamesBrown.com website without charge to the Estate or

Trust.

(f) Mr. Bauknight secured a deal for a documentary on the life of James Brown, to be directed and produced by the world renowned musician and entertainer Mick Jagger. The Court understands that this project has already received funding of over two million dollars, which is extraordinary for a documentary.

(g) Mr. Bauknight secured a deal with Imagine Pictures (the production company of Ron Howard and Brian Grazer) and Jagged Productions (the production company of Mick Jagger) for the production of a movie on the life of James Brown, to be released in late 2014, directed by Tate Taylor, most recently of the movie, The Help, and starring Chadwick Boseman, most recently of the Jackie Robinson biopic, 42.

(h) Mr. Bauknight is in the process of negotiating a live tribute tour featuring the music of James Brown.

(i) Mr. Bauknight engaged Mr. Steve Gibson at the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee, to lead the digitization of video and audio tapes of James Brown so that it can be preserved for commercial purposes. This project began over a year ago, and will preserve valuable audio and video tapes of James Brown that are in danger of deterioration.

(j) Mr. Bauknight has initiated discussions with a renowned Broadway producer for the creation of a Broadway production based on the music of James Brown.

(k) Mr. Bauknight has overseen and continues to oversee the repair and restoration of Mr. Brown's iconic Beech Island home and the remaining personal property in the home, which was in a state of disrepair and deterioration when Mr. Bauknight first began his fiduciary service to the Estate and Trust.

(l) Mr. Bauknight has negotiated a deal to restore Mr. Brown's remaining personal possessions found in a state of disrepair at his Beech Island home.

(m) Mr. Bauknight has resolved most of the creditor's claims against the Estate and has worked diligently with his counsel to move the remaining claim matters forward in an efficient and expeditious manner.

(n) Mr. Bauknight has resolved the Estate matters with the Internal Revenue Service and various state taxing authorities, and has filed all income tax returns for James Brown and the Estate and Trust for all periods, both during his tenure as Personal Representative and during the tenure of the prior fiduciaries, who failed to file any income tax returns.

(o) Mr. Bauknight has successfully resolved a number of IRS audits, including the audit of the estate tax return, which resulted in a refund due from the IRS to the Estate.

(p) Mr. Bauknight hired an investment banking firm on a deferred-pay basis to value the intellectual property of the Estate. The IRS royalty valuation experts examined the valuation report during the audit of the estate tax return and agreed with it.

(q) Mr. Bauknight has established a reserve to fund scholarships for deserving students under James Brown's charitable education trust and created a reserve to pay the educational expenses of Mr. Brown's grandchildren. These reserves have presently grown to over $1 Million due to the foresight and planning of Mr. Bauknight, and those and future funds will be immediately available when the current litigation is concluded.

(r) Mr. Bauknight successfully terminated engagements for royalty audits entered into by the prior personal representatives, which were based on a 20% contingency fee arrangement, and negotiated more financially favorable fixed-fee arrangements with new royalty auditors. These new agreements will save the Estate approximately $140,000 on the first audit and significant sums in the future.

(s) Mr. Bauknight has retained attorneys and accountants to represent the Estate and Trust on a deferred-pay basis, which has allowed the Estate and Trust to move forward with administration, while continuing to build and develop the capital required to administer an estate and trust of this size and complexity.

(t) Mr. Bauknight, through his professional contacts, retained other professionals necessary for administration on a deferred-pay or financially beneficial basis.

(u) Mr. Bauknight, in an effort to allow the Estate and Trust to meet all of its obligations and to provide reserves for scholarship funding, has agreed to defer his fiduciary fees and has not yet received any payment from the Estate and Trust for over four years of fiduciary service.

(v) Mr. Bauknight has overseen the successful review and approval of music clearances involving the commercial use of music, including a Super bowl commercial for Volkswagen using the song "Get Up Offa That Thing", a Chanel perfume commercial using the song "It's a Man's Man's Man's World", and multi-sport Gatorade commercials using the song "Super Bad."

(w) Mr. Bauknight and his representatives have successfully represented the Estate in the public arena in a professional manner, promoting James Brown's image and likeness, as well as the activities of the Estate through interviews and media opportunities.

2. When Mr. Bauknight was appointed to serve as Personal Representative there was less than $13,000 in the Estate bank account and there was no consistent source of revenue to the Estate and Trust. Additionally, there were tens of thousands of dollars in bills due and owing as of the date of his appointment, and tens of millions of claims filed against the Estate. Since that time, Mr. Bauknight has assembled an outstanding team of advisors, attorneys, accountants, and other professionals to establish and secure sources of income, pay off debt, and settle claims, placing the Estate on solid financial footing. Additionally, those advisors and attorneys have responded to both probate and non-probate claims against the Estate, in both state and federal court throughout the United States (the District Court of California, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, the District Court of Illinois, and the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals), and have successfully represented the Estate in a professional, efficient, and productive manner.

3. During the more than four years that he has overseen and managed the Estate and Trust, Mr. Bauknight has developed a unique and highly-specialized understanding of the business of the Estate and Trust, its litigation, revenue streams, and liabilities. Given the complexities of the Estate and Trust, there is a need for continuity in the knowledge base for all of the ongoing litigation and business of the Estate and Trust, and Mr. Bauknight and the team he has assembled provide that continuity.

4. The Estate is presently defending against $10 Million in fee claims filed against it by the previous personal representatives. Adding more personal representatives and trustees, at this time, could detrimentally increase the personal representative and trustee fee burden to the Estate and Trust. The addition of more personal representatives and trustees (and their inevitable separate counsel) would require each to spend a significant amount of time to acquire the institutional knowledge that Mr. Bauknight has developed during his more than four years of service to the Estate and Trust.

5. This Court finds that Mr. Bauknight's significant fiduciary experience, including his prior professional administration of numerous estates and trusts, including a larger estate valued at over $150 Million, uniquely qualifies him for the job of Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust.

6. The Court is mindful of the ongoing litigation being pursued by Messrs. Kendall Few and Jim Gilreath on behalf of the Estate against former professionals that James Brown hired to help manage his music empire. Messrs. Few and Gilreath have already reached confidential settlements with certain defendants. The Court firmly believes that it is in the best interests of the Estate for that litigation to continue unimpeded. Mr. Bauknight has formed a positive working relationship with his counsel, understands and is deeply involved in the litigation. The Court is concerned that adding more personal representatives and trustees to manage the Estate and Trust (and its litigation) could increase the fiduciary fee burden (discussed above at Paragraph 4) and hamper, through multiple decision makers, the conduct of this litigation.

7. Respondents Deanna Brown Thomas, Yamma N. Brown, Vanisha Brown and Larry Brown are each devisees under the Will and each has nominated Mr. Bauknight to serve as Personal Representative of the Estate in their stead.

8. The Court is aware that certain Applicant parties have raised the issue of whether a conflict of interest exists with respect to Mr. Bauknight's continued role as fiduciary of the Estate and Trust in the ongoing spousal elective share matter, the omitted spouse matter, the omitted child matter, and the legal challenges to the validity of the will and trust that were involved in the settlement agreement (collectively, the "Will and Trust Challenges"). In reviewing the Applicant party challenges, it is important to pause and underscore that the Opinion unequivocally provided that Mr. Bauknight could be re-appointed as fiduciary. The Court does not believe that a conflict of interest exists. Mr. Bauknight was bound, as a fiduciary, to follow the prior settlement agreement. That settlement agreement has now been overturned. Accordingly, Mr. Bauknight has a fiduciary duty and must defend the Will and Trust against all challenges.

Mr. Bauknight has testified that he has no conflict of interest and that he is willing and capable of fully defending Mr. Brown's Estate plan. This Court has weighed that testimony and finds that neither Mr. Bauknight, nor his counsel, has any conflict of interest that would prevent them from vigorously defending or prosecuting actions on behalf of the Estate and Trust. Mr. Bauknight and his counsel have done an outstanding job prosecuting and defending dozens of legal actions throughout the past four and one-half years. This Court commends Mr. Bauknight and his counsel for the outstanding results they have obtained for the Estate and Trust.

While this Court finds that no conflict of interest exists, out of an abundance of caution and in order to avoid any appearance of impropriety, and to promote the efficient and speedy administration of the Estate and Trust, this Court finds that it is prudent to appoint an independent individual to serve as Limited Special Trustee and as Limited Special Administrator solely, specifically, and exclusively for the purpose of defending the Trust and the Estate against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges.

9. David C. Sojourner, Jr. has been practicing in the area of estate and gift planning and probate administration for more than twenty-six years, and is certified as a specialist in estate planning and probate law and tax law by the South Carolina Supreme Court. Since 2001, Mr. Sojourner has been selected as a member of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel, and has had specialty training in mediation of issues related to estates, including family disputes. Additionally, Mr. Sojourner has served as a fiduciary in the past and has counseled clients on their obligations and duties in a position as fiduciary. Mr. Sojourner has agreed to serve, so long as his role is limited to defending the Will and Trust Challenges on behalf of the Estate and Trust and his law firm of Adams and Reece LLP can represent him in that role. Given his experience, in addition to the resources of a 300-attorney law firm, Mr. Sojourner is well-suited to serve in the role as Limited Special Trustee and Limited Special Administrator.

10. This Court appreciates the willingness of the Applicants who have offered to serve as Personal Representative of this Estate and commends them on their exemplary credentials. Specifically, this Court recognizes Judge Dickert's long and distinguished career both in civil practice and judicial service to the State of Georgia; Dr. Grooms' training as a Certified Public Accountant, in addition to his familiarity with bankruptcy issues and consistent service to the courts as expert witness in tax and accounting matters; Mr. Keniley's experience in the entertainment industry and familiarity with protection of intellectual property; and Rev. Fryer's longstanding service to the community both individually and as Pastor to Trinity C.M.E. Church.

11. This Court is mindful of the practical administrative problems the Estate and Trust have encountered as a result of the history of the prior and multiple fiduciary appointments. In an effort to avoid the recurrence of such problems, the Court finds that at this time, it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust to leave Mr. Bauknight's appointments as Special Trustee and Special Administrator with general fiduciary authority undisturbed. Those appointments shall continue until further order of the Court.

12. The Court is mindful of the substantial claims, both satisfied and outstanding, of prior fiduciaries and their attorneys, accountants, and other advisors, as well as the fact that fees and commissions are still owed to the current fiduciary and his advisors. This Court is convinced that, given the extensive, complex and continuing litigation, including specifically the litigation involving allegations of fiduciary misconduct, the appointment of multiple fiduciaries at this time will inevitably involve the retention of multiple additional attorneys to advise the newly-appointed fiduciaries. I find that it is simply not practicable for the Estate and Trust to bear the additional cost and expense associated with multiple additional fiduciaries and their separate attorneys and other professional advisors at this important time. For these and other reasons this Court has noted, I find it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust that a single fiduciary continue to administer and manage the business of the Estate and Trust until it is demonstrated that the Estate and Trust can satisfy the tremendous liabilities already created by the service of the many prior fiduciaries and their professional advisors.

13. The tumultuous history of the Estate and Trust and the litigation surrounding the same, juxtaposed to the list of Mr. Bauknight's accomplishments detailed above, leaves this Court with the firm factual conclusion that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust for Mr. Bauknight to serve, in the interim, as the sole Personal Representative and sole Trustee. The Court's factual conclusion is also driven by recognition of the considerable expense that the Estate and Trust will incur from the appointment of additional personal representatives and trustees, at this time. Moreover, the Court notes the need for consistent and streamlined administration of the Estate and Trust during this critical time frame.

14. Mr. Brown passed away nearly seven years ago. The Court uses the language—this critical time frame—because that is where the Estate and Trust find themselves. As detailed above, under Mr. Bauknight's leadership, the Estate and Trust are poised to launch a series of public events (the documentary, the life story movie, etc.) that should re-catapult James Brown and his musical legacy onto the world stage. These actions should have a tremendous positive impact to the Estate and Trust, both in terms of good will and financial gain. In turn, these actions should greatly benefit Mr. Brown's testamentary plan for scholarships for children in financial need through increased funding of the scholarship reserves.

Because the Estate and Trust are at a critical time frame, the Court is reluctant to interrupt these gains. Overlaying the Court's concern is the existence of the Will and Trust Challenges.

Certain family members of James Brown are presently challenging the validity of the Will and Trust, and in doing so are, in part, challenging the validity of the requirement that three individuals serve as Personal Representative and Trustee. Since James Brown's death, the Estate and Trust have been overseen by only one set of three Personal Representatives and Trustees—Dallas (who sought to evade the jurisdiction of this Court by moving the situs of the Trust to Georgia and has since filed for bankruptcy), Cannon (who entered an Alford plea to felony indictments charging him with fraudulently taking over $8 Million of James Brown's money), and Bradley (now deceased). Each of these men resigned from their positions, under a cloud, after information and documents were discovered that questioned the motive and faithfulness of their fiduciary service (these three fiduciaries also intended to charge Mr. Brown's Estate "administrative fees" up to 50% of the Estate's income). Because the Will and Trust are presently subject to litigation, I find that at this pivotal time, it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust to maintain a single fiduciary to oversee the administration and management of the Estate and Trust. The Court underscores the point that this is an interim decision.

15. During this crucial time frame, the Court firmly believes that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust for Mr. Bauknight to continue to oversee the administration and management of the Estate and Trust, while Mr. Sojourner defends the Estate plan. Upon the conclusion of all Estate litigation, this Court will revisit this interim determination. Accordingly, I find that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust that, on an interim basis, Mr. Bauknight be appointed as the Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust, and that Mr. Sojourner be appointed as the Limited Special Trustee and Limited Special Administrator to oversee the Will and Trust Challenges. Mr. Sojourner is hereby ordered to draft and present a scheduling order to this Court within the next fourteen days setting forth proposed discovery, deposition, and dispositive motion deadlines so that the Will and Trust Challenges may be expeditiously set for trial.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. I find that this Court has jurisdiction to hear this matter and that venue is proper. All of the interested parties have been notified of the request for applications to serve as Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust, and have been given an opportunity both to nominate a candidate and oppose the applications filed by the Applicants.

2. The Opinion, which is the law governing this case, requires this Court to, "upon proper application, appoint fiduciaries to oversee . . . matters in accordance with the provisions for succession outlined in Brown's trust and estate documents." Wilson v. Dallas, 403 S.C. 411, 450, 743 S.E.2d 746, 768 (2013). Furthermore, this Court "may consider . . . whether [Mr.] Bauknight should be appointed to fill a fiduciary position." Id. at 449, 743 S.E.2d at 767.

3. The South Carolina Probate Code provides that in order to acquire the powers and undertake the duties and liabilities of a personal representative of a decedent, a person first must be appointed by order of the court. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-103 (1976). S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-203(a) delineates the order of priority with respect to the appointment of a successor personal representative:

- (1) the person with priority as determined by a probated will including a person nominated by a power conferred in a will;
- (2) the surviving spouse of the decedent who is a devisee of the decedent;
- (3) other devisees of the decedent;
- (4) the surviving spouse of the decedent;
- (5) other heirs of the decedent regardless of whether the decedent died intestate and determined as if the decedent died intestate;
- (6) forty-five days after the death of the decedent, any creditor; and
- (7) four months after the death of the decedent, upon application by the South Carolina Department of Revenue, a person suitable to the court.

#14

Unless a contrary intent is expressed in the will, subsection (a)(8) allows "a person with priority under subsection (a) [to] nominate another" person. That nominee "shall have the same priority as the person making the nomination." Id. Additionally, although lack of priority is not a bar to appointment, according to S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-203(d), before appointing one without priority, the Court must determine that those having priority, although given notice of the proceedings, have failed to request appointment or to nominate another for appointment, and that administration is necessary.

In this case, subsection (a)(1) does not apply because the personal representatives named in the Will all have resigned and have not named successor personal representatives. Moreover, there is no "advisory board" currently in effect, as referenced in the Will and Trust. Subsection (a)(2) is inapplicable because, notwithstanding her claim to be surviving spouse, Tommie Rae Hynie Brown is not a devisee under the Will. Therefore, the highest priority of appointment rests with other devisees of the decedent under subsection (a)(3). Respondents Deanna Brown Thomas, Yamma N. Brown, Vanisha Brown and Larry Brown each are devisees under the Will, and each are allowed to nominate an individual to serve as Personal Representative of the Estate under subsection (a)(8). Because those devisees have nominated Mr. Bauknight for appointment, and there have been no other nominations by any other devisee, Mr. Bauknight has the highest priority under the terms of S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-203. Because this Court is appointing the Applicant with the highest statutory priority for appointment as Personal Representative of the Estate, S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-203(d) is inapplicable to the case at bar.

Based on the foregoing, I find and conclude that among all the applications filed in this matter, Mr. Bauknight has the highest statutory priority to serve as Personal Representative of the Estate under S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-203.

4. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(a) outlines the fourteen requirements of a formal and proper application for appointment. According to that section, a petition must provide (1) a description of the question relating to qualification of the personal representative which is to be resolved, and also must contain the statements required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a)(1). Those statements, which (2) must be certified by the applicant to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief, S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a), may either be incorporated into the petition or adopted from a prior filing, and shall include: (3) A statement of the interest of the applicant; (4) Decedent's name; (5) Decedent's date of death; (6) Decedent's age; (7) Decedent's county and state of domicile at time of death; (8) Names and addresses of the spouse, children, heirs and devisees; (9) The ages of any children, heirs, or devisees who are minors so far as known or ascertainable with reasonable diligence; (10) A statement showing venue, if the decedent was not domiciled in the State at the time of his death; (11) A statement identifying and indicating the address of any personal representative of the decedent appointed in this State or elsewhere whose appointment has not been terminated; (12) a statement indicating whether the applicant has received a demand for notice, or is aware of a demand for notice of any probate or appointment proceeding concerning the decedent that may have been filed in this State or elsewhere; and (13) A statement that the time limit for appointment has not expired. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a)(1).

Additionally, in 2010, S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b) was amended to clarify that both "a summons and petition are required to commence a formal proceeding, including a formal proceeding concerning appointment of a personal representative as referred to in [S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414]." South Carolina Reporter's Comments (2010 Revision), S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414. Thus, the applicant also must (14) serve the petition, along with a summons, on all interested persons, including all persons interested in the administration of the estate as successors, any previously appointed personal representative, and any person having or claiming priority for appointment as a personal representative. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b).

The application filed by Mr. Dickert is defective because it was filed not by him, but by letter of recommendation from Mr. Bell. Therefore, it was not certified by Mr. Dickert to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b). Additionally, while the application of Mr. Dickert did contain the decedent's name, it did not contain any of the other information required, either in the application or by adoption, under S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Moreover, his application was not served, along with a summons, on all interested parties of the Estate, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b).

The application filed by Mr. Grooms is defective because, while it did contain the decedent's name, it did not contain any of the other information required, either in the application or by adoption, under S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Moreover, his application was not served, along with a summons, on all interested parties of the Estate, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b). Additionally, it was not certified by Mr. Grooms to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Finally, the application did not contain a description of the question relating to qualification of the personal representative which is to be resolved, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(a).

The application filed by Mr. Keniley is defective because, while the application did contain the decedent's name, it did not contain any of the other information required, either in the application or by adoption, under S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Moreover, although the application was served on this Court, it was not served along with a summons, on all interested parties of the Estate, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b). Additionally, it was not certified by Mr. Keniley to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Finally, the application did not contain a description of the question relating to qualification of the personal representative which is to be resolved, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(a).

Finally, the application filed by Rev. Fryer is defective because, while the application did contain the decedent's name, it did not contain any of the other information required, either in the application or by adoption, under S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Moreover, the application was not served along with a summons on all interested parties of the Estate, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(b), but instead was e-mailed after the July 29, 2013 deadline set by this Court. Additionally, it was not certified by Rev. Fryer to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-301(a). Finally, the application did not contain a description of the question relating to qualification of the personal representative which is to be resolved, as required by S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-414(a).

Based on the foregoing, I find and conclude that only Mr. Bauknight has met the statutory requirements of filing a "proper application" for appointment of Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust as required by the Opinion and this Court's June 13, 2013 Order.

5. Based upon the applications filed and testimony received in the hearings held on September 4 and 11, 2013, I find that no applicant for Personal Representative and Trustee had any previous experience serving as a fiduciary of any Estate or Trust, other than Mr. Bauknight and Mr. Grooms. In addition, no applicant other than Mr. Bauknight has experience serving as a fiduciary in any matter as complex as the James Brown Estate and Trust, or in any matter involving the music industry. Additionally, this Court takes note that Mr. Grooms has filed with this Court, subsequent to his testimony, a letter supporting the appointment of Mr. Bauknight as Personal Representative and Trustee.

6. Based upon my nearly seven years of experience with these matters as they have appeared before this Court, and after careful review of the Will and Trust, all applications filed by the Applicants, the testimony proffered by all Applicants, and the party objections filed in opposition to the Applicants, I find, as a matter of law and fact, that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust at this time to appoint Russell L. Bauknight as Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust. Moreover, given the considerable expense to the Estate and Trust that the appointment at this time, of additional personal representatives and trustees would entail, as well as the need for consistent and streamlined administration of the Estate and Trust during this critical time frame, I find that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust to appoint Mr. Bauknight as the sole Personal Representative of the Estate and sole Trustee of the Trust on an interim basis. Mr. Bauknight is well-qualified and willing to serve in these fiduciary capacities. At this pivotal time, I find that to interrupt Mr. Bauknight's continuing professional administration of the Estate and Trust would not be in the best interests of the Estate, the Trust, or the beneficiaries and potential beneficiaries. I find that it is simply not practicable to appoint additional fiduciaries at this time when the Estate lacks the funds to pay the claims of prior fiduciaries and their legal counsel and is currently unable to pay the current fiduciary and his legal counsel. However, as noted above, this interim appointment will be revisited by this Court at the conclusion of all Estate litigation.

7. In addition, and in order to avoid any appearance of impropriety and to promote the efficient and speedy administration of the Estate, this Court finds that it is in the best interests of the Estate and Trust for Mr. David C. Sojourner, Jr. to be appointed as Limited Special

#19

Trustee and Limited Special Administrator solely, specifically, and exclusively for the purpose of defending the Trust and the Estate against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges until final resolution thereof. This interim appointment is made with the requirement that Mr. Sojourner, in his limited capacity, shall remain independent from Mr. Bauknight, shall act with sole and absolute authority in his limited capacity, and will retain Adams and Reese LLP to represent him in the Will and Trust Challenges.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:

1. Russell L. Bauknight is hereby appointed as the Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust effective immediately, with full, absolute, and exclusive authority to carry out the Estate's administration and the Trust's administration, and all business and matters related thereto, and shall specifically have the authority and power to act on behalf of, and bind, the Estate and the Trust for all purposes, except as limited by the appointment of the Limited Special Trustee and Limited Special Administrator described below.

2. David C. Sojourner is appointed as Limited Special Trustee for the sole, exclusive, and specific purpose of defending the Trust in the Will and Trust Challenges, until final resolution thereof, and is authorized to retain Adams and Reese LLP to represent him in such matters.

3. Mr. Sojourner is ordered to draft and present a scheduling order to this Court within the next fourteen days setting forth proposed discovery, deposition, and dispositive motion deadlines so that the Will and Trust Challenges may be expeditiously set for trial.

4. Mr. Bauknight's prior appointments as Special Trustee and Special Administrator, with general fiduciary authority, shall remain undisturbed until further order of the Court.

5. No bond is required to be posted in connection with these appointments.

6. This Interim Order is temporary. The Court will revisit the appointment of fiduciaries upon the conclusion of all Estate litigation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

INFORMAL

FORMAL

The Applicant/Petitioner, Russell L. Bauknight, hereby files this application pursuant to the Aiken County Circuit Administrative Order dated June 13, 2013. The original application is adopted, except as hereinafter noted. Certain matters addressed in the original application are presently the subject of litigation in Aiken County and the litigation has not reached final resolution. In addition, pursuant to prior court orders, appointments have been made and changes have occurred in the office of Personal Representative and, pursuant to probate court proceedings, filings of the will and inventory and appraisements have now been made with the probate court.

The name and address of the most recent duly qualified and acting Personal Representative for this Estate and Trustee for this Trust is: Russell L. Bauknight, 1517 Gervais Street, Columbia, SC 29202.

The appointment of the above Personal Representative and Trustee was addressed in the Opinion of the South Carolina Supreme Court in Wilson v. Dallas, --- S.E.2d ---, 2013 WL 2005103 (2013), dated May 8, 2013, which opinion confirmed the removal of the prior fiduciaries for cause and held that Mr. Bauknight had leave to apply for the fiduciary positions.

The name and address of the proposed successor Personal Representative and successor Trustee is: Russell L. Bauknight, 1517 Gervais Street, Columbia, SC 29202.

It is anticipated the applicant's capacity as Personal Representative and Trustee, if so appointed, would be subject to authority granted in any order of this Court and/or the Aiken County Probate Court to an appointed Special Administrator and/or Special Trustee for designated specific and limited purposes to the extent provided in any such orders. Russell L. Bauknight's standing and priority for this appointment is based on the Wilson v. Dallas opinion and his status as a creditor of this Estate for proper fiduciary commissions and his status as the currently serving Special Administrator of the Estate of James Brown and Special Trustee of the James Brown 2000 Irrevocable Trust, as appointed to such capacities by Orders of this Court and the Aiken County Probate Court.

VERIFICATION

The undersigned, being sworn, states that the facts set forth in the foregoing statement are true to the best of the undersigned's knowledge, information and belief, and hereby submits to the Court's jurisdiction in this matter.

AIKEN COUNTY
CLERK OF COURT

Petitioner, Russell Bauknight, in his capacity as Special Administrator of the Estate of James Brown (the "Estate"), by and through his undersigned counsel, hereby requests pursuant to applicable South Carolina law, including but not limited to, Sections 62-3-614 and 62-3-617 of the South Carolina Probate Code, that the Court issue its order appointing David C. Sojourner, Jr., as Limited Special Administrator for the Estate with specific and limited powers as hereinafter set forth, for the following reasons:

1. By Order of this Court dated June 13, 2013, Russell L. Bauknight's prior appointment as Special Administrator of the Estate was confirmed, pending further order of this Court. By its terms, this Order granted Bauknight the full, exclusive and absolute authority to carry out the administration of the Estate and all business related thereto with all of the authority of a general personal representative.

2. In order to avoid any appearance of impropriety, promote the efficient and speedy administration of the Estate and create an arm's length separation for Bauknight in matters relating to the various Will and Trust contests and other actions presently embodied in Case No. 2008-CP-02-01647 (the "1647 Cases"),¹ Petitioner requests that David C. Sojourner, Jr. be appointed as the new Limited Special Administrator solely, specifically and exclusively for the limited purpose of defending the Estate against the claims made in the 1647 Cases until final resolution thereof, with the specific authorization to retain his law firm, Adams and Reese LLP, to represent him as Limited Special Administrator in the 1647 Cases. See, e.g., South Carolina Probate Code §62-3-715(19).

3. Bauknight will continue to serve in his capacity of sole Special Administrator of the Estate as previously ordered by this Court, with the full, exclusive and absolute authority of a general personal representative to represent the Estate in any and all matters other than the 1647 Cases, and will continue to be responsible for all Estate matters, except for the limited authority and duty of David C. Sojourner, Jr. as set forth herein.

4. Bauknight will have no involvement in, authority over, or responsibility for the 1647 Cases and Sojourner will have no involvement in, authority over, or responsibility for any matters other than the 1647 Cases.

5. Appointing a Limited Special Administrator to move the 1647 Cases forward provides structured and efficient administration of the 1647 Cases, complies with sound judicial economy, and allows Bauknight the ability to manage all other concerns of estate administration in an expeditious manner.

¹ The 1647 Cases consist of the Will and Trust challenges, the elective share matter, the omitted spouse matter, and the omitted child matter. Mr. Sojourner will have complete authority over, and be responsible for, these limited matters until final resolution of the listed matters.

6. David C. Sojourner, Jr. has acknowledged his acceptance of appointment by Affidavit filed herewith.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Honorable Court issue its order appointing David C. Sojourner, Jr. as Limited Special Administrator of the Estate, for the limited purposes and duration as set forth above; and for such other relief as this Court deems necessary and proper.

Respectfully submitted,

Re: James Brown Estate

Dear Judge Early:

At the conclusion of the July 9, 2013 hearing held in front of Your Honor, we were informed that Russell Bauknight will be stepping aside as the Personal Representative for the Estate of James Brown. This decision was made to avoid any appearance of conflict between his position as Trustee and that of Personal Representative.

After this announcement, you solicited recommendations for a new Personal Representative for the James Brown Estate. At this time, I am recommending Judge Neal Dickert be selected to serve as the Personal Representative for the James Brown Estate. Judge Dickert is a member of the South Carolina Bar. His law firm has an office in Aiken across the street from the courthouse. He is a retired Superior Court judge. No lawyer in the Central Savannah River Area is more respected than Neal Dickert. From his days as a student at Wofford College, to his military service which took him to Vietnam, through his law school career at the University of South Carolina, Neal Dickert has exemplified the best traits of our profession. He was law review in law school and has continued his scholarly pursuit with excellence.

Judge Dickert has the legal and judicial experience to properly oversee the critical issues that must be resolved in the James Brown Estate. It is for this reason that I recommend to Your Honor Neal Dickert as the replacement Personal Representative. Also, at this time, I am including a copy of Judge Dickert's resume.

The Hon. Doyet A. Early, III

I must bring to the court's attention that Bill Hammond, a former attorney in the Hull Barrett Law Firm, once advised the original James Brown Estate Trustee. However, Mr. Hammond is no longer connected with the Hull Barrett Law Firm.

I am,

Sincerely,

Re: The Estate Of James Brown A/K/A: James Joseph Brown

Trustee/PR Applicant: Scott Keniley

Dear Judge Early:

Thank you for this opportunity to submit my candidacy for the position of trustee to the James Brown "I Feel Good" Irrevocable Trust ("Trust"). My career path and experience developed a unique set of skills that would most specifically apply to the supervision of an education focused trust financed by music industry intellectual property exploitation. (Curriculum Vitae attached hereto). Relevant career highlights include, but are not limited to serving as vice president & general counsel to a $60M annual record company, college professor (Music Business, Copyright & Entertainment Law and Entrepreneurship), multi-campus college national advisory board, Recording Academy ("Grammy's") Board of Governors (Education Committee member), fifteen (15) year Educational Chairman, executive committee member and panelist for the North American Entertainment, Sports & IP Law Conference, counsel and/or board member to various nonprofit music associations, and criminal court judge. Additionally, I regularly lecture on music industry and/or intellectual property issues at various law schools, universities, continuing legal education courses, entertainment conferences and have been selected as the key note speaker to college graduating classes.

The Trust concept as James Brown envisioned is potentially a perpetual scholarship for his grandchildren and economically disadvantaged students in Georgia and South Carolina. To fulfill the James Brown Scholarships, preservation, maintenance and maximization of the Trust assets and value are paramount, taking into consideration, Trust operating cost and administration, IP exploitation related costs, litigation economy and intuitive investing. My career has been devoted to protecting IP rights whether by contract or the courts.

My experience as Vice President and General Counsel to Platinum Entertainment, Inc. (then NASDAQ PTET) and later Compendia Media Group provided very relevant experience to the intellectual property and revenue needs of the Trust. In addition to the corporate and SEC responsibilities, my job was exploitation and protection of the companies' intellectual property rights. Not only was I in a supervisory role, but also was directly involved in litigation, acquisition and licensing intellectual property such as the House of Blues music, Royal Philharmonic master recordings, and artists including Joan Osborne, Pete Townshend and Roger Daltrey (of The Who), Rick Springfield, Kansas, The Oak Ridge Boys, Donny Osmond, John Denver, Drivin n Cryin, Derek Trucks, Jim Belushi, The Blues Brothers, Might Clouds of Joy, Blind Boys from Alabama, Vicky Winans and many more. Intellectual Property exploitation also included establishing and documenting various alliances or co-branding opportunities as well such as with Coca-Cola, National Geographic, Sir George Martin (Beatles producer) and the film industry.

Additionally and unfortunately, what also comes with music industry related intellectual property, especially in this digital world, is asset protection. In my roles as general counsel and as a private practitioner, I have engaged in litigating, or supervising copyright and/or trademark infringement actions, both from the plaintiffs' and defendants' position. The value of James Brown's likeness licensing is directly related to controlling inappropriate uses while maintaining direct channels for appropriate licensing opportunities. The value and preservation of James Brown's Trust legacy is also directly related to maintaining the integrity of the Trust's intent.

This is where the Trust "needs" and my career experience in the music industry cross paths, resulting in the submission of this application. My involvement as a professor, frequent lecturer, college advisory board member and association with various non-profit organizations demonstrates my interest in mentoring and developing young minds and professional career paths. James Brown evidently had the same interest when he envisioned the concept behind the Trust. I would welcome the opportunity to further Mr. Brown's wishes and take good faith strides to develop one of the most respected and desired scholarships available to South Carolina and Georgia students. My experience as an attorney, corporate executive and judge will assist me in running and preserving the Trust as it was intended.

Although I am not a South Carolina resident, Pursuant to South Carolina Code § 62-7-202, It does not appear that my residency is required, but only that the out of state "trustee submits personally to the jurisdiction of the courts of this State regarding any matter involving the trust." I would have no problem appearing when requested by your Honorable Court and fortunately it is an easy and beautiful drive. Should you wish to discuss my qualifications personally, I am willing to appear before you or the vetting personnel. Professionally, I remain

Very truly yours,

Scott Kennedy

Re: Estate James Brown et. al.

Dear Judge Early:

I am interested in being considered as a successor PR/Trustee in the above matter.

I am attaching my CV. In addition to it I would respectfully point out that I served as the "lead partner" for my firm in the SC Bankruptcy case of Hilton Head Holding vs. "the World." There I testified before Judge Blatt on many occasions relative to the accounting and tax issues before that Court. I occupied a similar role in the PTL bankruptcy cases. In both of those issues I worked with diverse parties in complicated matters in which the representatives were all quite knowledgeable, quite capable, and quite adversely as to their clients. In the Hilton Head matter I was retained by the late Gov./Ambassador John West and serve to this date as a member of the Foundation that was formed by him to benefit children of SC.

I have served as an expert witness for the Nelson Mullins and McNair firms of SC and other firms and been qualified as an expert witness in both the Federal and SC Courts of this State.

I had the pleasure of working with Chief Justice Toal while she was a practicing attorney in Columbia and have appeared before her as an expert witness in her present position.

I do have some understanding of the SC judicial system.

As a matter of disclosure, I wish to point out that I supervised Mr. Russell Bauknight prior to my retirement from Ernst & Young.

In addition to the above phone number I will supply my cell number which is 803 730 2655.

Sincerely,

W. M. Grooms

Subject: Executive Trustee

2008 CP0201647 DAE

Judge Early,

Your Honor. I have known the Late Legendary James Brown for almost 20 years. I have had the opportunity to serve as his pastor when I appointed to Trinity C. M. E. Church. Also I have been a personal friend to him as well. His father, Mr Joseph Brown was also a part of my congregation whom I communed and participated in his funeral. I also provided pastoral care for his daughter Vanesha Brown when she was sick and during her brush with the law. I traveled with Mr. Brown within and outside of the country.

I know how much he cared for children, the poor and education. Therefore, I would love to offer my services as an Executive Trustee to work diligently to carry out his desired with heartfelt humility and unwavering trust.

Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Good afternoon, gentlemen, ladies. All
2 right.

3 Pursuant to Wilson vs. Dallas, the Supreme Court
4 ordered that I accept applications for the position of 5 special administrator/trustee, etc., etc., I issued an
6 administrative order recently, and -- wherein I requested
7 that any of those applications needed to be done within 45
8 days from the date of that order. I think that was June 9 13, 2013.

10 In response to that, I have received two official
11 applications -- I guess "official" would be the correct
12 word -- that were filed with the Court from Mr. Bauknight
13 and Mr. David Sojourner.

14 I received a letter of recommendation for Judge
15 Dickert from Mr. Bell, who is former judge -- Judge, good
16 to see you.

17 JUDGE DICKERT: Good to see you, Judge.

18 THE COURT: -- from Augusta.

19 I received a written letter from Mr. Scott Keniley.
20 Is he here today?

21 MR. KENILEY: Keniley, sir.

22 THE COURT: Keniley. Good -- nice to have you with 23 us, sir.

24 MR. KENILEY: And I also filed that letter with the 25 clerk as well.

1 THE COURT: All right. Got a letter from Mr. Grooms,
2 Mr. W. -- W. M. Grooms. Is he with us today?

3 MR. GROOMS: Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: Nice to have you with us, sir.

5 Mr. Larry Frier? Is he with us today?

6 MR. BELL: He is not here, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right. I got an e-mail from Mr. Frier
8 this morning saying he may not be here. So anyway,
9 received some type of e-mail application from him.

10 I sent out a notice of today's hearing, and in that 11 notice I said I would give each applicant 15 minutes to 12 present their credentials, request to serve, and if I had 13 any questions, I would ask them the questions.

14 So I will go in this order: I'll start with Judge
15 Dickert.

16 And for those of you who do not know Neal Dickert, he
17 and I went to law school together. He is -- at one time
18 served as a judge in the State of Georgia, now a
19 practicing lawyer in Augusta.

20 And Mr. Bell, anything you want to ask him of Mr. --
21 Judge Dickert?

22 MR. BELL: Thank you, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Judge Dickert, you want to --

24 MR. BELL: And I -- I'll just point him in some 25 direction.

1 THE COURT: That's -- I'm sure he needs some pointing.

2 (Courtroom laughter.)

3 (Judge Dickert takes the stand.)

4 JUDGE DICKERT: I used -- I've sat out there and I've 5 sat up there, but I haven't sat here.

6 THE COURT: Well, you know, there's a lot of guys in 7 here I suspect would love to be able to cross-examine you.
8 So I may go against my protocol and just open it up to 9 everybody in here.

10 (Courtroom laughter.)

11 MR. BELL: Judge Dickert, if you will just briefly
12 tell us your background, any experience in the courtroom,
13 and ---

14 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, I -- I do live in Augusta, but I
15 was born and raised in Newberry. Went to law school at 16 South Carolina; went to Wofford before that. Judge Early 17 alluded to, we were -- graduated in 1974. Admitted to the 18 Bar in South Carolina in 1974; Georgia in 1975. Practiced
19 for 22 years with the firm of -- what's now Hull Barrett;
20 it was then known as "Hull, Towill, Norman, Barrett, and 21 Johnson."

22 In 1997, the first of January, I assumed the position
23 of superior court judge in Augusta Judicial Circuit.
24 Georgia has -- the Superior Court is a court of general
25 jurisdiction, tries -- unlike South Carolina, we don't --

1 they don't split circuit court from the family court. So
2 a superior court judge does everything from felony murder
3 death penalty case down to -- to divorce cases, custody --
4 trial custody, as well as all general jurisdiction civil 5 cases.

6 I served for 11 years as a superior court judge. In
7 that capacity, I tried a number of civil -- I -- I
8 wouldn't mention the number. I didn't keep count of jury
9 trials. And unlike South Carolina, I think Georgia may be 10 the only state that you can have a jury trial in a divorce
11 case. Tried a few -- handful of those, but not too many.

12 After 11 years -- I had a great experience, did have
13 some consideration for positions in other courts -- but I
14 decided at that stage that I was ready to come back to 15 private life. And so I retired from the bench at the end
16 of 2007, and went back to my former law firm.

17 I've been back since January 1, 2008. I do mostly 18 civil practice, although I had one or two criminal cases;
19 involved now in a criminal appeal on a matter.

20 I do work in South Carolina as well as Georgia, and 21 have a pretty significant ADR practice. I mediate
22 probably 40/50 cases a year. I've done some arbitrations,
23 including some triple A arbitrations, as well as just 24 general civil arbitrations. And so I've been back now
25 almost six years.

1 So that's kind of a little bit about my background,
2 experience, and where I am.

3 I do -- I have -- I do a good bit of speaking, CLE
4 speaking. I wrote an evidence book a few years ago called
5 "The Georgia Handbook of Foundations and Objections." So
6 I -- I do enjoy doing that every year -- up -- updating
7 that as long as I can.

8 MR. BELL: And I believe your firm has an office in 9 Aiken.

10 JUDGE DICKERT: We do. We have presently four lawyers
11 in the Aiken office: Bill Tucker, Rand Hannah, Paul
12 Simons, and recently Paul Timmerman joined us -- with the 13 firm as well. So we have four lawyers in Aiken.

14 MR. BELL: An active Aiken County practice.

15 JUDGE DICKERT: Active Aiken County practice, yes.

16 MR. BELL: Now, tell Judge Early your familiarity with 17 the Supreme Court decision in this case, and your 18 understanding of the issues that ---

19 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, I -- I have read the opinion and 20 intrigued by the opinion. I -- I did -- I --, I see that 21 their issues going forward principally dealing with the 22 question of the validity of the will, as well as the 23 contest. I know there's an action pending relating to the 24 validity of the will and with regard to possible influence
25 or competency; issue of the marriage; and also a paternity

1 question with regard to one -- one child, the child that -

3 MR. BELL: Okay.

4 JUDGE DICKERT: So I think those are the three 5 principal issues that would have to be addressed and 6 decided at a fairly early stage. Anyway, not necessarily 7 in that order, but certainly those -- those are the three.

8 MR. BELL: And how do you see those issues
9 progressing? How speedily could they be pursued and --
10 and --

11 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, as many lawyers as we have in 12 this room, that would probably be a challenge, but -- if 13 everyone's involved. But I mean, I think they do need to 14 move quickly. Obviously, this -- this case has been 15 around for a long time, and -- and noone is served by 16 continuing.

17 I think some -- some would be -- you know, my -- my 18 approach -- and I use this recently -- when I try to 19 mediate cases, there's some -- some things that are -- if 20 you get the easier cases out -- easier issues out of the 21 way first, then the others sort of fall into place. It
22 seems to me that the paternity issue would be one that 23 would have to be decided. That ought to -- ought to be 24 fairly easy to address.

25 MR. BELL: DNA test.

1 JUDGE DICKERT: Yes. Through -- through testing. Be
2 Court supervised so they're sure.

3 And -- and -- and the -- and irrespective of what
4 happened with the will, you -- you would have an issue
5 about the validity of the marriage. And so there are a
6 number of issues -- a number of legal issues that have to 7 be addressed with regard to that.

8 So I think that might be -- my thought would be the 9 next issue, and then ultimately -- and that -- that -- 10 because that would affect the outcome irrespective of what 11 happens with the will.

12 But -- and then ultimately, I think the issue of the - 13 - the will might be a little more involved and 14 complicated.

15 MR. BELL: Now, Judge Dickert, do you see the trustees
16 working as the same as the estate representatives, or do
17 you see a conflict between ---

18 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, I think there could be a
19 conflict if you had the trustee -- I mean, depending upon 20 the issue with regard to -- to the issues concerning the 21 marriage and -- and some of the issues surrounding that,
22 as to whether the estate might have interests that may be
23 different from that of the trust. Obviously, the trustee
24 would -- would be interested in maximizing all the 25 benefits for the trust; whereas, depending upon what

1 happened with the other issues with the estate, might have .
2 different positions. So I mean, that's potentially.

3 But I -- I -- and so I -- I'd be a little
4 uncomfortable in both -- wearing both hats.

5 MR. BELL: Because of potential conflict between the -

7 JUDGE DICKERT: Possibly.

8 THE COURT: Which hat would you prefer?

9 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, Judge, I -- I'm here -- I -- I
10 do whatever the Court thinks. If -- if I can assist in 11 this case, I'll do whatever the Court would -- would --
12 would ask me to do. I have -- don't have a preferency. I
13 think the only -- I really -- really don't.

14 MR. BELL: And you would hire independent counsel.

15 JUDGE DICKERT: I -- I would, yes.

16 MR. BELL: Outside of your own law firm.

17 JUDGE DICKERT: I -- I would.

18 MR. BELL: There's been some talk about whether each - 19 - the will talks about three estate representatives and 20 three trustees. Do you see that as a problem, having a
21 team rather than individuals?

22 JUDGE DICKERT: Well, you know, any time you have a
23 committee making the decision -- I always talk about if 24 you represent a committee, that's difficult. But I -- but 25 I think you have to accomplish the -- the wishes of the

1 estate, and -- and the estate set forth -- at least, as of
2 now, that will is creating more than one. I think more
3 than one can certainly work. I don't think it has to be 4 one.

5 MR. BELL: If you had multiple personal
6 representatives, would you have to have multiple
7 attorneys, or could one ---

8 JUDGE DICKERT: No. I think one could -- one could 9 handle the matters for all -- all three. Just as if --
10 any sort of partnership or organization where you have a
11 number of people involved, you know, you have one -- one
12 attorney representing an entity and not the individual.
13 So I think that could be handled by one attorney.

14 MR. BELL: Judge Early, do you have any questions you
15 would like to ask of Judge Dickert?

16 MR. NEWSOME: Your Honor --

17 THE COURT: Yes.

18 MR. NEWSOME: -- may I -- we have an objection to the 19 lack of formality of the application to Mr. Dickert and 20 the other applications. I don't know if you want to hear
21 that now or at the end of -- at the conclusion ---

22 THE COURT: No. I'll hear it later.

23 MR. NEWSOME: Okay.

24 THE COURT: I'm interested in ---

25 MR. NEWSOME: Thanks.

1 JUDGE DICKERT: The only thing I would -- I do think -
2 - I don't know whether -- I -- I haven't seen -- Mr. Bell
3 asked me if I would be interested or willing to serve.
4 And after some reflection, I told him if I thought the 5 Court thought I could help, that I would be available.
6 And so I haven't seen the letter that he wrote.

7 I -- I do think that -- my -- my law firm at one time,
8 or my former partners who are not with us any more -- but 9 Mr. Tucker, who is within our Aiken office, and another
10 lawyer, were involved, I think probably when I was on the 11 bench.

12 MR. BELL: You -- you were.

13 JUDGE DICKERT: I was on the bench at the time -- were 14 involved in -- in giving some legal advice to the original
15 trustees.

16 MR. BELL: Mr. Hammond has totally severed his ---

17 JUDGE DICKERT: Mr. Hammond -- you know, so I -- I
18 wasn't involved, but I mean, I think, you know, everybody
19 needs to be aware that -- that that -- I don't think
20 that's a conflict. But certainly that's up to the judge
21 to decide and you all to make any objections.

22 But that was -- during my time on the bench, there was 23 some involvement there; and even after I came, there had 24 been some effort to make sure that that didn't continue
25 from -- Ms. Pope was involved.

1 MR. BELL: And when you ---

2 JUDGE DICKERT: I know Ms. Pope, too. I mean, Ms.
3 Pope was in the class with Judge Early and I in law school
4 as well.

5 MR. BELL: And I think you grew up with her husband.

6 JUDGE DICKERT: I did. Tom was a dear -- he was a
7 good friend of mine til he died.

8 MR. BELL: Now, when -- during your 11 years on the 9 Superior Court bench in Georgia, you served -- you handled
10 many domestic cases, will contests, and things of that 11 nature, did you not?

12 JUDGE DICKERT: I -- I did. Sure.

13 MR. BELL: Your Honor, I have a few more minutes of 14 the 15. I have no more questions, unless the Court does.

15 THE COURT: How -- how familiar are you with the other
16 aspects of the estate, i.e., all the claims against the 17 estate, various predators, the on-going day-to-day
18 operation of the estate or the administration of the 19 estate that Mr. Bauknight's been doing? Have you
20 familiarized yourself with any of that?

21 JUDGE DICKERT: No, sir. I have not, Your Honor. I
22 mean, I do know that there has been some claims. I know
23 there was claims by Ms. Pope as well as Mr. Buchanan. I
24 knew that that was -- that was outstanding, or at least I
25 understood that the Buchanan matter had been resolved, but

1 Mr. Bell tells me there are some other issues in regard to 2 that.

3 But no. There's -- there's a lot, Judge, I do not
4 know. I mean, I ---

5 THE COURT: Well, I assume so.

6 JUDGE DICKERT: I have not -- other than my limited
7 knowledge of -- of the matter and -- and -- and reading
8 the opinion and acquiring the information I've acquired
9 from Mr. Bell, that's -- I haven't done any further
10 investigation or analysis.

11 THE COURT: Well, it sounds like, if you were to come
12 on board, if I were to appoint you, it would -- we could 13 best use your experience and your background as a judge
14 and lawyer to help bring to as early a conclusion as we 15 can, obviously, the three main issues -- the validity of 16 the will, the marriage claim, and the child's claim --
17 separate and apart from the administration of the estate.
18 And that seems to me would be the best utilization of your 19 talents.

20 Would you be willing to -- if I appointed you to -- to 21 participate in -- obviously, before we settled it and the 22 settlements was overturned by the Supreme Court, a lot of 23 effort and time went into those three issues; and 24 obviously, they got to get back on the front burner. And 25 I think once we can get all of that done, then we'll be in

1 a position to fund the trust and all, and see what exactly
2 we have in it.

3 But until those issues are resolved, we're sort of at 4 a standstill with exactly what goes in the trust, and then 5 being able to take care of the -- of the needy children as 6 set forth under the -- in the documents.

7 So as I -- as I sort of listen to you, it sounds as if 8 that would be your best -- highest and best use of your 9 talent, would be ---

10 JUDGE DICKERT: I'd be willing to do that, Judge.

11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

12 MR. BELL: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Thank you.

14 (Judge Dickert exits the stand.)

15 JUDGE DICKERT: Should I leave the room, or should --
16 should I stay here?

17 THE COURT: No. You can stay. That'd be fine. Or 18 you're welcome to leave. I mean --

19 JUDGE DICKERT: No. I mean, that's fine. I didn't 20 know whether --

21 THE COURT: No. I'm just going just sort of take 22 general information from everybody, and then I've got to 23 make the call on it, and --

24 JUDGE DICKERT: Okay.

25 THE COURT: -- I'm going to try to do it rather -- in

1 an expeditious manner so we can get some scheduling orders
2 where these -- the validity of the will -- the will
3 contest, the marriage contest, and the James Brown child
4 contest. So that's where we stand.

5 JUDGE DICKERT: Thank you, Judge.

6 THE COURT: Thank you. All right. I have next -- how 7 bout Mr. Grooms.

8 (Mr. Grooms comes forward.)

9 THE COURT: Mr. Grooms, if you'd place your left hand
10 on the Bible and raise your right.

11 Wm. M. Grooms, having been first duly
12 sworn, testifies as follows:

13 THE COURT REPORTER: Could I have your first name,
14 please. Your first name.

15 MR. GROOMS: My name is William M. Grooms. I'm 16 colloquially known as Bill Grooms; a resident of Columbia,
17 South Carolina.

18 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Grooms, I don't think
19 there's anybody here to ask you questions. So why don't 20 you -- first of all, identify yourself for us and tell us
21 -- I've got your CV, but tell us on the record a little 22 bit about your background and your current status and why
23 you want to -- or why you've made application and what you
24 can offer us.

25 MR. GROOMS: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Thank you.

2 MR. GROOMS: My name is Bill Grooms. I'm educated in 3 the State of South Carolina, born and raised in this
4 state. All my education -- grammar school, high school,
5 and up to the baccalaureate level -- has been in the State
6 of South Carolina, to include by baccalaureate degree from 7 the University of South Carolina. I've been a native of 8 Columbia since the fourth grade forward.

9 Beyond my high school education, my baccalaureate
10 degree's University of South Carolina, I have a masters
11 degree from Pepperdine on the West Coast, and a PhD from 12 LaSalle.

13 My professional background is after the University of 14 South Carolina, I commenced my professional career with 15 the Internal Revenue Service as an Internal Revenue agent.
16 I left the IRS to go with the Columbia, South Carolina
17 firm -- accounting firm of Clarkson, Harden and Gantt,
18 where I served as a tax partner. That firm eventually 19 merged with Arthur Young, which in turn merged with Ernst
20 & Young; and I took advantage of an early retirement
21 opportunity from Ernst & Young.

22 Since that time I have had my own practice in which I
23 do essentially three things: I travel around the United 24 States typically 30 days/35 days a year conducting
25 continuing -- continuing professional education programs

1 for CPAs and frequently tax lawyers who will be sitting in 2 the audience as a part of their CLE requirement; I'm also 3 serving as an expert witness with attorneys in various 4 matters and have testified and -- and qualified in both
5 the Federal and state courts; and beyond that, I'm
6 available to CPAs and attorneys where they have a client
7 with a tax problem or a business problem that they would 8 associate myself.

9 And that's something of my background, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right, sir. Tell me why you want to 11 get involved in this situation.

12 MR. GROOMS: I believe as a result of the experiences
13 that I've been through and the course of my practice
14 background and my education, that I could serve this 15 estate very well. And I see it as a challenge to myself
16 and I see it as, therefore, an opportunity to serve the 17 State of South Carolina and to serve this estate. And 18 from that background and that perspective, I would be 19 pleased to serve if I were selected.

20 THE COURT: What would you -- what -- what do you see
21 your role as being. I mean --

22 MR. GROOMS: That of the personal representative to 23 work with the problems and challenges that this estate
24 would pose.

25 THE COURT: Are you familiar with the on-going

1 litigation that's been -- now sent back to me through the
2 Supreme Court: the contest of the wills, litigation
3 concerning the validity of marriages, and the legitimacy
4 of a child?

5 MR. GROOMS: No, sir, I am not. I made it a point not
6 to try to review anything that's gone on before, because I
7 did not want to be prejudiced by that which has happened
8 in the past.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Brown died in December of 2006, on 10 Christmas Day. Obviously, notwithstanding all of the 11 litigation that has come up after his death, and they've 12 done a lot of claims and a lot of just day-to-day
13 administration of the estate, are you familiar with any of 14 -- any of that?

15 MR. GROOMS: No, sir. I'm not, for the reasons I've 16 stated.

17 THE COURT: Do you understand that there will be some 18 need for continuity between, obviously, what has been 19 going on since December of 2006 and today, notwithstanding
20 the Supreme Court's decision?

21 MR. GROOMS: Yes, sir. I understand there will be a 22 learning curve to -- to be mastered there. But I see that 23 as one more challenge in the event of this.

24 I also see this as an opportunity to bring to bear the 25 skills that I have in working with others who have diverse

1 interests as it relates to this. And hopefully, those
2 skills that I have in working with diverse parties would
3 enable me to render a service.

4 THE COURT: I see that Mr. Bauknight was working with 5 you at one time; is that correct?

6 MR. GROOMS: Yes, sir. I had the pleasure of working
7 with Mr. Bauknight for several years. And I will also add
8 that I have a very high opinion of Mr. Bauknight and his 9 skills.

10 THE COURT: And if you were brought onboard, could you
11 continue to work with Mr. Bauknight or ---

12 MR. GROOMS: It would be my pleasure to work with Mr.
13 Bauknight if I were so selected.

14 THE COURT: Any -- anything else you want to tell me
15 in connection with your desire to serve as a trustee
16 and/or administrator of this estate?

17 MR. GROOMS: I have worked with many estates, and I
18 see this simply being one more challenge. I see this
19 being also a situation that I could utilize the skills
20 that I have developed in working with other matters, and 21 the familiarity that I have with the South Carolina
22 Judicial System, and the Federal Judicial System I might 23 add. And I would envision bringing those skills to bear
24 as I meet this challenge.

25 THE COURT: Thank you very much. Anything else you

1 want to add, if not I'm going to move forward.

2 MR. GROOMS: No, sir. But I would be happy to answer
3 any questions that anyone might have.

4 THE COURT: Well, I tried to purposely not open this
5 up to questions, because that could lead us being here way
6 into the night. So I'm going to just ask the questions
7 myself. Thank you for coming. You may step down.

8 (Mr. Grooms exits the stand.)

9 THE COURT: All right. Let's do -- I'm sorry. Is it
10 Kenally [phonetic] or Keniley?

11 MR. KENILEY: Keniley, sir.

12 THE COURT: Keniley. If you'd come around for me,
13 please.

14 Scott Keniley, having been first
15 duly sworn, testifies as follows:

16 THE COURT: All right. For the record, Mr. Keniley, 17 on July 14, 2013, sent me a letter and thanked me for the 18 opportunity to apply for the position of trustee. And in 19 that letter, he gave me some background and sent a CV as 20 well.

21 But Mr. Keniley, why don't you just tell us -- first
22 of all, start off with your background and tell us a 23 little bit about you, your professional standing and what 24 you do and why are you wanting to become involved in this 25 situation.

1 MR. KENILEY: Thank you, Your Honor. My name's Scott
2 Keniley. I'm a partner at the entertainment business law
3 firm Keniley Kumar in Atlanta, Georgia. Our primary
4 offices are in Dunwoody and we have -- and my home's in 5 Peachtree Corners.

6 At the law firm -- we're an entertainment practice is 7 what we do. It's an -- what people refer to as a
8 "boutique practice." We represent artists from baby-act
9 level to Grammy-act level. We represent record companies
10 from indy record companies to major record companies.
11 We've been involved this -- in all different levels.

12 In this dealing we do recording contracts. We 13 negotiate these. We negotiate publishing deals. We 14 negotiate distribution deals. We negotiate strategic 15 alliances and other strategic partnerships for the artists
16 or indy labels.

17 We -- we also engage in litigation defending and 18 protecting the intellectual property for the different
19 artists and different record companies, including trade
20 marks and copyrights. We don't get involved in the patent
21 area at all, as I'm not a licensed patent attorney.

22 But in terms of intellectual property, we -- we're 23 pretty submerged in the business of protecting and 24 exploiting intellectual property.

25 In addition to that, we also represent gaming

1 companies with -- gaming and gambling companies with US
2 and foreign compliance -- legal compliances. We represent
3 video game companies and digital content acquisitions,
4 such as non-interactive performance publishing, non-
5 interactive master-use licenses, interactive publishing
6 with -- directly with the publishing -- major publishing
7 companies and with independent publishing companies. We 8 also do interactive publishing mechanical licenses with 9 Harry Fox Agency. We do Cloud and locker content,
10 acquisition, and licensing deals as well.

11 And in addition to that, we also perform other 12 services for our clients, including some estate work, some 13 criminal work. I'm directly involved in that, supervising
14 most those matters.

15 I'm also employed by the SAE Institute as a professor,
16 an adjunct professor, where I teach music business; I
17 teach copyright entertainment law; I teach music
18 entrepreneurship.

19 And if some of y'all aren't familiar, SAE Institute is 20 a 57 campus, world-wide university that is an audio
21 engineering school. I teach at the Atlanta campus. I'm 22 also on their national advisory board.

23 I also -- at this time, I'm in my fifth year being the 24 Education Chairman for the North American Entertainment
25 Sports and Intellectual Property Law Conference. This

1 year it will in Jamaica. It's a conference just with the
2 topic as it is. We have, you know, a lot of music related
3 panels, film related panels, patent related panels,
4 digital licensing panels. And this -- in Jamaica, we'll
5 have 26 panels, we'll have over 100 speakers, 250 or more
6 people will attend each year. Last year we were in 7 Mexico. It's just -- we transfer each year to a new 8 location.

9 And I also am an elected Board of Governor for the 10 Recording Academy. And for some of you who aren't aware 11 and some may be aware, but the Recording Academy is the 12 issuing body for the Grammy Awards. And at the Recording
13 Academy I serve on their Education Committee as well.

14 On a former sense, I am formerly the -- formerly a 15 board of directors member for the Georgia Lawyers for the 16 Arts, board of directors member for the Southern 17 Entertainment Art Law Center; and a former board of 18 directors for the Louisville Music Industry Alliance,
19 where I also served as general counsel.

20 And with -- and I also served as vice-president and 21 general counsel for Platinum Entertainment, which at the 22 time was a -- the largest independent record company in 23 the United States, with a sixty million dollar gross
24 revenue, NASDAQ traded under the sign PTET at the time.

25 And with that job, I served many roles, you know, of

1 course, as the general counsel. I served the role of, you
2 know, SEC compliance, and corporate supervision,
3 employment and labor issues. But mostly my job was 4 directly involved with licensing and exploiting and 5 protecting the intellectual property this company had or 6 desired to have.

7 And in that we did strategic alliances and co-branding
8 deals. Some of the co-branding and strategic alliance
9 deals we did, you know, House of Blues, we distributed --
10 put out all their music, did deals with Coca-Cola, and 11 National Geographic.

12 We did special publicity, license deals for Sir George
13 Martin, who was the producer for the Beatles -- people
14 thought he was the fifth Beatle -- for a -- an album
15 series, where he didn't perform. He basically just used
16 his face to put on the album.

17 And we also put out an album for Duke Ellington, which 18 we secured all the proper licenses through his family and 19 his estate.

20 And the company later became Compendia Media Group,
21 and I was involved in the -- the sale of the assets and 22 the transfer of the assets from Platinum Entertainment,
23 which rolled into a Chapter 11 bankruptcy and eventually 24 transferred all their assets. So I was on the developing 25 committee and the go-forward plan development committee

1 for the new entity Compendia Media Group.

2 THE COURT: What do you see your role in -- in the 3 James Brown estate? What can -- what can you offer us?
4 What can you help us with?

5 MR. KENILEY: I think I can help a lot. I -- I like
6 the concept. I like that this was left to education. I
7 see that this could be the greatest education donation
8 bequeathing of all time. It could possibly be a lead into 9 other people donating and bequeathing their assets to 10 this.

11 The income that could be derived from this -- the 12 estate needs intellectual property protection and 13 intellectual property exploitation. This is a self-
14 funding charity scholarship program, and it sits there --
15 it -- its only value is as the money keeps coming in. So
16 the -- the intellectual property has to be exploited.

17 But the first thing to do when you're exploiting
18 intellectual property, you have to protect it. People out
19 on the internet, you can -- you can go out there and surf
20 around. And people are going to grab James Brown
21 likenesses and use his name, and they're going to exploit
22 him the best they can and hopefully they won't get caught.
23 That's their game plan. But they need people to look
24 after it, because if you don't stop them from doing that,
25 the value of James Brown's intellectual property is going

1 to go down; and therefore, we can't get as much when 2 licensing.

3 In exploiting the -- the -- the property, the 4 intellectual property, and it's -- really, it's his right
5 of publicity, is what would be exploited -- I think you
6 need to, you know, go out into market and find those 7 opportunities. And the best thing I've got are my -- my 8 friends.

9 I work in this entertainment industry. I chair this 10 educational event with -- with, you know, over a hundred
11 speakers coming from around the country and I can meet
12 with all these people. Between my friends and my friends
13 of friends, that somehow we can get this into the right
14 hands, the right people either to assist in exploiting it
15 or directly exploit it for them.

16 And in terms of protecting it, my litigation
17 background, my supervisory litigation with Platinum
18 Entertainment, and even my litigation now, I certainly 19 think I can get involved in making sure that people aren't 20 going to be stealing the property, which would be drowning
21 out its value.

22 THE COURT: So as Judge Dickert could help us with the 23 litigation concerning the validity of the will and the 24 marriage and the children's issues, your forte would be 25 helping us maximize the James Brown music catalogue and

1 his ---

2 MR. KENILEY: I -- I think ---

3 THE COURT: --- James Brown ---

4 MR. KENILEY: Yes, sir, that's correct. And I think I
5 could also be very helpful in the scholarship program.

6 And even with the Grammy -- the group right now at the 7 Grammy Foundation, I'm on their educational committee and 8 -- and it's involved in giving out scholarships to 9 children, to send them to what they call "Grammy Camp."
10 And they also help with the schools.

11 And it's where that -- as you can see, my passion is 12 education. My passion is music, and fortunately, I get to 13 do both. So I think I can help on both the scholarship
14 part, and the asset protection and exploitation.

15 And I'm very impressed with the judges credentials and 16 -- and what you're saying is -- is absolutely correct.

17 THE COURT: Give us a little bit about your 18 educational background and your -- and your work
19 experience.

20 MR. KENILEY: Well, I'm not an SEC guy. I went to 21 school at University of Oklahoma, and -- and while I was 22 at University of Oklahoma -- I graduated OU -- in 23 undergrad, I acquired a job at the Federal Public
24 Defender's Office, Oklahoma, City. So I went to law
25 school in Oklahoma City, at Oklahoma City University,

1 where I served as a three-year clerk for the Federal
2 Public Defender's Office, and also served for the Oklahoma
3 Indian Legal Services. I was there.

4 THE COURT: And from there?

5 MR. KENILEY: From there, I sold my soul to a
6 Tennessee fan, and they talked me into coming out here to 7 the Southeast. And I'd never been to this part of the 8 country, and that was 21 years ago and I'm still here.
9 Love it.

10 THE COURT: Thank you. Anything else you want to 11 share with us about your ambitions to be part of this 12 team?

13 MR. KENILEY: No, sir.

14 THE COURT: Thank you very much for coming.

15 MR. FEW: Your Honor, we -- we have one question that 16 we'd like to pass up to the Court, for the Court to ask
17 this question of the witness.

18 THE COURT: You can hand it to the bailiff, or you can 19 bring it up.

20 (Mr. Few hands a note to the court clerk.)

21 MR. FEW: Thank you, ma'am.

22 (Court clerk hands the note to the Court.)

23 THE COURT: Do you have a business relationship with 24 Joel Katz?

25 MR. KENILEY: No, sir, I do not. But I do know Joel,

1 and I know most of the lawyers that work directly with
2 him. But no, I've never worked with him personally, never
3 had dinner with him, never had lunch with him.

4 THE COURT: Never represented him?

5 MR. KENILEY: No, sir.

6 THE COURT: Thank you. Anything else?

7 (No audible response.)

8 THE COURT: Thank you for coming.

9 MR. KENILEY: Thank you, sir.

10 (Mr. Keniley exits the stand.)

11 THE COURT: All right. On behalf of Mr. Russell
12 Bauknight.

13 (Mr. Bauknight takes the stand.)

14 MR. NEWSOME: Your Honor, if I could just real
15 quickly. One question, you said 15 ---

16 THE COURT: Just -- Madam Court Reporter, do you know
17 -- identify -- you okay?

18 MR. NEWSOME: I'm sorry. I gave her my card.

19 Just real quickly, I -- you indicted everybody has 15
20 minutes, and of course, Mr. Bauknight's filed two 21 petitions, both a petition to appoint him as personal
22 representative and trustee, and then a separate petition
23 to appoint Mr. Sojourner as limited special trustee.

24 And if we could, I ask for 15 minutes on his PR
25 appointment; and then, less than five on why he thinks

1 it's in the best interest of the estate trust ---

2 THE COURT: I'll give you 15 on both.

3 MR. NEWSOME: All right. Thank you, Judge.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Bauknight, has he been sworn?

5 CLERK OF COURT: No.

6 RUSSELL BAUKNIGHT, having been
7 first duly sworn, testifies as follows:

8 CLERK OF COURT: Have a seat. State your name,
9 please.

10 THE COURT: Mr. Bauknight, give us your full name for 11 the record, spelling your last.

12 MR. BAUKNIGHT: My name's Russell Bauknight; B-a-u-k-
13 n-i-g-h-t.

14 MR. NEWSOME: Your Honor, could I also hand up -- I
15 was given today nominations from three of the designees,
16 nominating Mr. Bauknight to serve as PR.

17 THE COURT: Well, I think we probably need to make 18 those part of the record. Have they been filed somewhere?

19 MR. NEWSOME: They have not. We were just given those 20 right before the hearing.

21 THE COURT: Well, I think I'll take those, you know,
22 just as -- receive them. But I think those need to be 23 filed ---

24 MR. NEWSOME: We certainly will file them if you'd 25 like. I'll ---

1 THE COURT: Yeah. Okay. I'll get them later.

2 MR. NEWSOME: --- leave a copy with you.

3 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Newsome.

4 MR. NEWSOME: Thank you, Your Honor. Mr. Bauknight,
5 can you please tell the Court your educational background.

6 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I'm a 1980 graduate of Towson
7 University, Baltimore, Maryland.

8 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. And can you also tell the Court
9 your professional background and work experience.

10 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. I'm a certified public
11 accountant. I began my career with a Washington, D.C.-
12 based accounting firm --

13 THE COURT: Mr. Newsome, how bout move back so these 14 gentlemen can see.

15 MR. NEWSOME: All right. Sorry.

16 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I worked with that firm for 17 approximately a year and a half before deciding to make a 18 move back to Columbia, my home town. And when I came to 19 Columbia in June of 1981, I began working with the 20 predecessor accounting firms to Ernst & Young. I worked 21 with Ernst & Young, with Bill Grooms, until 1991.

22 In September of '91, I left Ernst & Young to form my 23 own firm, Bauknight, Beatrice, and Stormer. We are a
24 nine-partner, approximately 50-person Columbia-based firm.
25 We work all over country.

1 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. And can you also describe for the 2 Court your experience as a fiduciary prior to being
3 appointed personal representative in this estate.

4 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. In the early 1990s, I've had
5 clients approach me about serving in a fiduciary capacity,
6 as a part of their estate planning process.

7 Since that time I've served and currently serve in 8 excess of 50 trusts as trustee. Total value of those 9 trusts is approximately 200 million dollars. In addition,
10 I serve as personal representative in many, many estates.

11 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. And is this the largest estate
12 you've ever administered as personal representative?

13 MR. BAUKNIGHT: This estate, while it's large and 14 complex, is not close to the largest. I've served as 15 personal representative of an estate that was valued at 16 approximately 150 million dollars.

17 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. And now, if you could, could you
18 describe for the Court your accomplishments during your 19 tenure as PR of the estate.

20 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. And if you don't mind, I'm 21 going to refer to some notes. I ---

22 THE COURT: What was the date of your appointment, Mr.
23 Bauknight?

24 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Your Honor, I was appointed May 26,
25 2009. It's a long time, sir.

1 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

2 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Since that time -- I -- I would like
3 to just say this is not a complete list of 4 accomplishments, but I did pick 27 highlights, I'd like to 5 bring to the attention of the Court.

6 First and foremost, when I took this position in May 7 of 2009, the Pullman bond was -- had a balance in excess
8 of 14 million dollars. I -- I took the steps required to 9 pay that bond off. I paid it off seven years ahead of 10 schedule, Your Honor.

11 That -- that was as scheduled, according to the 12 documents, it would still be owed today. But I've gotten 13 that paid off.

14 I hired Mr. Peter Afterman, who is a two-time Grammy
15 award winner. He is noted in the industry as a "top
16 person," marketing music for the estate. Mr. Afterman
17 markets the music for the Rolling Stones. I hired Peter 18 shortly after taking this position, and I was able to 19 convince Peter to take this job on a deferred-pay basis.
20 He worked for this estate for 15 months before we paid him
21 the first dime.

22 Peter has been instrumental in leading the charge
23 marketing the intellectual property of this estate.

24 THE COURT REPORTER: Could you spell his last name for 25 me, please.

1 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Afterman; A-f-t-e-r-m-a-n.

2 I partnered with Universal Music.

3 THE COURT: Tell me some of the stuff that Mr.
4 Afterman's done.

5 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Your Honor, I've got that in this
6 list, and I'd be happy to share that with you.

7 THE COURT: Just go ahead.

8 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I partnered with Universal Music and 9 this is something Peter assisted me with. We met with 10 lead internal counsel, actually brought him here to 11 Columbia, South Carolina. He thought it was this 12 important.

13 We had many, many unlicensed samples that you've heard
14 referred to earlier by Mr. Keniley, for which Mr. Brown
15 was not paid for during his lifetime nor did the estate
16 get money. But I was able to secure a deal with Universal
17 Music to bring in a large sum of money to this estate,
18 paying us for those unlicensed samples.

19 In addition, we convinced Universal Music to set up a 20 separate division that is fully staffed, assisting us with 21 the marketing of -- of Mr. Brown's music and they do not 22 charge us for that.

23 I launched and was able to secure the deal launching
24 the James Brown YouTube channel. As you're probably 25 aware, YouTube is the biggest listening audience -- has

1 the biggest listening audience of any media out there. We
2 -- we have accomplished that in the last 12 months, Your 3 Honor.

4 I recovered the critical domain name jamesbrown.com.
5 That domain name had been held by an unrelated party for 6 decades, at least a decade. We were able to secure that,
7 bring that back under the ownership of the estate. And 8 along with securing that, I was able to convince Universal
9 Music to build our website free of charge. So we now have 10 an operating jamesbrown.com website, which you'll hear in 11 just a moment, we're going to use for marketing
12 merchandise, as well as Universal already uses it to 13 market music of Mr. Brown. I've launched that website.
14 It is open now.

15 I have secured a deal for a documentary on the life of 16 James Brown. This documentary's going to be directed and 17 produced by Mick Jagger. It's already secured two million
18 dollars funding for ---

19 THE COURT: Is that the one we saw all the publicity
20 last week about?

21 MR. BAUKNIGHT: No, sir. This is separate and apart
22 from that. This is a totally separate deal. Two million
23 dollars for a documentary on -- on the life of James Brown
24 is a lot of money, and we've already been able to put that 25 together.

1 The deal you just referred to, I've secured a deal --
2 an option with Ron Howard/Brian Grazer -- that's Imagine
3 Pictures -- and Jagged Productions, which is Mick Jagger's
4 production company, for the production of a movie on the 5 life of James Brown.

6 As you all have probably read, Universal Pictures will 7 be the funding for that movie, and it is scheduled to 8 begin production shortly. It will be directed by Tate
9 Taylor who directed the movie "The Help," and will have as 10 it's star Chad Boseman, who recently starred as Jackie
11 Robinson in the movie "42."

12 I believe they've released a release date for the 13 movie of November 14, 2014, Your Honor.

14 I'm currently negotiating a deal on a live tribute
15 tour featuring the music of James Brown.

16 I've initiated -- as you've heard testimony in your
17 courts in earlier hearings, there -- there was quite a bit 18 of video and audio tape at the home of Mr. Brown. It was 19 secured at Iron Mountain Facility in Nashville. I've 20 hired the director, the -- the curator of the music
21 archives of the Grand Ole Opry, Mr. Steve Gibson, to head
22 up the digitization of all of that material so that it can 23 be used for commercial purposes. Quite a bit of that will 24 be used in the documentary.

25 These are tapes, audio and video, that are in danger

1 of deteriorating so much that they'll never be able to be
2 used if we don't go through this process. So we began
3 that actually well over a year ago.

4 I began discussions and -- and -- and continuing today
5 on a Broadway production. This would be produced by Mr.
6 Bill T. Jones, a renowned Broadway producer.

7 I've spent nearly $400,000 on the Beech Island home.
8 As -- as you all may have heard in testimony in earlier
9 hearings, the Beech Island home was in terrible disrepair
10 when I took this position. The roof was leaking
11 everywhere, the pipes were broken, water was draining to 12 the house instead of away from the house, gutters led to 13 nowhere, and the heating and air system was not in use in 14 any way.

15 So what little of the assets -- and there's still 16 significant assets remaining today after the Christie sale
17 -- but those assets that are in this home need to be 18 protected.

19 I've spent $400,000 doing just that: Replacing every 20 roof on every building there; I've put in new gutter
21 systems; I've put in over a mile of PVC drains, taking 22 water away from this home; and I've put in all new heating
23 and air units for this entire facility.

24 In addition, since the place was in such disrepair,
25 the personal property contained therein, the uniforms of

1 the band, the -- all the personal affects of Mr. Brown
2 that were not sold, need to be restored and -- and made --
3 made whole from the state they were in before. So I --
4 I've got a service that's going to begin working on that
5 shortly. I've already negotiated the deal for that, and I
6 was just waiting for my heating and air to be finished
7 before I began that process.

8 I've resolved most of the claims against the estate,
9 except primarily the prior fiduciaries, Your Honor. I've 10 been working diligently on that, particularly since the 11 Supreme Court opinion came down. And as you've seen,
12 we've had scheduling orders filed on all those claims.

13 THE COURT: And one of the fiduciary's is -- has been 14 settled, has it not?

15 MR. BAUKNIGHT: We've settled out Mr. Bradley and Mr.
16 Cannon. We still have -- and -- and we've settled out Mr.
17 Buchanan. We still have 10 million dollars in claims from 18 Buddy Dallas and Adele Pope.

19 We still have hundreds of thousands of dollars of 20 claims from legal counsel involved with the prior 21 fiduciaries.

22 THE COURT: But Mr. Newsome has been working
23 diligently, along with you, on that. I -- daily I -- not 24 daily, but periodically I see things coming in that those 25 -- some of those are being resolved.

1 MR. BAUKNIGHT: We're resolving them ---

2 THE COURT: Even as we speak today.

3 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Yes. Yes, sir.

4 THE COURT: And those that aren't resolved, we've got
5 a pretty good handle on, and those that aren't resolved,
6 we have scheduling orders in --

7 MR. BAUKNIGHT: That's correct, sir.

8 THE COURT: -- I think in all of them, except for the 9 three litigation claims.

10 MR. NEWSOME: That's right.

11 MR. BAUKNIGHT: That's correct.

12 I -- I've resolved the IRS matters.

13 THE COURT: And the reason we haven't gotten the 14 litigation claims scheduling order because we hadn't had 15 this resolved --

16 MR. BAUKNIGHT: That -- that's ---

17 THE COURT: Right?

18 MR. BAUKNIGHT: That's right, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: I didn't mean to interrupt you.

20 MR. BAUKNIGHT: That's all right. It's your court.

21 THE COURT: No. It's everybody's court.

22 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I've resolved the IRS matters that I
23 inherited when I took over in May of 2009. I'm the only 24 person to file income tax returns for this estate and 25 trust. I filed every return that's required to be filed,

1 both during my tenure and that of the other fiduciaries.

2 In fact, I filed Mr. Brown's final personal income tax
3 return for the year he passed away.

4 I've successfully resolved multiple IRS audits with 5 respect to those returns, to include the estate tax return
6 Form 706.

7 I was able to hire, on a deferred-pay basis, a -- an 8 investment banking firm to come in and value the 9 intellectual property of this estate. That valuation was 10 performed with the understanding that that firm would not
11 be paid until I had the cash available to pay it over a 12 year later.

13 In fact, during the audit of the Form 706 for which 14 that valuation was performed, the IRS brought in their 15 royalty valuation experts from Kansas City, Missouri, they 16 examined our valuation as well as the rest of the Form 706
17 that we submitted, and they agreed with the valuation work
18 we had prepared. And we -- we received actually a refund
19 of tax that had been paid on that return, and other than 20 that, there was no significant change made by the IRS.

21 THE COURT: So there's no outstanding tax liens,
22 there's no outstanding tax returns that are due?

23 MR. BAUKNIGHT: There are no outstanding tax returns
24 due. We have no tax liens, although the IRS did file
25 claims against the estate, which I believe we should have

1 lifted shortly.

2 Those claims relate to Forms 1040 for two years while
3 Mr. Brown was still alive. I believe we'll be able to 4 resolve those shortly. It's a very simple process. We've 5 got to provide them basis information for some stock ---

6 THE COURT REPORTER: Say that one more time. Someone 7 coughed.

8 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I'm sorry. We -- we have to provide 9 the IRS basis information for stock sales that was not 10 included in the original returns as filed.

11 Your Honor, I've set aside money. I did not put this 12 in a separate account, but I have set aside cash to pay
13 out charitable trust scholarships; and I've set aside
14 cash, not in a separate account, but I've earmarked it
15 should -- to pay out grandchildren's education expenses,
16 should we work out a situation that the Court would 17 approve where those expenditures would become payable.

18 I -- I believe very strongly that the lack of funds
19 should never be the reason we can't pay scholarships.
20 Once we resolve the legal issues surrounding those issues,
21 I want to be able to pay out money right away. I have in 22 the bank today over a million dollars that I've 23 accumulated, and I don't want to see it paid out, leaving 24 this estate in the situation I inherited.

25 When I took over, it was less than $13,000 in the

1 bank, and I had tens of thousands of bills due, and I had
2 tens of millions of claims filed against this estate.

3 I've cleaned up and renegotiated, hired new auditors
4 for the royalty audits of Universal Music, Carlin America,
5 and Warner/Chapell. The previous personal representatives
6 hired auditors that were related to Gary Haber -- I -- I'm
7 sorry -- to -- to the Pullman people, Mr. Pullman himself,
8 and they hired them on a contingent basis, paying out 20
9 percent of everything found.

10 I was able to negotiate fixed-fee arrangements with a
11 reputable royalty audit firm, and I'm expecting to make a 12 claim against the first of the ones that they've 13 completed, against Universal, for over a million dollars,
14 and I will have paid $60,000 for that audit, which is far 15 less than the 200,000 that would have been due under 16 previous arrangements.

17 That is not our firm, by the way. That's a reputable
18 royalty audit firm.

19 I'm currently negotiating a merchandise deal with a 20 New York firm. This deal will promote merchandise on our 21 website as -- as well as selling it through other outlets.

22 I've retained attorneys, Mr. Newsome's firm being one
23 of many, to represent this estate on a deferred pay basis.
24 Your Honor, that's significant. We've incurred millions
25 of dollars of legal fees, as you can imagine, with the

1 litigation in this estate. And I've been able to do that
2 on a deferred pay basis.

3 I've been interviewed by the "Rolling Stone Magazine,"
4 quoted therein; I've provided interviews and photo
5 opportunities about the estate to other notable news
6 organizations.

7 I've successfully defended this estate against Jackie
8 Hollander, not once, not twice, but seven times in several 9 Federal courts as well as state courts; and have another
10 appeal pending in your court as of Monday of this week --
11 or Tuesday of this week when it was filed. That should be 12 our last one.

13 I've settled multiple lawsuits favorably for the 14 estate with the help of attorneys who are in this room
15 today.

16 I want to bring up what I call "clearances," which are 17 clearing the use -- the commercial use of music by Mr.
18 Brown for commercials and -- and the like. There are 19 three of them I think that are very significant that I
20 want to bring to the Court's attention.

21 If you recall the Superbowl two years ago, there was a
22 Volkswagen commercial where a fat dog was chasing the 23 Volkswagen. That was James Brown's "Get Up Off of This 24 Thing" -- "Get Up Off of That Thing," and that generated a
25 million dollars of music royalties from Mr. Brown's music.

1 Peter Afterman was able to get that deal going.

2 Peter also worked with Channel perfume, and if you've
3 seen it, it's Josh Stone doing a re-record of "It's a
4 Man's World." That generated a million dollars of music
5 royalties on Mr. Brown's music.

6 And of course, the -- the Gatorade commercial, which 7 is a multi-sport commercial. Serena Williams pops out in 8 my mind as one of the -- the people. But we had a
9 basketball version, we have a football version. Gatorade
10 used the song "Super Bad." That generated a million
11 dollars of music royalties on Mr. Brown's music.

12 I deal with many, many clearance requests each and 13 every week on the commercial use of Mr. Brown's music. I
14 appreciate Peter's hard work in promoting this, and I -- I
15 think we've done a very good job with that.

16 That's not all of what we've done, but that's a lot of 17 the significant items.

18 MR. NEWSOME: Thank you. Do you have an opinion --
19 just changing. You've heard some discussion about the 20 possibility of multiple fiduciaries. Do you have an 21 opinion as to whether the Court should appoint co-
22 fiduciaries for the estate and trust on this estate?

23 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I do. I have a strong opinion on 24 that. I -- I do not believe the Court should currently 25 appoint multiple fiduciaries. This estate simply cannot

1 afford it.

2 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. Can you explain ---

3 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure.

4 MR. NEWSOME: --- why that ---

5 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. As I've -- as I've testified --

6 THE COURT: And when you're talking about "multiple 7 fiduciaries," you're talking about more or less in the 8 administration that you've been doing, not in the defense
9 of these lawsuits that -- the claims against -- not -- not 10 the claims, but the -- the contest concerning the will and 11 the wife and the -- and the child.

12 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. And I'm happy to testify about 13 that issue as well. But ---

14 THE COURT: But what you're talking about now is just 15 what you've been doing basically.

16 MR. BAUKNIGHT: For the administration of this estate,
17 for all that entails, Your Honor, putting three people in 18 this position will more than triple the cost to this 19 estate and trust.

20 We -- as I testified, we have 10 million dollars in 21 claims from prior fiduciaries, just two prior fiduciaries.
22 And we have hundreds of thousands of dollars of claims
23 from legal counsel who worked with those fiduciaries.

24 In addition, I testified that I've hired my attorneys,
25 who represent me here today, on a deferred pay basis.

1 I've -- I've hired many people to assist with this estate
2 on a deferred pay basis. We simply cannot afford the 3 triple redundancy of three people running this estate.

4 MR. NEWSOME: Now, the -- the ---

5 THE COURT: Well, have you had any trouble doing it by 6 yourself for the last four or five years?

7 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Your Honor, I -- I'm not going to sit
8 here and brag, but I think we -- I've done a very good
9 job, so -- and I -- I will tell you this is one of the 10 most complicated jobs I've had. I've enjoyed it, but I
11 think we have done a very good job with the team I've put 12 together.

13 THE COURT: And I assume it took awhile for the 14 learning curve to catch up, and for somebody new coming
15 in, it would be a huge task.

16 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Your Honor, I think that would cost --
17 unnecessarily cost hundreds and hundreds of thousands of 18 dollars for someone to come in and get up to speed to 19 where they could deal with these issues the way I have.

20 I'm not the only person. I will not sit here, as 21 others have, and say that I'm the only person who can run
22 this estate. I am not, absolutely not. There are plenty.

23 The people you heard -- heard from today are fine
24 qualified people, I'm sure, for what they do. But for 25 this estate and trust, I do not believe it's appropriate

1 to appoint additional fiduciaries at this time.

2 THE COURT: And particularly with the history of this
3 estate.

4 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Particularly with the history of this
5 estate. I would ---

6 MR. NEWSOME: You mention "at this time." Can you
7 explain to Judge Early what you mean by that?

8 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Yes, I can. I -- I believe that this
9 estate and trust, once the litigation is complete, once
10 we're ready to close out this estate, I believe that's an 11 appropriate time for the Court to revisit the fiduciary
12 situation for the charitable scholarship awarding trust
13 moving forward.

14 And I'll take it a step further, Your Honor. As I
15 have operated this entire time since May 26, 2009, at that 16 time, I can assure the Court -- I'll assure you, Mr.
17 Newsome, I'll assure you, Judge Early -- I'll bring you a
18 plan and a recommendation that I believe is appropriate
19 for moving forward.

20 I -- I regularly put a great deal of thought into the 21 future of this. I will bring you a plan, and hope that 22 Your Honor will see fit to take a good look at the plan I
23 bring to you at that time. But I believe we're very 24 premature at this point.

25 MR. NEWSOME: And last question: Would -- would you

1 be willing to serve as a co-fiduciary in this estate and
2 trust?

3 MR. BAUKNIGHT: As much as I want to finish this job,
4 I would tell you "no." And that is because I do not
5 believe it's the right thing to do for this estate. I
6 feel like what I do each and every day, whether it's this
7 estate or other business or personal endeavors I take, I'm 8 not going to do something I don't believe is right. And 9 for that reason, I would tell you "no."

10 MR. NEWSOME: Please answer any other questions Judge
11 Early has.

12 THE COURT: I don't have any.

13 MR. NEWSOME: Would you like to hear from him on the -

15 THE COURT: Please.

16 MR. NEWSOME: -- petition for appointment of limited
17 special administrator/special trustee?

18 I'll ask you, Mr. Bauknight, do you have a conflict of 19 interest that prevents you from representing this estate
20 as personal representative?

21 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Absolutely not.

22 MR. NEWSOME: Okay.

23 MR. BAUKNIGHT: I would tell you that I am very 24 capable, ready, and willing to represent this estate in 25 every capacity, including vigorously defending this estate

1 against any and all claims made against it.

2 MR. NEWSOME: Okay. Can you explain why you're
3 recommending the appointment of Mr. Sojourner?

4 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Sure. Dave Sojourner is a man who 5 I've known for probably 30 years; worked with him my 6 entire career once coming back to Columbia. He has 7 impeccable credentials. He is very knowledgeable in the 8 estate and trust area. He's a lawyer. He is with a fine,
9 reputable law firm. He has defended clients in -- in will 10 contests. He's represented clients filing the other side
11 of those contests. He's also served as a fiduciary.

12 That's his background from my viewpoint. But the 13 reason I've asked the Court to consider him in that very 14 limited capacity is I was advised by my counsel, shortly
15 after the Supreme Court opinion, that people were ready to 16 raise the conflict of interest claim that I was tied too
17 closely to beneficiaries because of the settle -- their 18 settlement agreement. I did not create that settlement
19 agreement. It was their settlement agreement. That was 20 the road map I operated under.

21 But the fact that somebody wanted to raise the 22 conflict of interest claim, with me defending the estate
23 against those will contests, bothered me greatly in that I
24 thought that was going to be an appealable issue at some 25 point, and that would just be one issue off the table that

1 hopefully would save this estate and trust some money.

2 For that reason, I've asked the Court to consider Dave
3 Sojourner in that very limited role.

4 MR. NEWSOME: Okay.

5 THE COURT: What would your relationship be with him
6 if we did that? Would you just completely divorce
7 yourself from him and let him handle the litigation, and 8 you continue on with the administration if this all bears
9 out, or how would you work with Mr. Sojourner?

10 MR. BAUKNIGHT: Your Honor, I think that's a great
11 question. I -- I don't believe that I can divorce myself
12 from him in that situation. I have tremendous 13 institutional knowledge of this estate and trust.

14 I -- I believe -- I also would have the checkbook,
15 Your Honor, and I'm sure that we need to consult on how 16 money is spent in that litigation and -- and the timing of 17 those expenditures. We -- we're going to have to work
18 closely on that.

19 But beyond the money, I -- I have too much inside
20 knowledge of this estate and trust for him not to use that 21 knowledge in defending this estate and trust. We don't
22 have different interests here. My interest is this estate
23 and trust. I will vigorously defend it; I will assist Mr.
24 Sojourner in that endeavor.

25 THE COURT: Thank you. Anything else?

1 MR. NEWSOME: No, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: All right, sir. Thank you very much, Mr.
3 Bauknight.

4 MR. BAUKNIGHT: You're welcome.

5 (Mr. Bauknight exits the stand.)

6 THE COURT: Mr. Sojourner.

7 MR. SOJOURNER: Yes, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Gentlemen, identify your -- this is for 9 the court reporter. Identify yourselves for the record.

10 MR. SOJOURNER: David C. Sojourner, Jr.

11 David C. Sojourner, Jr. having
12 been first duly sworn, testifies as follows:

13 MR. BEACH: And I've identified myself as John Beach
14 already. Okay.

15 If you'd state your name for the record.

16 MR. SOJOURNER: David C. Sojourner, Jr.

17 MR. BEACH: Okay. And where are you employed?

18 MR. SOJOURNER: I'm a partner at Adams and Reese, a
19 law firm here in Columbia.

20 MR. BEACH: Okay. And would you describe your law
21 practice there at Adams and Reese.

22 MR. SOJOURNER: Sure. The predecessor firm was Ellis, 23 Lawhorne, and Sims. Before that Nauful and Ellis. We 24 recently merged with Adams and Reese June 1st.

25 I've been practicing in that firm for 26 or 27 years,

1 primarily estate and gift tax planning, estate
2 administration. Included within that the occasional
3 estate litigation matter.

4 I'm a tax attorney in -- in primarily estate and gift
5 tax planning. There are five of us at the firm that are 6 focused on this area of law.

7 MR. BEACH: Okay. And you mentioned Ellis Lawhorne,
8 backing up from the June merger of Ellis Lawhorne into 9 Adams and Reese, what was your experience and history with 10 Ellis Lawhorne?

11 MR. SOJOURNER: I've been a shareholder there for 20
12 years, and -- and again the practice was the same there,
13 same group of people.

14 MR. BEACH: All right. Did you go work for Ellis
15 Lawhorne directly out of law school?

16 MR. SOJOURNER: I did -- well, after I -- I -- my -- I
17 went to Clemson University for my undergrad. I went to 18 the University of South Carolina Law School. While there, 19 I -- I was working as a law clerk for then Nauful and 20 Ellis. I went to New York University and got a masters
21 degree in tax law immediately after law school, and have 22 been back working for the same law firm ever since then.

23 MR. BEACH: Okay. And what was your degree in at 24 Clemson?

25 MR. SOJOURNER: Economics.

1 MR. BEACH: Okay. What courts -- in what courts are
2 you admitted to practice?

3 MR. SOJOURNER: All South Carolina Federal Court, Tax
4 Court.

5 MR. BEACH: Okay. Have you received any specialty
6 certifications from the South Carolina Supreme Court?

7 MR. SOJOURNER: I'm a certified specialist in tax law,
8 and have been since 1991. I'm a certified specialist in 9 estate planning and probate, and have been since 1992.

10 MR. BEACH: Okay. Do you hold any professional
11 distinctions or recognitions?

12 MR. SOJOURNER: Am a A-rated Martindale attorney. I'm 13 a member of Best Lawyers in America, South Carolina Super
14 Lawyers, both of those in trust and estates matters.

15 MR. BEACH: Uh-huh.

16 MR. SOJOURNER: I'm a member of the American College
17 Trust and Estate Counsel.

18 MR. BEACH: Tell me about the American College of 19 Trust and Estates Counsel. Is that something that you
20 just join up or ...

21 MR. SOJOURNER: It's a -- it's an invitation-only 22 organization, approximately 1800 attorneys throughout the 23 country. Have to be A rated; have to have practiced for 24 at least 10 years; and have to have your practice
25 substantially devoted to estate and gift tax planning or

1 administration.

2 MR. BEACH: Okay.

3 MR. SOJOURNER: As part of that process with that
4 organization, I was also trained in -- in mediation. I'm 5 not a certified mediator, but -- by the South Carolina
6 Rules, but I've had specialty training in mediation of 7 issues related to estates, family disputes.

8 MR. BEACH: And when did you become a fellow in the 9 American College of Trust and Estates Counsel?

10 MR. SOJOURNER: 2001.

11 MR. BEACH: Have you ever served on any boards or -- 12 or positions such as that for local or corporate entities
13 in South Carolina?

14 MR. SOJOURNER: I'm the former chairman of the 15 Community Foundation here in Columbia, Heathwood Hall
16 Episcopal School I -- that organization as well.

17 MR. BEACH: Okay. And have you ever served as the 18 fiduciary for a trust or an estate?

19 MR. SOJOURNER: I have. I've served as a personal
20 representative in the past.

21 MR. BEACH: Have you ever counseled clients on their
22 obligations and duties as they served in the -- a position
23 as trustee or personal representative?

24 MR. SOJOURNER: Certainly.

25 MR. BEACH: Have you ever represented parties in

1 litigation that involved trust and estates in actions
2 involving trusts and estates?

3 MR. SOJOURNER: I have. Will contests, elective share
4 claims, a number of those types of issues over the years.

5 MR. BEACH: Okay. Have you represented trustees in 6 those actions?

7 MR. SOJOURNER: I have.

8 MR. BEACH: Have you represented beneficiaries or 9 people claiming interest in those actions?

10 MR. SOJOURNER: I have.

11 MR. BEACH: How did you come to be before the Court
12 here today in this matter?

13 MR. SOJOURNER: Probably in June or July, Freddie
14 Kingsmore called me and I went over and met with Freddie
15 and Russell Bauknight. And they discussed for me the 16 issues that were related here and the idea of carving out
17 a special limited administrator and trustee role,
18 exclusively for the purpose of defending these particular
19 claims that we've talked about earlier today.

20 And they --- they thought that it was appropriate to 21 petition the Court for that, and I told them, based on our
22 conversations, that I would -- I -- I would agree to serve
23 in that capacity.

24 MR. BEACH: Okay.

25 MR. SOJOURNER: But only that capacity.

1 MR. BEACH: Okay.

2 MR. SOJOURNER: I don't have any interest in being the 3 -- the full personal representative or trustee in this 4 case.

5 MR. BEACH: Okay. What -- under what circumstances
6 have you agreed to serve?

7 MR. SOJOURNER: Well, first, that it be limited to 8 defending these particular claims; second, that I be 9 allowed to -- to retain my law firm Adams and Reese to -- 10 to represent me in that matter. That -- those are really 11 the primary --

12 MR. BEACH: Okay.

13 MR. SOJOURNER: -- conditions.

14 MR. BEACH: Your Honor, I ---

15 MR. SOJOURNER: That's all.

16 MR. BEACH: Oh. You want ---

17 MR. SOJOURNER: No. Go Ahead.

18 MR. BEACH: Okay. Your Honor, I don't have any other
19 questions for Mr. Sojourner, but certainly he is available
20 to answer any questions that the Court might have.

21 THE COURT: What resources does your firm have to 22 become immediately involved in -- in this litigation,
23 because obviously, once I make this appointment, this
24 thing has had a tortious past. We're going to put it on a
25 -- not a fast, fast track, but it's going to be on a

1 rather quick track to bring it to a head to -- so it would
2 be in a position that it would be resolved one way or the 3 other, i.e., by trial or some other way.

4 I mean, do you have the resources to devote to it, to 5 participate in a scheduling order and to comply with that;
6 and to go ahead and complete discovery on all three 7 issues; and in a position where we can either dispose of 8 it by way of dispositive motions and/or trial?

9 MR. SOJOURNER: Yes, sir, Your Honor. I believe that 10 we do. The law firm has over 300 attorneys. Mr. Beach 11 would probably be the -- the attorney that was most 12 closely involved with me on this.

13 We have a number of other attorneys that are available
14 to assist in this matter, not only attorneys that have 15 experience in trusts and estate litigation, but we also 16 have a music law office in Nashville.

17 We got intellectual property lawyers to the extent
18 that that might be helpful in -- in dealing with some of 19 the issues that are involved here. We've got domestic 20 relations lawyers. I know that there's a -- some marital 21 issues. So I believe that our firm has the resources to 22 handle all these matters.

23 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Anything else?

24 MR. BEACH: No, Your Honor. I have nothing else right
25 now. Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Thank you. Thank you for coming.

2 MR. SOJOURNER: Thank you, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Ladies and gentlemen, I am obviously going
4 to take what I've heard here today under advisement. If
5 anyone has any opposition to any of the particular people
6 who have applied, I will allow you 10 days to give me
7 written -- opposition written, however you want to send it
8 to me, by filing with the Court any opposition to any of 9 the particular people.

10 Within the next 20 days, I will make a decision and 11 obviously, once I make the decision, depending on how I do
12 it, I will require status conferences on the three 13 contests, i.e., the validity of the will, the marriage, 14 and the child, to immediately get scheduling orders in 15 place, complete discovery, dispositive motions, so we can
16 move forward to get those matters concluded concomitantly
17 with the administration of the estate.

18 I want to thank everyone for coming today, and if 19 anyone else has any matters that need immediate attention,
20 please contact my new law clerk, and we will see that 21 you're hear -- heard immediately. Thank you very much.
22 Have a nice day.

23 MR. GILREATH: Your Honor. Your Honor, could I make - 24 - I don't know whether this is the appropriate time to 25 make a comment or either you want --

1 THE COURT: I said that I -- by written, but if I open
2 it up to one comment, then I've got the whole room ---

3 MR. GILREATH: I understand. I just wanted to -- you
4 know, Mr. Few and I are in a -- kind of a unique position
5 that I wanted the Court to kind of have our opinion on how 6 we see how this may affect us as we go forward.

7 THE COURT: You can certainly send me any written, but 8 send it to everybody, a copy to everybody.

9 MR. GILREATH: We'll be glad -- we'll be glad to do,
10 that. Thank you.

11 THE COURT: Y'all got the Katz litigation going on,
12 and --

13 MR. GILREATH: Right.

14 THE COURT: And obviously, that's ---

15 MR. GILREATH: Yes, we've got --

16 THE COURT: I'm -- I'm aware of that.

17 MR. GILREATH: Okay.

18 THE COURT: Thank you.

APPOINTING LIMITED
SPECIAL ADMINISTRATOR

This matter comes before the Probate Court on Petition for the Appointment of Limited Special Administrator, whereby this Court is requested pursuant to applicable South Carolina law, including but not limited to S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-614 and S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-617, to appoint David C. Sojourner, Jr. as Limited Special Administrator of the Estate of James Brown (the "Estate"). Mr. Sojourner has been appointed by Order of the Aiken County Circuit Court dated October 1, 2013 (hereafter the "Circuit Court Order") as Limited Special Trustee of the James Brown August 1, 2000 Irrevocable Trust Agreement (the "Trust").

BACKGROUND

In Wilson v. Dallas, 403 S.C. 411, 450, 743 S.E.2d 746, 768 (2013) (the "Opinion"), the South Carolina Supreme Court affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded the Circuit Court's May 26, 2009 Order regarding the Estate and Trust. On May 29, 2013, the Circuit Court held a status conference concerning the Opinion and, by Order dated June 13, 2013, required all applications of those interested in serving as fiduciaries of the Estate and Trust to be made within 45 days of the date of that Order (July 29, 2013). On September 4 and 11, 2013, the Circuit Court conducted a hearing to receive testimony from all applicants for fiduciary positions in the Estate and the Trust. Mr. Sojourner appeared at the September 4, 2013 hearing before the Circuit Court and provided testimony. Russell L. Bauknight, having filed the Petition of Appointment of Limited Special Administrator, also provided testimony at the September 4, 2013 hearing.

After conducting the hearing, the Circuit Court appointed Russell L. Bauknight as Personal Representative of the Estate and Trustee of the Trust by its Order dated October 1, 2013. The Circuit Court, by the same Order, appointed David C. Sojourner, Jr. as Limited Special Trustee of the Trust.

This Court takes Judicial Notice of the proceedings before the Circuit Court, as provided in the transcripts of record, along with the record of testimony, and hereby adopts and incorporates the findings and conclusions of the Circuit Court. All proper parties were provided the opportunity to object and be heard at the Circuit Court hearing. This Court incorporates the record of the Circuit Court hearing in this Order and relies thereon in order to further promote judicial economy and to avoid the cost and inefficiencies of conducting a second hearing with the same parties and the same issues.

FINDINGS OF FACT

This Court has carefully reviewed the Will, the Petition for Appointment of Limited Special Administrator filed on behalf of Mr. Sojourner, all related filings, and has considered the testimony provided by Mr. Sojourner, Mr. Bauknight and others in the hearing on September 4, 2013. James Brown passed away nearly seven years ago on December 25, 2006. These factual findings and this Interim Order are all made in an effort to expedite the efficient administration of the Estate, based on the overarching goal of creating an atmosphere in which a prompt resolution of the various contested claims and a final resolution of Estate matters can occur.

This Court incorporates and adopts the findings of fact of the Circuit Court's Order dated October 1, 2013, and specifically finds:

SMR

1. Russell L. Bauknight has continuously served as a fiduciary to the Estate, both in his role as Personal Representative since May 26, 2009 and his continuing role as Special Administrator, with general fiduciary powers, since August 6, 2009, and there has been no lapse in his authority or fiduciary service since appointment.

2. This Court is aware that certain parties have raised the issue of whether a conflict of interest exists with respect to Mr. Bauknight's continued role as fiduciary of the Estate in the ongoing spousal elective share matter, the omitted spouse matter, the omitted child matter, and the legal challenges to the validity of the Will and Trust that were involved in the settlement agreement (collectively, the "Will and Trust Challenges"). This Court does not believe that a conflict of interest exists. Mr. Bauknight has testified that he has no conflict of interest and that he is willing and capable of fully defending Mr. Brown's Estate plan. This Court has weighed that testimony and finds along with the Circuit Court that neither Mr. Bauknight, nor his counsel, has any conflict of interest that would prevent them from vigorously defending or prosecuting actions on behalf of the Estate and Trust. While this Court finds that no conflict of interest exists, out of an abundance of caution and in order to avoid any appearance of impropriety and to promote the efficient and speedy administration of the Estate, this Court finds that it is prudent to appoint an individual to serve as Limited Special Administrator solely, specifically, and exclusively for the purpose of defending the Estate against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges until final resolution thereof.

3. David C. Sojourner, Jr. has been practicing in the area of estate and gift planning and probate administration for more than twenty-six years, and is certified as a specialist in estate planning and probate law and in tax law by the South Carolina Supreme Court. Since 2001, Mr. Sojourner has been selected as a member of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel, and has had specialty training in mediation of issues related to estates, including family disputes. Additionally, Mr. Sojourner has served as a fiduciary in the past and has counseled clients on their obligations and duties in a position as fiduciary. Mr. Sojourner has agreed to serve, so long as his role is limited to defending the Will and Trust Challenges on behalf of the Estate and his law firm of Adams and Reece LLP can represent him in that role. Given his experience, in addition to the resources of a 300-attorney law firm, Mr. Sojourner is well-suited to serve in the role as Limited Special Administrator.

4. Appointing a Limited Special Administrator to defend the Estate against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges provides structured and efficient administration, complies with sound judicial economy, and allows Mr. Bauknight the ability to manage all other aspects of estate administration.

5. At this time, this Court finds that it is in the best interests of the Estate, while Mr. Bauknight continues to serve as Personal Representative and oversees the Estate administration, that Mr. Sojourner be appointed as the Limited Special Administrator to oversee the Will and Trust Challenges and to defend the Estate plan against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges, and that he serve in such capacity until the conclusion of the litigation involved in the Will and Trust Challenges.

6. This Court is mindful of the practical administration problems the Estate has encountered as a result of the history of the prior and multiple fiduciary appointments. In an effort to avoid the recurrence of such problems, this Court finds, at this time, it in the best interests of the Estate to leave Mr. Bauknight's appointment as Special Administrator with general fiduciary authority undisturbed. That appointment shall continue until further order of the Court.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

This Court incorporates and adopts the conclusions of law contained in the Circuit Court's Order dated October 1, 2013, and specifically concludes as follows:

1. I find that this Court has jurisdiction to hear this matter and that venue is proper. All of the interested parties have been notified of the Petition for Appointment of Limited Special Administrator of the Estate and have been given an opportunity to oppose the petition filed on behalf of Mr. Sojourner.
2. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-614 provides that a special administrator may be appointed upon a finding, after notice and hearing, that appointment is necessary to preserve the estate or to secure its proper administration. S.C. Code Ann. § 62-3-617 provides that a special administrator so appointed has the power of a general personal representative except as limited in the order and specifically states that the appointment may be for a specified time, to perform particular acts, or on any other terms as the court may direct.
3. After careful review of the Will and Trust, the Petition for Appointment of Limited Special Administrator, the testimony proffered by Mr. Sojourner and others in the hearing on September 4, 2013, I find that the appointment of a Limited Special Administrator of the Estate at this time is necessary in order to adequately protect and preserve the Estate, and secure the Estate's proper administration.
4. In order to avoid any appearance of impropriety and to promote the efficient and speedy administration of the Estate, this Court finds it in the best interests of the Estate for Mr. David C. Sojourner, Jr. to be appointed as Limited Special Administrator solely, specifically, and exclusively for the purpose of defending the Estate against the claims made in the Will and Trust Challenges until final resolution thereof. This interim appointment is made with the requirement that Mr. Sojourner, in his limited capacity, shall remain independent from Mr. Bauknight, shall act with sole and absolute authority in his limited capacity, and will retain Adams and Reese LLP to represent him in the Will and Trust Challenges. Mr. Sojourner is well-qualified and willing to serve as Limited Special Administrator of the Estate.

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:

1. David C. Sojourner, Jr. is appointed as Limited Special Administrator for the Estate for the sole, exclusive, and specific purpose of defending the Estate in the Will and Trust Challenges, until final resolution thereof, and is authorized to retain Adams and Reese LLP to represent him in such matters.

2. Russell L. Bauknight's prior appointment as Special Administrator, with general fiduciary authority, shall remain undisturbed until further order of the court.

3. No bond is required to be posted in connection with these appointments.

4. This interim Order is temporary. The Court's appointment of David C. Sojourner, Jr. as Limited Special Administrator will be revisited upon conclusion of all Estate litigation involved in the Will and Trust Challenges.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.
