Re: Rose Electric v. Coolers Erectors of Atlanta et al.

Appellate Case No. 2014-001633

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

I represent Respondent Southern Produce, Inc. in the above captioned appeal. Appellant's counsel delivered the Designation of Matter on Appeal and Appellant's Initial Brief by letter dated January 28, 2015 to my former law firm address rather than to my current address above captioned and on file as required with the South Carolina Supreme Court in the AIS system. I actually received the Designation of Matter and Initial brief on February 2, 2015. According to my calculations, Respondent Southern Produce Inc.'s Designation of Matter and Initial Brief would thus be due on March 4, 2015.

However, upon reviewing the Designation of Matter as proposed by Appellant, I note that counsel did not order the transcript of the hearing before Judge Keesley of October 23, 2013 that will be a critical part of the Respondent's Designation of Matter and Record on Appeal in this case. I have written to the court reporter who handled that hearing and requested a complete transcript of that hearing. I am enclosing a copy of that request for your reference.

In that light, I would request the Court of Appeals grant of an extension of time for Respondent Southern Produce Inc. to file its Initial Brief and Designation of Matter until 30 days after receipt of that transcript from the court reporter.

I note that Appellant was previously granted two extensions of time to file the Appellant's Initial Brief and Designation of Matter without filing a formal motion requesting that relief or consent ~~of the other parties to this appeal. In hopes I will be granted the same courtesy, I am submitting~~ my check for $25.00 as a filing fee. If a formal motion is necessary, please let me know and I will submit the same.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

Sincerely,
