

The South Carolina Court of Appeals

Derick Ward, Appellant,

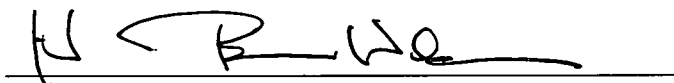

v.

Margaret H. Ashbaugh, Respondent.

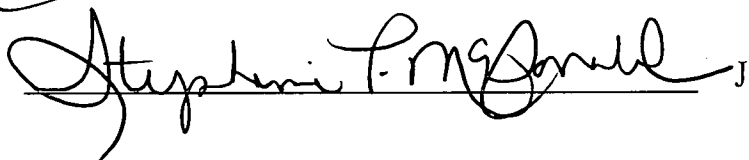

Appellate Case No. 2013-001622

ORDER

After careful consideration of the petition for rehearing, the Court is unable to discover that any material fact or principle of law has been either overlooked or disregarded, and hence, there is no basis for granting a rehearing. Accordingly, the petition for rehearing is denied.¹

¹ We note Ward's argument that he filed a motion for oral argument with this Court; however, no such motion appears in the Court's records. We also find oral argument was unnecessary to the resolution of this case. See Rule 215, SCACR ("[T]he appellate court may decide any other case without oral argument if it determines that oral argument would not aid the court in resolving the issues.").
