STATEMENT OF ISSUES ON APPEAL

- (1) The Circuit Court overlooked and failed to make any determination in its order of dismissal, on Appellant's allegations of fraud committed by Respondent Horton, and the allegations of criminal trespassing, invasion of privacy and destruction of personal property committed in conspiracy by both Respondents Horton and Ulbrich.
- (2) It is error of the Circuit Court to dismiss the within complaint against Respondent Horton.
- (3) It is error of the Circuit Court to dismiss the complaint against or grant a summary judgment in favor of Respondent Richard Ulbrich.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Appellant Joseph Sun (hereinafter Sun) filed his Complaint on February 3, 2014 against Respondents Marshall Horton and Richard Ulbrich initially on tortuous acts they had committed against him and his minor daughter. Respondents filed and served their Answer and Counterclaim on about February 10, 2014. On March 6, 2014 and pursuant to Rule 15(a) SCRPC, Appellant filed and served his Amended Complaint deleting his daughter as Plaintiff in the case and clarified some allegations.

Apparently, Respondents filed their Notice of Motion and Motion to Dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6) and Motion for Sanction with their Answer and Counterclaim, but did not serve their motion on Appellant until March 7, 2014 after they obtained a hearing date of April 23, 2014. At the judge's chamber, after a brief hearing, Master in Equity and Special Judge Marvin Dukes, III directed all parties to submit their affidavits prior to his determination of Respondent's motion which would be treated as one for summary judgment. (See Transcript of hearing, Page 31.)

The respondents were given 10 days to file their affidavits while Appellant Sun was given 20 days to file. However, by email to the court without knowledge of the Appellant, respondents obtained extension of time to file their affidavits after Appellant had already filed his. On July 11, 2014, Circuit Court entered an Order Granting Plaintiff's [sic] Motion to Dismiss. Appellant timely filed and served his Notice of Appeal on about August 23, 2014. Appellant filed and served his Amended Notice of Appeal after he was informed by the Court that the Respondents were represented by the two (2) counsels whose names were not on the record at the trial court.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Some time in early 2011, Appellant Sun visited Respondent Horton at his office in Bluffton, SC regarding a civil suit Sun intended to file. At the end of a brief interview, Appellant decided that Respondent Horton did not appear to have the experience in those matter therefore expressed his desire to find another lawyer. Respondent Horton was displeased and informed Appellant Sun that there was a consultation fee of $200.00. Appellant Sun refused to pay because there was no such understanding prior to the meeting and Respondent Horton had not done anything for Appellant. Respondent Horton was displeased and angry.

Near the end of 2011, Respondent Horton was assigned the position of Guardian ad Litem in a Beaufort County Family Court Case No. 2011-DR-07-1823 filed by Appellant's ex-wife LiLing Sun seeking change in custody condition in which case Appellant Sun was the Defendant. Appellant Sun initially raised his objection against the assignment of Marshall Horton as Guardian ad Litem in the Family Court based on his prior unpleasant encounter with Respondent Horton. Respondent Horton refused to disqualify himself and stayed on, falsely claiming he would be fair and neutral. Appellant Sun relied on and was misled by Respondent Horton's false promises therefore did not file a motion to disqualify Respondent Horton as Guardian ad Litem.

Appellant alleged in his Amended Complaint that Respondent Horton is guilty of committing fraud against Appellant Sun in pretending that he would be a fair and impartial Guardian ad Litem when in fact he had already plotted a scheme to injure Appellant Sun and his minor daughter, and to defraud money from Appellant Sun. Respondent Horton's scheme of fraud was to pretend and make false impression and promises to the court and Appellant that he would do a truthful, fair and impartial investigation, evaluation and report regarding the two parties - Appellant Sun and his ex-wife, when he had actually befriended Appellant's opponent - his ex-wife and her new husband, then use hyperbole and unverified facts to paint a favorable picture for them, while on the other hand, fabricate and/or use unfounded false statements to degrade Appellant Sun in his Guardian report as his pay-back against Appellant, and to defraud money from Appellant with his fabricated Guardian fees.

Respondent Horton testified under oath in the custody trial on his total Guardian fee to be about $7,000.00, Respondent Horton surreptitiously increased his total fees to about $9,000.00 after the trial and the case was closed, without any basis or justification, and required Appellant to pay the difference. Respondent Horton could not justified his fee or the increase. Based on the numerous lies and false statements made by Respondent Horton in his Guardian Report, Appellant Sun's minor daughter was moved to Virginia away from all her friends, toys, a home and neighborhood that she loved and most of all, her father with whom she was very close to. Appellant Sun was misled by Respondent Horton's calculated false promise and statement of fairness and neutrality, in the end, suffered monetary damages. Appellant suffered prolonged distress because his daughter has been deprived of a comfortable and happy home. Appellant is entitled to recover the portion of the fabricated and unjustified charges he paid to Respondent Horton, and the damages and injury he has suffered.

As shown in the Complaint and Amended Complaint, after the Family Court trial, Respondents Horton and Ulbrich as their attempt to get money from Appellant, began their harassment by conspiring to stalk Appellant and criminally trespass his residence and private working site located in different counties, and repeatedly peep into Appellant's home and take numerous photographs with the pretense of service of certain paper regarding the fee after the Family Court case was closed. Respondents Horton and Ulbrich's outrageous acts had caused Appellant and his family in fear and distress, and their privacy invaded by them.

Respondent Horton and Ulbrich conspired to commit their criminal trespassing by ignoring numerous clearly posted "No Trespassing" sign posted on many large trees and a metal gate across the driveway and Appellant's repeated warning that they stop their trespassing and invasion of his privacy. (See copies of photographs attached with Affidavits of Joseph Sun and Richard Ulbrich.) After committing their criminal trespasses and invasion of Appellant's privacy at a house in Knowles Island Plantation and taking numerous photographs, Respondents Horton and Ulbrich left a gate unlocked by damaging the latch. Appellant Sun lost several expensive power tools on the property because the metal gate was damaged by Respondent Ulbrich and could not be locked for several days.

Appellant Sun alleges in his Amended Complaint that he is entitled to recover from Respondents Horton and Ulbrich, jointly and severally actual damages of $200.00 in the repair of the metal gate and $1,500.00 in the loss of tools and equipments, and $10,000.00 general damages for the criminal trespass and invasion of his privacy. Appellant Sun is entitled to recover monetary damages from Respondent Horton for the charges he fabricated after the Family Court case was already closed.

Transcript of the hearing shows that circuit judge Marvin Dukes allowed the respondents 10 days from the date of hearing on April 23, 2014 to submit their affidavits and other Exhibits and Appellant Sun 20 days to submit his. After all parties submitted their affidavits¹, Circuit Court entered an Order Granting Plaintiff's [sic] Motion to Dismiss on July 11, 2014 after it clearly stated that respondents motion to dismiss would be treated as one for summary judgment.

ARGUMENTS

Respondents Horton and Ulrich filed their motion to dismiss, based on Rule 12(b)(6), SCRCP. (Page 2 Notice and Motion to Dismiss) At the Judge's chamber, on April 23, 2014, Appellant joined the hearing after it had already started.

Respondents filed a motion under Rule 12(b)(6) which is a defense by motion "for failure to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action." In his Amended Complaint which was filed pursuant to Rule 15(a), SCRCP, and served within 30 days after Respondent served their Answer and Counterclaim, Appellant stated several causes of action, to wit,

(1) Respondent Horton had misled Appellant that he would be fair and impartial on his investigation, determination and report on the parties even though he had unfriendly encounters and disputes against Appellant Sun in the past. Respondent Horton also assured Appellant that his fees would be truthful and accurate knowing he would not keep that promise, Appellant relied on Horton's false promise and withheld his motion to disqualify Horton as the Guardian, and in the end suffered damages and injury.

In Hansen v. DHL Laboratories, Inc., 316 S.C. 505, 450 S.E.2d 624 (S.C.App.,1994) The South Carolina Court of Appeals held that,

“Elements of fraud are: a representation; falsity of representation; materiality of representation; defendant's knowledge of falsity of representation, or reckless disregard for its truth or falsity; defendant's intent that representation be acted upon; plaintiff's ignorance of the falsity; plaintiff's reliance on truth of representation; plaintiff's right to so rely; and consequent and proximate injury to plaintiff.”

Appellant has made all the requisite allegations in his complaint and amended complaint - that Respondent Horton falsely represented he would be fair and impartial when he knew he was prejudiced against Appellant and angry at him for not paying him the consultation fee; Appellant believed Mr. Horton's lies and withheld his motion to disqualify Horton and resulting in damages and injury he has suffered. He should be allowed to prove it to the jury.

(2) Respondent Horton has not justified his surreptitious increase of his fee from $7,000.00 to $9,000.00 and he knew he made false charges on the final amount. The latter amount was not approved by Family Court trial judge who only heard his fees would total about $7,000.00 and instructed payment of his fees by both parties. Using fraud and manipulation, Respondent Horton's surreptitious and unjustified fee increase was undetected by the Family Court.

(3) Respondents Horton and Ulbrich conspired to harass Appellant, criminally trespass his property after being warned to leave and stay out. They took numerous photographs, damaged Appellant's property and caused losses by theft.

The South Carolina Supreme Court in Brazell v. Windsor, 384 S.C. 512, 682 S.E.2d 824 (2009) held that, “If the facts and inferences drawn from the facts alleged in the complaint, viewed in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, would entitle the plaintiff to relief on any theory, then the grant of a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim is improper. Gentry v. Yonce, 337 S.C. 1,5, 522 S.E.2d 137,139 (1999).” A motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim should not be granted if facts alleged and inferences reasonably deducible therefrom would entitle the plaintiff to relief on any theory of the case. Rule 12(b)(6), SCRPC. Flateau v. Harrelson, 355 S.C. 197, 584 S.E.2d 413 (2003) The complaint should not be dismissed merely because the court doubts the plaintiff will prevail in the action. Id.

Circuit Court’s conversion of Respondents’ motion to dismiss to a motion for summary judgment by simply asking the parties to submit their affidavit without following the requirements set by Rule 56, SCRPC is improper². After a brief hearing, Master-in-Equity told the respondents to submit their affidavits in 10 days and Appellant to submit his in 20 days. Pursuant to verbal Court Order, Appellant Sun filed and served his affidavit on May 12, 2014 and later found out that Respondents obtained an extension to file by email to the court. Appellant filed his objection to Respondents affidavits on the ground that they, the movants, were filing their affidavits after Appellant (the non-movant) to their motion for summary judgment. (See Plaintiff’s Objection to Defendants’ Affidavits filed at the Circuit Court.) Appellant finally received the service copies of Respondents’ affidavits on about May 20, 2014 from the two counsels apparently were in the hearing but did not identify themselves nor had they filed any notice of appearance. The respondents were originally represented by Respondent ² The court held the hearing prior to submission of all affidavits or allowing any arguments to determine whether there was genuine issues of material facts to be tried.

Horton pro se, who signed the Certificate of Service on the Answer and Motion to Dismiss.

Appellant filed a "Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment" on May 27, 2014. In his response, Appellant objected to the violation of Rule 56, SCRCR, the deprivation of pretrial discovery and the existence of genuine issues of material facts to be tried by a jury. On May 29, 2014, by email, Circuit Judge Dukes told all parties that he was granting Respondent Horton's Motion to Dismiss and granting Respondent Ulbrich's motion for summary judgment stating that he was clarified by the affidavit. The judge's email referred to only one affidavit. There was no mention regarding any affidavits Appellant had filed and served. According to the emails from the Circuit Court and the Order of Dismissal, it is clear that the issue of fraud committed by Respondent Horton, the issues of conspiracy, trespass, invasion of privacy and destruction of property by the Respondents against the Appellant have not been ruled on as they were not even mentioned.

There were only two (2) affidavits filed by the Respondents. It is clear that they have not pierced Appellants allegations or negated any genuine issues of material facts alleged in the complaint or amended complaint, or stated why they are entitled to a summary judgment as a matter of law.

Supreme Court of South Carolina in Baughman v. American Telephone and Telegraph, 306 S.C. 101, 410 S.E.2d 537 (1991) held that, "Since it is a drastic remedy, summary judgment should be cautiously invoked so that no person will be improperly deprived of a trial of the disputed factual issues. See, Holloman v. McAllister, 289 S.C. 183, 186, 345 S.E.2d 728, 729 (1986) ("an extreme remedy to be cautiously invoked"). This means, among other things, that summary judgment must not be granted until the opposing party has had a full and fair opportunity to complete discovery. 10A Wright & Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure s 2741, p. 543 (1983); 6 Moore's Federal Practice P 56.02[6], p.56-39 (2d ed. 1990); Baughman v. American Telephone and Telegraph, supra.

Circuit Court is erroneous in finding that Appellant's case is equivalent to a review of the judgment of the Beaufort County Family Court, and cited in reliance of the case of Fleming v. Asbill, 326 S.C. 49, 483 S.E.2d 751 (1996). But all the tortuous acts allegedly committed by the Respondents are outside of the scope of Respondent Horton's appointment, such as Respondent Horton lying to the Appellant that he would be fair and honest on his report and charges, and the Respondents conspired to trespass Appellant's property, invading Appellant's right to privacy and destroying Appellant's property all committed after the Family Court case was closed.

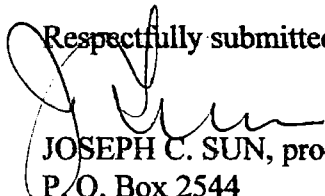

Similarly, South Carolina Court of Appeals in Falk v. Sadler, 341 S.C. 281,288, 533 S.E.2d 350 (2000) explained that, "In Fleming, our supreme court held individuals appointed as guardians ad litem in private custody proceedings are entitled to absolute quasi-judicial immunity for acts performed within the scope of their appointment." Court of Appeals further states that "the immunity would not protect guardians ad litem for actions beyond the scope of their duties. Thus, for example, if a guardian abuses a child, she would be liable because her action would fall outside her duties as guardian the immunity available to guardian ad litem is not a blanket immunity for any and all actions taken by the guardian. Rather, the guardian remains liable for actions beyond the scope of her duties. It is the nature of the acts, not simply the status of the Respondent as a guardian ad litem, that determines the availability of immunity for the challenged acts and the extent of protection afforded by the immunity. See Collins v. Tabet, 111 N.M. 391, 806 P.2d 40,52 (1991)."

Therefore, it is error of the Circuit Court to give Respondent Horton a blanket immunity. Respondent Ulbrich enjoyed no immunity of any kind. It is error of the Circuit Court to rule that just because Ulbrich was acting as Mr. Horton's agent and granted summary judgment as to all claims against him. Circuit Court simply ignored all allegations of trespass, invasion of privacy and destruction of property against respondent Ulbrich and actually made no determination.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, it is error and abuse of discretion of the circuit court to convert Respondents' Motion to Dismiss into one for Summary Judgment by violating the procedure and requirements set forth in Rule 56, SCRC, ignore and fail to make any determination on Appellants allegations of fraud committed by Respondent Horton and the allegations of criminal trespassing, invasion of privacy and destruction of property against the Appellant, and dismiss the complaint. According to the Order of Dismissal, it is unclear if Circuit Court dismissed the complaint against Respondent Ulbrich or granted him summary judgment because certain statements are conflicting, while either way, it is error and abuse of discretion to do so as genuine issues of material facts still exist to be determined by the jury. The judgment of the Court of Common Pleas should be entirely reversed and the case be remanded for further proceeding.
