PAGE(S) IN APPELLANT'S
INITIAL BRIEF

---

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, and pursuant to Rule 208(b) (5), Length of Briefs, the rule states that, briefs, shall not exceed fifty (50) pages.

The aforesaid rule also states, on motion, the Appellate Court may grant a party permission to exceed the limitations,

That, the Appellant, do hereby, respectfully request this Court to exceed the said limitations of Fifty (50), Pages, for these reasons as follows:

That, Appellant case in, 2013-CP-40-03078, involves two (2) other subsequent cases, namely, 2007-CP-40-03742 and 2009-CP-40-02442, and involves more than 4 (Four) transcripts of the record, more than 3 volumes, of Record on Appeal.

That, Appellant has 5, Arguments on The Issues of Appeals.

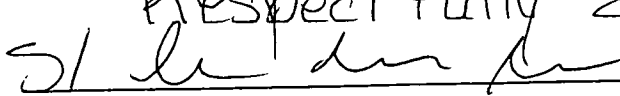

In Appellants request, he ask this court to exceed to 25 (Twenty five) additional pages for These reasons.

Furthermore, the Appellant has to handwrite his brief, do to extraordinary circumstances, he does not has the funds at this time to "repair" his Broken typewriter.

Typewritten, reduces the letters allowing much less space;

Wherefore, the Appellant prays, for the reasons as aforesaid, that this Court grants him an order to permit him to exceed the limitations.
