I thought that the damper on my living room was closed tight, but apparently whoever closed it last, did not close it all the way. Left just enough of a crack for that Momma bird to fall through! After a ridiculous amount of effort and mess, I got the Momma Chimney Sweep bird back up in the Chimney and you should have heard the babies chirping! I am going to finally put a cap on that chimney at the end of the summer! Thanks for your patience!

Ms. Kitchings:

My motion pursuant to Rule 240, SCACR, was due for filing on or before today's date according to your letter dated June 10, 2015. I was in the process of preparing this motion when an unexpected emergency at my house called me away from my office. I would ask that my motion be accepted as timely filed tomorrow June 23, 2015. I apologize for this delay. I am, of course, copying opposing counsel on this email. Thank you for your kind assistance as always.
