Dear Ms. Kitchings:

By letter addressed to your office, dated August 24, 2012, a Assistant Deputy Attorney General Deborah R.J. Shupe aspired her inefficiency in obtaining copies of Appellants filing entitled "Appellant's Motion For Withdrawal Of The Order Of Dismissal".

Appellant gives Notice that Ms. Shupe should address her complaints to the SC Attorney Generals mail room.

Appellant by rule is only required to address the principle Plaintiff in this case, being #1. the State of South Carolina and #2. the State lawful alter-ego plaintiff is SC Attorney General Alan Wilson.

Please, advise Alan Wilson's underlings that should they wish to be taken seriously,

#1. start, by stop violating Appellants rights to confidentiality when Ms. Shupe puts "S.V.P.T.P." on her envelopes addressed to Appellant contrary to South Carolina Code Of Law, 44-22-100, SCC Ann. 44-48-150, and HIPAA, see hereto exhibit "Ms. Shupe's envelope."

The proper name usage is the, "Behavioral Disorders Treatment Program" (BDTP) Edisto unit 197.

#2. Start, by being honest in her pleadings before the court instead of making false assertions based upon her own demons such as claiming a SCC Ann. 44-48-110 Notice Of Annual Review is Respondent Petition For Release.

Sincerely,

cc: Deborah R.J. Shupe, c/o Alan Wilson
