

77609

THE SOUTH CAROLINA COURT OF APPEALS

RECEIVED

OCT 19 2015

SC Court of Appeals

BRENDA G. HARMON, Appellant,

v.

JOEL E. JOHNSON. D.M.D., Respondent

Appellate Case No. 2015-000061

MOTION FOR DISCOVERY

I, the above named appellate, did indeed asked the Courts at an earlier date, Sept. 28, 2015, for an extension to compel considering that I am still being treated for said problems with 'trigeminal neuralgia,' which forced on my being from the Respondent. However, I now motion to the Appeals Courts to be given the right of Discovery.

It is an everyday occurrence that I experience pains from this Doctor/Dentist, hands. I also asked the Respondent to show me in any law book that what he done, that he/Respondent is entitle to do as he can and not provide compensation to the Appellate. The Respondent does refuse to recognize what he done. It is a normal courtesy for man to say I'm sorry, he won't even say that.

It will never be the same for me to be without facial pain or neck pain, ear pains, etc., stemming on the right side of my body. Therefore, let me reiterate my request for 2,000.000.00, for Compensatory and 7,000.000.00, for Punitive damages.

I know that the Appeals Court can settle this case, which I feel as if they should. There are many ways the Courts can. The year is now 2015, therefore, man cannot ignore his atrocities that causes harm to other people, life/harm. We are all equal. This is no longer viable in refusing other the same rights that he/Respondent has.

cc:

Kelli L. Sullivan, Esquire

Julius W. Mckay, II, Esquire

Courtney Renee Pawley, Esquire

Brenda J. Harmon /
Appellate
Case# 2015-000061
Oct. 18, 2015

RECEIVED

OCT 19 2015

SC Court of Appeals