

The South Carolina Court of Appeals

Ronald Coulter #300410, Appellant,

v.

State of South Carolina, Respondent.

Appellate Case No. 2013-002379

ORDER

This appeal was dismissed due to Appellant's failure to serve Respondent with an amended record on appeal that contains all items listed in the parties' designations of matter. Appellant has filed a petition to reinstate the dismissal of this appeal, explaining that he is indigent and is financially unable to print the record on appeal.

Under these unique circumstances, we find it appropriate to reinstate this appeal and appoint the Division of Appellate Defense for the sole purpose of printing the record on appeal and Appellant's final brief. We urge the Attorney General's Office to assist Appellate Defense in compiling the documents designated to be included in the record. The record shall be served within thirty days of this order.
