ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANT'S
MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

This matter came before the Court upon Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on April 16, 2015. Specifically, Defendant seeks the dismissal of the debt collection claim asserted against her by Plaintiff. In support of its Motion, Defendant relied on the exhibits attached to Plaintiff's Complaint and Amended Complaint, Plaintiff's Verification of Account, and the documents provided during discovery. In opposition to the Motion, Plaintiff submitted discovery responses from Defendant. Each party also submitted a Memorandum of Law in support of their respective positions.

Having heard the arguments of counsel and after reviewing the pleadings, documents, and memoranda, I find and conclude as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On October 29, 2006, Defendant purchased a used car from Carmax. In connection with the purchase, Defendant executed a Buyer's Order that described the car she was buying, calculated the purchase price of the car, and described the warranties provided by Carmax.

2. Also on October 29, 2006, Defendant executed a Retail Installment Contract to finance the purchase of the car. The Retail Installment Contract set forth the terms of the financing, including the interest rate, the amount financed, the amount of the monthly payments, and the collateral for the financing. According to the Retail Installment Contract, the financing was provided by Wells Fargo Auto Finance, Inc.

3. Defendant failed to make payments when due on the Retail Installment Contract, and Wells Fargo sent notice of right to cure default in 2008.

4. Defendant failed to cure the default, and Wells Fargo repossessed Defendant's car. Wells Fargo sent Defendant notice of its intent to sell the car on January 19, 2009, and sold the car at a private sale on February 10, 2009.

5. Wells Fargo then sent Defendant a notice of deficiency balance due on February 13, 2009.

6. The Retail Installment Contract was assigned to Plaintiff by Wells Fargo on April 30, 2011.

7. Through requests for admissions served by Plaintiff, it has been established that the last payment made by Defendant on the Retail Installment Contract was on November 17, 2008.

8. This action to collect the deficiency balance due on the Retail Installment Contract was filed on March 6, 2014.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. "The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001). Summary judgment is proper when there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Fleming v. Rose, 350 S.C. 488, 493, 567 S.E.2d 857, 860 (2002), citing Rule 56(c), SCRPC.

2. When considering a motion for summary judgment, all inferences which can be reasonably drawn from the evidence before the court are viewed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Lanham v. Blue Cross & Blue Shield of S.C., Inc., 349 S.C. 356, 361, 563 S.E.2d 331, 333 (2002).

3. The issue presented to the Court by Defendant's Motion is whether the cause of action asserted by Plaintiff is subject to the three-year statute of limitations contained in Section 15-3-530(1) of the South Carolina Code for breach of contract actions, or the six-year statute of limitations contained in Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code, S.C. Code Section 36-2-725.

4. It appears that the six-year statute of limitations contained in Section 36-2-725 is intended to apply to breach of warranty claims and other claims related to goods that were sold, but not to a debt collection action that arises out of a secured transaction. Section 36-2-102 of the South Carolina Code specifically provides that a contract for sale of goods that is intended to operate as a secured transaction is not subject to Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code. As stated in the South Carolina Reporter's Comments, "Expressly excluded [from Article 2] are transfers of a security interest in goods which are covered under Article 9, Secured Transactions." S.C. Code Section 36-2-102, S.C. Reporter's Comments.

5. The exhibits attached to Plaintiff's Amended Complaint indicate that Plaintiff's assignor, Wells Fargo, believed that this was a secured transaction governed by Article 9, as evidenced by the notice of intent to sell that it mailed to Defendant in order to comply with Section 36-9-614 of the South Carolina Code.

6. The exhibits attached to Plaintiff's Amended Complaint also indicate that Wells Fargo believed that this was a secured consumer credit transaction governed by the South Carolina Consumer Protection Code, Section 37-1-101, et seq., as evidenced by the notice of right to cure default that it mailed to Defendant in order to comply with Section 37-5-110 of the South Carolina Code.

7. Although no South Carolina appellate court has addressed this issue, appellate courts in other jurisdictions have concluded that debt collection actions arising out of secured transactions are subject to the general statute of limitations for breach of contract, rather than the statute of limitations contained in Article 2 of the UCC. See, NCNB v. Holshouser, N.C. App. 165, 247 S.E.2d 645 (1978) (holding that the six-year statute of limitations in Article 2 did not apply to an action to collect a debt arising out of the purchase money financing of an automobile).

8. In support of its position that this contract is subject to the six-year statute of limitations contained in Section 36-2-275, Plaintiff relies on Atlas Food Systems and Services, Inc. v. Crane National Vendors, Inc., 319 S.C. 556, 462 S.E.2d 858 (1995). However, it appears that case involved Article 2 breach of warranty claims asserted by a purchaser against the seller of vending machines. See, Atlas Food Systems and Services, Inc. v. Crane National Vendors, Inc., 99 F.3d 587 (4th Cir. 1996). Therefore, the holding in Atlas Food Systems is not determinative of the statute of limitations in a debt collection action that arises out of an Article 9 secured transaction.

9. In this case, the contract for the sale of the car to Defendant was contained in the Buyer's Order. The Retail Installment Contract was intended to operate as a separate secured transaction governed by Article 9 of the UCC, rather than Article 2 of the UCC. Therefore, the general statute of limitations for breach of contract found in S.C. Code Section 15-3-530(1) applies to Plaintiff's debt collection action against Defendant.

10. The last payment on the Retail Installment Contract was made by Defendant on November 17, 2008, and this action was not filed until March 6, 2014. Therefore, Plaintiff's claim against Defendant is barred by the three-year statute of limitations.

Based on the foregoing Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, it is:

ORDERED that Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment on the claim asserted against her by Plaintiff is GRANTED, and that claim is hereby DISMISSED.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

I authorize CarMax to forward this application to any financial institution that may purchase a resulting sales finance contract. EXHIBIT 6 pg 25

SELLER and PURCHASER agree by their signatures on the face of this agreement to abide by all auction policies, which are incorporated herein, and all policy decisions of management.

PURCHASER and SELLER agree that this agreement shall be of the same force and effects as though personally signed by them even though it only contains their identification plate, or other authorized signature.

Any adjustments or objections must be made prior to settlement. The Vehicle must be paid for on day of purchase or this sale may be considered null and void at AUCTION's discretion.

SELLER and PURCHASER each agree that should any vehicle be left on AUCTION premises for a period in excess of six days, AUCTION may charge a reasonable daily storage fee of $10 per day.

SELLER and PURCHASER agree that AUCTION and its affiliates retain the right to cease doing business with either of them as it sees fit, and that AUCTION is not a broker.

Title to the Vehicle does not pass to PURCHASER until good funds are received. PURCHASER grants AUCTION and its affiliates a security interest in the Vehicle to secure payment of the purchase price and of any other debt owing from PURCHASER to the AUCTION or its affiliates. PURCHASER agrees AUCTION may re-sell Vehicle, if repossessed, at regular AUCTION sale.

The PURCHASER agrees to purchase this vehicle for the purchase price shown provided the vehicle is found to be as recommended; before settling for this vehicle, to check the serial and/or engine numbers on the vehicle with those on the title; to check the actual condition of the vehicle with its description and with the recommendation, if any, when offered for sale at this auction; not to resell the Vehicle until good funds have been transmitted to AUCTION; upon making settlement in cash or by check or draft in lieu of cash to consider the transaction a fully consummated cash transaction for present consideration; that no stop payment of his check to this AUCTION shall be honored, that any stop payment order of a check/draft or giving a check/draft which is returned unpaid shall be deemed by the parties to be prima facie evidence of fraud existing at the time the transaction was consummated, and shall be construed by the parties as an intent to defraud in order to consummate the transaction; and that AUCTION may deposit any check or draft immediately upon receiving it, regardless of whether the Vehicle's certificate of title has been submitted by the seller; or whether AUCTION has agreed to hold the check or draft pursuant to a float arrangement with the seller.

PURCHASER agrees to make any claim of defects with the car with SELLER, and immediately to notify AUCTION pursuant to its policies. PURCHASER agrees that it is responsible for its own transportation.

PURCHASER represents to AUCTION that it is solvent, and that the Vehicle is purchased solely for resale.

The SELLER covenants with the PURCHASER that he is the true and lawful owner of the described vehicle ("Vehicle"), that the same is free from all liens and encumbrances; that he has good right and full power to sell and transfer title to the same; and that he will warrant and defend the same against the lawful claims and demands of all persons whomsoever. If SELLER is a corporation, by the execution of the agreement, the officers of said corporation do, jointly and severally, individually and personally guarantee performance of the corporation's warranties.

SELLER agrees that any amounts owing to AUCTION, MAFS, or other Marheim auctions may be deducted from the proceeds due SELLER, and that AUCTION may stop payment or refuse to authorize payment on any check or draft to SELLER pursuant to this right of set-off.

SELLER agrees to be bound by the TERMS OF SALE and acknowledges responsibility for completion and execution of the required odometer mileage statement pertaining to the Vehicle described herein. Upon payment to SELLER, AUCTION shall be subrogated to all of the SELLER's and PURCHASER's rights, and the SELLER and PURCHASER agree to do whatever is necessary to secure such rights and

TITLE GUARANTEE

Upon payment of the purchase price and upon delivery of the title to the PURCHASER, AUCTION, in accordance with the following terms and conditions, GUARANTEES THE TITLE of the Vehicle to be FREE AND CLEAR OF ALL LIENS AND ENCUMBRANCES at the time of the execution of this instrument and upon delivery of the title to the PURCHASER for a period of FOUR (4) YEARS from the date of sale as shown on face. This guaranty applies only to motor vehicles and mortgage liens. The amount of the AUCTION's liability under this guaranty of title shall never exceed the sale price of the vehicle and the maximum amount of the AUCTION's liability under this guaranty shall be reduced by deducting from said sale price 2% thereof on the first of each month following the date of this transaction, and all liability of the AUCTION will expire and terminate on the first day of the forty eighth month after the date of this transaction.

The AUCTION's guarantee of title is expressly limited to use PURCHASER of the Vehicle, and said guarantee is not negotiable or transferable. This shall be void if the purchase price for the vehicle is not paid by the PURCHASER. This guarantee does not protect against defects in the title known to the PURCHASER whether or not listed as exceptions to the title on the reverse of this agreement.

Whenever any claim is made by any person against the title of the Vehicle, whether by suit or otherwise, the PURCHASER shall within five days after becoming aware of said claim notify the AUCTION, giving full particulars of the claim and shall cooperate fully in defending any legal action and in taking any other steps to minimize possible loss. Time is of the essence of this entire agreement and any failure on the part of the PURCHASER to notify the AUCTION of any such claim shall void the AUCTION's liability under this guarantee. Likewise, failure of the PURCHASER to cooperate in defense of such claim shall release the AUCTION of liability under this guarantee.

The PURCHASER shall not surrender possession of the vehicle except as required by legal process, to any such claimant, nor shall it voluntarily pay or acknowledge the validity of any such claim, without the prior approval of the AUCTION.

On payment of any claim under this guarantee, the PURCHASER will execute all necessary papers subrogating its right to recover against the SELLER, or others, to the AUCTION.

DISCLAIMERS and INDEMNIFICATION

SELLER and PURCHASER agree that AUCTION is neither responsible for odometer mileage on the consigning vehicles nor for the information contained in the odometer mileage statement which SELLER, as Transferor is required to complete and sign and PURCHASER as transferee is required to acknowledge.

SELLER and PURCHASER agree that all representation concerning the vehicle are solely the responsibility of the SELLER, whether made on the block before the sale, on this agreement or otherwise, and acknowledge and agree that AUCTION has made no representations whatsoever about the Vehicle.

AUCTION is merely performing an auction service and expressly disclaims all express and/or implied warranties, as to merchantability, fitness or any other matter whatsoever other than the title guarantee set forth above.

SELLER and PURCHASER agree to indemnify and hold AUCTION harmless from any liability, loss, costs, damage or expense, including attorney's fees which may arise either directly or indirectly from the sale and purchase of the Vehicle including, but not limited to, any matters relating to odometer mileage or odometer mileage statements.

If the AUCTION is required to make a claim as a result of this transaction against either SELLER or PURCHASER or an agent or employee of SELLER or PURCHASER or an insurance carrier insuring or bonding SELLER or PURCHASER, then the Auction shall recover in addition to the amount of the claim and the costs incurred in the claim, reasonable attorney's fee in an amount not less than 25% of the amount of the claim, regardless of whether suit is filed, including appellate fees and costs. Interest shall accrue on the unpaid balance of any such claim at the rate of 1.5% per month.

The Vehicle is purchased for resale in the form of tangible personal property in the regular course of business and is the sort usually purchased by the PURCHASER for resale. In the event that the property is used for any purpose other than for resale, PURCHASER will pay direct to the proper taxing authorities such sale or use tax as may then be accrued and become payable. The PURCHASER further certifies that he holds a valid sales tax, registration and title license or other permit, issued by the sales tax authority of this state and county.

Indiana	$20
Kansas	$30

Care of Vehicle: Until the entire unpaid balance and all other amounts owed under this Contract are paid in full, you agree as follows: to keep the Vehicle in good condition and repair; not to remove the Vehicle from the address disclosed on the face of this Contract for more than 30 days without notifying Creditor in writing; not to sell or transfer the Vehicle or use the Vehicle as collateral in another transaction; not to use the Vehicle for hire or lease, or permit the Vehicle's use in any illegal manner; not to allow someone else to seize the Vehicle or create a lien or other claim to or on the Vehicle; and to give Creditor written notice of any loss or damage to the Vehicle.

Insurance Requirements: You agree to maintain insurance on the Vehicle at all times, with comprehensive, collision, fire, and theft coverage in amounts acceptable to Creditor and with the minimum available deductible. Such insurance must be with a properly licensed insurer acceptable to Creditor and must name Creditor as an additional insured and loss-payee. You agree to provide Creditor with evidence of such insurance upon request. You agree that any insurance monies payable by reason of damage to or loss of the Vehicle shall be paid directly and solely to Creditor and may be used to pay all or part of the amounts you owe Creditor under this Contract. Creditor may also use the insurance proceeds (money) to replace or repair the Vehicle, at Creditor's sole discretion. You agree that Creditor can settle any insurance claim or sign any insurance checks on your behalf, as necessary, and to the extent not prohibited by applicable law. You understand and agree that any damage to the Vehicle (including, but not limited to, loss or destruction of the Vehicle) shall not affect your duty to pay all amounts owed under this Contract.

Failure to Maintain Insurance: If you fail to maintain insurance on the Vehicle, or fail to pay any loss, taxes or other costs necessary to keep the Vehicle in good condition and repair, Creditor may, at its sole discretion, obtain replacement insurance and/or advance any sums necessary to pay such fees, taxes or other costs. In the event Creditor obtains replacement insurance, the amount of such coverage may be limited to that which you owe under this Contract. Consequently, the insurance obtained may not cover the full value of the Vehicle nor any loss that you may sustain. To the extent not prohibited by law, any amount Creditor advances on your behalf (including for insurance) will accrue Finance Charges at the Annual Percentage Rate of this Contract. The amounts advanced shall be repayable: (i) immediately upon demand; (ii) along with your monthly payments; or (iii) at the end of the Contract, as Creditor may specify. Any payments made by Creditor on your behalf will not cure any default under this Contract.

Service Contracts: This Contract may contain charges for service contracts. If you are in default under this Contract or the Vehicle is repossessed, you agree that Creditor, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, may claim benefits under these contracts and/or terminate them to obtain refunds for unearned charges. Any benefits and/or refunds received shall be applied toward your obligations under this Contract in accordance with applicable law. If you voluntarily cancel any such service contract, you authorize Creditor to receive any refunds due you, which shall be applied by Creditor towards your obligations under this Contract in accordance with applicable law.

"Trade-In" and Down Payment: You promise that you own and have valid title to the vehicle you sold to Creditor as a "trade-in." You further promise that except as disclosed to Creditor in writing, the Vehicle is free from any lien or security interest and no such appears on the certificate of title. You also promise that you have made the down payment disclosed on the face of this Contract and that you have not borrowed it. By signing this Contract, you warrant your solvency and agree that the return of any down payment check by the payor bank as NSF (non-sufficient funds) or Account Closed evidences your insolvency.

Creditor's Interest in Vehicle: The Vehicle is collateral that secures your financing for this Contract. You and we agree that Creditor shall have a security interest in the Vehicle and that the security interest has attached. A security interest means that if you default, Creditor can repossess the Vehicle and under certain circumstances sell it to satisfy your payment obligations. "Vehicle" shall include the tires, parts, and equipment, any replaced parts, all accessories and additions to the Vehicle, and any vehicle insurance refunds or proceeds resulting from loss of or damage to the Vehicle.

Title and Security: You promise that you are, and will be, the registered owner of the Vehicle throughout the term of this Contract. You also promise that unless you obtain prior written consent, Creditor will be the only party with a security interest in and to the Vehicle and that Creditor's security interest shall be the only security interest that appears on the certificate of title. You agree that Creditor can apply for a certificate of title that will reflect Creditor's security interest in the Vehicle, and you agree to assist Creditor in doing so. In the event the Vehicle is returned to Creditor for any reason, you agree to assist Creditor in obtaining an amended certificate of title to reflect any ownership change.

Events of Default and Right to Demand Payment in Full: Each of the following shall, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, be an Event of Default. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, Creditor can require that the entire unpaid balance owed under this Contract, together with all accrued Finance Charges and other amounts owed under this Contract, be paid immediately and in full, without prior notice or demand, subject to any right you have to cure the default.

1. You break one of your promises set forth under this Contract; or
2. You pay any installment owing under this Contract late as noted in the Late Charge Section on Page 1 of this Contract, or you fail to pay any other amount you owe Creditor, now or in the future, the day it becomes due; or
3. You have made a false or misleading statement on this Contract and/or on the credit application; or
4. The Vehicle is lost or damaged without sufficient insurance coverage; sold, given away or seized, or is removed from the United States (except to Canada and only for a maximum period of 30 days); or
5. You file a petition in bankruptcy or one is filed against you; or you file any proceeding seeking relief from your debts under applicable state or federal law, or one is instituted against you; or
6. You die or become legally unable to manage your affairs; or
7. The Vehicle is seized by a third party because of involvement in criminal activity or forfeiture proceedings have been instituted by a third party in any federal or state court, or through an administrative proceeding; or
8. Something else happens that Creditor reasonably believes affects your ability to pay the remaining amounts due under this Contract.

To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, if an Event of Default occurs and Creditor demands payment in full, you agree to pay collection costs incurred by the Creditor, including reasonable attorneys' fees if Creditor refers this Contract for collection to an attorney who is not Creditor's salaried employee, plus court costs. Until paid in full, and to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, the unpaid balance of the Amount Financed will continue to accrue Finance Charges at the Annual Percentage Rate disclosed on the face of this Contract.

NORTH CAROLINA TRANSACTIONS ONLY: You promise that you have not made any false or misleading statements on this Contract or on the credit application. You further promise that you will not take any action, or permit any event to occur, that materially impairs your ability to pay the amounts you owe under this Contract. By way of example, such event may include, but is not limited to, your death; you become legally unable to manage your affairs; you become insolvent; you file (or have filed against you) any other proceeding seeking relief from your debts; or you breach any other promise you have made in this Contract.

Right to Repossess: If one of the Events of Default occurs, Creditor can repossess the Vehicle. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Creditor may enter the premises where the Vehicle is kept and take it without giving you prior notice and without seeking a judicial remedy first. Creditor may alternatively request you to deliver the Vehicle to Creditor, and you agree to deliver the Vehicle as reasonably requested by Creditor. In the event of a default, Creditor has all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code and other applicable state laws, including, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, the right to sell the Vehicle and pursue a claim against you for any deficiency amount you still owe. You may have certain rights under applicable state laws to recover the personal property contained in the Vehicle at the time of repossession.

Application of Payments / Partial Prepayments: Your payments will be applied in accordance with any mandatory provisions of applicable law. In the absence of any such provisions, each payment will be applied according to the payment application protocol of the creditor or any assignee. In all other instances, your payments will be applied first to accrued Finance Charges, then to any other fees or charges for which you are responsible which are not included in the Amount Financed, then to the unpaid balance of the Amount Financed. Partial prepayments will not relieve you of the obligation to continue making the monthly payments as required under this Contract, and acceptance of partial or late payments does not waive Creditor's rights under this Contract, including but not limited to, the right to call a default, accelerate the debt or repossess the Vehicle.

Waivers and Releases: To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, (i) Creditor can waive or delay enforcing any of Creditor's rights without losing them; (ii) Creditor can waive or delay enforcing a right as to one of you without waiving it as to the other; and (iii) Creditor need not give anyone notice of the waiver, delay or release. Creditor's failure to file a security interest, release of a security interest or granting extensions or deferrals of payment, shall not affect your obligations under this Contract.

Applicable Law: This Contract shall be governed by federal law and the law of the state where the CarMax store selling the Vehicle is located. If the Vehicle is sold in Kansas, the provisions of the Kansas Uniform Consumer Credit Code shall govern this Contract. If the Vehicle is sold in Maryland, this Contract shall be governed by Subtitle 10 of Title 12 of Maryland's Commercial Law Article. If any provision is found to be ineffective under any applicable law or regulation, the remainder of this Contract shall not be affected and shall continue to be binding and effective.

You understand that this Contract consists of four (4) pages. This is page two (2). By initialing below you represent that you have read and agree to all provisions on all pages.

Arbitration Provision

This Arbitration Provision describes when and how a Claim (defined below) may be arbitrated. Arbitration is a way of resolving disputes before one or more neutral persons, instead of having a trial in court before a judge and/or jury. By signing this Contract, you and we agree to be bound by the following arbitration terms.

(a) What Claims are Covered: "Claim" means any claim, dispute or controversy between you and us that in any way arises from or relates to this consumer credit sale and/or the purchase you are financing by way of this Contract. "Claim" has the broadest possible meaning and includes initial claims, counterclaims, cross-claims and third-party claims. "Claim" includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, whether at law or in equity (including any claim for injunctive or declaratory relief). "Claim" also includes disputes based on constitutional, statutory, regulatory, ordinance-based, or similar grounds. "Claim" further includes disputes about the validity, enforceability, arbitrability or scope of this Arbitration Provision or this Contract. However, "Claim" does not include any self-help remedy, such as repossession, reclamation or retaking of the collateral or the right of set-off. "Claim" also does not include any individual action in court by one party that is limited to preventing the other party from using a self-help remedy and that does not involve a request for damages or monetary relief of any kind.

(b) Commencing Arbitration: Either you or we may require any Claim to be arbitrated. Arbitration begins by giving written notice to the other party of the intent to start or to compel arbitration. This notice may be given before or after a lawsuit has been started over the Claim or with respect to other Claims brought later in the lawsuit. Arbitration of a Claim must comply with this Arbitration Provision and the applicable rules of the arbitration Administrator. We will not choose to arbitrate an individual claim that you bring against us in small claims court or your state's equivalent court, if any. But if that Claim is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court, we then have the right to choose arbitration.

(c) Choosing the Administrator: You may choose the arbitration Administrator from the following list:

- American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 335 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017, www.adr.org, (800) 778-7879.
- JAMS, 45 Broadway, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10008, www.jamsadr.com, (800) 352-5267
- National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, www.arb-forum.com, (800) 474-2371

If we initiate the arbitration proceeding, we will give you 20 days to choose the Administrator. If you do not choose the Administrator within that time, we will choose for you. If for any reason the chosen organization is unable or unwilling or ceases to serve as the Administrator, you will have 20 days to choose a different Administrator from the above list. If you fail to choose a different Administrator within the 20-day period, we will choose one. In all cases, the arbitrator(s) must be a lawyer with more than 10 years of experience.

(d) Choosing the Location: Any arbitration hearing that you attend must take place at a location reasonably convenient to your residence.

(e) Paying for Arbitration: Each Administrator charges fees to administer an arbitration proceeding. This may include fees not charged by a court. When you choose an Administrator, you should carefully review the fees charged by the Administrator. We will pay these fees if required by applicable law, or if otherwise necessary to ensure that this Arbitration Provision is enforceable. We will not ask you to pay or reimburse us for any fees we pay the Administrator. If we require a Claim to be arbitrated, we will pay or reimburse you for up to $1000 in fees that would otherwise be charged to you by the Administrator. However, if either we or you require a Claim to be arbitrated, you may tell us in writing that you are unable to pay the fees charged by the Administrator or that you believe those fees to be excessively high. If you do so, we will pay or reimburse you for up to all of the fees that would otherwise be charged to you by the Administrator if your request is reasonable and in good faith. Each party must pay the expense of that party's attorneys, experts and witnesses, regardless of which party prevails in the arbitration, unless applicable law and/or this Arbitration Provision gives a party the right to recover any such fees from the other party.

(f) Impact of Arbitration on Legal Rights: If arbitration is chosen with respect to a Claim, all of the following apply:

- There will be no right to try that Claim in court.
- There will be no jury trial on that Claim.
- There will be no discovery, except as allowed by the arbitration rules of the Administrator or this Arbitration Provision.
- We and you are prohibited from participating in a class action or class-wide arbitration with respect to that Claim (the "Class Action Waiver"). This means that neither we nor you can be a representative or member of any class of claimants or act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration with respect to that Claim.
- Claims brought by or against one buyer (or co-buyer) may not be joined or consolidated in the arbitration with Claims brought by or against any other buyer (or co-buyer) not a party to this Contract.
- Other rights that you or we would have in court may also not be available in arbitration.

(g) Effect of Class Action Waiver: Notwithstanding any other part of this Arbitration Provision, the validity and effect of the Class Action Waiver must be determined only by a court and not by an arbitrator. If a court limits or voids the Class Action Waiver, then this entire Arbitration Provision (except for this paragraph) shall be null and void.

(h) Right to Discovery: In addition to the parties' rights to obtain discovery pursuant to the arbitration rules of the Administrator, either party may submit a written request to the arbitrator to expand the scope for discovery normally allowable under the arbitration rules of the Administrator. The Arbitrator shall have discretion to grant or deny that request.

(i) Arbitration Result and Right of Appeal: Judgment upon the award given by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. In response to a timely request from either party, the arbitrator must provide a brief written explanation of the basis for any award. The arbitrator's decision is final and binding, except for any right of appeal provided by the Federal Arbitration Act. However, if the amount of the Claim exceeds $100,000, or if an arbitration award is a "zero" or "take nothing" award, any party can appeal the award to a three-arbitrator panel administered by the Administrator which shall reconsider any aspect of the initial award requested by the appealing party. Reference in this Arbitration Provision to the "arbitrator" means the panel of arbitrators if an appeal of the arbitrator's decision has been taken. Subject to applicable law, costs of such an appeal will be borne by the appealing party regardless of the outcome of the appeal. However, we will consider any good faith, reasonable request for us to pay all or any part of those fees if you are the appealing party.

(j) Governing Law: This Arbitration Provision is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. §§ 1 et seq. and not by any state arbitration law. The arbitrator must apply applicable substantive law consistent with the Federal Arbitration Act and applicable statutes of limitations and claims of privilege recognized at law. The arbitrator is authorized to award all remedies permitted by the substantive law that would apply if the action were pending in court.

(k) Rules of Interpretation: This Arbitration Provision shall survive the repayment of all amounts owed to us, any legal proceedings or our use of any self-help remedy to collect a debt you owe us, and any bankruptcy by you, to the extent not inconsistent with applicable bankruptcy law. Except as provided above in the last sentence of paragraph (g), if any part of this Arbitration Provision is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, it shall not invalidate the remaining parts of this Arbitration Provision or this Contract. In the event of a conflict or inconsistency between this Arbitration Provision, and the applicable arbitration rules or the other provisions of this Contract, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

You understand that this Contract consists of four (4) pages. This is page three (3). By initialing below you represent that you have read and agree to all provisions on all pages.

Defendant Portia S. Dantzler (formerly known as Portia Smith), for herself and on behalf of all other similarly situated individuals, hereby responds to the Amended Complaint of Plaintiff as follows:

AS A FIRST DEFENSE

1. Denies each and every allegation of the Amended Complaint not hereinafter specifically admitted, qualified, or explained.
2. Is without knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations contained in Paragraph 1 of the Amended Complaint and, therefore, denies those allegations.
3. Denies the allegation contained in Paragraph 2 of the Amended Complaint that Defendant is a citizen and resident of Richland County.
4. Denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 3 of the Amended Complaint.
5. Denies the allegations contained in Paragraph 4 of the Amended Complaint.

6. Responding to Paragraph 5 of the Amended Complaint, admits that the account records attached to Plaintiff's Motion to Amend pertain to Defendant's car loan, but denies that the documents establish a claim against Defendant.

AS A SECOND DEFENSE

7. The claim asserted by Plaintiff is barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

AS A THIRD DEFENSE

8. The Amended Complaint should be dismissed pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6), SCRCF, for failure to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

AS A FOURTH DEFENSE AND BY WAY OF COUNTERCLAIM (Violation of Fair Debt Collection Practices Act)

Parties

9. Defendant is citizen and resident of the State of South Carolina.

10. Upon information and belief, Plaintiff is a limited liability company with its principal place of business in the State of Michigan, and is not authorized to do business in South Carolina.

11. Upon information and belief, Plaintiff is engaged in the business of purchasing charged-off debts allegedly owed by consumers and attempting to collect them from the consumers.

12. Upon information and belief, Plaintiff and its agents regularly use the United States mail to attempt to collect these debts.

13. Plaintiff has filed hundreds of lawsuits in South Carolina seeking to collect consumer debts.

14. Because the purported obligations were originally owed to other entities and were charged off prior to purchase, Plaintiff is a "debt collector" as defined in the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act. Moreover, Plaintiff's website specifically acknowledges that Plaintiff "is a debt collection agency." A copy of the home page of Plaintiff's website is attached as Exhibit A.

15. Plaintiff and the transaction that is the subject of this litigation are subject to the South Carolina Consumer Protection Code, S.C. Section 37-1-101, et seq.

Class Allegations

16. Defendant brings these counterclaims on behalf of a class, pursuant to Rule 23, SCRCP.

17. The class consists of (a) all South Carolina residents (b) against whom Plaintiff filed a lawsuit (c) to collect a debt for a deficiency balance that it acquired from another creditor (d) more than three years after the deficiency balance was demanded by the creditor that sold the collateral.

18. This class is so numerous that joinder of all members is not practicable.

19. On information and belief, there are more than 100 South Carolina residents against whom Plaintiff has filed lawsuits to collect a debt for a deficiency balance that it acquired from another creditor. Most or all of the lawsuits were filed more than three years after the deficiency balance was demanded by the creditor that sold the collateral.

20. There are questions of law and fact common to the class members, which common questions predominate over any questions relating to individual class members. The predominant common questions are whether Plaintiff engages in a practice of filing time-barred Amended Complaints and whether such practice violates the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) and the South Carolina Consumer Protection Code (SCCPC).

21. Defendant's claims are typical of the claims of the class members. All are based on the same factual and legal theories.

22. Defendant will fairly and adequately represent the class members and has retained counsel with experience in class actions and consumer protection litigation.

23. The amount in controversy exceeds $100.00 for each member of the class.

24. A class action is superior for the fair and efficient adjudication of this matter in that individual actions are not economically feasible and members of the class are unlikely to be aware of their rights.

Facts

25. On March 6, 2014, Plaintiff filed this action against Defendant to collect a purported debt for the deficiency balance remaining after the sale of a repossessed automobile.

26. According to documents provided by Plaintiff, the obligation that is the subject of this action became delinquent in 2008. Defendant's automobile was repossessed and sold on February 10, 2009. Thereafter, a letter demanding the deficiency balance was mailed to Defendant on or about February 13, 2009. A copy of this letter is attached as Exhibit B.

27. The statute of limitations applicable to the claim asserted by Plaintiff in the Amended Complaint is three years, as provided in Section 15-3-530 of the South Carolina Code.

28. Plaintiff regularly threatens to file and files lawsuits to collect deficiency balances arising out of the sale of repossessed automobiles, which balances are more than three years old at the time of the filing or threat.

29. Plaintiff, as a regular collector of such debts, knew or should have known that the South Carolina statute of limitations applicable to such debts is three years.

30. Many of the lawsuits Plaintiff brings and threatens are of modest amounts. As a result, the persons sued cannot economically retain counsel to defend such suits.

31. Plaintiff regularly engages in a pattern and practice of filing suits on debts barred by the statute of limitations.

32. As a result of Plaintiff's actions in filing this time-barred lawsuit, Defendant has been damaged in that she has been compelled to spend time defending the lawsuit and retaining counsel, and in that the time-barred lawsuit is a matter of public record. Members of the class defined herein have also been damaged.

33. The filing and prosecution of time-barred lawsuits is both a deceptive collection practice, in violation of 15 U.S.C. Section 1692e, and an unfair collection practice, in violation of 15 U.S.C. Section 1692f.

34. Defendant and class member have been damaged by Plaintiff's actions and are entitled to monetary relief (including attorney's fees and costs) as provided in the FDCPA, along with an Order declaring that the purported debts are time-barred and enjoining Plaintiff from instituting, prosecuting, or threatening suit to collect such debts.

AS A FIFTH DEFENSE AND BY WAY OF COUNTERCLAIM
(Violation of South Carolina Consumer Protection Code)

35. The allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 34 above are realleged and incorporated herein by reference.

36. Plaintiff engaged in unconscionable conduct in violation of Section 37-5-108(2) by threatening and filing suits on time-barred debts.

37. Defendant and class member have been damaged by Plaintiff's actions and are entitled to monetary relief (including attorney's fees and costs) as provided in the SCCPC, along with an Order declaring that the purported debts are time-barred and enjoining Plaintiff from instituting, prosecuting, or threatening suit to collect such debts.

WHEREFORE, Defendant prays for the following relief for herself and members of the class:

- a. the dismissal of the claims asserted in the Amended Complaints filed by Plaintiff against Defendant and other class members;
- b. an award of damages and other monetary relief as provided in the FDCPA and the SCCPC;
- c. for an Order declaring that the purported debts are time-barred and enjoining Plaintiff from instituting, prosecuting, or threatening suit to collect such debts;
- d. for an award of the costs and attorney's fees as provided in the FDCPA and the SCCPC; and
- e. and for such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

1 PROCEEDINGS

2 (Whereupon, the proceedings commenced at 3:35 p.m.)

3 THE COURT: All right. Good afternoon. We are here
4 on Autovest v. Portia Smith. And we have a motion for 5 partial summary judgment. I'll ---

6 MR. LYDON: Thank you ---

7 THE COURT: --- hear ---

8 MR. LYDON: --- Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: --- from you.

10 MR. LYDON: Tommy Lydon on behalf of the defendant,
11 Portia Smith. This is my motion for partial summary
12 judgment.13 It's partial summary judgment because there are some 14 counterclaims that we've asserted against the plaintiff
15 that are not part of the motion. The motion relates only
16 to the claim of Autovest to collect a deficiency balance
17 resulting out of an automobile repossession and sale from 18 my client, Portia Smith.19 The facts -- I mean, I've read both sides' memos. And 20 they're -- they couldn't be more undisputed.21 THE COURT: Sure. It's -- the question is which 22 statute of limitations to apply.

23 MR. LYDON: Exactly.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. LYDON: It's -- it's our position, Your Honor,

1 that the three-year breach of contract, 15-3-530, applies.
2 It's the plaintiff's position that the Article 2, six-year
3 statute of limitations applies.

4 After reviewing their memorandum, I did a little more
5 research and came up with a couple of things that I think
6 are -- are important. One is -- and this was in my
7 memorandum already. The -- the reporter's comment that 8 Article 2 only -- expressly excluded from Article 2 are 9 transfers of security interest in goods, which are covered
10 under Article 9. And this is clearly an Article 9
11 transaction, as evidenced by the fact that Wells Fargo sent 12 a notice of right to redeem, all of the predefault notices,
13 and -- and that sort of thing.

14 The case they cited, Your Honor, is -- and for the 15 proposition -- for -- for 36-2-725 ---

16 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

17 MR. LYDON: --- is Atlas Food Systems. And it's not
18 clear from the Supreme Court's opinion -- that was a
19 certified question from the federal district court --
20 exactly what kind of case that was. And -- and the issue
21 was a little different, because the three -- the six-year
22 statute of limitations under Title 15 had been reduced to 23 three years. And they were arguing that that repealed or 24 overrode the six-year statute of limitations in 725.

25 And the -- the Court said that it -- it did not. But

1 it doesn't say whether it's a debt-collection case or
2 breach-of-warranty case. Our -- our position is that 725
3 applies to breach-of-warranty and defective-products-type
4 cases.

5 So in trying to figure out what Atlas Food Systems was
6 all about, I did a little more research and was fortunate
7 to find a 4th circuit opinion. And if I could ---

8 THE COURT: Yeah.

9 MR. LYDON: -- hand it up?

10 THE COURT: Absolutely, please.

11 MR. LYDON: After the Supreme Court answered the 12 certified question, Atlas went to trial in district court
13 and ultimately ended up in the 4th circuit. And we've got 14 a published opinion from the 4th circuit. And it's clear
15 from that opinion that it was a defective-product/breach-
16 of-warranty case, not a debt-collection action, not a
17 secured transaction. And so I -- I don't think that --
18 that the Atlas Food Systems case has any application to 19 what we're here about today.

20 The other ---

21 THE COURT: So ---

22 MR. LYDON: --- thing I found ---

23 THE COURT: --- just -- just so I can make sure that I
24 understand, the way I'm picturing it is that you are 25 arguing that there was a transaction for a sale of good,

1 the car; they came to an agreement on the price. And she
2 could have just paid that price, and then she -- that --
3 that was the sale of good.

4 But then, there was another transaction, which was the 5 loan-servicing agreement, which is ---

6 MR. LYDON: A financing ---

7 THE COURT: --- although related ---

8 MR. LYDON: --- transaction ---

9 THE COURT: --- it's just a financing agreement, and 10 that doesn't mean that has anything to do with the sale of 11 goods. So if she was suing about the car not being what 12 she expected, that there was some sort of breach of 13 warranty, then that -- the ---

14 MR. LYDON: Six years.

15 THE COURT: --- six-year statute of limitations would
16 apply. But because this is based on a separate agreement
17 -- and I have financed cars before; I know you first talk
18 with the person and you come to the deal and then you --
19 unless you're fortunate enough to be able to stroke a check
20 right there, they send you along the way, although 21 sometimes, even if you can't stroke the check, you have 22 already had a financing agreement with some bank your ---

23 MR. LYDON: Right.

24 THE COURT: --- or some credit union.

25 MR. LYDON: Right.

1 THE COURT: So they're two separate ---

2 MR. LYDON: Right.

3 THE COURT: --- transactions.

4 MR. LYDON: Right. And in ---

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. LYDON: --- in preparing for this -- and -- and 7 looking back over the retail-installment contract -- and 8 it's an exhibit to their amended complaint; it's also an 9 exhibit to their memorandum -- it -- it dawned on me that 10 -- that this is not the contract for the sale of the car.
11 It -- it doesn't say what the -- the mileage is on the car,
12 which is required under state and federal law. It doesn't 13 talk about what warranties, if any, went with the car or 14 what warranties are being waived or -- or disclaimed or 15 whatever.

16 So I went back through my file and found this document
17 that had been obtained from the plaintiff during the course
18 of discovery. And this actually is the contract of sale
19 for the car. And that document sets forth what kind of car 20 it is, the mileage on the car, the limitation of 21 warranties, and is between the seller and the buyer.

22 And so it -- this, Your Honor, is the contract for the 23 sale of the car that is governed by Article 2 and the six-
24 year statute of limitations. The retail-installment
25 contract is -- relates solely to the financing of the car;

1 therefore, is under Article 9, not Article 2; and is
2 subject to the three-year statute of limitations.

3 As I mentioned in my memorandum, there aren't any
4 South Carolina appellate court opinions on this. There are 5 two circuit court judges that have entered orders that I've 6 got copies of -- and I can hand those up if you'd like to 7 see them.

8 THE COURT: I would.

9 MR. LYDON: In -- two different judges in Autovest
10 cases in Greenville both -- it -- it wasn't summary
11 judgment; it was 12(b)(6) motions. And I recall that rule
12 that the plaintiff's complaint failed to state a cause of 13 action because, on its face, it established that the 14 statute of limitations on the claim had expired.

15 And so based on all of that, we believe that the 16 three-year statute of limitations in Section 15-3-530 is 17 the applicable statute of limitations and that the -- this
18 collection action was filed two years after that statute
19 had expired. And we would ask that the Court grant summary
20 judgment on the plaintiff's claim.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. LYDON: Thank you.

23 THE COURT: Thank you so much. I'll hear from you.

24 MR. MCCABE: Thank you, Your Honor. Patrick McCabe on 25 behalf of the plaintiff. I'm -- I'm -- I'm assuming you've

1 read the memorandum, so I'm ---

2 THE COURT: I have.

3 MR. MCCABE: --- just -- I'm just going to hit the --
4 the -- the high points ---

5 THE COURT: Sure.

6 MR. MCCABE: --- the plaintiff would like to bring up.
7 First point is that an automobile is -- in this case is
8 defined as a good. South Carolina Code 36-2-105 defines a 9 good to mean all things which are moveable at the time of 10 identification to the contract for sale.

11 Applying the statute, the vehicle that was purchased
12 is obviously a good. And I don't think we'd have any 13 disagreement about that. Where the disagreement occurs, I
14 think, is when we start talking about South Carolina Code
15 36-2-102.

16 And basically, our point is this: that transaction
17 that both transfer title and operate as a security interest
18 are not excluded from the UCC. The code that I cited
19 earlier talks about the scope of the UCC.

20 And -- and it says as follows (as read): "This 21 chapter applies to the transactions in all goods. It does 22 not apply to transactions which, although in the form of an
23 unconditional contract of sale or present sale, is intended
24 to operate only" -- and I'd stress that word, only -- "as a
25 security transaction."

p. 60

1 The retail-installment contract entered into by the
2 defendant did two things: It transferred the title of the 3 automobile. And it secured the financing for it. We 4 believe that those go together; without one, you don't have
5 the other.

6 The third point is that the statute of limitations
7 under the UCC is six years. The applicable statute comes
8 from South Carolina Code 36-2-725, which reads (as read):
9 "An action for the breach of any contract for sale under 10 the UCC must be commenced within six years."

11 And, of course, we do cite the Atlas Food Systems
12 case, where the Supreme Court -- South Carolina Supreme
13 Court held that the actions under rising -- under Article 2
14 of the UCC are governed by the six-year statute of 15 limitations. It's our -- our belief that this transaction
16 falls under the UCC and is allowed a six-year statute of 17 limitations.

18 And we request that the defendant's motion for summary
19 judgment should be denied. Thank you.

20 THE COURT: Can I ask you about the comment that Mr.
21 Lydon pointed out in Article 2 that talks about securities,
22 that those are excluded -- a secured transaction.

23 MR. MCCABE: Yes, ma'am. It's our belief that the --
24 that if a contract is used -- or if it's only a security,
25 then it would be excluded.

P 61

1 THE COURT: And you ---

2 MR. MCCABE: But ---

3 THE COURT: --- don't think there were two different
4 contracts here?

5 MR. MCCABE: No, ma'am. We say that there's one.
6 Because without the contract for the financing, the other
7 contract doesn't happen. There is -- there is one document
8 that's put together; one goes with the other.

9 THE COURT: So she -- you think that she financed the 10 car first and then purchased the car?

11 MR. MCCABE: No, ma'am. But -- but without the 12 financing, she doesn't leave with the car.

13 THE COURT: And she ---

14 MR. MCCABE: And that is all of one transaction.

15 THE COURT: So this separate contract that was just 16 handed up to me for the sale of the car that shows the 17 mileage, has the warranties -- doesn't have anything about 18 financing; just sets forth the purchase price -- what --
19 why was that even necessary, if it was all in one document?

20 MR. MCCABE: Because the documents aren't put together
21 at -- at the -- at the same. They're separate documents,
22 but they're all part of one transaction.

23 THE COURT: Hmm.

24 MR. MCCABE: You wouldn't say that I'm going to 25 purchase something with cash and say but the cash is not

1 part of that transaction.

2 So what you're -- what he's -- what the defendant is 3 trying to say is, Well, the transaction occurred, but the
4 way they paid for it was completely separate and had no
5 bearing on this first agreement. And we completely
6 disagree with that. Because without one, the other one's 7 not there.

8 THE COURT: Well, but that's always true when you
9 finance something. Without having an agreement to buy and 10 setting a purchase price, you -- I -- I mean, that's true
11 with any sort of sale.

12 MR. MCCABE: Correct. So ---

13 THE COURT: But she didn't have -- I mean, it may have 14 been for this particular -- it doesn't really matter. That 15 might've been her only option, was to finance it through
16 this particular company. But usually, people have options
17 at that point. They can use the in-house financing; they 18 can use their own bank. They can stroke a check; they can 19 call their dad; they can call their mom.

20 So that doesn't affect their agreement to purchase the 21 car at a certain price. Then, you have a separate
22 agreement explaining how you're going to pay for the car.

23 MR. MCCABE: Correct.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. MCCABE: But it's our -- it's our belief that

1 these are combined in -- in -- as one transaction.

2 THE COURT: But two contracts were signed?

3 MR. MCCABE: Two contracts, but one transaction. And
4 the keyword, under 36-2-102, is transaction. Doesn't say
5 contract; it says transaction. And this is all one
6 transaction to purchase an automobile.

7 If -- if it said contracts, then yes. I would say
8 that the -- that he -- there's a point there. There's two 9 separate contracts. Maybe there's some -- maybe there's 10 some room there.

11 But this talks specifically about transactions and 12 that transactions that operate only as security
13 transactions are excluded. Our contract did not
14 specifically act -- or our transaction was not specifically
15 a security transaction. It was a transaction that 16 transferred the title of the car and also acted as 17 security. That is our -- that's our -- our stance in the 18 matter.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Do you have any case law to support
20 that argument?

21 MR. MCCABE: Case law to support the argument that 22 they're one transaction?

23 THE COURT: Well, to -- to support the six-year
24 statute of limitations. Mr. Lydon has cited to the 25 Holshouser case. I know you disagree with that case from

1 North Carolina. But the North Carolina statute is very
2 similar to the South Carolina statute. And when ---

3 MR. MCCABE: Correct.

4 THE COURT: --- I looked at cases outside of South
5 Carolina, although there is some disagreement among the 6 states, it's based on the particular Article 2 language.
7 And ours does reflect what North Carolina's reflects.

8 MR. MCCABE: Right. The Holshouser decision was later
9 qualified under Hudson v. Game World. And the appellate
10 court determined that under a credit-purchasing agreement,
11 the credit account for the goods constitutes the pure sale
12 of the transaction and would be governed under the 13 Universal Commercial Code.

14 THE COURT: Say that one more time?

15 MR. MCCABE: This is Hudson v. Game ---

16 THE COURT: I read ---

17 MR. MCCABE: --- World ---

18 THE COURT: --- that case. Yeah.

19 MR. MCCABE: --- 126 N.C. -- it's an appellate -- 139,
20 484 S.E.2d 435. And the appellate court determined that 21 under a credit-purchasing agreement, the credit account for 22 the goods constitute the pure sale of the transaction and 23 would be governed under the -- or -- excuse me -- the 24 Uniform Commercial Code.

25 So they're saying that the credit agreement -- it's

1 what they consider to be the pure sale and, therefore,
2 because of that, it falls under the Uniform Commercial
3 Code.

4 So I -- I mean, once again, these are North Carolina
5 cases.

6 THE COURT: Sure.

7 MR. MCCABE: As you said, they are similar. But
8 that's how we would respond to that: that it was later
9 qualified.

10 I -- I think, Your Honor, that -- you know, this is --
11 I -- I mean, the defendant brings two trial orders --
12 trial-court orders, but two out of how many have -- you
13 know, how many times have this been attempted. And, you
14 know, he -- the -- this -- this type of argument may have 15 been attempted 100/200/300 times and we get the two cases
16 to where ---

17 THE COURT: Well, do ---

18 MR. MCCABE: --- it's been ---

19 THE COURT: --- you have ---

20 MR. MCCABE: --- successful.

21 THE COURT: --- any trial-court orders to the 22 contrary?

23 MR. MCCABE: No -- no, ma'am, we don't. And once
24 again, they're not binding on this Court.

25 THE COURT: I understand that.

1 MR. MCCABE: But we say that -- that it has been
2 commonplace for these types of transactions to fall under
3 the six years. It's -- it's occurred for years that way.
4 And just recently has there been pushback with -- with 5 cases such as this.

6 THE COURT: But when your client took over the 7 servicing of this loan, you did -- would you then be
8 subject to any breach-of-warranty claims that the plaintiff
9 would have against you?

10 MR. MCCABE: We would say that if they take over, they 11 stand in the -- under -- let me look at the case here. I
12 would say yes, because of the simple fact of this: that 13 under Twelfth RMA v. National Safe Corp., which is a
14 Supreme Court case here -- South Carolina Supreme Court --
15 which is 335 S.C. 635 -- and I've got a copy of that case
16 if you'd like.

17 What that case says is that an assignee should have 18 all the same rights and privileges, include the right to 19 sue as the assignor. So if they have the same rights as 20 the -- stepping in, then I would say that yes ---

21 THE COURT: So when ---

22 MR. MCCABE: --- that they ---

23 THE COURT: --- there's ---

24 MR. MCCABE: --- would be ---

25 THE COURT: --- a -- when a car is sold that's a

1 lemon, the plaintiff has the right to not just sue the
2 dealer or the manufacturer of the car; they can also sue
3 the financing company for ---

4 MR. MCCABE: I think they ---

5 THE COURT: --- those ---

6 MR. MCCABE: --- could ---

7 THE COURT: --- warranties ---

8 MR. MCCABE: --- attempt ---

9 THE COURT: --- that are ---

10 MR. MCCABE: --- they could ---

11 THE COURT: --- breached?

12 MR. MCCABE: --- attempt to. But I don't know what --
13 what role the financing company ---

14 THE COURT: Well ---

15 MR. MCCABE: --- would have ---

16 THE COURT: --- the financing companies didn't sign
17 the contract with the warranties that were attached to it.
18 Because they were separate contracts, right?

19 MR. MCCABE: Separate contracts, but the same
20 transaction.

21 THE COURT: Hmm.

22 MR. MCCABE: That's our point. And the word
23 transaction is specifically used in the code.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. MCCABE: I mean, there's no argument that there

1 are two separate contracts there. But it's all part of the 2 same transaction. And I stress that because that's the 3 language that's in the code.

4 And that's -- I mean, that's the way the law was
5 written. Plain reading of the language specifically says
6 transaction. And that's what we rely upon: the plain
7 reading of the -- of the -- of the code.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Any reply?

9 MR. LYDON: Just two things, Your Honor. Both of 10 these contracts have got merger language in it: that this
11 is the sole agreement between the parties and there are no
12 written -- you know, they -- it doesn't merge them with any 13 other agreements or say that it's part of one transaction.
14 In fact, they both specifically say to the contrary; that 15 this is, you know, an -- what does it say here? This is 16 the entire agreement of the parties.

17 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

18 MR. LYDON: Any change must be in writing, signed by 19 the creditor, etc., etc.

20 As to the Hudson v. Game World, when I read that case,
21 the way I understood it is somebody was buying goods on 22 credit and they didn't pay for it and it was question of 23 who was obligated to pay. But there was no security
24 interest taken in the goods that were being sold on credit.
25 So it was not a secured transaction.

1 So I understand why Article 2 would apply to that
2 transaction, because it was a sale of goods. But it was
3 not a secured transaction. And that's what takes it out
4 from under Article 2, according to 36-2-102 and the 5 reporter's comment.

6 So that's all I've got.

7 MR. MCCABE: Your Honor, if I may respond ---

8 THE COURT: Sure.

9 MR. MCCABE: --- just briefly?

10 THE COURT: Absolutely.

11 MR. MCCABE: Just to 36-2-102, only if the transaction
12 operates only as a security transaction is it removed. As 13 -- once again, as we say, that -- we're saying that these 14 were together, part of the same transaction. Therefore,
15 it's -- it falls under the -- the UCC. That's all I have.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Well, the -- the issue
17 before me one purely of law. There's no issue of material
18 fact at stake. And I find that in looking at the various 19 statutes and case law from out of state that the attorneys
20 have provided, that the South Carolina Consumer Protection
21 Code governs this contract and the default three-year
22 statute of limitations that's found in 15-3-531 applies.

23 And therefore, the motion for partial summary judgment
24 is granted. I would ask Mr. Lydon to please draft a
25 proposed order and send that to me as soon as you can. I

1 don't know how much time you need to -- to get that ---

2 MR. LYDON: I can get it to you by Monday.

3 THE COURT: That would be fantastic. And please send 4 it to Mr. McCabe first, just to -- so he has seen it, and 5 then send it to my law clerk.

6 MR. LYDON: You want me to send it to the LC ---

7 THE COURT: --- LC ---

8 MR. LYDON: --- e-mail address?

9 THE COURT: --- address.

10 MR. LYDON: Okay.

11 THE COURT: Please.

12 MR. LYDON: Got it.

13 THE COURT: All right.

14 MR. LYDON: Thank you very much ---

15 THE COURT: Thank you ---

16 MR. LYDON: --- Judge.

17 THE COURT: --- both very much.

18 MR. MCCABE: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Portia Smith a/k/a Portia)

Defendant.)

This Memorandum is submitted in support of Defendant's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment. Specifically, Defendant seeks an Order granting summary judgment on the Plaintiff's claim for a judgment against Defendant. The basis for the Motion is that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact related to the Plaintiff's claim, and Defendant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. More specifically, Plaintiff's claim is barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

"The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001). Summary judgment is proper when there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Fleming v. Rose, 350 S.C. 488, 493, 567 S.E.2d 857, 860 (2002), citing Rule 56(c), SCRCP.

In this case, the facts relevant to Defendant's Motion are undisputed, in that they are all contained in the pleadings and Verification filed by Plaintiff. The facts established Plaintiff's pleadings and Verification are as follows:

1. Defendant financed the purchase of a 2005 Honda Civic from Carmax on October 29, 2006. The financing was provided by Wells Fargo Auto Finance, Inc. (Exhibit H to Amended Complaint).

2. Defendant failed to make payments when due, and Wells Fargo sent notices of right to cure the default in 2008. (Amended Complaint, Exhibit J).
3. Wells Fargo repossessed Defendant's car sent notice of its intent to sell the car on January 19, 2009. (Amended Complaint, Exhibit K)
4. Wells Fargo sold the car at a private sale on February 10, 2009. (Amended Complaint, Exhibit I).
5. Wells Fargo sent Defendant a notice of deficiency balance due on February 13, 2009. (Amended Complaint, Exhibit I).
6. Plaintiff alleges that Defendant made the last payment on this loan on February 25, 2009. (Verification of Account attached to Complaint). Defendant disputes this date and alleges that the last payment she made was in 2008. However, for the purpose of the Motion for Partial Summary Judgment, Defendant will use the February 25, 2009 date.

Based on the facts listed above, Plaintiff's action to collect the deficiency balance from Defendant is barred by the statute of limitations. An action to collect a debt is governed by the three year statute of limitations contained in Section 15-3-530(1). The statute begins to run when the loan is in default. CoastalStates Bank v. Hanover Homes, 408 S.C. 510, 759 S.E.2d 152 (Ct. App. 2014). In this case, Wells Fargo sent notice of default in 2008. Plaintiff contends that Defendant made a payment as late as February 25, 2009. Using this date, the statute of limitations for this deficiency balance expired on February 25, 2012. However, the Complaint in this action was not filed until March 6, 2014, more than two years after the statute of limitations expired.

Defendant anticipates that Plaintiff will argue that the six year statute of limitations found in Section 36-2-725 of the Uniform Commercial Code applies to this lawsuit. However, this six year statute of limitations is found in Article 2 of the UCC which governs sales of goods, and is intended to apply to breach of warranty claims related to defective products, not to debt collection actions. Indeed, Section 36-2-102 specifically provides that a contract for sale of goods that is intended to operate as a secured transaction is not subject to Article 2 of the UCC. As stated in the South Carolina Reporter's Comments, "Expressly excluded [from Article 2] are transfers of a security interest in goods which are covered under Article 9, Secured Transactions.” S.C. Code Section 36-2-102, S.C. Reporter’s Comments. It is clear that Wells Fargo believed this transaction was governed by Article 9, as evidenced by the notice of intent to sell (Exhibit K to Amended Complaint) that it mailed to Defendant in order to comply with Section 36-9-614 of the South Carolina Code.

Although no South Carolina appellate courts have addressed this issue, judges in our lower courts and appellate courts in other jurisdictions have concluded that debt collection action are subject to the general statute of limitations for breach of contract, rather than the statute of limitations contained in Article 2 of the UCC. In NCNB v. Holshouser, N.C. App. 165, 247 S.E.2d 645 (1978), the North Carolina Court of Appeals held that the six year statute of limitations in Article 2 did not apply to an action to collect a debt arising out of the purchase money financing of an automobile. The court reasoned that the contract was intended to operate as a secured transaction governed by Article 9 of the UCC. Therefore, it found that the general contract statute of limitations was applicable, not the UCC Article 2 statute of limitations.

Regarding the decisions of the lower courts in South Carolina, two circuit court judges have addressed this exact issue in two different lawsuits filed by Autovest, LLC. In both cases, the judges held that the actions were barred by the three year statute of limitations in Section 15-3-530 and dismissed the lawsuits. See Autovest, LLC v. Giles, 2014-CP-23-0336 (6/10/14); Autovest, LLC v. Steen, 2014-CP-23-1552 (9/4/14).

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff’s debt collection action is barred by the three year statute of limitations contained in Section 15-3-530. Therefore, Defendant’s motion for partial summary judgment should be granted.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW

Plaintiff Autovest, LLC, by and through its undersigned counsel, respectfully submits this memorandum in opposition to Defendant's motion for summary judgment pursuant to Rule 56 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. For the reasons set out below, Plaintiff respectfully requests an order denying Defendant's request for partial summary judgment as to the claim.

I. INTRODUCTION

This is an action to collect a debt from Defendant. Plaintiff, through counsel, filed the present action to collect a debt on March 6, 2014 seeking to collect a deficiency following the auction of a motor vehicle in the amount of $8,989.56, court costs and attorney's fees as authorized under the terms of the retail installment sale agreement. On October 29, 2006, Defendant executed a Retail Installment Contract for the purchase price of a 2005 Honda Civic to CarMax. The note was subsequently assigned to Plaintiff. Defendant was unable to make payment as required and entered into default. After giving notice of right to cure, the vehicle was repossessed and sold at auction, leaving a deficiency balance due and owing on the loan to purchase the vehicle.

II. STANDARD OF REVIEW

Under Rule 56, summary judgment "shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Rule 56(c), S.C. R. Civ. P. A genuine issue of fact can exist only if the non-moving party presents evidence that would be admissible at trial. See Hansen v. DHL Labs., Inc., 316 S.C. 505, 510, 450 S.E.2d 624, 627 (Ct. App. 1994).

III. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Defendant entered a retail installment contract. See Ex. A, no. 2. A true and complete copy of the contract has been attached to the complaint and provided to the Defendant in discovery. See Ex. A, no. 3. Defendant admits that she agreed to be bound by the terms of the contract, and that she signed the same. See Ex. A, no. 4, 14. After acquiring the vehicle, Defendant admits she received a monthly invoice for the payment due on the vehicle. See Ex. A, no. 8.

Defendant defaulted on the payments due under the contract. See Ex. A, no. 13. For purposes of the present action, Defendant has admitted that she made a payment on the account on November 17, 2008. See Ex. C, no. 1. As of the date of the present memo, Plaintiff's counsel has not received a response to Plaintiff's Second Set of Request for Admissions.

A true and accurate duplicate copy of the Retail Installment Contract was attached to this memorandum as Ex. D.

IV. DISCUSSION OF LAW

A. S.C. Code § 36-2-725 applies to Plaintiff's Claim

Defendant's motion for partial summary judgment argues Plaintiff's claim is barred by the statute of limitations. Defendant raised the statute of limitations as an affirmative defense under SCRCP, Rule 8(c). See Ans. and Counterclaim, ¶ 7. Defendant admits she purchased a vehicle under the retail installment contract. See Ex. A, no. 4. Defendant incorrectly applies the general three-year statute of limitations found under S.C. Code § 15-3-530(1).

The applicable statute of limitations comes from the Uniform Commercial Code. S.C. Code § 36-2-102 concerns the scope of Chapter 2 of the South Carolina Uniform Commercial Code, and states as follows:

[u]nless the context otherwise requires, this Chapter applies to transactions in goods; it does not apply to any transaction which although in the form of an unconditional contract to sell or present sale is intended to operate only as a security transaction nor does this chapter impair or repeal any statute regulating sales to consumers, farmers or other specified classes of buyers.

Plaintiff, through counsel, notes Defendant's memorandum in support of her motion for partial summary judgment excludes the modifier "only" in the above statute. Clearly, transactions may both transfer title as a sale, and operate as a secured transaction. Thus, transactions that also function as a secured transaction are not excluded from the provisions of Article 2.

S.C. Code § 36-2-105 defines "goods" to mean: "all things [...] which are movable at the time of identification to the contract for sale other than the money in which the price is to be paid, investment securities [...] and things in action." Applying the definition contained in this statute, the vehicle purchased by Defendant under the Retail Installment Contract is a "good," and thus the contract falls within the scope of Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

"An action for breach of any contract for sale under the Uniform Commercial Code must be commenced within six years after the cause of action accrues." S.C. Code § 36-2-725. Since Defendant purchased a vehicle under a contract for sale, Plaintiff had six years from the time the action accrued in which to bring the present civil action to collect the balance owed.

The Supreme Court of South Carolina has held that the statute of limitations found in S.C. Code § 36-2-725 applies over the more general three-year statute of limitations found in S.C. Code § 15-3-530(1). See Atlas Food Systems and Services, Inc., v. Crane National Vendors Division of Unidynamics Corporation, 462 S.E.2d 858, 319 S.C. 556 (S.C. 1995). In Atlas Food Systems, the Supreme Court held that "[a]ctions arising under Article 2 of the U.C.C. are governed by § 36-2-725's statute of limitations." Defendant's memorandum argues that the statute applies only to actions for warranties; however, the statute has no such limitation. Indeed, S.C. Code § 36-2-709 explicitly allows sellers to recover "the price [...] of goods accepted or of conforming goods lost or damaged within a commercially reasonable time after risk of their loss has passed to the buyer." Defendant admits accepting the vehicle, and not paying the price for the same as it became due; thus, Plaintiff's cause arose under Article 2, and the more specific statute of S.C. Code § 36-2-725 applied to provide a six year statute of limitations.

Defendant finds support under NCNB v. Holshouser in her memorandum. Although a decision of a North Carolina Court, Plaintiff, through counsel, notes this opinion was later qualified under Hudson v. Game World, 126 N.C.App. 139, 484 S.E.2d 435 (N.C.App.1997). The North Carolina Court of Appeals in Hudson determined that under a credit purchasing agreement, the credit account for the goods constitutes the pure sales aspect of the transaction, which would be governed by North Carolina's statute of limitations under the commercial code, whereas an action to recover the goods would be governed by the general limitations period. Id. at 143-145, 484 S.E.2d 435, 439-440.

B. Plaintiff's Claim accrued within the applicable statute of limitations

Defendant's payment under the contract constitutes an acknowledgment for purposes of S.C. Code § 15-3-120. S.C. Code § 15-3-120 states: "No acknowledgment or promise shall be sufficient evidence of a new or continuing contract whereby to take the case out of the operation of this chapter unless it be contained in some writing signed by the party to be charged thereby. But payment of any part of principal or interest is equivalent to a promise in writing." Under S.C. Code § 15-3-130, "All actions upon causes of action which would be barred by the statute of limitations but for part payment or a written acknowledgment shall be brought on the original cause of action and the part payment or written acknowledgment shall be evidence to prevent the bar of the statute of limitations." See also Wolfe v. Brannon, 211 S.C. 282, 286, 44 S.E.2d 833, 855 (1947).

Defendant admits she made payment on the loan in November 2008. See Ex. C, no 1. Therefore, the filing of the present action in March 2014 was within the applicable statute of limitations. Thus, Defendant has not stated a defense under the statute of limitations and Defendant's motion for partial summary judgment should be denied.

V. REQUEST FOR RELIEF

For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests an order from this Court denying Defendant's motion for partial summary judgment.

State NSF Fee

Indiana	$20
Kansas	$30
Kentucky	$25
Maryland	$15
North Carolina	$25
South Carolina	$30
Tennessee	$20

Care of Vehicle: Until the entire unpaid balance and all other amounts owed under this Contract are paid in full, you agree as follows: to keep the Vehicle in good condition and repair; not to remove the Vehicle from the address disclosed on the face of this Contract for more than 30 days without notifying Creditor in writing; not to sell or transfer the Vehicle or use the Vehicle as collateral in another transaction, not to use the Vehicle for hire or lease, or permit the Vehicle's use in any illegal manner, not to allow someone else to lease the Vehicle or create a lien or other claim to or on the Vehicle; and to give Creditor written notice of any loss or damage to the Vehicle.

Insurance Requirements: You agree to maintain insurance on the Vehicle at all times, with comprehensive, collision, fire, and theft coverage in amounts acceptable to Creditor and with the minimum available deductible. Such insurance must be with a properly licensed insurer acceptable to Creditor and must name Creditor as an additional insured and loss-payee. You agree to provide Creditor with evidence of such insurance upon request. You agree that any insurance monies payable by reason of damage to or loss of the Vehicle shall be paid directly and solely to Creditor and may be used to pay all or part of the amounts you owe Creditor under this Contract. Creditor may also use the insurance proceeds (money) to replace or repair the Vehicle, at Creditor's sole discretion. You agree that Creditor can settle any insurance claim or sign any insurance checks on your behalf, as necessary, and to the extent not prohibited by applicable law. You understand and agree that any damage to the Vehicle (including, but not limited to, loss or destruction of the Vehicle) shall not affect your duty to pay all amounts owed under this Contract.

Failure to Maintain Insurance: If you fail to maintain insurance on the Vehicle, or fail to pay any loss, taxes or other costs necessary to keep the Vehicle in good condition and repair, Creditor may, at its sole discretion, obtain replacement insurance and/or advance any sums necessary to pay such fees, taxes or other costs. In the event Creditor obtains replacement insurance, the amount of such coverage may be limited to that which you owe under this Contract. Consequently, the insurance obtained may not cover the full value of the Vehicle nor any loss that you may sustain. To the extent not prohibited by law, any amount Creditor advances on your behalf (including for insurance) will accrue Finance Charges at the Annual Percentage Rate of this Contract. The amounts advanced shall be repayable: (i) immediately upon demand; (ii) along with your monthly payments; or (iii) at the end of the Contract, as Creditor may specify. Any payments made by Creditor on your behalf will not cure any default under this Contract.

Service Contracts: This Contract may contain charges for service contracts. If you are in default under this Contract or the Vehicle is repossessed, you agree that Creditor, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, may claim benefits under these contracts and/or terminate them to obtain refunds for unearned charges. Any benefits and/or refunds received shall be applied toward your obligations under this Contract in accordance with applicable law. If you voluntarily cancel any such service contract, you authorize Creditor to receive any refunds due you, which shall be applied by Creditor towards your obligations under this Contract in accordance with applicable law.

"Trade-In" and Down Payment: You promise that you own and have valid title to the vehicle you sold to Creditor as a "trade-in." You further promise that except as disclosed to Creditor in writing, the Vehicle is free from any lien or security interest and has no such encumbrances on the certificate of title. You also promise that you have made the down payment disclosed on the face of this Contract and that you have not borrowed it. By signing this Contract, you warrant your solvency and agree that the return of any down payment check by the payor bank as NSF (insufficient funds) or Account Closed evidences your insolvency.

Creditor's Interest in Vehicle: The Vehicle is collateral that secures your financing for this Contract. You and we agreed that Creditor shall have a security interest in the Vehicle and that the security interest has attached. A security interest means that if you default, Creditor can repossess the Vehicle and under certain circumstances sell it to satisfy your payment obligations. "Vehicle" shall include the tires, parts, and equipment, any replaced parts, all accessories and additions to the Vehicle, and any vehicle insurance refunds or proceeds resulting from loss of or damage to the Vehicle.

Title and Security: You promise that you are, and will be, the registered owner of the Vehicle throughout the term of this Contract. You also promise that unless you obtain prior written consent, Creditor will be the only party with a security interest in and to the Vehicle and that Creditor's security interest shall be the only security interest that appears on the certificate of title. You agree that Creditor can apply for a certificate of title that will reflect Creditor's security interest in the Vehicle, and you agree to assist Creditor in doing so. In the event the Vehicle is returned to Creditor for any reason, you agree to assist Creditor in obtaining an amended certificate of title to reflect any ownership change.

Events of Default and Right to Demand Payment in Full: Each of the following shall, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, be an Event of Default. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, Creditor can require that the entire unpaid balance owed under this Contract, together with all accrued Finance Charges and other amounts owed under this Contract, be paid immediately and in full, without prior notice or demand, subject to any right you have to cure the default.

1. You break one of your promises set forth under this Contract; or
2. You pay any installment owing under this Contract late as noted in the Late Charge Section on Page 1 of this Contract, or you fail to pay any other amount you owe Creditor, now or in the future, the day it becomes due; or
3. You have made a false or misleading statement on the Contract and/or on the credit application; or
4. The Vehicle is lost or damaged without sufficient insurance coverage; sold, given away or seized, or is removed from the United States (except to Canada and only for a maximum period of 30 days); or
5. You file a petition in bankruptcy or one is filed against you or you file any proceeding seeking relief from your debts under applicable state or federal law, or one is instituted against you; or
6. You die or become legally unable to manage your affairs; or
7. The Vehicle is seized by a third party because of involvement in criminal activity or forfeiture proceedings have been instituted by a third party in any federal or state court, or through an administrative proceeding; or
8. Something else happens that Creditor reasonably believes affects your ability to pay the remaining amounts due under this Contract.

To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, if an Event of Default occurs and Creditor demands payment in full, you agree to pay collection costs incurred by the Creditor, including reasonable attorneys' fees if Creditor refers this Contract for collection to an attorney who is not Creditor's salaried employee, plus court costs. Until paid in full, and to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, the unpaid balance of the Amount Financed will continue to accrue Finance Charges at the Annual Percentage Rate disclosed on the face of this Contract.

NORTH CAROLINA TRANSACTIONS ONLY: You promise that you have not made any false or misleading statements on this Contract or on the credit application. You further promise that you will not take any action, or permit any event to occur, that materially impairs your ability to pay the amounts you owe under this Contract. By way of example, such event may include, but is not limited to, your death; you become legally unable to manage your affairs; you become insolvent; you file (or have filed against you) any other proceeding seeking relief from your debts; or you breach any other promise you have made in this Contract.

Right to Repossess: If one of the Events of Default occurs, Creditor can repossess the Vehicle. To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, Creditor may enter the premises where the Vehicle is kept and take it without giving you prior notice and without seeking a judicial remedy first. Creditor may immediately demand you to deliver the Vehicle to Creditor, and you agree to deliver the Vehicle as reasonably requested by Creditor. In the event of a default, Creditor has all of the rights and remedies of a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code and other applicable state laws, including, to the extent not prohibited by applicable law, the right to sell the Vehicle and pursue a claim against you for any deficiency amount you still owe. You may have certain rights under applicable state laws to recover the personal property contained in the Vehicle at the time of repossession.

Application of Payments / Partial Prepayments: Your payments will be applied in accordance with any mandatory provisions of applicable law. In the absence of any such provisions, each payment will be applied according to the payment application protocol of the creditor or any assignee. In all other instances, your payments will be applied first to accrued Finance Charges, then to any other fees or charges for which you are responsible which are not included in the Amount Financed, then to the unpaid balance of the Amount Financed. Partial prepayments will not relieve you of the obligation to continue making the monthly payments as required under this Contract, and acceptance of partial or late payments does not waive Creditor's rights under this Contract, including but not limited to, the right to call a default, accelerate the debt or repossess the Vehicle.

Waivers and Release: To the extent not prohibited by applicable law, (i) Creditor can waive or delay enforcing any of Creditor's rights without losing them; (ii) Creditor can waive or delay enforcing a right as to one of you without waiving it as to the other; and (iii) Creditor need not give anyone notice of the waiver, delay or release. Creditor's failure to file a security interest, release of a security interest or granting extensions or deferrals of payment, shall not affect your obligations under this Contract.

Applicable Law: This Contract shall be governed by federal law and the law of the state where the CreditMax store selling the Vehicle is located. If the vehicle is sold in Kansas, the provisions of the Kansas Uniform Consumer Credit Code shall govern this Contract. If the Vehicle is sold in Maryland, this Contract shall be governed by Subtitle 10 of Title 12 of Maryland's Commercial Law Article. If any provision is found to be ineffective under any applicable law or regulation, the remainder of this Contract shall not be affected and shall continue to be binding and effective.

You understand that this Contract consists of four (4) pages. This is page two (2). By initialing below you represent that you have read and agree to all provisions on all pages.

Arbitration Provision

This Arbitration Provision describes when and how a Claim (defined below) may be arbitrated. Arbitration is a way of resolving disputes before one or more neutral persons, instead of having a trial in court before a judge and/or jury. By signing this Contract, you and we agree to be bound by the following arbitration terms.

(a) What Claims are Covered: "Claim" means any claim, dispute or controversy between you and us that in any way arises from or relates to this consumer credit sale and/or the purchase you are financing by way of this Contract. "Claim" has the broadest possible meaning and includes initial claims, counterclaims, cross-claims and third-party claims. "Claim" includes disputes based upon contract, tort, consumer rights, fraud and other intentional torts, whether at law or in equity (including any claim for injunctive or declaratory relief). "Claim" also includes disputes based on constitutional, statutory, regulatory, ordinance-based, or similar grounds. "Claim" further includes disputes about the validity, enforceability, arbitrability or scope of this Arbitration Provision or this Contract. However, "Claim" does not include any self-help remedy, such as repossession, reclamation or retaining of the collateral or the right of set-off. "Claim" also does not include any individual action in court by one party that is limited to preventing the other party from using a self-help remedy and that does not involve a request for damages or monetary relief of any kind.

(b) Commencing Arbitration: Either you or we may require any Claim to be arbitrated. Arbitration begins by giving written notice to the other party of the intent to start or to compel arbitration. This notice may be given before or after a lawsuit has been started over the Claim or with respect to other Claims brought later in the lawsuit. Arbitration of a Claim must comply with this Arbitration Provision and the applicable rules of the arbitration Administrator. We will not choose to arbitrate an individual claim that you bring against us in small claims court or your state's equivalent court, if any. But if that Claim is transferred, removed or appealed to a different court, we then have the right to choose arbitration.

(c) Choosing the Administrator: You may choose the arbitration Administrator from the following list:

- American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), 333 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10017, www.adr.org, (800) 778-7879.
- JAMS, 45 Broadway, 28th Floor, New York, NY 10008, www.jamadr.com, (800) 352-5267
- National Arbitration Forum ("NAF"), P.O. Box 50191, Minneapolis, MN 55405, www.adrforum.com, (800) 474-2371

If we initiate the arbitration proceeding, we will give you 20 days to choose the Administrator. If you do not choose the Administrator within that time, we will choose for you. If for any reason the chosen organization is unable or unwilling or ceases to serve as the Administrator, you will have 20 days to choose a different Administrator from the above list. If you fail to choose a different Administrator within the 20-day period, we will choose one. In all cases, the arbitrator(s) must be a lawyer with more than 10 years of experience.

(d) Choosing the Location: Any arbitration hearing that you attend must take place at a location reasonably convenient to your residence.

(e) Paying for Arbitration: Each Administrator charges fees to administer an arbitration proceeding. This may include fees not charged by a court. When you choose an Administrator, you should carefully review the fees charged by the Administrator. We will pay those fees if required by applicable law, or if otherwise necessary to ensure that this Arbitration Provision is enforceable. We will not ask you to pay or reimburse us for any fees we pay the Administrator. If we require a Claim to be arbitrated, we will pay or reimburse you for up to $1000 in fees that would otherwise be charged to you by the Administrator. However, if either we or you require a Claim to be arbitrated, you may tell us in writing that you are unable to pay the fees charged by the Administrator or that you believe those fees to be excessively high. If you do so, we will pay or reimburse you for up to all of the fees that would otherwise be charged to you by the Administrator if your request is reasonable and in good faith. Each party must pay the expense of that party's attorneys, experts and witnesses, regardless of which party prevails in the arbitration, unless applicable law and/or this Arbitration Provision gives a party the right to recover any such fees from the other party.

(f) Impact of Arbitration on Legal Rights: If arbitration is chosen with respect to a Claim, all of the following apply:

- There will be no right to try that Claim in court.
- There will be no jury trial on that Claim.
- There will be no discovery, except as allowed by the arbitration rules of the Administrator or this Arbitration Provision.
- We and you are prohibited from participating in a class action or class-wide arbitration with respect to that Claim (the "Class Action Waiver"). This means that neither we nor you can be a representative or member of any class of claimants or act as a private attorney general in court or in arbitration with respect to that Claim.
- Claims brought by or against one buyer (or co-buyer) may not be joined or consolidated in the arbitration with Claims brought by or against any other buyer (or co-buyer) not a party to this Contract.
- Other rights that you or we would have in court may also not be available in arbitration.

(g) Effect of Class Action Waiver: Notwithstanding any other part of this Arbitration Provision, the validity and effect of the Class Action Waiver must be determined only by a court and not by an arbitrator. If a court limits or voids the Class Action Waiver, then this entire Arbitration Provision (except for this paragraph) shall be null and void.

(h) Right to Discovery: In addition to the parties' rights to obtain discovery pursuant to the arbitration rules of the Administrator, either party may submit a written request to the arbitrator to expand the scope for discovery normally allowable under the arbitration rules of the Administrator. The Arbitrator shall have discretion to grant or deny that request.

(i) Arbitration Result and Right of Appeal: Judgment upon the award given by the arbitrator may be entered in any court having jurisdiction. In response to a timely request from either party, the arbitrator must provide a brief written explanation of the basis for any award. The arbitrator's decision is final and binding, except for any right of appeal provided by the Federal Arbitration Act. However, if the amount of the Claim exceeds $100,000, or if an arbitration award is a "zero" or "take nothing" award, any party can appeal the award to a three-arbitrator panel administered by the Administrator which shall reconsider any aspect of the initial award requested by the appealing party. Reference in this Arbitration Provision to the "arbitrator" means the panel of arbitrators if an appeal of the arbitrator's decision has been taken. Subject to applicable law, costs of such an appeal will be borne by the appealing party regardless of the outcome of the appeal. However, we will consider any good faith, reasonable request for us to pay all or any part of those fees if you are the appealing party.

(j) Governing Law: This Arbitration Provision is governed by the Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. §§ 1 et seq. and not by any state arbitration law. The arbitrator must apply applicable substantive law consistent with the Federal Arbitration Act and applicable statutes of limitations and claims of privilege recognized at law. The arbitrator is authorized to award all remedies permitted by the substantive law that would apply if the action were pending in court.

(k) Rules of Interpretation: This Arbitration Provision shall survive the repayment of all amounts owed to us, any legal proceedings or our use of any self-help remedy to collect a debt you owe us, and any bankruptcy by you, to the extent not inconsistent with applicable bankruptcy law. Except as provided above in the last sentence of paragraph (j), if any part of this Arbitration Provision is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, it shall not invalidate the remaining parts of this Arbitration Provision or this Contract. In the event of a conflict or inconsistency between this Arbitration Provision, and the applicable arbitration rules or the other provisions of this Contract, this Arbitration Provision shall govern.

You understand that this Contract consists of four (4) pages. This is page three (3). By initialing below you represent that you have read and agree to all provisions on all pages.

MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO RECONSIDER

NOW COMES PLAINTIFF, by and through the undersigned counsel, and upon review of the Court's order granting partial summary judgment to Defendant, offers this memorandum of law to state precedent holding the statute of limitations for a deficiency on a motor vehicle is set forth under Article 2, section 725 of the Uniform Commercial Code. Plaintiff has set forth its principal argument in its brief in opposition to Defendant's motion for summary judgment. Plaintiff submits the following additional precedent.

I. SOUTH CAROLINA CIRCUIT COURT PRECEDENT

In the Orangeburg County case of Autovest v. Walker Martin, 2014-CP-38-00787, the Honorable Judge Dickson requested Plaintiff's Counsel to support the validity of the claim under the applicable statute of limitations. See Ex. A. Following Plaintiff's explanation of the relevant statutes, the Court entered an order granting judgment to Plaintiff on September 17, 2014. See Ex. B.

II. DECISIONS OF OTHER STATE COURTS

The courts in the following cases concluded that creditor's claims for deficiencies remaining upon resales of goods repossessed for non-payment of the purchase price were actions arising out of breach of contract for the sale of goods, and as such were governed by UCC § 2-725.

In Massey-Ferguson Credit Corp. v Casaulong, 62 Cal App 3d 1024, 133 Cal Rptr 497 (1976, 3rd Dist), an action to recover a deficiency arising out of the resale of farm equipment that the plaintiff sold and later repossessed from the defendant pursuant to a conditional sales contract and security agreement, the court determined that the complaint was governed by the four-year UCC limitation period prescribed by California Com Code § 2725. Noting that the instrument sued upon was not only a security agreement, but a sales contract as well, the court maintained that an action to recover a deficiency must be considered to be more closely related to the sales aspect of the transaction than its security aspect, because such actions are meant to enforce an essential element of all sales, namely the obligation to pay the full sale price to the seller. Id. at 1028-1029, 133 Cal Rptr 497, 499-500. The court stated that, since the adoption of the UCC, actions involving the conditional sale of goods were subject to the UCC statute of limitations, rather than to the general limitations provisions of California Code of Civ Proc §§ 337, 339, for actions on written and oral contracts, because an action to recover a deficiency arising from resale of goods originally purchased under a conditional sale contract is founded upon the contract of sale.

Where an automobile dealer, after repossession and sale, brought an action to recover a deficiency on the balance due under a contract for the sale of an automobile, the Court in Jack Heskett Lincoln-Mercury, Inc. v Metcalf, 158 Cal App 3d 38, 204 Cal Rptr 355 (1984, 3rd Dist), held that the action, being ultimately founded upon a contract for the sale of goods, was subject to the four-year UCC limitation period contained in California Com Code § 2725, as opposed to a four-year provision applicable to written contracts, or a one-year provision applicable to penalties and forfeitures. Relying on prior authority that involved a nearly identical situation, the court reasoned that, since actions involving conditional sales of goods have been held to be subject to the UCC statute of limitations since the adoption of the provision, a deficiency judgment arising out of a default on a conditional sale agreement governed by the same limitation provision. Id. at 42.

In Worrel v Farmers Bank of Delaware, 430 A2d 469 (1981 Del Sup), the Court concluded that a suit to recover a deficiency remaining after repossession and resale of an automobile was governed by the UCC limitation period prescribed in 6 Del Code § 2-725, taking the position that the deficiency suit was simply an action on the part of the seller to enforce the buyer's obligation to pay full price on the contract of sale. The court characterized the buyer's obligation as one that was an essential element of all sales, and one that existed whether or not the sale was accompanied by a security arrangement. In the absence of a contrary indication anywhere in the UCC, the court stated that a deficiency action must be considered more closely related to the sales aspect of a combination sales-security agreement than to its security aspect. While agreeing with the trial court's determination that the case was governed by § 2-725 of the Code, the court found that the trial court erred in holding that the limitation period began to run on the date of the deficiency judgment, rather than on the date that the breach of contract occurred, because such a determination was inconsistent with the conclusion that the transaction fell within Article 2, as opposed to Article 9, of the Code.

In First Nat'l Bank v Chase, 118 NM 783, 887 P2d 1250 (1994), an appeal of a dismissal of an action brought by a bank to collect upon a deficiency remaining after the repossession and resale of a truck that was subject to an installment contract which was assigned by the car dealer to the plaintiff bank, the court concluded that the action was governed by the four-year UCC statute of limitations contained in NM Stat Ann § 55-2-725 (Repl Pam 1993), rather than a general six-year statute of limitations applicable to non-sales contracts (NM Stat Ann §§ 37-1-1, 37-1-3A (Repl Pam 1990)). Identifying the primary issue as whether Article 2 or Article 9 of the UCC governs an action to recover a deficiency after a default on a motor vehicle installment contract, the court viewed the contract in question as a hybrid agreement that constituted both a sale of goods and a security transaction, then examined the nature of the deficiency suit, and ultimately concluded that such an action is but a simple in personam action for that part of the sales price which remained unpaid after the seller had exhausted its rights under Article 9 by selling the collateral, or stated another way, it is an action to enforce the obligation of the buyer to pay the full sale price to the seller, an obligation which is an essential element of all sales and which exists whether or not the sale is accompanied by a security arrangement. Thus, the court concluded that a deficiency action is more closely related to the sales aspect of a combination sales-security agreement than to its security aspect, and must be controlled by the UCC statute of limitations.

While holding that the UCC statute of limitations contained in Or Rev Stat § 72.7250 did not apply to a debtor's action for surplus proceeds remaining after the foreclosure sale of an automobile because the debtor's right to a surplus was created by UCC § 9-504(2) of the Code which is part of Article 9 of the Code which relates to secured transactions, the court in Chaney v Fields Chevrolet Co. 264 Or 21, 503 P2d 1239 (1972) appeared to agree with the view that the UCC statute of limitations would apply to an action by a creditor against a debtor for a deficiency remaining following sale of the collateral on the reasoning that an action for part of the purchase price is more closely related to the sale portion of the contract than it is to the security portion.

In an action brought to recover a deficiency seven years after repossession of the defendant's automobile, the court in Associates Discount Corp. v Palmer 47 NJ 183, 219 A2d 858, (1966) (applying Pennsylvania law), held that the agreement to finance the purchase of the vehicle involved a transaction in goods, and as such the action was barred by the four-year UCC statute of limitations contained in Pa Stat Ann 12A § 2-725. Rejecting a contention that the UCC did not apply to contracts subject to regulation under a state motor vehicle sales financing act (Pa Stat Ann tit 69 §§ 601-637), the Court pointed out that applicable authorities had applied the provisions of the financing act and UCC together when deciding cases involving motor vehicle sales, and that the contract for sale of the vehicle in question expressly recited that it was subject to the provisions of the UCC. The court explained that a deficiency suit is nothing but a simple in personam action for that part of the sales price which remains unpaid after the seller has exhausted his rights under Article 9 by selling the collateral, and as such it is an action to enforce the obligation of the buyer to pay the full sale price to the seller, which is an essential element of all sales that exists whether or not the sale has been accompanied by a security arrangement.

Noting that transactions intended to operate only as security transactions were excluded from coverage under Article 2, the court reasoned that actual sales are subject to the UCC, although a security interest has been retained by the seller.

In Industrial Valley Bank & Trust Co. v Sharpe 15 Pa D & C3d 506 (1980) an action to recover a deficiency due following repossession and sale of an automobile that had been purchased under an installment sales contract, the court concluded that, even if it assumed that a motor vehicle installment sales contract which contained a warrant of attorney to confess judgment was a secured transaction, the assignee of the contract was barred from recovering the deficiency balance due after the debtor had defaulted on the contract and a confession of judgment authorized by the contract had been filed, under the UCC statute of limitations contained in 13 Pa Con Stat Ann § 2725.

III. DISCUSSION

The present case concerns a deficiency following the sale of a motor vehicle. As noted in Plaintiff's memorandum opposing summary judgment, Defendant has admitted the purchase of the motor vehicle, and her final payment within the statute of limitations under South Carolina's enactment of the Uniform Commercial Code.

The contract for sale concerned the sales aspect of the transaction, as held by multiple jurisdictions. The present case concerns a simple in personam judgment for the balance owed on the sale of the vehicle, following the deficiency. Nothing under the consumer protection code states a separate statute of limitations would apply, or would operate to apply the general statute of limitations found in S.C. Code 15-3-530 over the specific statute of limitations found in S.C. Code 36-2-725.

Thus, Defendant's purchase of a motor vehicle was governed by the uniform commercial code, and the applicable statute of limitations for a contract for sale is six years, as supplied by S.C. Code 36-2-725.

III. CONCLUSION

Having set forth additional precedent concluding the Uniform Commercial Code statute of limitations set forth under Article 2, section 725 governs actions to collect a deficiency, Plaintiff hereby requests the court to reconsider its grant of summary judgment to Defendant on this basis, and to enter an order denying the motion for summary judgment and holding that Plaintiff's claim is within the applicable statute of limitations.

This the 12th day of May, 2015.
