QUESTION PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

1. Did the Court of Appeals erred by affirming the Court of Common Pleas order denying Defendant, Paul A. Davis, the right of receiving proper service from Respondent's Counsel, William A. Scott?
2. Did the Court of Appeals erred by affirming the Court of Common Pleas order by not recognizing the absolute facts of the case that Paul A. Davis was never served or notified of Respondent's complaint in any way?

STATEMENTS IN THE CASE

Complaint was served in Dover, Delaware upon a party that I have never met at an address, city, state, that I have never visited in my entire life.

It has always been my Pro Se opinion that all Americans are entitled to proper service in any adversarial legal matter. I have repeatedly displayed the facts that I have never been served and had absolutely no knowledge of the complaint against me.

I believe this to be a major flaw in our great judicial systems and respectfully request the Supreme Court to hear and review this case.

ARGUMENT

1. The Court of Common Pleas order denying Defendant, Paul A. Davis, the right of receiving proper service from Respondent's Counsel, William A. Scott.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the Court of Common pleas ruling, for reasons which are beyond my understanding, failed to recognize that I was never served or notified in any way.

2. The Court of Common Pleas order ignored the absolute facts of the case that Paul A. Davis was never served or notified of Respondent's complaint in any way.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the Court of Common Pleas ruling and dismissed the fact that service was on a person that had no authority to accept on my behalf.

CONCLUSION

Complaint was served in Dover, Delaware upon a party that I have never met at an address, city, state, that I have never visited in my entire life.

It has always been my Pro Se opinion that all Americans are entitled to proper service in any adversarial legal matter. I have repeatedly displayed the facts that I have never been served and had absolutely no knowledge of the complaint against me.

I believe this to be a major flaw in our great judicial system and respectfully request the Supreme Court to hear and review this case.

Respondent and Respondent's Counsel had an active local address where I could have been served, 14639 C.R. Koon Highway, Newberry, SC 29018 has been active since approximately 1999 and currently active today.

For the reasons stated, petitioner asks the Court to grant the petition for writ of certiorari.

Respectfully submitted,
