Re: State Of South Carolina v. Gerald J. Nagy
Appellate Case #2015-002576
Common Pleas Case #2015-CP-40-03354

Dear Ms. Holmes,

I have received the transcript and my first chance to look at it was today. The transcript is 22 pages long, but there are no page numbers. The line number begin anew each page, so when preparing my brief for the Appellate Court there is no precise way for me to reference items within the transcript unless I manually mark each page. I am concerned that if I write on it, thus altering it, it might not be considered as valid. I'm thinking this was an oversight. Can you advise me if this is normal, or else send me one with pagination and/or line numbers that continue from page to page? I am "on hold" on my end, with the 30 day clock running for submission of my brief and would appreciate a quick response. For the sake of time, please email me at FromRCCCP@MagyarMail.com as soon as you receive this (and yes, that is a valid email address).

Kindest Regards,

Gerald J. Nagy
