MOTION FOR Rehearing & Reconsideration
TO
IN FORMA PAUPERIS

---

Comes now, Appellant-Pro-se, Akeem Alim-Nafis Abdulh-Matlic, [Hereinafter] Appellant, MOTIONS The Court TO Rehearing & Reconsideration, Pursuant TO INMATE Litigation Act [ILA] of Pro-se States United States & South Carolina Constitutions . . . .

LEGAL MAIL

Petitioner has a right to due process & equal protection of laws, & restraint upon liberty. Pursuant to [ILCA] a Prisoner Pro-Se Status assigned in Davis v. State 342 S.E. 2d 60 (1980) & J.L.

Code of 1976 § 24-27-100 & § 24-27-150

Prisoners have right to Access Courts even if he is indigent. The [ILCA] does not restrict Access to Courts. It makes a provision to have prisoner account debited upon prisoner obtaining money to secure debt incurred.

The fundamental right requires the waiver of filing fees. 411 S.E. 2d 134 when a certain fundamental right is involved the Constitution requires that a indigent be allowed to access the Courts. Compare Buddie v. Connecticut 401 US 371, 91 S.Ct 780

2 B. L. Ed.

Ex parte John Wayne Rice Supreme Court of South Carolina (1992) Remanded with instructions Supreme Court held prisoner was denied due process by family court refusal to allow him to proceed without payment of fee. 415 S.E. 2d 819

Appellant is Actual Indigent & unable to pay for the proceedings. Hence Appellant has a
