v.

State of South Carolina, Respondent

S.C. SUPREME COURT

Appellate Case No. 2016-01122

Lower Court Case No. 2009CP3700501

MOTION FOR JURISDICTION, ETC.

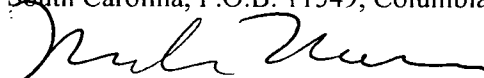

Jacqueline Tedder, Petitioner is in receipt of this Court's Order dated June 1, 2016 in which this Court acknowledges that this matter was affirmed by the South Carolina Court of Appeals in an opinion filed April 20, 2016, that the Court of Appeals refused to hear petitioner's pro se motion for reconsideration en banc, filed May 9, 2016, after the Court of Appeals sent the remittitur to the circuit court on May 6, 2016. This Supreme Court states that "... there is no final decision for this Court to review."

As the matter was properly before the Court of Appeals which failed to reach a final decision, your petitioner respectfully moves this Court for an Order of Mandamus ordering the Court of Appeals to reach a final decision in appealable order form consistent with the procedure for a petition to this Court or in the alternative for an Order relieving the Court of Appeals of jurisdiction, accepting jurisdiction, and censuring the Court of Appeals for remitting the record to the circuit court after failing to reach a final decision after it had acquired jurisdiction.

Yours,
