South Carolina Court Of Appeals
 Appeal from Common Pleas
 Lexington county court house
 Case no 2016-CP-32-263
 Judge Thomas Cooper Circuit Court

Your administration should have received my appeal by now, it's essential that I provide additional material facts to supports my claim. Defendant Rakowsky argument is that the legislative branch allows him to acting in this judicial capacity; suspend drivers' license for failure to appear, not paying pay fines. This practice is void because it violates section 8 of South Carolinas constitutions, section 8 states that the legislative, executive, and judicial powers shall be forever separated; it forbids discharging duties to one another; not to mention the separation of powers clauses in the Federal Constitution Article 1. Defendant Rakowsky duties is of judicial branch; his delegated authority is the Supreme Court see Norton v Shelby County 118 U.S 425 (1886) Thompson v Smith 155 VA 367. 154. SE. 583, VA (1930)
