the Respondents.

Appellate Case No. 2014-000091

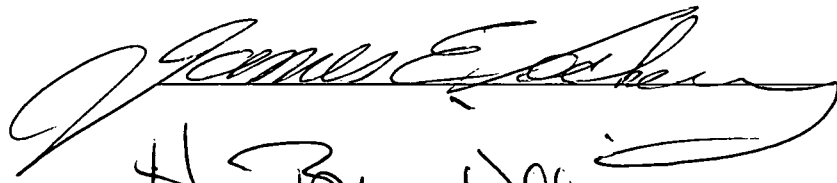

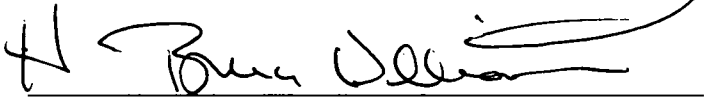

---

ORDER

---

Appellant has filed a motion to reinstate, which we construe as a petition to rehear the dismissal of this appeal. The notice of appeal for this case was served and filed on January 13, 2014. Since that date, this appeal has been dismissed three times due to Appellant's failure to serve and file documents in accordance with the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules. In November 2015, Respondents first moved to dismiss this appeal due to Appellant's failure to serve and file the record on appeal. On November 25, 2015, this court denied Respondents motions and allowed Appellant to file the record out of time. After the record was filed, Respondents again moved to dismiss the appeal because the record was untimely, did not include all items designated by the parties, and included items not designated by any party. On January 21, 2016, this court allowed Appellant to submit an amended record that included all items from Respondents' designations of matter. Appellant filed an amended record; however it was also incomplete. Accordingly, this court dismissed the appeal on March 4, 2016. On March 21, 2016, Appellant filed the motion to reinstate. Respondent Falgione filed a return to the motion that included many of the items missing from the record. This court observed that Appellant should have had all designated items in his possession with the exception of three items, which the court ordered Respondents to produce if possible. Respondents produced two of the three items, and On June 28, 2016, Appellant filed a third record, which was again incomplete. On July 8, 2016, Appellant filed a fourth record that omitted two of Respondents' designated items. Because Appellant has failed to serve and file a complete record on appeal in the two-and-a-half years since this appeal was initiated, Appellant's petition to rehear the dismissal of this appeal is denied. The remittitur will be sent as provided by Rule 221(b), SCACR.
