Appellant moves for the Court to accept as filed the Record on Appeal.

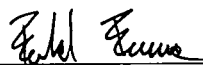

Appellant filed what it called a Supplemental Designation of Matter with this Court which should have, more accurately, been called an Amended Designation of Matter. There was some confusion about which exhibit designations some of the photographs should correctly have been called and the Supplemental Designation of Matter was filed, out of an abundance of Caution, to be sure the correct photos would be included. Counsel for Respondent on this appeal has informed Appellant's Counsel he had no objections to the Record on Appeal as filed.

Appellant would move the Court to accept the Record on Appeal as filed.

Counsel for Respondent has informed Appellant's Counsel that he has no objection to Appellant's Supplemental or Amended Designation of Matter. Counsel for Respondent has not yet completed his review of the Record on Appeal as filed. Reserving objection for the possibility of omitted material, Respondent does not object to the material designated for inclusion in the Record on Appeal, nor to the acceptance by the Court of the Record on Appeal previously filed.
