DEFENDANT, )

The above styled cases came for a jury trial in the Spartanburg Magistrate Court on October 28, 2014, with Judge William R. Chumley, presiding. The defendant was charged with Public Disorderly Conduct and Trespassing on the following warrants: 2013A4210203537 and 2013A4210203538. The facts of the case stem from an incident which took place at a retail shoe sales establishment on South Church St. in Spartanburg. Under sworn testimony, the officer testified that he was employed with the "Spartanburg City Police" and was dispatched on the day in question to "South Church Street." The state's witness testified that she was employed at Shoe Show on South Church St. in Spartanburg and was employed there on this day of the incident.

The defendant's motion for a directed verdict was denied. This appeal resulted.

Attached to this return are all documents relating to the case, including the original charging document.

Respectfully submitted this 25th day of November, 2014.

ORDER AFFIRMING CONVICTIONS

C.A. No. 2014-CP-42-4713

2015 FEB 19 PM 1:59
M. HOPE

The Appellant, Willie Jackson, was convicted of Public Disorderly Conduct, warrant 2013A4210203538, and Trespassing, warrant 2013A4210203537, in a jury trial on October 28, 2014 at the Spartanburg County Magistrate Court. The Appellant appealed both of those convictions to this Court. This Court conducted a hearing on Tuesday, January 20, 2015. This Court heard this appeal simultaneously with the appeal of Annie Jackson v. State of South Carolina because both appeals involved the same facts and very similar issues.

The Appellant was represented by Assistant Public Defender Matthew Shealy. The Respondent was represented by Assistant Solicitor Daniel Cude.

FACTS/PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Officer Bryan Shaw of the Spartanburg Police Department was dispatched to a business called Shoe Show at 550 South Church Street in Spartanburg. The store clerk, Ms. Janice Littlejohn, reported to police that the Appellant and his daughter, Annie Jackson, were trying to compel her to refund Ms. Jackson's money for a previous purchase. Ms. Littlejohn said she could not refund the money.

Officer Shaw testified that he told Ms. Jackson repeatedly to leave the store, but that she refused. Ms. Littlejohn testified that neither the Appellant nor Ms. Jackson would leave the store. Officer Shaw testified that when he tried to arrest Ms. Jackson, that the Appellant assaulted him and that he believed the Appellant was trying to choke him. Officer Shaw said he struck the Appellant, and the Appellant then picked up a theft deterrent stand and came at the officer. Officer Shaw said that when he drew his firearm, the Appellant stopped trying to assault him. Police ultimately arrested both the Appellant and Ms. Jackson.

Ms. Jackson testified that she wanted a refund for shoes she purchased from Shoe Show. Ms. Jackson testified that neither she nor the Appellant acted in a disorderly manner.

ANALYSIS

The Appellant's Explanation of Appeal states that he "appeals from the court's denial of a Directed Verdict/Motion of acquittal (sic) based on the State's failure to establish the authority and jurisdiction of the arresting Spartanburg Public Safety Officer and further the absence of evidence the defendant was placed on trespass notice."

RKK

The Appellant's attorney argued that the Magistrate committed errors of law by denying the Appellant's motions for Directed Verdict during the lower court trial.

First, the Appellant argued that the Respondent failed to establish jurisdiction as to either the Public Disorderly Conduct charge or the Trespassing charge. The Appellant stated there was no testimony during the lower court trial expressly stating that the events testified about took place in the city limits of Spartanburg.

But the Appellant and Respondent both agree that there was testimony during the trial that the events underlying the case took place in "Spartanburg." The witness Janice Littlejohn testified at trial that she worked at Shoe Show, located at 550 South Church Street in Spartanburg. In the Magistrate's return, it notes that Officer Bryan Shaw testified he was employed with the "Spartanburg City Police."

The Respondent argued that in proving jurisdiction it is not necessary that the county in which the crime was committed be proved affirmatively if there is sufficient evidence from which it can be inferred, citing State v. Williams, 321 S.C. 327, 333, 468 S.E. 2d 626, 630 (1996). The Respondent's position is that similarly, the city in which a crime was committed need not be proven affirmatively but can be inferred if sufficient evidence is presented.

Next, the Appellant argued that the trial court should have granted its motion for directed verdict as to the trespassing charge. The Appellant argued that the Respondent did not present evidence the Respondent was placed on trespass notice.

There does not appear to be evidence in the record that the Appellant was expressly told that he was trespassing from the store. But the Respondent argued that the record does contain some evidence from which a jury could find that the Appellant was ordered or requested to leave and failed to do so.

The record shows that the Appellant's daughter, Annie Jackson, was told to leave the store and failed to do so. There was testimony that the Appellant was acting along with his daughter, Annie Jackson, in attempting to compel the store clerk to refund his daughter's money, which led to police being summoned. There was testimony that the Appellant was present with his daughter while Ms. Jackson was told to leave the store. Officer Shaw testified that while he was trying to arrest Ms. Jackson, the Appellant assaulted him.

Ms. Littlejohn, the clerk, testified at the trial that the officer asked the Appellant's daughter to leave multiple times. Ms. Littlejohn testified that neither the Appellant nor his daughter would leave the store. Ms. Littlejohn's testimony implies that the Appellant was also told to leave the store and failed to do so.

In reviewing a motion for directed verdict, the trial judge is concerned with the existence of the evidence, not its weight. State v. Walker, 349 S.C. 49, 53, 562 S.E.2d 313, 315 (2002). On appeal from the denial of a directed verdict, an appellate court must review the motion in the light most favorable to the State. State v. Bailey, 368 S.C. 39, 44, 626 S.E.2d 898, 901 (2006). If there is any direct evidence or substantial circumstantial evidence reasonably tending to prove the guilt of the accused, an appellate court must find the case was properly submitted to the jury. State v. Lollis, 343 S.C. 580, 584, 541 S.E. 2d 254, 256 (2001).

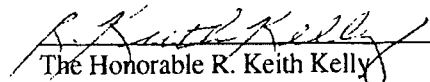

The Appellant's first motion for directed verdict related to whether the Respondent proved jurisdiction. The Appellant's second motion for directed verdict concerned whether the Appellant was placed on "trespass notice." This Court finds there was sufficient evidence to support the Magistrate's decision to deny the Appellant's motions for directed verdict and submit the case to the jury.

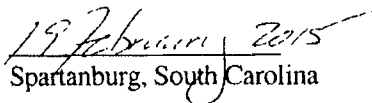

RLK

The Court finds that the Magistrate did not commit errors of law in denying the Appellant's motions for directed verdict.

The verdict of the trial court is AFFIRMED.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

1 THE COURT - Okay, are we at Annie and Willie
2 Jackson? Is that where we are?

3 MS. DASSEL - Yes, sir, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT - 4712 and 13. Do we need to -- is it 5 the same issue in both, or are they consolidated or ---

6 MR. SHEALY - I have an extra issue, but our 7 primary issue is the same. Judge, I represent Willie 8 Jackson. My name is Matthew Shealy. I'll put that on the 9 record.

10 THE COURT - Yes, put your name on the record for 11 me. Marcy Frances?

12 MS. DASSEL - I represent Annie Jackson. I'm Mary 13 Frances Dassel.

14 THE COURT - Yes, sir.

15 MR. CUDE - Your Honor, I'm Daniel Cude for the 16 State.

17 THE COURT - All right.

18 MR. SHEALY - And just to make sure, I'm Matthew 19 Shealy for Willie Jackson.

20 THE COURT - All right, let's hear from -- let's 21 hear from Annie Jackson's position first. How about that?
22 Let's do them in that order. That's the way they are on 23 here.

24 MS. DASSEL - Yes, sir, Your Honor. This is an 25 appeal from Magistrate's Court in which Ms. Jackson was

1 convicted of public disorderly conduct and trespass after 2 notice on October 28th of last year. Your Honor, Officer 3 Brian Shaw with the Spartanburg City Police Department was 4 the arresting officer in this case. The issue on appeal, 5 it is our position that the State did not sufficiently 6 establish evidence that would establish jurisdiction to 7 make the arrest in this case. Specifically, there was not 8 sufficient testimony that the arrest in this case occurred 9 within the city limits of Spartanburg city. Your Honor, 10 I'd like to pass up South Carolina Code Section 17-13-40 as 11 well as a copy of State vs. Padgett.

12 (WHEREUPON, DOCUMENT HANDED UP TO THE COURT)

13 THE COURT - Okay.

14 MS. DASSEL - Your Honor, as you can see, South
15 Carolina Code Section 17-13-40 requires that a police 16 authority of the city conduct an arrest within the city 17 limits of that city. Your Honor, in State vs. Padgett is 18 a Court of Appeals case from 2003. In that case the Court 19 held that Section 17-13-40 operates to limit the 20 jurisdiction of city police officers. In that case it was 21 an appeal of a failure to stop conviction in which the 22 Court held that there was conflicting testimony as to 23 whether or not the pursuit of the failure to stop started 24 in the city limits, and because there was conflicting 25 testimony, the Court denied the appeal. Your Honor, in

1 this case, there just simply was not sufficient evidence 2 for which the jury could conclude that the arrest took 3 place in the city of Spartanburg. Your Honor, I have here 4 a copy of the recording of the trial I'd like to make an 5 exhibit for the record.

6 THE COURT - Yes, ma'am.

7 (WHEREUPON, DOCUMENT MARKED AS PLAINTIFF'S
8 EXHIBIT 1.)

9 MS. DASSEL - And, Your Honor, there are four 10 recordings on that CD. The first recording is the one I'm 11 going to refer to because it includes the relevant portion.
12 Your Honor, there are two -- two witnesses in this case, 13 Officer Brian Shaw. He testified, Your Honor, 14 specifically, at 11 minutes and 11 seconds on that first 15 recording that he is employed with the Spartanburg City 16 Police Department. He then testified at 11 minutes 30
17 seconds that he was dispatched to the Shoe Show at 550
18 South Church Street. There was no testimony from Officer 19 Shaw that that street is located within the city limits of 20 Spartanburg. The second witness was Ms. Janice Littlejohn
21 with the Shoe Show. She testified at 23 minutes 59 seconds
22 that she is employed at the Shoe Show at 550 South Church 23 Street in Spartanburg. Your Honor, as you may know, an 24 address can have a Spartanburg address without necessarily 25 being within the city limits of Spartanburg. And there was

1 no testimony that specifically stated that that address is 2 located within the city limits. So we would respectfully 3 request that you grant the appeal, remand the case back to 4 Magistrate Court and direct the Judge to grant a directed 5 verdict motion.

6 THE COURT - Mr. Cude?

7 MR. CUDE - Thank you, Your Honor. We ask that 8 you deny the Defendant's appeal on that issue, Your Honor.
9 We -- I think the record shows there was sufficient 10 evidence to support Judge Chumley's denial of a directed 11 verdict on that issue, Your Honor. And again -- actually 12 if I can hand up out copy of the recording just for 13 records, because I'm -- and if I may, Your Honor, in part, 14 just because I use -- I actually have different markers 15 just -- that I'd ask the Court to consider -- ask this be 16 Exhibit -- Exhibit from the State.

17 THE COURT - Okay.

18 (WHEREUPON, DOCUMENT MARKED AS DEFENDANT'S
19 EXHIBIT.)

20 MR. CUDE - And, Your Honor, there are actually 21 three audio files. It was broken into three audio files on 22 my copy, and I believe this is on -- our first audio file - 23 - again, it's actually -- I'm asking the Court to consider 24 just similar testimony. There's testimony on the first 25 audio file. It's 17 minutes 43 seconds or thereabouts that

1 the officer was dispatched to 550 South Church Street, Your 2 Honor. He does testify again that he's part of the 3 Spartanburg City Police Department, and again, on my 4 recording, Your Honor, I believe that it's still on the 5 first audio file, at about 30 minutes and 13 seconds
6 there's testimony from this lay witness, Janice Littlejohn, 7 that she works at the Shoe Show at 550 South Church Street 8 in Spartanburg, and, Your Honor, my wording may not be 9 exact, but again, Ms. Littlejohn does testify -- the 10 substance of it is that she works at 550 South Church
11 Street in Spartanburg. We argue that's sufficient evidence 12 that it took place in the city limits, Your Honor. I had a 13 case as well, Your Honor, and I -- the facts may not be 14 precisely in point, but the Courts upheld just on the issue 15 of jurisdiction that it's -- on the issue of whether an 16 offense was considered in a certain county that -- if I may 17 -- in State vs. Williams, 321 SC 327, that for the purpose 18 of establishing jurisdiction it is not necessary that the 19 county in which the crime be committed be proved 20 affirmatively if there is sufficient evidence from which it 21 can be inferred, and Your Honor I -- to be candid with the 22 Court I wouldn't say the facts are on point, but I argue 23 the principle should hold here as well. There was 24 testimony that this officer is a Spartanburg -- employed by 25 the Spartanburg Police Department, and Ms. Littlejohn said

1 this incident occurred at the Shoe Show in Spartanburg. I 2 think that's sufficient evidence from which a jury can 3 infer that jurisdiction was appropriate, Your Honor, and I
4 think it's sufficient evidence to support the Magistrate's 5 denial of a directed verdict. If I can hand these ---

6 THE COURT - Well, let me ask this, Mr. Cude. Is 7 that a question of fact or is that a question of law? The 8 550 South Church Street, are we talking about down here at 9 the Shoe Show that's on South Church past the Pepsi
10 Bottling Company?

11 MS. DASSEL - I believe so, Your Honor. Before 12 the Pepsi Bottling ---

13 THE COURT - Well, coming into town, it'd be on 14 the left before you get to the Pepsi Bottling Company, not 15 -- on the right? Shoe Show ---

16 MS. DASSEL - It's on the right coming from 17 Charlotte.

18 MR. SHEALY - Judge, I believe that it would be -- 19 having testified to it, that it would be within -- probably 20 within the city limits of Spartanburg, probably, whether 21 they testified to it or not, so it would be our position 22 that that -- if they had -- would be something that a Judge 23 could determine as to whether a reasonable jury could 24 determine that they had jurisdiction or not.

25 THE COURT - Okay.

1 MR. SHEALY - The problem is the absence of the 2 evidence in the record.

3 MR. CUDE - May I approach with this case, Your 4 Honor.

5 THE COURT - Yes, please.

6 (WHEREUPON DOCUMENT IS HANDED UP TO THE COURT.)

7 THE COURT - Anything else, Ms. Dassel?

8 (No response)

9 THE COURT - If not, I'm going to turn to Mr.
10 Shealy.

11 MS. DASSEL - Your Honor, I would just add that 12 South Carolina Code 17-13-40 operates to limit the 13 jurisdiction of the officer. It would not have been 14 difficult for him to testify that this occurred in the city 15 limits of Spartanburg, and I feel that just saying it's in 16 Spartanburg, like I said earlier, you know, it could be 17 within the County of Spartanburg, but not necessarily in 18 the city limits of Spartanburg, and that just wasn't 19 testified to in this case, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT - Okay. Mr. Shealy, we're now on 4713
21 would be Mr. Jackson, wouldn't it?

22 MR. SHEALY - Yes, Your Honor, and I -- more or 23 less as to the jurisdiction issue, I would join in with Ms.
24 Dassel largely, Judge. I would only point out that State 25 vs. Padgett talks about at the directed verdict stage or

1 the reason the appeal was denied was because there was 2 evidence in the record from which a jury could determine 3 that the chase began within the city limits of Saluda -- 4 it's Saluda City -- oh, no Ridge Spring, Your Honor.
5 Judge, as to Mr. Cude's case, that's dealing with a 6 homicide in a Circuit Court. I think that the -- that the 7 questions of jurisdiction in a Circuit Court's going to be 8 a little bit different than in a Magistrate Court, because 9 like I say, that's a murder case. The question I think 10 there would be more whether the venue was appropriate or 11 not. Here we're talking about actual jurisdiction to 12 arrest. A city police officer has to have the jurisdiction 13 conferred upon him by the city to arrest, and I believe the 14 jury does have to make that determination, Your Honor, that 15 he did, in fact have jurisdiction, and there was no 16 evidence within this record from which a reasonable jury 17 could make that determination, because the officer simply 18 didn't testify to it, neither did Ms. Littlejohn. Your 19 Honor, I also have the issue of whether or not my client -- 20 whether or not there was any evidence in the record from 21 which a reasonable jury could believe that Mr. Jackson -- 22 that Mr. Jackson had been trespassed from that area. And, 23 Judge, I've listened to it; there is no evidence in the 24 record as to that. In denying the motion for directed 25 verdict on that ground, Judge Chumley simply denied it.

1 Didn't give any ground, didn't give any reasons, the same
2 with the jurisdictional issue. In the return I don't see 3 any mention as to why he denied that trespassing, that 4 directed verdict on the trespassing. Judge, the closest 5 that I have is Ms. Littlejohn testifies at -- I believe 6 it's around 29, 28 from the -- from the 29 minutes 28
7 seconds on Ms. Dassel's copy of the recording, that Ms. -- 8 asked her to leave, but she wouldn't do it. Mr. Jackson 9 wouldn't do it. I don't know what that means, but that 10 isn't testifying that they told him to leave. Nobody ever 11 puts him on trespass notice throughout the record. They 12 speak about placing Ms. Jackson on trespass notice, asking 13 her to leave, all of this stuff. Nobody ever says that 14 they asked Mr. Jackson to leave. Nobody ever says that 15 they put him on trespassing notice. Judge, we appeal these 16 things -- it's not just for the people that we represent.
17 These appeals have a systemic purpose, and that's making 18 sure that the convictions that we get down in Magistrate's 19 Court are good convictions, that everybody testifies to 20 things that they need to testify to and that we can have 21 faith in the way those convictions were adopted. Judge, 22 they just didn't testify to the things they needed to 23 testify to, and to let them say, well, in Spartanburg is 24 enough, that doesn't -- it doesn't allow us to have faith
25 in the convictions we're getting down in Magistrate's

1 Court, because we don't know how many of these things don't 2 get appealed. Judge, my clients were given fines and often 3 times you aren't going to appeal a fine. Often times that 4 just doesn't happen, so, Judge, we need to take these 5 opportunities to correct these errors so that in the future 6 Officer Shaw will testify that he had jurisdiction, so that 7 we can have faith in the convictions that we get. Judge, 8 and simply saying that it happened at 550 South Church
9 Street in Spartanburg is not the same as saying in the City 10 of Spartanburg and County of Spartanburg, which is what he 11 should've said, what they should've said, what they 12 should've testified to. Judge, there's just not sufficient 13 evidence in this record. Thank you.

14 THE COURT - Yes, sir, Mr. Cude?

15 MR. CUDE - Your Honor, on the trespassing issue, 16 you know, I do have to agree with Mr. Shealy. I didn't 17 hear any expressed testimony in the record that Mr. Willie 18 Jackson was told he was on trespass notice. Beg the 19 Court's pardon. You know, I -- you know, I would argue 20 that there is some evidence to support the Magistrate 21 denying a directed verdict on that ground. I did also 22 hear, as Mr. Shealy did, the statement that Mr. Jackson 23 wouldn't leave either. The testimony did show that, you 24 know, Mr. Jackson entered the store, you know, he was asked 25 to come in by his daughter. He did speak to the clerk in

1 what -- and this is my characterization -- I think the 2 clerk would describe as an aggressive manner. You know, 3 when the officer arrived, I understand Mr. Jackson came 4 back into the store along with his daughter. The office --
5 the testimony would show the officer did try to place Annie 6 Jackson under arrest, that she resisted and, you know, a 7 struggle ensued. I -- they say there's some evidence -- 8 again to concede -- to be honest, Your Honor, or to be 9 candid, you know, the evidence did show that he expressly 10 told Annie Jackson she was on trespass notice. I'd argue 11 there's some evidence from which a jury could infer that he 12 was on trespass notice, as well.

13 MR. SHEALY - If I may, Judge. The statute's
14 trespassing after notice. You have to be given notice.
15 That's not sufficient that Mr. Jackson wouldn't do it -- 16 and we have to be precise, because that's what we're 17 dealing with here is who testified to what, what evidence 18 was actually in the record. It'd be our position it was 19 wouldn't do it, and that's -- that's not notice, Judge.
20 Thank you.

21 THE COURT - Thank you, gentlemen, lady. Watch 22 your e-mail.

23 MR. CUDE - Yes, sir.

24 MS. DASSEL - Thank you, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT - Thank you.

I, Shirley Broom, Official Court Reporter for the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit for the State of South Carolina, do hereby certify that the foregoing 15 pages is a true, accurate and complete Transcript of Record of the proceedings had and the evidence introduced in the proceedings of Annie Jackson vs. State of South Carolina and Willie Jackson vs. State of South Carolina as taken by me in the Court of Common Pleas for the Seventh Judicial Circuit on January 20, 2015, and provided by me this the 14th day of April, 2015.
