STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On February 10, 2013, Clarence B. Jenkins Jr., Appellant sustain a work related injury to the head while working Amazon Fulfillment Center in, West Columbia, SC. Respondents has admitted that Appellant did sustain the work injury on February 10, 2013 and has accepted responsibility. Appellant has been diagnose with post syndrome concussion which has become disabling with other medical problems. Appellant was placed on a leave of absent from Amazon Fulfillment Center at least three times due injury, medical symptoms and medical documentations. I was approved to see Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata at Orangeburg Neurology and Pain Clinic by Amazon.Com DEDC, LLC and American Zurich Insurance because of post concussion syndrome which existed which is compensable, work related injury as in Shatto v. Mcleod Regional Medical Center, 406 S.C. 470, 753 S.E. 2d 416 (2013).

Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata of Orangeburg Neurology and Pain Clinic began providing medical care to Appellant because of post concussion syndrome. I saw Dr. Mahmud Abu-Ata at least five times from August, 2013 to October, 2014. Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata continued work restrictions in February 21, 2014 to avoid bright lights and loud noises. Amazon.Com DEDC.LLC and American Zurich Insurance provided work restrictions because of work injury from September 22, 2013 to February 9, 2014. Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata continued work restrictions in October 23, 2014. Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata, assigned worker's compensation doctor refused to provide a medical rating due to additional recommended medical evaluation referrals to a neuro surgeon, neuro psychologist and spine specialist because repetitive trauma which is compensable under South Carolina Worker's Compensation Commission Act because Appellant has not work and received medical care under South Carolina Worker's Compensation Commission Act. As in Ralph Duane King Jr, v. International Knife and Saw-Florence, 395 S.C. 437, 718 S.E. 2d 227 (Ct. App. 2011).

In Burnett v. City of Greenville 400 S.C. 417, 737 S.E. 2d 200 (2012) requirements was met as I was already working at Amazon.Com DEDC, LLC on work restrictions. Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata did not placed me put of work but Amazon.Com DEDC,LLC Human resources Office. I was denied short-term disability benefits even though medical documentations from Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata confirming medical symptoms which were ignored. I have not receive additional worker's compensation or disability benefits since January, 2015.

Appellant provides Amazon.Com DEDC, LLC and American Zurich Insurance with medical status even though worker's compensation benefits are not being paid and suitable employment have not been provided. Appellant has been evaluated and treated therefore documented for several years that concluded that symptoms of a post concussion syndrome as long-term and repetitive trauma requiring additional medical care and medication as in Ralph Duane King Jr, v. International Knife and Saw-Florence, 395 S.C. 437, 718, S.E. 2d 227 (Ct. App. 2011).

STATEMENT OF FACT

Appellant received a work injury to the head on February 10, 2013 at Amazon.Com Fulfillment Center in West Columbia, South Carolina. Appellant sustained a post concussion syndrome as documented for several years which has been disregarded by Amazon.Com DEDC, LLC and American Zurich Insurance. Amazon.Com DEDC, LLC and American Zurich Insurance has been provided all medical records through subpoenas and provided by Appellant. South Carolina Worker's Compensation Commission violated their own policy of R67-611 and the requirement of Form 14B. Exhibit R67-611, Exhibit South Carolina Worker's Compensation Commission Regulatory Advisory dated January 25, 2012.

Former Commissioner Andrea C. Roche as a Finding of Fact, P.3 in her Decision and Order dated May 27, 2014 that Claimant has received medical evaluation and/or treatment by Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata. Defendants have furnished and authorized medical evaluation and/or treatment by Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata. South Carolina Worker's Compensation Appellate Panel in their Decision and Order dated November 18, 2014 as a Finding of Fact, P.3 that Claimant has received medical evaluation and/or treatment by Dr. Abu-Ata. Respondents have furnished and authorized medical evaluation and/or treatment by Dr. Mahmoud Abu-Ata.
