RE: South Carolina ENT, Allergy & Sleep Medicine, P.A. (the "Company")
Our File No. 32174/09000

Dear Bruce:

This letter is to follow up on Dr. Puchalski's earlier suggestion that Dr. Dyce and the Company enter into mediation to try to resolve the current issues. Dr. Dyce recently indicated that he was open to the idea of mediation but that he still wanted access to certain financial information of the Company prior to proceeding with the mediation. As conveyed all along, the Company is willing to provide Dr. Dyce access to appropriate information, provided appropriate protections are in place to protect the confidential nature of the information. Dr. Dyce and the Company appear to be unable to agree upon a mechanism to protect the confidential information consistent with the Company's policy.

As you have been made aware, the Company has a stringent confidentiality policy that it consistently adheres to with respect to its financial (and other) information. This policy is reflected in Section 3.7 of the Company's Shareholders Agreement and the Company's consistent practice of not divulging financial information to third parties.

Dr. Dyce's original request for financial information of the Company appeared to be reasonable in scope and to have a proper purpose, and the Company indicated it would comply with the request provided Dr. Dyce execute the same confidentiality agreement that Dr. Puchalski executed. Dr. Dyce did not execute the confidentiality agreement.

To allay any concerns Dr. Dyce may have about the financial records of the Company, Dr. Puchalski offered to split the cost of an audit of the Company by an independent accounting firm. Dr. Puchalski also offered to meet with Dr. Dyce and the Company's accountants to address any concerns Dr. Dyce may have with the financial records of the Company. Dr.

Dyce has yet to respond to either of the alternatives. When asked why he wants the financial information or what concerns he may have about the records, Dr. Dyce's only response is that his attorney wants to review the information.

Dr. Dyce has also been invited on numerous occasions to ask specific questions about the Company's finances at provider meetings where the representative from the Company's accounting firm presented information about the Company's finances. Dr. Dyce has always declined.

Dr. Dyce's second request for financial information was much more expansive and intrusive into the Company records and encompassed financial information of the Company for years prior to Dr. Dyce's own admission as a shareholder. The Company has a legitimate concern as to Dr. Dyce's purpose for the second request and whether it is for a proper purpose as required under South Carolina law applicable to a shareholder's right to access information. Dr. Dyce has not indicated the purpose for the second request for financial information.

As an attempt to resolve the current issues, we would like to recommend that the Company and Dr. Dyce enter into nonbinding mediation (with a professional mediator agreed upon by the parties) and include in the mediation Dr. Dyce's request for the financial information. The scope of the financial information to be provided as well as the mechanism to protect the information could be submitted as a question for the mediator to help resolve this issue. The Company is also open to the idea of engaging an independent accounting firm to perform special procedure audits of Company information to address specific questions Dr. Dyce may have. The mediation could attempt to work out the appropriate agreements between Dr. Dyce and the Company, assuming that he desires to attempt to stay with the Company. In the event that he prefers to separate from the Company, then the mediator could assist in the agreements pertaining to his separation.

It is important that the Company and Dr. Dyce work together to resolve these outstanding issues prior to the effective date of his termination. We will be glad to send to you as soon as possible some names of proposed mediators. Please let us know how your client would like to proceed.

Sincerely,

Edward K. White

Dr. Puchalski,

Who will own this building? Is this an advance until a loan can be secured? Tammy included as an expense. This does not seem plausible.

Thanks,

Jamie:

We already have a mechanics lien on the property, and the closing on the property is now imperative. Please know that I have instructed Theresa and the administrative staff to extend any practice resource to ease your scheduling conflict, including babysitting and courier services. If you can give us a time and place tomorrow, we can dispatch a courier to meet you and Orville at any time. For the closing to occur, it is critical that both of you sign the documentation that was previously sent to you by email. The staff and I are available to you after hours for any questions or to review financial information.

Thanks in advance for your understanding and extra effort.
