To Whom It May Concern:

I recently received an Order in the mail to rebrief an issue in the above matter. The Order was dated December 30, 2016. As I explained to Jenny this morning by phone, I only just received that Order within the last week due to a move I was forced to make after a personal relationship broke up in December. I truly apologize for needing to request this, but she indicated I should make motion and request by this e-mail to file outside of time pursuant to SCACR 240 and a Motion for an Extension of 30 days. Originally, the brief was to be due 20 days after the date of the Order. Because I did not receive this Notice until this week, I will require a 30 day extension, but can have it complete within those 30 days.

I have copied the A.G. on this case by this E-mail. If you have any questions or concerns, or need any further information, please contact me. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

--
