Ms. Kitchings I just needed a quick answer because I want to be sure this is done correctly.

I was sent a notice stating that you guys needed a notice of service showing that the attorney for Nationstar was served with papers where I had asked to proceed in Forma Pauperis. The question is when I send that to them and also date the notice of service for you guys what date do I use the current date or the date that I originally sent the Forma Pauperis in to you guys (and if that can you send me a copy of that date so I am sure it is correct) or do I use the current date. I just want to be sure the dating is right so it can not be used for them to weasel their way out of this.

Thanks

Mr. Butler

Hey Mr. Butler. You will need to make sure your notice of appeal is served on the opposing party (parties) within the time periods prescribed by Rule 203 of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules. We will then review your filings for compliance with the appellate court rules upon receipt. If your filings are not compliant, we will send you a letter letting you know how to fix it and giving you 10 days to cure the deficiency.

I am sorry that I cannot prejudge your filings before they are made.

Thank you.

I know you guys cannot fully give legal advice to anyone, that is why you refer people to the bar or to seek an attorney. But time is close approaching for the 30 days to file the appeal for an issue I am dealing with I am speaking with an attorney who keeps stating that they are going to look at it and get back to me, but so far they have not and do not want the time to lapse on me and me miss the appeal because I know it cannot be extended. I just need to be sure the "Notice of Appeal" is acceptable to be filed the way it is in the attached documents and there will be no issue with it being thrown out because of format or anything. Again, I just want to be sure it looks the way it should (formatted) and that all the information is in the right spots, I hope someone there can let me know this is right because as stated I am not seeking legal advice, just want to be sure the "Notice of Appeal" is filed and formatted correctly so it will not be thrown out because I have never had to do an appeal before.

I appreciate your assistance and hope you can help in this matter.

Robert Butler
