Dear Ms. Kitchings:

In response to your deficiency letter, dated July 18, 2017, I enclosed a copy of the letter sent to our client announcing Mr. Ruffin's withdrawal as counsel. The letter was mailed on June 19, 2017.

Please let me know if this satisfies the Proof of Service deficiency or if you require us to serve a copy of the filed Notice of Withdrawal upon our clients.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Yours very truly,

Brian Herbert, Ph.D.

Dear Mr. and Ms. Myers:

I am writing to inform you that I have accepted employment with a new firm and will no longer be working with the Graham Law Firm, P.A. Please be advised that while I am departing, the Graham Law Firm will continue to represent your interests in this matter. Please know that all clients always have the right to an attorney of their own choosing. Therefore, if you wish to seek other counsel you may do so at any time, as this is your right. However, please know that the Graham Law Firm is more than happy to continue to assist you with this matter and will continue to do so until asked by you to do otherwise. It has been a pleasure to assist you.

Sincerely,

Layton Ruffin,
