Re: South Carolina Lawyers Weekly v. Scarlett Wilson, Solicitor
Appellate Case No. 2016-000555
Argument conflict

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

This case has been noticed for possible argument dates in September and October. If it has not yet been scheduled, I would appreciate your setting it for a date other than October 18. Since your notice of possible dates, October 18 has been tentatively scheduled for a mediation among numerous parties to a pending common pleas case in which I represent a party. If the oral argument cannot be scheduled for a different date, I will certainly be present for argument that day.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Respectfully submitted,

J. Emory Smith, Jr.
Deputy Solicitor General
