RETURN OF RESPONDENT CHUCK'S CONSTRUCTION CO., INC. TO APPELLANT'S
PETITION FOR REHEARING

The Appellant seeks a rehearing on two issues pertaining to the Court's decision on July 19, 2017. Specifically, Appellant argues that the evidence on equitable tolling and standing should preclude summary judgment. This Respondent asserted that equitable tolling may be invoked only when (a) extraordinary circumstances prevented the party from filing despite due diligence, (b) the party actively pursued his remedies by filing a defective pleading during the statutory period or was induced or tricked by the defendant into allowing the deadline to pass, and (c) the party is unable to obtain vital information bearing on the existence of his claim despite due diligence. Hooper v. Ebenezer Senior Serv. & Rehab Center, 386 S.C. 108, 687 S.E.2d 29 (2009).

Here, the HOA - whether controlled by the developer or some other party - had ample capacity to bring suit against third parties such as Respondent at any time prior the turnover in October, 2007. The pre-turnover HOA had both the incentive and knowledge to bring an action to recover for construction defects brought to light in 2005. Appellant posits no confidential relationship, collusion, or other factual scenario which would have prevented the developer-controlled HOA from proceeding against third parties who allegedly performed negligent services at Rivergate. Thus, there are no facts sufficient to satisfy the equitable tolling factors set forth in Hooper.

Appellant cites Magnolia North Prop. Owners' Ass'n, Inc. v. Heritage Communities, Inc., 397 S.C. 348, 725 S.E.2d 112 (Ct. App. 2012) in support of its equitable tolling claim, but that case is inapposite. In Magnolia North, this Court held that the statute of limitations was tolled during the period that the defendant developer controlled the plaintiff homeowner's association. By contrast, the Respondent in this action is not the developer but a third party, and neither controlled nor had any representation on Appellant's board while the statute ran. Thus, the Appellant was not faced with the peculiar prospect of "initiat[ing] an action against itself" during the relevant period – the action would have commenced against an arm's-length actor. (Id. at 372.)

Based on the foregoing, the Appellant's Petition for Reconsideration should be denied.
