NOTED

CCH 2015

This matter came before me on September 29, 2015, on the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment. The Defendants were represented at the hearing by Adam L. Whitsett, Esquire, General Counsel to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.¹ The Plaintiff was represented by Charles T. Brooks, III, Esquire, of The Brooks Law Office, LLC. Based upon the arguments presented at the hearing and the applicable South Carolina law, I hereby GRANT the Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment.

BACKGROUND

The Plaintiff was convicted of criminal sexual conduct with a minor, third degree, in violation of § 16-3-655(C) of the South Carolina Code of Laws (as amended) on January 18, 2005. The Plaintiff was sentenced to a Youthful Offender Act sentence for a determinate term not to exceed six (6) years. Upon being released from incarceration, the Plaintiff was required to register as a sex offender pursuant to the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act, § 23-3-400 et seq. ("SORA") and did in fact so register. The Plaintiff filed this present action in May of

SCANNED

2015 seeking for this Court to fashion equitable personal relief for the Plaintiff. The Defendants Answered the Complaint and filed the present Motion for Summary Judgment.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

A motion for summary judgment shall be granted "if the pleadings... show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001)(emphasis in original). "The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Bankers Trust of South Carolina v. Benson, 267 S.C. 152, 155, 226 S.E.2d 703, 704 (1976).

LAW/ANALYSIS

I find that there is no genuine issue of material fact in dispute in this matter and that there is no factual dispute requiring the services of a fact finder. Accordingly, the Defendants are entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. See George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001); Rule 56(c), SCRPC.

The Plaintiff was properly registered as a sex offender upon being released from incarceration in accordance with SORA. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(C)(6); see also State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's sex offender registry constitutional). SORA is clear and unambiguous and mandates lifetime registration for all sex offenders in South Carolina. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 ("A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life").² SORA also provides the only lawful avenues by which individuals can be removed from the registry.³ See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E), (F), (G). There is no genuine issue of material fact to suggest that Plaintiff meets any of these statutory criteria for removal from SORA. Accordingly, there is no legal basis for the Plaintiff to be removed from the registry, and the Defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430; Lozada v. South Carolina Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011)(acknowledging that “[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law.”)

The Plaintiff's argument in this matter is that his constitutional SORA registration requirement constitutes a “wrong” that would justify this Court fashioning the Plaintiff an equitable personal remedy. This argument is without merit. The constitutional application of the clear and unambiguous provisions of SORA is not a “wrong” cognizable in South Carolina law. The South Carolina Supreme Court has held unequivocally that “the court’s equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute.” Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S. Carolina Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989). In addition, the South Carolina Supreme Court has also specifically held,

[I]f a statute’s language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning. Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute’s operation. Id. Moreover, “it is beyond this Court’s power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature.” State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does “not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly”).

Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 59, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007).

³ In fact, the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the registry are provided by this same code section, S.C. Code § 23-3-430.

SCANNED

Jag

Moreover, “[i]f a statute’s language is plain and unambiguous, and conveys a clear and definite meaning, there is no occasion for employing rules of statutory interpretation and the court has no right to look for or impose another meaning.” State v. Smith, 330 S.C. 237, 240, 498 S.E.2d 648, 650 (Ct.App. 1998). Accordingly, for this Court to fashion an equitable remedy outside of the clear and unambiguous provisions of SORA would exceed this Court’s authority. This Court’s equitable powers must yield to the clear and unambiguous language of SORA.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, the Defendants’ Motion for Summary Judgment is GRANTED.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

DECLARATORY JUDGMENT
(Non-Jury)

RICHLAND COUNTY
FILED

JEANNETTE W. MCSHANE
C.C.P. & G.S.

THE PETITIONER IN THIS MATTER, BY AND THROUGH HIS COUNSEL, ALLEGES AS FOLLOWS:

1. That the Petitioner is a citizen and resident of the County of Richland,
State of South Carolina.
2. That the Respondent, Mark Keel, is the Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (hereinafter referred to as "SLED"), maintaining the Sex Offender Registry for the State of South Carolina. The present action is an action in part for a Declaratory Judgment regarding certain provisions of the South Carolina Sexual Registry (hereinafter referred to as "Registry"), and pursuant to §23-3-410, Code of Laws for South Carolina, 1976, as amended, the Registry is under the direction of the Respondent Keel.

3. That the State of South Carolina, a sovereign State and body politic, enacts its legislation through its State Legislature (the South Carolina General Assembly and Senate) and the Governor. The present action is an action in part for a Declaratory Judgment regarding the constitutionality of provisions of the South Carolina Code of Laws, as amended, specifically §23-3-430, Sex Offender Registry legislation, as it applies differently to §16-3-654 (Criminal Sexual Conduct, 3rd Degree).
4. This Honorable Court has jurisdiction over the parties to, and subject matter of, the present action.
5. The Petitioner in this matter was convicted in the State of South Carolina of Criminal Sexual Conduct-3rd Degree in 2005 in Richland County.
6. The Petitioner was sentenced to be committed to the State Department of Corrections under the Youthful Offender Act for a determinate term not to exceed six (6) years.
7. That the Petitioner, after his release, was required to begin to Register as a Sex Offender in accordance with "Megan's Law".
8. That, under §23-3-430(F), even if Petitioner was pardoned by the Governor, Petitioner "may not be removed" from the Registry unless the Attorney General notified a Defendant that the conviction "was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal". §23-3-430(E), South Carolina Code of Laws, as amended.
9. That the Petitioner did not file a timely appeal of his conviction, nor did he timely file an application for Post-conviction Relief.

10. That, upon information and belief, Petitioner has suffered and continues to suffer grievous consequences as a result of being a registered sex offender, including:
- a. Permanent ban from volunteering with most youth events, including any involving his own minor relatives (nieces, nephews, etc.) or any children he may father in the future.
 - b. Limited employment opportunities; and
 - c. Embarrassment and humiliation for himself and his relatives.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
Equity

11. The above set forth facts are made part of this cause of action through incorporation by reference.
12. That the Petitioner is entitled to equitable personal relief in this matter.
13. That the Petitioner is informed and believed that equity is reserved for situations where there is no adequate remedy of law.
14. That the purpose of the Sex Offender Registry is to protect the public from those sex offenders who may re-offend and to aid Law Enforcement in solving sex crimes.
15. That the Petitioner is informed and believes the facts before this Court do not support a finding that he Petitioner is or ever was a predator or child molester.

16. That the Petitioner is informed and believes that the requirement of lifelong Sex Offender Registry is wildly disproportionate to the underlying conduct.
17. That the Petitioner is informed and believes that justice compels a remedy for this particular situation and that justice is served by granting the Petitioner personal relief.
18. That Petitioner is entitled to an Order of this Court directing Defendant Keel to remove his name from the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry immediately.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays this Court for an Order:

1. Declares the Petitioner has established his claim for relief by evidence satisfactory to this Court; and
2. Ordering the Defendants to remove the Petitioner from the Sex Offender Registry; and
3. For any such other and further relief as may be deemed appropriate by this Court.

ANSWER

Mark Keel, Director, South Carolina Law) Enforcement Division (SLED) and the)
State of South Carolina,)
Defendants.)

Defendant Mark Keel, properly identified as the Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED) and Defendant State of South Carolina, hereby answer the Plaintiffs' Complaint as follows:

FOR A FIRST DEFENSE
Failure to State a Claim

The Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted and should be dismissed pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

FOR A SECOND DEFENSE
Insufficient Service of Process

The Complaint in this matter was not served on Defendant Keel in accordance with the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. As such, pursuant to Rule 12(b)(5), SCRCPP this action should be dismissed due to insufficiency of service of process.

FOR A THIRD DEFENSE
Response to Allegations

1. The Defendants deny each and every allegation of the Plaintiffs' Complaint not herein specifically admitted, qualified, or explained.
2. Paragraph one (1) is admitted upon information and belief.

3. Paragraphs two (2) and three (3), to the extent they are characterizations as to the type of action this is require no response. The remaining allegations of paragraphs two (2) and three (3) are admitted upon information and belief.
4. Paragraphs four (4), five (5), and six (6) are admitted upon information and belief.
5. The Defendants are without information or knowledge to admit or deny the allegations of paragraph seven (7) and would therefor deny the same. However, the Defendants would aver that the Plaintiff's inclusion on the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry was proper, was in accordance with South Carolina law, and was constitutional.
6. The Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph eight (8) in that the allegations mischaracterize South Carolina law. The Defendants would crave reference to the actual text of §§ 23-3-430(E) and 23-3-430(F) of the South Carolina Code of Laws for a proper recitation of these statutes.
7. The Defendants are without information and belief to admit the allegations of paragraph nine (9); however, the Defendants would admit these allegations.
8. The Defendants deny the allegations of paragraph ten (10).
9. As to paragraph eleven (11), the Defendants incorporate the responses to each of preceding paragraphs by reference.
10. Paragraph twelve (12) is denied.
11. Paragraph thirteen (13) is denied and the Defendants would aver that § 23-3-430 is an unambiguously worded statute and that equity follows the law. See Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 61, 644 S.E.2d 675, 678 (2007) (holding that a "court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute").

12. As to paragraph fourteen (14), the Defendants would aver that the purpose of South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry Statute is set forth in § 23-3-400 and, to the extent inconsistent with this statute, paragraph fourteen (14) is denied.

13. Paragraphs fifteen (15), sixteen (16), seventeen (17), and eighteen (18) are denied.

14. To the extent inconsistent with the foregoing, Defendant denies the requests for relief set forth in the "WHEREFORE" section of the complaint.

FOR A FOURTH DEFENSE
Proper Inclusion on the Registry

15. The Defendants would aver that the Plaintiff's inclusion on the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry is proper, constitutional, and in accordance with South Carolina law. Accordingly, the Defendants are informed and believe that this action should be dismissed.

WHEREFORE, having fully answered the Plaintiff's complaint, Defendants pray that this Honorable Court:

- A. dismisses the Plaintiff's Complaint entirely;
- B. denies any and all relief sought by the Plaintiff; and
- C. grants such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

TO: CHARLES T. BROOKS, III, ESQUIRE, ATTORNEY FOR PLAINTIFF

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT the Defendants Chief Mark Keel, the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division ("SLED"), and the State of South Carolina, through the undersigned attorneys, will move before this Court within ten (10) days of the date hereof (or at such other time and place as the Court determines) for summary judgment pursuant to Rule 56(c) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

BACKGROUND

The Plaintiff was convicted of criminal sexual conduct, third degree (Section 16-3-654) on or about January 13, 2005. He was sentenced to be committed to the South Carolina Department of Corrections under the Youthful Offender Act for a determinate term not to exceed six (6) years. Compl. ¶¶6. Upon being released from incarceration, Plaintiff was required to register as a sex offender¹ pursuant to the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act ("SORA").

¹ Plaintiff is classified as Tier III offender pursuant to the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA) based on his 2005 conviction and must register every ninety (90) days. S.C. Code Ann. 23-3-460(B).

On or about May 18, 2015, Plaintiff Edward L. Green filed this "Petition for Declaratory Judgment" against Defendants Chief Keel, SLED, and the State of South Carolina, regarding certain provisions governing the Registry. The Plaintiff contends that "equity is reserved for situations where there is no adequate remedy at law;" "the facts before this Court do not support a finding that he is or ever was a predator or child molester;" the lifelong Registry requirement is wildly disproportionate to the underlying conduct;" "justice compels a remedy...and that justice is served by granting the Petitioner personal relief;" and "Petitioner is entitled to an Order ... remov[ing] his name from the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry immediately." Compl. ¶¶13, 15-18.

"Summary judgment is appropriate when the pleadings, depositions, affidavits, and discovery on file show there is no genuine issue of material fact such that the moving party must prevail as a matter of law." Rules Civ. Proc., Rule 56. Knight v. Austin, 396 S.C. 518, 521-22, 722 S.E.2d 802, 804 (2012). "The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Englert, Inc. v. Leafguard USA, Inc., 377 S.C. 129, 133-34, 659 S.E.2d 496, 498 (2008). In determining whether summary judgment is appropriate, the evidence and all reasonable inferences must be viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Town of Hollywood v. Floyd, 403 S.C. 466, 477, 744 S.E.2d 161, 166 (2013).

ARGUMENT

"A declaratory judgment action is neither legal nor equitable, and therefore, the standard of review is determined by the nature of the underlying issue." Auto Owners Ins. Co. v. Newman, 385 S.C. 187, 191, 684 S.E.2d 541, 543 (2009). "Whether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law.” Lozada v. S.C. Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011).

The South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act (“SORA”) lists the only mechanisms and avenues by which an individual can be removed from the Sex Offender Registry.² Pursuant to § 23-3-430(E), “SLED shall remove a person’s name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person’s adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered.” S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(F), an offender who receives a pardon “based on a finding of not guilty specifically stated in the pardon” shall be removed from sex offender registry. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). And finally, § 23-3-430(G) mandates removal for individuals exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). These are the only lawful avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the Registry can be removed.

Equitable relief sought by the Plaintiff in this matter is not simply available. The South Carolina Supreme Court has noted that “[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law” and that an “adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute.” Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) (emphasis added). The Court further noted that an “‘adequate’ remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity.” Id at 621. This does not, however, mean that the person seeking relief must be eligible for the relief set forth in the statute. Rather, it means only that some certain definitive statutory relief exists. Key Corp. Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc., 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123. Ultimately, the Supreme Court in Santee Cooper noted that “the court’s equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute.” 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123 (emphasis added).

Moreover, it is well-known and undisputed that “equity follows the law.” This maxim alone is a basis for denying equitable relief in this case. See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011); Morgan v. S.C. Budget & Control Bd., 377 S.C. 313, 319–20, 659 S.E.2d 263, 267 (Ct. App. 2008). Furthermore, South Carolina law is also clear that “[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law.” Lozada, 395 S.C. at 512, 719 S.E.2d at 259.

South Carolina’s statutory lifetime registration requirement is set forth in an unambiguously worded statute. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (“A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life.”).³ As such, South Carolina law mandates that there is no equitable jurisdiction in this matter. The Defendants respectfully assert that this Court’s powers must yield in the face of South Carolina’s unambiguously worded SORA, which sets forth lifetime registration. Removal of an individual, by another means other than one of the enumerated avenues, is a violation of the South Carolina Constitution’s mandate for the separation of powers. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8; Key Corp. Capital, Inc., 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007) (finding error in fashioning an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute setting forth certain remedies); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc., 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123.

³ Certain offenders must register every ninety days. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460(B).

This situation is analogous to legislatively mandated minimum sentences for criminal offenses. See S.C. Code Ann. § 16-11-330 (10 years); S.C. Code Ann. § 44-53-370 (various mandatory minimums for distribution or trafficking illegal drugs); S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-30 (30 years). Following convictions of these offenses, the General Assembly has prohibited judges from sentencing individuals below the statutorily set amount, and these statutory minimums have been consistently upheld as being lawful. See State v. De La Cruz, 302 S.C. 13, 393 S.E.2d 184 (1990); State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 543 S.E.2d 541 (2001); State v. Johnson, 350 S.C. 543, 567 S.E.2d 486 (Ct. App. 2002). There is no equitable allowance for a lighter sentence. The South Carolina Supreme Court has also noted that:

[u]nder the mandatory sentencing guidelines, the prosecutor can still choose not to pursue the triggering offenses or to plea the charges down to non-triggering offenses. Choosing which crime to charge a defendant with is the essence of prosecutorial discretion, not choosing which sentence the court shall impose upon conviction. Further, we found the matter of sentencing if convicted of a triggering offense to be a matter within the province of the legislature.

Jones, 344 S.C. at 56, 543 S.E.2d at 545 (internal citations omitted) (emphasis added).

Similarly, the duration of an individual's sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and there is no judicial discretion over this duration without violating the South Carolina Constitution. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8 ("In the government of this State, the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of the government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other.").

The Plaintiff asserts that he "is entitled to equitable relief in this matter" and that "equity is reserved for situations where there is no adequate remedy at law." Compl. ¶¶12-13. However, the law in South Carolina is clear; the Plaintiff does not meet any of these statutory criteria in § 23-3-430 such that he is entitled to removal. In fact, there is no indication that he have even attempted to avail himself of any of the statutory avenues for removal. Since the Plaintiff does not qualify for removal, he is simply asking this Court to legislate and create a remedy for him that does not exist in the statute. Therefore, this requested relief requires this Court to impermissibly act as a superlegislature and to add language to an unchallenged constitutional and unambiguously worded statute, which would violate the South Carolina Constitution. Essentially the Plaintiff argues that if a statute does not include him, he is entitled to equitable relief to obtain indirectly what he cannot obtain directly.

Since there is no legal basis for the Plaintiff to be removed from the Registry, the Plaintiff is not entitled to removal through equitable relief.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above and all those to be advanced at the hearing of this matter, judgment should be granted to the Defendants Chief Keel and the State of South Carolina.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
C/A NO.: 2015-CP-40-590

PETITIONER'S RETURN TO
MOTION OF RESPONDENT(S)

RICHLAND COUNTY
FILED
2015 JUL 13 AM 9:07
JEANETTE W. MCBRIDE
C.C.P. & G.S.

To: Adam L. Whitsett, Attorney for the Respondent(s):

The Petitioner, by and through his counsel, Charles T. Brooks III, responds to the Respondent's Motion for Summary Judgment as filed with this Court as follows:

The Respondent's Motion for Summary Judgment should be denied for the following grounds;

Equitable personal relief is an appropriate request here because there is not a complete remedy available at law. "Equity abhors a wrong without a remedy." Key Corp. Capital, Inc. v.
County of Beaufort, 360 S.C. 513, 602 S.E.2d 104 (S.C. App. 2004) citing State ex. rel. Daniel v.
Strong, 185 S.C. 27, 43, 192 S.E. 671, 678 (1937). "Equity is reserved for situations where there is no adequate remedy at law." Id. at 107 (citing Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. South Carolina
Public Serv. Comm'n., 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989).

The issue here is not whether the Petitioner should be placed on the sex offender registry, which is a question of law, but rather and most importantly here, whether the Petitioner should be removed from the sex offender registry based on the principles of equity, for which there is no complete remedy provided at law for such removal.

The Respondent argues there is an adequate remedy at law that governs the facts herein because South Carolina Code Ann. Section 23-3-430 (Supp. 2013) provides the procedure for placement on and removal from the sex offender registry. The question here is certainly not placement on the sex offender registry, but rather, removal therefrom. Section 23-3-430(E) provides "SLED shall remove a person's name and any information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person's adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered." S.C. Code Ann. Sec. 23-3-430(E) (Supp. 2013).

Section 23-3-430(E) provides for the "resulting action" of "when" a person's name may be removed from the sex offender registry and it is strictly limited to an appeal. S.C. Code Ann. Sec. 23-3-430(E) (Supp. 2013). Further, the code section does not provide for a complete remedy at law for removal from the sex offender registry, and the code section does not restrict the ability to pursue an equitable relief action for removal since it only provides a remedy relating to an appeal. S.C. Code Ann. Sec. 23-3-430(E) (Supp. 2013). Therefore, there is not an adequate and complete remedy available at law for the removal from the sex offender registry, especially as in the case herein, when the qualifying offense occurred decades ago from any appealable time frame.

The other subsections of Section 23-3-430, do not provide other remedies at law for the removal from the sex offender registry that would and could afford the Petitioner herein complete relief at law such as the pardon procedure or the new trial procedure. S.C. Code Ann.

Sec. 23-3-430(E) (Supp. 2013). Therefore, there is no complete remedy at law and equitable relief is appropriate.

For all of the foregoing reasons, the Respondent's Motion for Summary Judgment should be denied.

2 THE COURT: All right. Are y'all here for Keel?
3 Green versus Mark Keel?

4 MR. WHITSETT: We are, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: All right. So you're here for Defendant's
6 Motion for Summary Judgment in Edward Green versus Mark
7 Keel from SLED. The Plaintiff is represented by Charles
8 Brooks?

9 MR. BROOKS: That's me.

10 THE COURT: And the Defendant by Adam Whitsett; is 11 that correct?

12 MR. WHITSETT: That's correct, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: All right. And, Mr. Whitsett, I'll hear
14 from you. This is your motion.

15 MR. WHITSETT: Thank you, Your Honor. May it please
16 the Court? I would like to go ahead and hand up some 17 materials that I will reference throughout the argument.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. WHITSETT: I know I filed the memo last week, but 20 I have an additional copy just in case.

21 THE COURT: Okay. And I do have your memorandum.

22 MR. WHITSETT: And then there's a couple of cases
23 which we'll cover in-depth, both the Court of Appeals
24 opinion and the Supreme Court opinion from the same case,
25 but there's a very sort of interesting history that we'll

1 touch on and we'll cover.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. WHITSETT: Thank you, Your Honor. May it please
4 the Court? We're here today because we believe that the 5 Defendant -- all of the Defendants in this action are 6 entitled to a judgment as a matter of law, and that's
7 based largely on the requested relief in this action,
8 which would be a request of this Court to remove Mr. Green
9 from the Sex Offender Registry outside the confines of 10 the statutory sort of mechanisms to do that is simply not
11 relief that is available. And, in fact, for this Court
12 to basically rewrite the statute would be unconstitutional,
13 would be contrary to the clear and unambiguous laws of 14 this state, and it's simply relief that's not available as 15 a matter of law.

16 Essentially they're asking for this Court to act as 17 a super-legislature, and that's a term that's coined by 18 the South Carolina Supreme Court, and to simply just 19 rewrite a constitutional, clear, unambiguous statute and 20 add language to a statute that just does not exist and we 21 believe that for any court to simply rewrite, you know, a
22 constitutional, clear and unambiguous statute would be a
23 clear violation of the separation of powers as set forth
24 in the South Carolina Constitution.

25 You know, the South Carolina legislature writes and

1 enacts the laws of this state. They set the legislative --
2 you know, they set all of the laws that we all follow as
3 the executive branch, as the judiciary, and the statutes
4 in place in this type of action, which is specifically
5 23-3-430, sets forth the only legal and permissible avenues
6 for individuals that are on the registry to seek removal
7 from the registry, and it's really only the legislature,
8 and that's a matter of sort of legislature prerogative to 9 do that.

10 I mean, everyone can think they should do more, they 11 should do less. That's sort of public opinion on it; it is 12 what it is, but that's a matter of legislative prerogative
13 and the legislature has said clearly and unequivocally
14 these are the only avenues for which someone that's on the 15 registry can seek removal from the registry and that 16 registration in South Carolina is for life. It's clear,
17 it's unambiguous, it's very straightforward statutes.

18 The Plaintiff in this case has not even sought to 19 use those statutory avenues for relief, but is asking for 20 this Court to sort of just disregard that they exist and 21 to rewrite that statute to add an additional avenue and 22 just to say well, it's just somehow the constitutional
23 application of a constitutional, non-punitive clear and 24 unambiguous statute somehow constitutes a wrong, that this 25 Court should step in and sort of exercise some equitable

1 power to rewrite this statute. We don't believe that that 2 is even a permissible or constitutional application of the 3 law and it's a well-known equitable maxim.

4 THE COURT: And here there's no -- there's no
5 constitutional arguments being made. This is purely one
6 of equity that's being made?

7 MR. WHITSETT: That's how we certainly read the --

8 THE COURT: Well, when I see the complaint, it's --

9 MR. WHITSETT: It's purely an equitable -- it's 10 purely equitable relief there and so in the equitable 11 maxim, equity follows the law, and when crafting -- and 12 the courts have also provided a significant amount of 13 guidance on when crafting an equitable relief or even 14 contemplating that you have to follow the statutes, you
15 can't simply disregard the law, you can't simply disregard
16 the rules. And, in fact, the South Carolina Supreme Court
17 has said unequivocally that the Court's equitable powers
18 must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute.
19 That comes from the Santee Cooper case that's quoted
20 throughout the motion and the memo and so we would 21 incorporate all of those arguments as well.

22 And the situation -- the best analogy that I can come
23 up with is one that I've referenced and it's certainly 24 within the legislature setting the statutory minimums or 25 maximum sentences, okay? If the legislature says that

1 the sentencing range in the statute is between five and
2 thirty years, the Court simply doesn't have the equitable
3 jurisdiction to go below that or to go above that. I mean,
4 there are some things that just the legislature sets that
5 must be followed and so, you know, if you take the argument
6 that's being offered in this case that Court's have the 7 equitable powers to sort of go beyond the statutes when 8 they think they should, it would be the same type of 9 argument. Well, I know the sentencing range on this
10 offense is five years, but I think he should get two, so
11 I'm just gonna give you two. I just don't think that is a
12 constitutional or sort of legal analysis or legal argument
13 here.

14 And, in fact, if you look at the Key Corporate 15 Capital, the actual Key Corporate Capital and Supreme 16 Court case quoted in our material, it says it's beyond the 17 court's power to effect a change in the statutes and the 18 courts -- and I think that quotes the Heinzerling case
19 which says the courts do not sit as a super-legislature to 20 second guess the wisdom or the following of the decisions
21 of the General Assembly. I mean, it's really -- we can 22 like it, we cannot like it, but some things are just for 23 the legislature and if, you know, the lifetime registration
24 is an issue that should be revisited or should be looked 25 at, that's something for the legislature to do. The

1 legislature is free to enact a statute and change it and
2 add more avenues or to lessen the amount of time, but
3 that's something that -- that, you know, absent some 4 statutory authorization or some legal authorization, the 5 courts and the executive branch are just simply without 6 the power to do. And so, you know, we -- we feel, you
7 know, that because this entire action is really just asking
8 the Court to go around the statutory framework, that, you
9 know, the defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter
10 of law.

11 I've handed up the Johnson case because I think it's 12 an important case and I think it forms a lot of the basis
13 of opposing counsel's arguments on this case. In this 14 specific issue, the court's equitable powers to remove 15 someone has not been finally adjudicated by the appellate 16 courts. There was a case out of Marion County or Florence
17 County, it was the Twelfth Circuit, the Johnson case, where 18 it started off as a constitutional challenge and sort of 19 through the course of that case ultimately the judge said
20 well, it's constitutional that he remain on there, but I'm 21 gonna just use my equitable powers and simply remove you.
22 There was a motion for reconsideration filed on that case,
23 but unfortunately at the trial court level the court's 24 equitable powers and the court's equitable jurisdiction was 25 not specifically raised. That issue was addressed very

1 squarely at the South Carolina Court of Appeals and they
2 issued a very sort of detailed analysis on the court's
3 equitable powers as it relates to the Sex Offender
4 Registry, and I've handed that up and highlighted it, and
5 the Court of Appeals specifically said it's well-known that
6 equity follows the law and that, you know, while equitable
7 relief is generally available when there's no adequate
8 remedy at law, an adequate remedy may be provided by 9 statute. The courts cannot simply disregard the statutes
10 when contemplating and fashioning equitable remedies and 11 specifically the court's equitable powers must yield in 12 the face of unambiguously worded statutes. They sort of 13 analyzed this very specifically and went through look,
14 there's several statutory methods that individuals can 15 seek. In that case, he simply didn't qualify for them,
16 but the court said that's not enough to exercise equitable 17 jurisdiction. He's still got an adequate legal remedy, the 18 statute provides them, but just because he doesn't qualify
19 doesn't mean that this court can go beyond the statutes and 20 rewrite it.

21 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

22 MR. WHITSETT: Now, unfortunately, as I said --

23 THE COURT: Well, then certainly this is something
24 that could have been brought up on appeal if there was a
25 constitutional argument with regard to cruel and unusual

1 punishment. I know that we've had a Supreme Court case
2 recently with regard to GPS monitoring for folks where the
3 Supreme Court has made some changes to the law based on 4 constitutional arguments.

5 MR. WHITSETT: And Johnson really started out as a
6 constitutional argument and he -- the trial court in that
7 case ruled it was absolutely constitutional for this
8 individual to have remained on the registry and that there
9 was no legitimate constitutional challenge and then just 10 sort of on its own exercised equitable jurisdiction and 11 so the constitutionality wasn't appealed when they had 12 their favorable ruling, so they didn't appeal the 13 constitutionality, so that -- that wasn't the issue that 14 went up to the Court of Appeals. It really just went up
15 on, you know, the state's appeal of his sort of exercising
16 equitable jurisdiction and --

17 THE COURT: And the Supreme Court reversed the Court
18 of Appeals based on grounds of preservation?

19 MR. WHITSETT: Preservation only, and was very 20 specific about that and said it was error to deal with the 21 merits, you know, to deal with the equitable jurisdiction,
22 and reversed it. Now, you know, I know opposing counsel
23 and I read that case differently. I don't believe that 24 that is a merits ruling by the Supreme Court that the trial
25 court was correct in its equitable analysis. I think that

1 case says what it says. You know, the State did not
2 properly preserve the equitable issue and the Court of 3 Appeals was wrong for addressing it.

4 THE COURT: Right, and they're reversing the Court of 5 Appeals opinion on preservation only.

6 MR. WHITSETT: On preservation, and they say that 7 very specifically in the very last line. We reverse on 8 preservation grounds. And so -- I mean, my position is 9 while it's certainly not binding authority, the Court of 10 Appeals is the only appellate court to have actually 11 analyzed this issue and we think that the analysis is 12 obviously supported by the law and that's the same analysis
13 that we would argue be applied in this case.

14 And so, you know, at the end of the day we do think
15 that the Defendant -- there is no equitable jurisdiction
16 that applies in this matter, that the constitutional
17 application of a clear and unambiguous and constitutional
18 statute does not constitute a wrong for which equity even 19 need be sort of analyzed, but even if you get into the 20 equity analysis, equity follows the law and the court's
21 equitable powers must yield in the face of these statutes.

22 And so -- and there's just no legal or permissible
23 avenue for relief in this case and we believe that it is 24 appropriate for summary judgment because there's no genuine
25 issue of material fact, there's no dispute that none of the

1 statutory avenues were even attempted or that they somehow
2 apply and so there's really no genuine issue of material
3 fact, you know, on the legal issue of whether this court
4 has the equitable power to simply remove someone that's 5 properly on the registry from the registry sort of the 6 outside the confines of the statutes and so we would ask
7 for summary judgment on that because we do believe that we
8 are entitled to it as a matter of law.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you very much. Mr. Brooks,
10 I'll hear from you.

11 MR. BROOKS: Mr. Whitsett and I've argued a few of 12 these and so I've kind of gotten accustomed to his points
13 of argument and he's probably got accustomed to mine.
14 Judge, our position is this. Here you have -- in this 15 case, the case that I'm bringing before you is Edward 16 Green, and Edward Green pled guilty back in 2005 and got 17 sentenced under the YOA statute. Under the sexual 18 registry statute, the only way he can get off is to go
19 back and overturn that conviction. It's 2015. That's not 20 practical. If he filed a PCR, the attorney general's 21 office, as Your Honor is well aware, they'd come in and say
22 hey, it's a one-year statute of limitations and even if he 23 filed it back then they would say you pled guilty, you were 24 of sound mind and knew exactly what you were doing, and the 25 only other way to get off of it is to get a specific pardon

1 that said he didn't do it. Well, that's really not
2 something that -- that he can do because obviously he's
3 pled guilty to it, but you're talking about something over
4 the course of ten years.

5 Now a few of the other cases that Mr. Whitsett and 6 I've argued dealt with people who were -- that had been --
7 had received convictions prior to the implementation of 8 the registry and Mr. Green's situation is different because 9 he clearly was convicted with the registry in place. Our 10 position is that the statute is not necessarily adequate
11 and I know Mr. Whitsett makes arguments about the judiciary
12 staying in its place and the legislative branch --

13 THE COURT: Why didn't he appeal it from that 14 perspective? Even if he was otherwise okay with the 15 sentence, if he believed that this piece of the registry
16 was inequitable, unfair, unconstitutional, why not at 17 that point make the argument rather than try to have a
18 declaratory judgment based on -- where you ask for a court
19 in equity to say that the legislature was wrong? I mean,
20 that's a really tough ask of a court.

21 MR. BROOKS: I understand, Judge. I understand the 22 arguments that my esteemed opposing counsel has made and I
23 understand what you're asking, but understand that you're 24 talking about in terms of Mr. Green's situation, we're 25 looking at his case individually, you're talking about a

1 guy who, you know, plead guilty in 2005 under the Youthful
2 Offender Act. Obviously he's a young guy, didn't know,
3 and a lot of times people don't really know what the 4 ramifications are of the registry until they have gotten 5 through the punitive part of whatever the sentence is that 6 they had. In his situation, he got a youthful offender, he 7 comes out, he does everything he's supposed to do, but all
8 of a sudden he realizes hey, while I'm out I've got to go
9 and comply and register with the sheriff's department every 10 six months, every three months, depending on the person's 11 situation, and we think that that's a hardship bordering on 12 the lines of being a punitive situation. I know the courts
13 have kind of jumped in in some of those situations, but 14 that brings me to the case you had already mentioned that 15 dealt with GPS monitoring with Dykes. In that situation,
16 the Supreme Court jumped in when it really wasn't asked
17 and said this statute was not proper and invalidated the 18 statute when it dealt with GPS monitoring.

19 THE COURT: Well, how was that brought before the 20 court? How did that come to the court's attention, that 21 issue?

22 MR. BROOKS: That issue came up in terms of 23 that individual bringing an action challenging the 24 constitutionality of the GPS monitoring, if I'm not 25 mistaken. Obviously -- I do have the opinion on it.

1 THE COURT: If you have it, could you hand me the 2 case?

3 MR. BROOKS: I don't have the case. I have the 4 opinion on it.

5 THE COURT: Okay. That will help.

6 MR. BROOKS: It is 27124.

7 THE COURT: Yeah, that's just the opinion number.
8 That's not the cite. I think you can just do Dykes and 9 GPS monitoring and it will come up. D-Y-K-E-S. Let me
10 just quickly review this. It's a 2013 case.

11 Okay. So she was arrested for violating her probation
12 and at that point it was determined that she was subject to 13 lifetime GPS monitoring and -- and so Ms. Dykes appealed
14 the circuit court's order at the point when the judge
15 ordered her to be subject to satellite monitoring for the 16 rest of her life.

17 MR. BROOKS: That is -- that is correct. And granted
18 Mr. Green is in a different situation.

19 THE COURT: Right.

20 MR. BROOKS: But obviously I'm using that case to 21 point out that the judiciary has jumped in where -- to use
22 my opposing counsel's argument.

23 THE COURT: Right. But procedure is so important.
24 There they were determining whether a statute was 25 constitutional and -- and they were able to explain why

1 they thought that it was not constitutional. Here it's
2 not an issue of constitutionality, it's just fairness.

3 MR. BROOKS: I agree, Judge, and -- and bear in mind,
4 like I said, Mr. Whitsett and me, we've got a couple of 5 these cases.

6 THE COURT: You've duke'd it out before, sure.

7 MR. BROOKS: We've duke'd it out. Some of my clients
8 are in different situations, which he's not in.

9 THE COURT: Right.

10 MR. BROOKS: Mr. Green's situation is probably more --

11 THE COURT: He's just a sympathetic character.

12 MR. BROOKS: Right. Because a lot of times --

13 THE COURT: He's a young guy.

14 MR. BROOKS: -- in the cases we've had that we've 15 argued before the people had done something long before the 16 registry was even in existence.

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MR. BROOKS: In Mr. Green's case, it does come down,
19 you know, and he did -- he had this case during the time
20 of the registry. Our position is that, you know, to have 21 these individuals be subject to lifetime registration we 22 feel that without some type of judicial review is just 23 inadequate because the statute itself does not have an 24 adequate remedy for the vast majority of these individuals
25 who are faced with having to register and I know like Adam

1 said well, you know, the legislature, you need to go over
2 there and you do all that, and he and I chatted about that
3 just off the record, but, you know, our position is in the 4 Johnson case while the Court of Appeals does go through 5 and gives this analysis in regards to challenging the 6 registration and all that, that's no longer the law simply 7 because the Supreme Court overturned it. Now why they 8 overturned it, you know, preservation or not preserving an 9 issue of equity, well, you know, I would argue that, one,
10 by them overturning that means that the Court of Appeals
11 case is no longer the law --

12 THE COURT: That's right. You're right about that.

13 MR. BROOKS: And, number two, it's not like the 14 Supreme Court was sitting in vacuum. They knew hey, if 15 we overturn this, now the Court of Appeals case is no
16 longer the law. By saying that there's no -- that we're 17 overturning simply because of not preserving the issue of 18 equity, we're, in fact, saying that equity is an issue
19 worth arguing. If it wasn't, there wouldn't be any need
20 to say you didn't preserve it. I mean, you -- because 21 you know from your time as the Clerk of the Court of 22 Appeals there's a lot of issues that people raise and 23 people go up there and the court says well, you know, this 24 is not an issue, we won't even entertain it, we won't do
25 anything, but if the Supreme Court in this case says hey,

1 we're gonna overturn this because it wasn't preserved on
2 an equity issue. Well, by saying that they're saying that 3 this is a worthwhile issue and --

4 THE COURT: Not necessarily. I think that they are 5 just reminding perhaps the Court of Appeals of what Judge
6 Sanders said, which is that courts of appeal should behave
7 like good stepchildren and only speak when spoken to and 8 only answer questions that are asked of them.

9 MR. BROOKS: That's one way of looking at it, but now
10 Mr. Green would say this is fair game, this opens the door.
11 Mr. Johnson got off the registry, why can't I get off the 12 registry? So at least let me have my hearing to determine
13 am I somebody that is a threat because basically, going
14 back, that's what the registry was all about. We wanted
15 -- as a society, we wanted to know what individuals are a
16 threat out there, we want the police to know about them,
17 we want the public to know about them. That's more in 18 letting all these people know. And the reason is because 19 we have this assumption that if somebody did a sexual 20 offense, they're likely to do it again. Now it may not 21 be in Mr. Green's case, but I'm going into a lot of these 22 cases I've had with Mr. Whitsett. I've had some of these 23 guys evaluated by Dr. Thomas Martin, forensic psychiatrist, 24 to determine whether or not a person is a risk and we have 25 submitted some affidavits. Mind you, not in this case. I

1 don't think we've got one in this case, but the reason we
2 did that was to kind of show hey, the guy has changed such.
3 In Mr. Green's case, it's been ten years. In many other
4 cases people have been on the registry for years and years
5 and people had convictions that, you know, preceded the 6 registry by five, ten years or such, and these individuals
7 -- a lot of these individuals have not even gotten so much
8 as a speeding ticket in a lot of cases. So while I am kind
9 of expanding to talk about a lot of the individuals as it
10 relates to Mr. Green's case, the reason I'm doing that,
11 Judge, is I think it's very important to allow Mr. Green to 12 have a hearing to determine whether or not he has an 13 equitable issue at all.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you very much.

15 All right. I have read the Motion for Summary
16 Judgment and the pertinent cases and the Motion for Summary
17 Judgment is granted. I find that the General Assembly
18 enacted an unambiguously worded statute that sets forth the 19 legal remedies available to an individual on the registry
20 and where the sole issue before me is whether I can use my 21 equitable powers to remove Mr. Green from the registry, I
22 find that my equitable powers have to yield in the face of 23 an unambiguously worded statute.

24 Mr. Whitsett, could you prepare an order for me,
25 please?

1 MR. WHITSETT: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

3 MR. WHITSETT: Thank you, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Do you know about how long it will be just
5 so I can tickle it in my own records?

6 MR. WHITSETT: My hope would be to have it this week,
7 maybe next week at the latest.

8 THE COURT: Okay. We'll start bugging you next week
9 if we don't have it, okay?

10 MR. WHITSETT: Thank you, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Thank you all both. You both argued it
12 very well.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
Case No.: 2015-CP-40-00590

DEFENDANTS' MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF SUMMARY JUDGMENT

RICHLAND COUNTY
FILED
SEP 23 AM 10:30
JANETTE W. MCBRIDE
C.C.P. & G.S.

In support of the Motion for Summary Judgment previously filed in this matter, the Defendants would submit the following:

STANDARD OF REVIEW

A motion for summary judgment shall be granted "if the pleadings... show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001) citing Rule 56(c), SCRPC (emphasis in original).

"The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Bankers Trust of South Carolina v. Benson, 267 S.C. 152, 155, 226 S.E.2d 703, 704 (1976).

ARGUMENT

Based on the following, there is no genuine issue of material fact in dispute in this matter. Further, there is no factual dispute requiring the services of a fact finder. Accordingly, Defendants are entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. See George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001); Rule 56(c), SCRPC.

South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry statutes, S.C. Code § 23-3-400 et seq., list the only mechanisms and avenues by which an individual can be removed from the Sex Offender Registry.¹ See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E), (F), (G). As such, these are the only lawful and permissible avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the Registry can be removed. However, there is no genuine issue of material fact to suggest that Plaintiff meets any of these statutory criteria. Rather, the Plaintiff was convicted of Criminal Sexual Conduct 3rd Degree, and this conviction mandates lifetime registration. See S.C. Code Ann. §23-3-430; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (setting forth lifetime registration in South Carolina in an unambiguously worded statute - "for life"). Accordingly, there is no legal or constitutional basis for the Plaintiff to be removed from South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry and the Defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (mandating lifetime registration in South Carolina); S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430 (setting forth the only avenues for removal).

The Plaintiff's entire argument in this matter is that his constitutional registration requirement is still somehow a "wrong" in need of an equitable remedy. This argument is without merit. The constitutional application of a non-punitive statute is not a "wrong" cognizable in the law. Further, it is well-known that "equity follows the law". See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011). Moreover, South Carolina law is clear: "[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law." Lozada v. South Carolina Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011) citing Noisette v. Ismail, 299 S.C. 243, 247, 384 S.E.2d 310, 312 (Ct. App. 1989).

¹ In fact, the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the South Carolina sex offender registry are provided by this same code section. See S.C. Code § 23-3-430.

The South Carolina Supreme Court has also held unequivocally that "the court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S. Carolina Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989)(emphasis added); see also Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007) (finding error in fashioning an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute setting forth certain remedies).

Furthermore, for a Court to fashion an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute would be a clear violation of the South Carolina Constitution's mandate for the separation of powers. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8. The South Carolina Constitution specifically provides that "the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of the government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other." S.C. Const. art. I, § 8. The duration of sex offender registration is a matter of public policy that is solely in the province of the South Carolina Legislature. As such, any attempt by any court to invade the Legislature's exclusive province is a violation of the separation of powers and is unconstitutional. Id. In addition, the South Carolina Supreme Court has specifically held that [i]f a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning." Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute's operation. Id. Moreover, "it is beyond this Court's power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature." State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does "not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly").

Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 59, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007) (emphasis added). This entire action seeks for this Court to impermissibly and unconstitutionally act as a "superlegislature" and to add language to an unambiguously worded constitutional statute. As such, this request must fail and the Defendants are entitled to summary judgment in this matter.

This situation is comparable to legislatively mandated sentences for criminal offenses, whether minimums or maximums. With regard to sentencing for an offense that has a mandatory sentence range, the South Carolina Legislature has unilaterally prohibited judges from sentencing individuals outside the statutorily set amounts. However, these statutory ranges, and more specifically the statutorily mandated minimum sentences are, and have been consistently upheld as being, lawful. See State v. De La Cruz, 302 S.C. 13, 393 S.E.2d 184 (1990); State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 543 S.E.2d 541 (2001); State v. Johnson, 350 S.C. 543, 567 S.E.2d 486 (Ct. App. 2002). In fact, the South Carolina Supreme Court conclusively resolved this issue in State v. De La Cruz indicating [w]e have held in the past that "[t]he penalty assessed for a particular offense is, except in the rarest of cases, "purely a matter of legislative prerogative," and the legislature's judgment will not be disturbed." State v. Smith, 275 S.C. 164, 167, 268 S.E.2d 276, 277 (1980) (quoting Rummel v. Estelle, 445 U.S. 263, 100 S.Ct. 1133, 63 L.Ed.2d 382 (1980)). Judicial discretion in sentencing, in suspending sentences, and in designating that sentences run concurrent or consecutive is subject to statutory restriction. See Mistretta v. United States, 488 U.S. 361, ---, 109 S.Ct. 647, 650, 102 L.Ed.2d 714, 725-726 (1989), wherein the United States Supreme Court noted, *16 "Congress, of course, has the power to fix the sentence for a federal crime, and the scope of judicial discretion with respect to a sentence is subject to congressional control." (Citing United States v. Wiltberger, 18 U.S. (5 Wheat) 76, 5 L.Ed. 37 (1820); Ex Parte United States, 242 U.S. 27, 37 S.Ct. 72, 61 L.Ed. 129 (1916)).

302 S.C. 13, 15-16, 393 S.E.2d 184, 186 (1990) (emphasis added).² Similarly, the duration of an individual's sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and there is no judicial discretion over this duration without violating the South Carolina Constitution and South Carolina law. S.C. Const. art. I, § 8; S.C. Code Ann. §23-3-430; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (setting forth lifetime registration in South Carolina in an unambiguously worded statute).

Furthermore, the purely equitable relief sought by the Plaintiff in this matter is simply not available as a matter of law. The South Carolina Supreme Court has noted that "[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law" and that an "adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) citing 27 Am. Jur. 2d, Equity, § 94 (1966) (emphasis added). The Santee Cooper Court further noted that an "'adequate' remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity." Id. This does not however mean that the person seeking relief must be eligible for the relief set forth in the statute. Rather, it means only that some certain definitive statutory relief exists. Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989). Ultimately, the Court in Santee Cooper noted that "the court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S. Carolina Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989)(emphasis added). Similarly, the Defendants respectfully assert that this Court's equitable powers must yield in the face of South Carolina's unambiguously worded Sex Offender Registry laws, which set forth lifetime registration.

² It is noteworthy that sex offender registration has been consistently held not to be "punitive in purpose or effect as to constitute a criminal penalty." State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002). However, the same sentiment would apply to an administrative requirement like registration in terms of the legislative prerogative.

OTHER CIRCUIT COURT RULINGS

While not binding authority in this action, the Defendants wish to notify this Court of several recent circuit court rulings on the issue at bar.³

On May 1, 2015, The Honorable Clifton Newman ruled that “there is no equitable remedy or equitable jurisdiction applicable to this matter” in a case involving identical arguments to those being set forth in this case. Order of The Honorable Clifton Newman, Kenneth W. Signor v. Mark Keel, Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, and the State of South Carolina, Civil Action No(s): 2014-CP-43-00968, May 1, 2015, pg. 7 (unpublished). A copy of this order is attached hereto, incorporated by reference herein, and identified as Attachment 1.

Similarly, on May 20, 2015, The Honorable Thomas A. Russo granted a Judgment on the Pleadings to these same Defendants in a case that is identical to this case.⁴ Specifically, Judge Russo ruled that “there is simply no equitable remedy or equitable jurisdiction application to this matter and the Defendants are entitled to judgment on the pleadings. Furthermore, I find and conclude that for this court to act as a ‘superlegislature’ and to unilaterally add language to an unchallenged, unambiguously worded statute would violate South Carolina law and the South Carolina Constitution.” Melvin T. Roberts v. Mark Keel, Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, and the State of South Carolina, Civil Action No(s): 2014-CP-21-01973, May 20, 2015, pg. 7 (unpublished). A copy of this order is attached hereto, incorporated by reference herein, and identified as Attachment 2.

³ Upon information and belief, all of these orders have been appealed and are currently awaiting adjudication at the South Carolina Court of Appeals.

⁴ Judge Russo signed this Order on April 16, 2015; however, it was not filed until May 20, 2015.

Finally, on June 16, 2015, The Honorable Clifton Newman ruled again that there was no equitable jurisdiction applicable to remove an individual from South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry. Marty Lee Barnes v. Mark Keel, Chief of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division, and the State of South Carolina, Civil Action No(s): 2012-CP-43-00535, June 16, 2015 (unpublished). A copy of this order is attached hereto, incorporated by reference herein, and identified as Attachment 3.

CONCLUSION

Accordingly, for the reasons stated above and all those to be advanced at the hearing of this matter, summary judgment should be granted to the Defendants.

ORDER GRANTING JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS

This matter came before me on February 9, 2015 for a motion hearing on the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings. The Defendants were represented at the hearing by Adam L. Whitsett, Esquire, General Counsel to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division and Assistant Attorney General Courtney Lowell.¹ The Plaintiff was represented by Charles T. Brooks, III, Esquire, of The Brooks Law Office, LLC. Based upon the arguments presented at the hearing and the applicable South Carolina law, I hereby GRANT the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings in this matter.

BACKGROUND

In or about 1987, Plaintiff was convicted of Criminal Sexual Conduct with a Minor 2nd Degree and Lewd Act with a Minor on or about the year 1987 and was sentenced to fifteen (15) years of incarceration for to the Criminal Sexual Conduct conviction and a term of five (5) years for the Lewd Act conviction. The Plaintiff was released from incarceration on or about April 1, 1994.

During Plaintiff's incarceration, the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act² was passed requiring Plaintiff to register as a sex offender. The Plaintiff has registered since that time. See State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's sex offender registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions").

The Plaintiff filed this action based solely on equitable grounds, seeking a declaratory judgment and requesting that this Court remove the Plaintiff from the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry. See Complaint. The Plaintiff concedes that he does not meet any of the statutory criteria for removal as set forth in S.C. Code § 23-3-430, and that he has not sought to avail himself to any of these statutory avenues for removal. Id. The Defendants filed this Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings asserting that South Carolina law prohibits the relief sought by the Plaintiff.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

"After the pleadings are closed but within such time as not to delay the trial, any party may move for judgment on the pleadings." Rule 12, SCRPC.

"Where the pleadings are fatally deficient in substance or fail to state a good cause of action in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment on the pleadings is proper. Whereas here the pleadings disclose all facts necessary or where the pleadings present no issue of fact the Court may exercise its discretion." Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus., Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 422, 297 S.E.2d 638, 640 (1982). The grant of a judgment on the pleadings is within the discretion of the trial court. Id.

A "motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is proper where pleadings entitle a party to judgment without proof, by disclosure of all facts, where the pleadings present no issue of fact or present merely an immaterial issue.” Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus., Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 422, 297 S.E.2d 638, 640 (1982).

DISCUSSION

South Carolina’s Sex Offender Registry statutes, S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-400 et seq., provide the only lawful mechanisms and avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the registry can be removed.³ Pursuant to § 23-3-430(E), “SLED shall remove a person’s name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person’s adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered.” S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(F), an offender who receives a pardon “based on a finding of not guilty specifically stated in the pardon” shall be removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(G) individuals exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial are removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F).

The pleadings demonstrate that the Plaintiff does not contend that he meets any of the statutory criteria that entitle him to removal from the registry and he did not argue any statutory entitlement to relief. However, Plaintiff contends that he is entitled to relief based upon equity.

The statute providing for lifetime registration is unambiguously worded. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (“A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life.” (emphasis added)).⁴ The South Carolina Supreme Court has specifically held that

³ In fact, I note that the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the South Carolina sex offender registry are provided by the same code section, to wit: S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430.

⁴ However, certain offenders must register every ninety days. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460(B).

[i]f a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning." Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute's operation. Id. Moreover, "it is beyond this Court's power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature." State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does "not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly").

Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 59, 644 S.E.2d 675, 677 (2007). It is also well-known that "equity follows the law." See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Smith v. Barr, 375 S.C. 157, 164, 650 S.E.2d 486, 490 (Ct. App. 2007); Morgan v. S.C. Budget & Control Bd., 377 S.C. 313, 319-20, 659 S.E.2d 263, 267 (Ct. App. 2008). Moreover, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that a "court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) (emphasis added)).

South Carolina law provides that "[w]hen providing an equitable remedy, the court may not ignore statutes, rules, and other precedent." Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Lonchar v. Thomas, 517 U.S. 314, 323, 116 S.Ct. 1293, 134 L.Ed.2d 440 (1996). Furthermore, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that "[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law" and that an "adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) citing 27 Am.Jur. 2d, Equity, § 94 (1966). The Supreme Court has noted that an "adequate remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity.” Id. South Carolina’s Sex Offender Registry provides an adequate remedy to the Plaintiff in that there are several statutory methods through which the Plaintiff could be legally removed from the registry. It appears that he simply does not qualify for them.

The issues presented in this case are analogous to legislatively mandated minimum sentences for criminal offenses. See S.C. Code Ann. § 16-11-330 (10 years); S.C. Code Ann. § 44-53-370 (various mandatory minimums for distribution or trafficking illegal drugs); S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-30 (30 years). Following convictions of these offenses, the South Carolina Legislature has unilaterally prohibited judges from sentencing individuals below the statutorily set amounts.⁵ However, these statutory minimums are, and have been consistently upheld as being, lawful. See State v. De La Cruz, 302 S.C. 13, 393 S.E.2d 184 (1990); State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 543 S.E.2d 541 (2001); State v. Johnson, 350 S.C. 543, 567 S.E.2d 486 (Ct. App. 2002). In fact, the South Carolina Supreme Court conclusively resolved this issue in State v. De La Cruz indicating [w]e have held in the past that “[t]he penalty assessed for a particular offense is, except in the rarest of cases, ‘purely a matter of legislative prerogative,’ and the legislature’s judgment will not be disturbed.” State v. Smith, 275 S.C. 164, 167, 268 S.E.2d 276, 277 (1980) (quoting Rummel v. Estelle, 445 U.S. 263, 100 S.Ct. 1133, 63 L.Ed.2d 382 (1980)). Judicial discretion in sentencing, in suspending sentences, and in designating that sentences run concurrent or consecutive is subject to statutory restriction. See Mistretta v. United States, 488 U.S. 361, ---, 109 S.Ct. 647, 650, 102 L.Ed.2d 714, 725-726 (1989), wherein the United States Supreme Court noted, “Congress, of course, has the power to fix the sentence for a federal crime, and the scope of judicial discretion with respect to a sentence is subject to congressional control.” (Citing United States v. Wiltberger, 18 U.S. (5 Wheat) 76, 5 L.Ed. 37 (1820); Ex Parte United States, 242 U.S. 27, 37 S.Ct. 72, 61 L.Ed. 129 (1916)).

⁵ In the same way, legislatively enacted maximum sentences also apply.

302 S.C. 13, 15-16, 393 S.E.2d 184, 186 (1990) (emphasis added).⁶ In addition, the Supreme Court has also noted that

[u]nder the mandatory sentencing guidelines, the prosecutor can still choose not to pursue the triggering offenses or to plea the charges down to non-triggering offenses. Choosing which crime to charge a defendant with is the essence of prosecutorial discretion, not choosing which sentence the court shall impose upon conviction. Further, we found the matter of sentencing if convicted of a triggering offense to be a matter within the province of the legislature. Id.

State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 56, 543 S.E.2d 541, 545 (2001). The duration of an individual's sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and there is no judicial discretion over this duration without violating the separation of powers mandated by the South Carolina Constitution. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8 ("In the government of this State, the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of the government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other."). Furthermore, South Carolina law is clear, "[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law." Lozada v. S.C. Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011) citing Noisette v. Ismail, 299 S.C. 243, 247, 384 S.E.2d 310, 312 (Ct. App. 1989) ("Unless the cause of action and the relief sought in a declaratory judgment action are distinctly equitable, the action will be considered one at law.").

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing and all applicable South Carolina law, there is no equitable remedy or equitable jurisdiction applicable to this matter and the Defendants are entitled to a judgment on the pleadings. For this Court to act as a "superlegislature" and to unilaterally deviate from an unchallenged and unambiguously worded statute would be contrary to South Carolina law and the South Carolina Constitution.

It is therefore ORDERED that the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is hereby GRANTED.

ORDER GRANTING JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS

2015 MAR 20 PM 1:59
CLERK OF COURT
FLORENCE COUNTY, S.C.

This matter came before me on March 19, 2015, for a motion hearing on the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings. The Defendants were represented at the hearing by Adam L. Whitsett, Esquire, General Counsel to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division.¹ The Plaintiff was represented by Charles T. Brooks, III, Esquire, of The Brooks Law Office, LLC. Based upon the arguments presented at the hearing and the applicable South Carolina law, I hereby GRANT the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings in this matter.

BACKGROUND

By way of background, the Plaintiff was convicted of Rape on or about the year 1975 and was sentenced to forty (40) years of incarceration for this conviction. The Plaintiff was released from incarceration on or about February 8, 1989. Upon the inception of the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry,² the Plaintiff was required to register as a sex offender. See State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's sex offender registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions"). The Plaintiff has registered since that time.

¹ The Defendants are additionally represented by Assistant Attorneys General Courtney Lowell and Marcie Greene.
² S.C. Code § 23-3-400 et seq.

CERTIFIED A TRUE COPY
Clerk of Court
FLORENCE COUNTY, S.C.

The Plaintiff filed this action seeking a declaratory judgment and requesting that this Court remove the Plaintiff from the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry based solely on equitable grounds. See Complaint. However, the Plaintiff concedes that he does not meet any of the statutory criteria for removal set forth in S.C. Code § 23-3-430, and that he has not sought to avail himself to any of these statutory avenues for removal. Id. Accordingly, the Defendants filed this Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings asserting that South Carolina law prohibits such equitable relief in this matter.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

"After the pleadings are closed but within such time as not to delay the trial, any party may move for judgment on the pleadings." Rule 12, SCRPC.

"Where the pleadings are fatally deficient in substance or fail to state a good cause of action in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, judgment on the pleadings is proper. Whereas here the pleadings disclose all facts necessary or where the pleadings present no issue of fact the Court may exercise its discretion." Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus., Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 422, 297 S.E.2d 638, 640 (1982). The grant of a judgment on the pleadings is within the discretion of the trial court. Id.

A "motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is proper where pleadings entitle a party to judgment without proof, by disclosure of all facts, where the pleadings present no issue of fact or present merely an immaterial issue." Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus., Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 422, 297 S.E.2d 638, 640 (1982) citing Wooten v. Std. Life and Casualty Ins. Co., 239 S.C. 243, 122 S.E.2d 637 (1961).

LAW / ANALYSIS

I find and conclude that the Defendants are entitled to a Judgment on the Pleadings because the pleadings demonstrate that there is no cause of action in favor of the plaintiff in this matter. South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry statutes, S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-400 et seq., provide the only lawful mechanisms and avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the registry can be removed.³ Pursuant to § 23-3-430(E), "SLED shall remove a person's name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person's adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered." S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(F), an offender who receives a pardon "based on a finding of not guilty specifically stated in the pardon" shall be removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). And finally, pursuant to § 23-3-430(G) individuals exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial are removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(G). I find and conclude that these are the only lawful avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the Registry can be removed. However, as noted above, the pleadings demonstrate that the Plaintiff does not meet any of these statutory criteria such that the Plaintiff is lawfully entitled to removal from the Registry. Accordingly, I find that there is no legal or constitutional basis on which this Court could grant the relief requested by the Plaintiff and judgment on the pleadings is proper. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (mandating lifetime registration in South Carolina); S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430 (setting forth the only avenues for removal); Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus., Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 297 S.E.2d 638 (1982).

³ In fact, I note that the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the South Carolina sex offender registry are provided by the same code section, to wit: S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430.

As a threshold matter, it is noteworthy that South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry is constitutional and the constitutionality of the Registry was not challenged in this action. See Complaint; State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions"); see also In re Justin B., 405 S.C. 391, 747 S.E.2d 774 (2013) cert. denied sub nom. Justin B. v. S. Carolina, 134 S. Ct. 1496 (2014) (finding South Carolina's lifetime electronic monitoring program constitutional). Moreover, I find and conclude that South Carolina's statutory lifetime registration requirement is set forth in an unambiguously worded statute. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 ("A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life." (emphasis added)).⁴ As such, South Carolina law mandates that there is no equitable jurisdiction in this matter. The South Carolina Supreme Court has specifically held that

[i]f a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning." Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute's operation. Id. Moreover, "it is beyond this Court's power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature." State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does "not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly").

Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 59, 644 S.E.2d 675, 677 (2007). It is also well-known that "equity follows the law." See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Smith v. Barr, 375 S.C. 157, 164, 650 S.E.2d 486, 490 (Ct. App. 2007); Morgan v. S.C. Budget & Control Bd., 377 S.C. 313, 319-20, 659 S.E.2d 263, 267 (Ct. App. 2008). Moreover, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that a "court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) (emphasis added). Accordingly, I find that equity must follow the law in this matter and that this Court's equitable powers must yield in the face of South Carolina's unambiguously worded Sex Offender Registry law, which mandates lifetime registration.

South Carolina jurisprudence also provides that "[w]hen providing an equitable remedy, the court may not ignore statutes, rules, and other precedent." Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Lonchar v. Thomas, 517 U.S. 314, 323, 116 S.Ct. 1293, 134 L.Ed.2d 440 (1996). Furthermore, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that "[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law" and that an "adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute." Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) citing 27 Am.Jur. 2d, Equity, § 94 (1966). The Supreme Court has also noted that an "adequate" remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity." Id. I find and conclude that this does not however mean that the person seeking relief must be eligible for the relief set forth in the statute; rather, "adequate relief" means only that some certain definitive statutory relief exists. Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 379 S.E.2d 119 (1989). Accordingly, I find and conclude that South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry provides an adequate remedy to the Plaintiff in this matter because there are several statutory methods in which the Plaintiff can be legally removed from the registry, he simply does not qualify for them. Therefore, judgment on the pleadings is proper.

This situation is analogous to legislatively mandated minimum sentences for criminal offenses. See S.C. Code Ann. § 16-11-330 (10 years); S.C. Code Ann. § 44-53-370 (various mandatory minimums for distribution or trafficking illegal drugs); S.C. Code Ann. § 16-3-30 (30 years). Following convictions of these offenses, the South Carolina Legislature has unilaterally prohibited judges from sentencing individuals below the statutorily set amounts.⁵ However, these statutory minimums are, and have been consistently upheld as being, lawful. See State v. De La Cruz, 302 S.C. 13, 393 S.E.2d 184 (1990); State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 543 S.E.2d 541 (2001); State v. Johnson, 350 S.C. 543, 567 S.E.2d 486 (Ct. App. 2002). In fact, the South Carolina Supreme Court conclusively resolved this issue in State v. De La Cruz indicating [w]e have held in the past that “[t]he penalty assessed for a particular offense is, except in the rarest of cases, ‘purely a matter of legislative prerogative,’ and the legislature’s judgment will not be disturbed.” State v. Smith, 275 S.C. 164, 167, 268 S.E.2d 276, 277 (1980) (quoting Rummel v. Estelle, 445 U.S. 263, 100 S.Ct. 1133, 63 L.Ed.2d 382 (1980)). Judicial discretion in sentencing, in suspending sentences, and in designating that sentences run concurrent or consecutive is subject to statutory restriction. See Mistretta v. United States, 488 U.S. 361, ---, 109 S.Ct. 647, 650, 102 L.Ed.2d 714, 725-726 (1989), wherein the United States Supreme Court noted, “Congress, of course, has the power to fix the sentence for a federal crime, and the scope of judicial discretion with respect to a sentence is subject to congressional control.” (Citing United States v. Wiltberger, 18 U.S. (5 Wheat) 76, 5 L.Ed. 37 (1820); Ex Parte United States, 242 U.S. 27, 37 S.Ct. 72, 61 L.Ed. 129 (1916)).

302 S.C. 13, 15-16, 393 S.E.2d 184, 186 (1990) (emphasis added).⁶ In addition, the Supreme Court has also noted that

[u]nder the mandatory sentencing guidelines, the prosecutor can still choose not to pursue the triggering offenses or to plea the charges down to non-triggering offenses. Choosing which crime to charge a defendant with is the essence of prosecutorial discretion, not choosing which sentence the court shall impose upon conviction. Further, we found the matter of sentencing if convicted of a triggering offense to be a matter within the province of the legislature. Id.

⁵ In the same way, legislatively enacted maximum sentences also apply.

⁶ It is noteworthy that sex offender registration has been consistently held not to be “punitive in purpose or effect as to constitute a criminal penalty.” State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002). However, the same sentiment would apply to an administrative requirement like registration in terms of the legislative prerogative.

State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 56, 543 S.E.2d 541, 545 (2001). Similarly, I find and conclude that the duration of an individual's sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and there is no judicial discretion over this duration without violating the separation of powers mandated by the South Carolina Constitution. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8 ("In the government of this State, the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of the government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other."). Furthermore, South Carolina law is clear, "[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law." Lozada v. S.C. Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011) citing Noisette v. Ismail, 299 S.C. 243, 247, 384 S.E.2d 310, 312 (Ct. App. 1989) ("Unless the cause of action and the relief sought in a declaratory judgment action are distinctly equitable, the action will be considered one at law.").

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing and all applicable South Carolina law, I find and conclude there is simply no equitable remedy or equitable jurisdiction applicable to this matter and the Defendants are entitled to a judgment on the pleadings. Furthermore, I find and conclude that for this court to act as a "superlegislature" and to unilaterally add language to an unchallenged, unambiguously worded statute would violate South Carolina law and the South Carolina Constitution. See Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989); S.C. Const. art. I, § 8.

Therefore, it is hereby ORDERED, DECREED, and ADJUDGED that the Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is GRANTED.

DEPUTY CLERK OF COURT
SUMTER COUNTY
SOUTH CAROLINA

This matter came before me on a Motion to Set Aside Judgment filed on behalf of the State of South Carolina. The Defendants were represented at the hearing by Adam L. Whitsett, General Counsel to the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division and Assistant Attorney General Courtney Lowell.¹ The Petitioner was represented by Jack D. Howle, Jr., Esquire, of the Third Circuit Chief Public Defender. Based upon the arguments presented at the hearing and the applicable South Carolina law, I hereby GRANT the Defendants' Motion to Set Aside Judgment in this matter.

BACKGROUND

In or about 1986, the Petitioner was tried in absentia in the General Sessions Court of Sumter County and was convicted of two counts of kidnapping.² As a result of the Petitioner's kidnapping convictions, the Petitioner was sentenced to imprisonment for the balance of his natural life. One of these convictions was for the kidnapping of a person under the age of eighteen who was not the Petitioner's child. The other involved the kidnapping of an adult.

² The Petitioner was also convicted of Assault and Battery with Intent to Kill, Assault and Battery with Intent to Kill 2nd, and Carrying a Concealed Weapon at that time, but those convictions do not bear on this action.

During the Petitioner's incarceration, the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act³ was passed. In or about 2002, the Petitioner was paroled and released from incarceration and was required to register as a sex offender at that time. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(C)(16) (Supp. 2000). The Petitioner's parole was revoked in 2008 and the Petitioner was returned to incarceration where he currently remains.

In or about February of 2011, the Petitioner filed a Motion of Sentence Clarification seeking removal from the registry. The matter was heard on April 2, 2012, subsequently this Court issued an order dated April 16, 2012 removing the Petitioner from the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry based on equitable grounds. The State of South Carolina filed a Motion to Set Aside Judgment pursuant to Rule 60(b) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

DISCUSSION

The Petitioner was properly registered as a sex offender upon being released from incarceration in 2002. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(C)(16) (Supp. 2000); see also State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's sex offender registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions"). The Petitioner's conviction involved the kidnapping of a person under the age of 18 who was not the Petitioner's child. As such, the plain language of § 23-3-430(C)(16), requires the Petitioner to register as a sex offender regardless of whether his kidnapping involved any criminal sexual offense or attempted criminal sexual offense. *Id.*⁴

³ S.C. Code § 23-3-400 et seq.

⁴ There is a different code section with different criteria that applies to individuals convicted of kidnapping adults. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(C)(15) (registration is required unless a "court makes a finding on the record that the offense did not involve criminal sexual offense or attempted criminal sexual offense").

South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry statutes, S.C. Code § 23-3-400 et seq., provide the only lawful mechanisms and avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the registry can be removed.⁵ Pursuant to § 23-3-430(E), "SLED shall remove a person's name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person's adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered." S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(F), an offender who receives a pardon "based on a finding of not guilty specifically stated in the pardon" shall be removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(G) individuals exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial are removed. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F).

In this case the Petitioner does not contend that he meets any of the statutory criteria that entitle the Petitioner to removal from the registry.

The statute providing for lifetime registration in South Carolina is unambiguously worded. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 ("A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life").⁶ The South Carolina Supreme Court has held that

[i]f a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning." Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute's operation. Id. Moreover, "it is beyond this Court's power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature." State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does "not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly").

⁵ In fact, I note that the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the South Carolina sex offender registry are provided by this same code section. See S.C. Code § 23-3-430.

⁶ However, certain offenders must register every ninety days. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460(B).

Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 59, 644 S.E.2d 675, 677 (2007).

It is also well-known that “equity follows the law.” See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Smith v. Barr, 375 S.C. 157, 164, 650 S.E.2d 486, 490 (Ct. App. 2007); Morgan v. S.C. Budget & Control Bd., 377 S.C. 313, 319-20, 659 S.E.2d 263, 267 (Ct. App. 2008). Moreover, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that a “court’s equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute.” Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) (emphasis added).

South Carolina law provides that “[w]hen providing an equitable remedy, the court may not ignore statutes, rules, and other precedent.” Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011) citing Lonchar v. Thomas, 517 U.S. 314, 323, 116 S.Ct. 1293, 134 L.Ed.2d 440 (1996). Furthermore, the South Carolina Supreme Court has held that “[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law” and that an “adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute.” Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989) citing 27 Am.Jur. 2d, Equity, § 94 (1966). The Supreme Court has also noted that an “adequate remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity.” Id.

South Carolina’s Sex Offender Registry provides an adequate remedy to the Petitioner in that there are several statutory methods through which the Petitioner could be legally removed from the registry, if he so qualifies.

The duration of an individual’s sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and there exists no judicial discretion without violating the separation of powers mandated by the South Carolina Constitution. South Carolina law is clear, “[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law.” Lozada v. S.C. Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011) citing Noisette v. Ismail, 299 S.C. 243, 247, 384 S.E.2d 310, 312 (Ct. App. 1989) (“Unless the cause of action and the relief sought in a declaratory judgment action are distinctly equitable, the action will be considered one at law.”).

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing and all applicable South Carolina law, there is no equitable remedy or equitable jurisdiction applicable to this matter and this Court’s previous order should be set aside and vacated pursuant to Rule 60(b) of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.

For this court to act as a “superlegislature” and to unilaterally add language to an unambiguously worded statute would violate South Carolina law and the South Carolina Constitution. See Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. Cnty. of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989); S.C. Const. art. I, § 8.

It is therefore ordered that the Defendants’ Motion to Set Aside Judgment is GRANTED and the Order of this Court entered on April 16, 2014 is hereby vacated.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

This case was initiated by Appellant filing on May 18, 2015, a Summons and a Petition for Declaratory Judgment for equitable relief for removal from the registry requirements under "Megan's Law", mandating registration with the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry. (R. pp 5-10)

Respondents filed an answer generally denying the allegations in Appellant's Petition for Declaratory Judgment. (R. pp 11-14) Respondents also filed a Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings asserting that the Appellant was not entitled to equitable relief because the statute governing removal from the Registry provides an adequate remedy at law. (R. pp 15-21)

A hearing was held on September 29, 2015, on the Respondents'/Defendants' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings before the Honorable Tanya A. Gee. The Court entered judgment in favor of the motion concluding that the Appellant was not entitled to any equitable remedy and that no equitable jurisdiction applied to the relief the Appellant sought. (R. pp 1-4) This appeal follows.

ARGUMENT

Summary judgment is defined by Rule 12(c), SCRCF: If, on a motion for judgment on the pleadings, matters outside the pleadings are presented to and not excluded by the Court, the motion shall be treated as one for summary judgment and disposed of as provided in Rule 56, and all parties shall be given reasonable opportunity to present all material made pertinent to such a motion by Rule 56. Hooper v. Ebenezer, 377 S.C. 217, 659 S.E.2d 213 (Ct. App. 2008).

When reviewing a grant of summary judgment, the appellate court applies the same standard which governs the trial court under Rule 56(c), SCRCF: summary judgment is proper when there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Id. citing Pye v. Estate of Fox, 369 S.C. 555, 633 S.E.2d 505 (2006); Houck v. State Farm Fire & Cas. Ins. Co., 366 S.C. 7, 11, 620 S.E.2d 326, 329 (2005); Bradley v. Doe, 374 S.C. 622, 649 S.E.2d 153 (Ct. App. 2007); Bennett v. Investors Title Ins. Co., 370 S.C. 578, 635 S.E.2d 649 (Ct. App. 2006).

In determining whether any triable issues of fact exist, the evidence and all reasonable inferences therefrom must be viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Id. citing Helms Realty, Inc. v. Gibson-Wall Co., 363 S.C. 334, 611 S.E.2d 485 (2005); Medical Univ. of S.C. v. Arnaud, 360 S.C. 615, 602 S.E.2d 747 (2004); Hackworth v. Greenville County, 371 S.C. 99, 102, 637 S.E.2d 320, 322 (Ct. App. 2006); Rife v. Hitachi Constr. Mack Co., Ltd., 363 S.C. 209, 609 S.E.2d 565 (Ct. App. 2005).

Further, since the purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases where the services of a fact finder are not necessary, it is a drastic remedy. Id. citing Dawkins v.

Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003)(quoting George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001); Moore v. Weinberg, 373 S.C. 209, 217, 644 S.E.2d 740, 744 (Ct. App. 2007); Mulherin-Howell v. Cobb, 362 S.C. 588, 596-97, 608 S.E.2d 587, 592 (Ct. App. 2005). “Because it is a drastic remedy, summary judgment should be cautiously invoked to ensure that a litigant is not improperly deprived of a trial on disputed factual issues. Id. citing Helena Chem. Co. v. Allianz Underwriters Ins. Co., 357 S.C. 631, 644, 594 S.E.2d 455, 462 (2004); B & B Liquors, Inc. v. O’Neil, 361 S.C. 267, 270, 603 S.E.2d 629, 631 (Ct. App. 2004).

I. THE TRIAL COURT ERRED BY GRANTING RESPONDENTS JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS BECAUSE A GENUINE ISSUE EXISTS AS TO THE MATERIAL FACT REGARDING VIABLE REMEDIES AVAILABLE FOR APPELLANT FOR REMOVAL FROM THE SOUTH CAROLINA SEX OFFENDER REGISTRY.

The Respondents argued that judgment should be granted on the pleadings because the pleadings herein presented no cause of action in favor of the plaintiff pursuant to the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry statutes, S.C. Code Ann. Sec. 23-3-400 et seq. (R. p 16)

The Respondents relied on Rosenthal v. Unarco Indus. Inc., 278 S.C. 420, 422, 297 S.E.2d 638, 640 (1982) citing Wooten v. Std. Life and Casualty Ins. Co., 239 S.C, 243, 122 S.E.2d 637 (1961), asserting a “motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is proper where pleadings entitle a party to judgment without proof, by disclosure of all facts, where the pleadings present no issue of fact or present merely an immaterial issue.”

In further support for the Respondents’ Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings, Respondents argue that the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry law, specifically S.C. Code Ann Sec. 23-3-460, provides that a person is required to register biannually for life and the statute provides remedies for removal. (R. p 17) The Respondents argue that since the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry statutes are clear and unambiguous on the face of the statutes, no equitable remedy exists for the Appellant to be removed from the Registry, other than the statutory remedies provided by the law. (R. p 17)

South Carolina Code Ann. Section 23-3-430(E) provides "SLED shall remove a person's name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person's adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered." Another statutory remedy for removal is found in South Carolina Code Section 23-3-430(F) which provides an offender who receives a pardon "based on a finding of not guilty specifically state in the pardon" shall be removed from the registry. A third category for statutory remedy for removal is found in South Carolina Code Section 23-3-430(G) where a person may be removed if exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial.

The Appellant argues that equity was appropriate here because the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws regarding removal did not provide an adequate or complete remedy at law for Appellant because Appellant could not avail himself of any of the statutory remedies because none of the statutory provisions for removal apply to Appellant's situation because he pled guilty to a qualifying offense and served his time. (R. p 23) He has subsequently registered and complied with all of the registry provisions since his release from incarceration. The statutory provisions specify removal is possible in limited situations such as the reversal of a conviction, a specific pardon of not guilty, or exoneration through a new trial or a writ of habeas corpus; none of which apply to Appellant's situation. The statutory provisions do not allow for any type of review for removal especially where there is no evidence of the likelihood of re-offense. Therefore, in the case where a person pleads guilty and has no grounds to avail him or herself of the statutory grounds for removal from the registry, no adequate and complete remedy exists at law and equitable relief would be appropriate.

After considering the arguments of the parties, the Trial Court concluded that there was no genuine issue of material fact to suggest that Appellant/Plaintiff meets any of the statutory grounds for removal from South Carolina's Sex Offender Registry law, which mandates lifetime registration. Accordingly, the Trial Court concluded that the Respondents/Defendants were entitled to judgment as a matter of law. The Trial Court erred in granting the Respondents' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings because the issue here, specifically as it relates to the motion, is the fact that Appellant does not have an adequate or complete remedy at law for removal from the Registry because the statutory provisions are not a complete and adequate remedy at law, especially when the statutory provision do not include any review mechanisms for lifelong registration, therefore equitable relief would be appropriate.

While the Trial Court concluded that the Registry laws are unambiguous as to the requirement for registration for life (R. p 4), the genuine issue of fact in dispute here is the law's application to a person, such as Appellant, who has no legal remedy available under the law, thereby requiring that equitable relief be available. As in the case here, if the statutory provisions for removal are limited in nature, then the provisions do not provide a complete and adequate remedy at law and equity is and should be available for relief. A genuine issue of fact then exists as to whether the Appellant can avail himself of relief through and pursuant to the equitable remedies of the court when an adequate and complete remedy does not exist under the law.

The very fact that the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws do not provide a remedy at law for Appellant's situation is the reason why Appellant filed an action seeking equitable relief for removal from the Registry. The Trial Court's granting of the Respondents' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is the type of drastic remedy that is error, thereby depriving the Appellant of a trial on the disputed factual issues of whether equitable relief can be afforded to the Appellant for removal from the Registry. As a result, the Order of the Trial Court should be reversed and the case remanded for a full hearing on the disputed issues.

II. THE TRIAL COURT ERRED BY GRANTING RESPONDENTS JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS BECAUSE THE SOUTH CAROLINA SEX OFFENDER REGISTRY LAWS DO NOT PROVIDE AN ADEQUATE AND COMPLETE REMEDY AT LAW, THEREBY MAKING EQUITABLE RELIEF AN APPROPRIATE REMEDY FOR APPELLANT.

Summary judgment is defined by Rule 12(c), SCRCP: If, on a motion for judgment on the pleadings, matters outside the pleadings are presented to and not excluded by the Court, the motion shall be treated as one for summary judgment and disposed of as provided in Rule 56, and all parties shall be given reasonable opportunity to present all material made pertinent to such a motion by Rule 56. Hooper v. Ebenezer, 377 S.C. 217, 659 S.E.2d 213 (Ct. App. 2008).

When reviewing a grant of summary judgment, the appellate court applies the same standard which governs the trial court under Rule 56(c), SCRCP: summary judgment is proper when there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Id. citing Pye v. Estate of Fox, 369 S.C. 555, 633 S.E.2d 505 (2006); *Houck v. State Farm Fire & Cas. Ins. In determining whether any triable issues of fact exist, the evidence and all reasonable inferences therefrom must be viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Id. citing Helms Realty, Inc. v. Gibson-Wall Co., 363 S.C. 334, 611 S.E.2d 485 (2005); Medical Univ. of S.C. v. Arnaud, 360 S.C. 615, 602 S.E.2d 747 (2004); *Hackworth v. Further, since the purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases where the services of a fact finder are not necessary, it is a drastic remedy. Id. citing Dawkins v. Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003)(quoting George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001); Moore v. Weinberg, 373 S.C. 209, 217, 644 S.E.2d 740, 744 (Ct. App. 2007); Mulherin-Howell v. Cobb, 362 S.C. 588, 596-97, 608 S.E.2d 587, 592 (Ct. App. 2005). “Because it is a drastic remedy, summary judgment should be cautiously invoked to ensure that a litigant is not improperly deprived of a trial on disputed factual issues. Id. citing Helena Chem. Co. v. Allianz Underwriters Ins. Co., 357 S.C. 631, 644, 594 S.E.2d 455, 462 (2004); B & B Liquors, Inc. v. O’Neil, 361 S.C. 267, 270, 603 S.E.2d 629, 631 (Ct. App. 2004).

Generally, equitable relief is available only where there is no adequate remedy at law. Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S.C. Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989). “An adequate remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity.” Id.

Respondents argue that the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws provide the complete remedy for statutory removal from the Registry. (R. p 17) Appellant argues that the statutory remedies do not apply to him because the provisions only offer limited situations in which a person can petition for removal from the register and an entire class of people like Appellant do not have adequate relief under the law for removal when no provisions exists when a person has pled guilty, served the sentence and registers in compliance with the law for a certain period of time, and has no remedy for review for lifetime registration. (R. p 38) Therefore, the Appellant argues that there is no remedy at law for his removal from the Registry because the remedies are not certain, practical, or complete as they relate to his situation. (R. p 38) Consequentially, if no remedy exists at law, the Appellant should be able to avail himself of the equitable remedies of the court.

The Trial Court granted Judgment on the Pleadings, concluding that the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws offered an adequate and complete remedy at law for removal from the registry, therefore, equitable relief would not be appropriate for the Appellant. (R. pp 3-4) The Trial Court's ruling is in error because a genuine issue as to the material fact of whether the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws offered an adequate and complete remedy at law for removal from the Registry for Appellant exists. It was inappropriate for the Trial Court to grant relief on the Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings since there is a dispute between the parties regarding the factual issues of whether the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws offer an adequate and complete legal remedy for removal from the Registry, or if equitable relief is available in the absence of adequate and complete legal relief under the statute. Since there is a genuine disputed issue as to the facts, the granting of Judgment on the Pleadings was not appropriate.

The Trial Court's granting of the Respondents' Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings is the type of drastic remedy that is error, thereby depriving the Appellant of a trial on the disputed factual issues of whether equitable relief can be afforded to the Appellant for removal from the Registry in light of the fact that the statutory remedies are not an adequate and complete remedy at law. As a result, the Order of the Trial Court should be reversed and the case remanded for a full hearing on the disputed issues.

Also, the Trial Court's Order notes that Appellant/Plaintiff argues that lifelong registration constitutes a "wrong" that would justify the Court fashioning an equitable personal remedy. (R. p 3) The Trial Court found this argument without merit. However, in State v. Dykes, 403 S.C. 499, 744 S.E.2d 505 (2013), the Appellant contested the Circuit Court's Order requiring her to be subjected to satellite monitoring for the rest of her life pursuant to the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws, specifically, S.C. Code Ann. Section 23-3-540(C) and (H). (R. pp 38-39) The South Carolina Supreme Court invalidated the section of the statute that required lifetime satellite monitoring without judicial review as unconstitutional and left effective the remaining portion of the statute.

Herein, while the Respondents argued that the Appellant was asking the Trial Court to rewrite the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry laws by providing a remedy not allowed by the statute, the Appellant in fact was asking the Trial Court to allow the exercise of equitable relief since the statute does not provide an adequate and complete remedy at law for removal from the Registry. The Appellant's request for equitable relief is far less imposing than the invalidation of a section of the statute by the South Carolina Supreme Court.

The Appellant maintains that the equitable relief he seeks should proceed to trial on the disputed facts and that the granting of the Motion for Judgment on the pleadings was improper by the Trial Court.

CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, the Order Granting Judgment on the Pleadings of the Trial Court should be reversed and/or remanded for a full hearing on the disputed issues, and for the granting of any other remedy that is just and proper in this case.

CONSTITUTION

S.C. Const. art. I, § 8	6, 8, 12
-------------------------------	----------

STATEMENT OF ISSUES ON APPEAL

- I. The trial court did not err in granting summary judgment to respondents because no genuine issue of material fact exists and the only relief sought in this action is not available as a matter of law.
- II. The trial court did not err in granting summary judgment to respondents because the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act (SORA), S.C. Code §§ 23-3-400 et seq., provides adequate relief to all sex offenders in South Carolina, including appellant.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The appellant was convicted of criminal sexual conduct with a minor, third degree in violation of § 16-3-655(C) of the South Carolina Code of Laws on or about January 18, 2005. (Trial Court Order p. 1)(R. p. 1). The Plaintiff was sentenced to a Youthful Offender Act sentence for a determinate term not to exceed six (6) years. Id. Upon being released from incarceration, the Plaintiff was required to register as a sex offender pursuant to the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act, § 23-3-400 et seq. ("SORA") and did in fact so register. Id. On or about May 18, 2015, the appellant filed a summons and complaint initiating this action seeking only equitable relief. (Complaint p. 3)(R. p. 8). Further, the appellant acknowledges that he does not meet the statutory criteria for removal set forth in the plain language of SORA. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E), (F), (G). (Tr. pp. 12,13)(R. pp. 36-7). The respondents filed an answer and a motion for summary judgment. The Honorable Tanya A. Gee heard the motion on September 29, 2015 and granted respondents summary judgment in an order filed on October 11, 2015. This appeal follows.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

“When reviewing a grant of summary judgment, appellate courts apply the same standard applied by the trial court pursuant to Rule 56(c), SCRCP.” Turner v. Milliman, 392 S.C. 116, 121-22, 708 S.E.2d 766, 769 (2011) (citing Fleming v. Rose, 350 S.C. 488, 493, 567 S.E.2d 857, 860 (2002)).

A motion for summary judgment shall be granted “if the pleadings ... show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law.” George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001) (citing Rule 56(c), SCRCP) (emphasis in original).

“The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder.” Bankers Trust of South Carolina v. Benson, 267 S.C. 152, 155, 226 S.E.2d 703, 704 (1976).

When an appeal involves stipulated or undisputed facts, an appellate court is free to review whether the trial court properly applied the law to those facts. WDW Properties v. City of Sumter, 342 S.C. 6, 10, 535 S.E.2d 631, 632 (2000) (citing J.K. Constr., Inc. v. Western Carolina Regional Sewer Authority, 336 S.C. 162, 519 S.E.2d 561 (1999)).

ARGUMENT

- I. The trial court did not err in granting summary judgment to respondents because no genuine issue of material fact exists and the only relief sought in this action is not available as a matter of law.

Based on the following, respondents assert there is no genuine issue of material fact in dispute in this matter. Further, there is no factual dispute requiring the services of a fact finder. Accordingly, the trial court properly exercised her discretion in granting summary judgment to respondents. See George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001); Rule 56(c), SCRCP.

As a threshold matter, it is noteworthy that appellant is not challenging the constitutionality of his SORA registration requirement. (Tr. p. 13)(R. p. 37). Nevertheless, the appellant's non-punitive SORA registration requirement is in fact constitutional. See State v. Walls, 348 S.C. 26, 31, 558 S.E.2d 524, 526 (2002) (holding South Carolina's registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions."); Hendrix v. Taylor, 353 S.C. 542, 552, 579 S.E.2d 320, 325 (2003) (holding that "the length of time one must be listed on the sex offender registry is non-punitive, and it cannot constitute a deprivation of a constitutionally protected liberty interest."). In addition, SORA is intended for investigative, statistical, and public safety purposes for the citizens of South Carolina and is not meant to punish or violate one's constitutional rights. Section 23-3-400 of the South Carolina Code of Laws specifically provides:

The intent of this article is to promote the state's fundamental right to provide for the public health, welfare, and safety of its citizens. Notwithstanding this legitimate state purpose, these provisions are not intended to violate the guaranteed constitutional rights of those who have violated our nation's laws.

The sex offender registry will provide law enforcement with the tools needed in investigating criminal offenses. Statistics show that sex offenders often pose a high risk of re-offending. Additionally, law enforcement's efforts to protect communities, conduct investigations, and apprehend offenders who commit sex offenses are impaired by the lack of information about these convicted offenders who live within the law enforcement agency's jurisdiction.

S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-400.

Appellant was convicted of criminal sexual conduct with a minor in the third degree and this conviction mandates lifetime registration in South Carolina pursuant to SORA. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (setting forth the circumstances requiring registration in South Carolina and the mandatory lifetime duration of such registration); (Trial Court Order p. 1)(R. p. 1). Moreover, SORA's statutory lifetime registration requirement exists for all sex offenders, including the appellant, and is set forth in a clear and unambiguously worded statute. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 ("A person required to register pursuant to this article is required to register biannually for life.")¹

As the trial court correctly held, SORA lists the only mechanisms and avenues by which an individual who is properly registered pursuant to SORA can be removed from the registry.² See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E), (F), (G). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(E), "SLED shall remove a person's name and any other information concerning that person from the sex offender registry immediately upon notification by the Attorney General that the person's adjudication, conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere for an offense listed in subsection (C) was reversed, overturned, or vacated on appeal and a final judgment has been rendered.” S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(E). Pursuant to § 23-3-430(F), an offender who receives a pardon “based on a finding of not guilty specifically stated in the pardon” shall be removed from sex offender registry. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). And finally, § 23-3-430(G) mandates removal for individuals exonerated subsequent to filing a petition for a writ of habeas corpus or a motion for a new trial. S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430(F). These are the only lawful avenues by which an individual who is properly placed on the SORA registry can be removed.

² In fact, the mechanisms for both placement on and removal from the South Carolina sex offender registry are provided by this same code section. See S.C. Code § 23-3-430.

However, there is no genuine issue of material fact to suggest that appellant meets any of these statutory criteria. Rather, as the appellant concedes, appellant has not even sought to avail himself of any of the statutory avenues for removal set forth in SORA. (Initial Brief p. 4) (Tr. pp. 12, 13)(R. pp. 36-7). Accordingly, the trial court correctly held that there is no legal or constitutional basis for the appellant to be removed from the SORA registry. Therefore, the trial court correctly granted judgment as a matter of law to the respondents. See S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (mandating lifetime registration in South Carolina); S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430 (setting forth the only avenues for removal).

The appellant’s entire argument in this action is that his non-punitive and constitutional SORA registration requirement is somehow a “wrong” in need of an equitable remedy. This argument is without merit and was correctly rejected by the trial court. The constitutional application of a clear, unambiguous, and non-punitive statute is not a “wrong” cognizable in the law. See State v. Walls, 348 S.C. at 31, 558 S.E.2d at 526 (holding South Carolina’s registry constitutional and specifically finding that “the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions.”);

Hendrix, 353 S.C. at 552, 579 S.E.2d at 325 (holding that “the length of time one must be listed on the sex offender registry is non-punitive, and it cannot constitute a deprivation of a constitutionally protected liberty interest.”). Further, it is well-known that “equity follows the law.” See Regions Bank v. Wingard Properties, Inc., 394 S.C. 241, 254-55, 715 S.E.2d 348, 355 (Ct. App. 2011). Moreover, “[w]hether an individual must be placed on the sex offender registry is a question of law.” Lozada v. South Carolina Law Enforcement Div., 395 S.C. 509, 512, 719 S.E.2d 258, 259 (2011) (citing Noisette v. Ismail, 299 S.C. 243, 247, 384 S.E.2d 310, 312 (Ct. App. 1989)).

The South Carolina Supreme Court has also held unequivocally that “the court’s equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute.” Santee Cooper Resort, Inc. v. S. Carolina Pub. Serv. Comm’n, 298 S.C. 179, 185, 379 S.E.2d 119, 123 (1989)(emphasis added); see also Key Corporate Capital, Inc. v. County of Beaufort, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007) (finding error in fashioning an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute setting forth certain remedies). As such, the trial court’s rejection of the appellant’s equitable claim was correct and its findings should not be disturbed on appeal.

Furthermore, for any court to fashion an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute would be a clear violation of the South Carolina Constitution’s mandate for the separation of powers. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8. The South Carolina Constitution specifically provides that “the legislative, executive, and judicial powers of the government shall be forever separate and distinct from each other, and no person or persons exercising the functions of one of said departments shall assume or discharge the duties of any other.” S.C. Const. art. I, § 8. The duration of sex offender registration is a matter of public policy that is solely in the province of the South Carolina Legislature. As such, any attempt by any court to invade the Legislature's exclusive province is a violation of the separation of powers and is unconstitutional. Id.

In addition, the South Carolina Supreme Court has specifically held that

If a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another meaning." Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute's operation. Id. Moreover, "it is beyond this Court's power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature." State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does "not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly").

Key Corporate Capital, 373 S.C. at 59, 644 S.E.2d at 675 (emphasis added). This entire action sought for the trial court to impermissibly and unconstitutionally act as a "superlegislature" and to add language to an unambiguously worded constitutional statute. As such, the trial court correctly exercised her discretion and rejected this claim as a matter of law.

This situation is also comparable to legislatively mandated sentences for criminal offenses, whether minimums or maximums. With regard to sentencing for an offense that has a mandatory sentence range, the South Carolina Legislature has unilaterally prohibited judges from sentencing individuals outside the statutorily set amounts. However, these statutory ranges, and more specifically the statutorily mandated minimum sentences are lawful, and have been consistently upheld as being such. See State v. De

La Cruz, 302 S.C. 13, 393 S.E.2d 184 (1990); State v. Jones, 344 S.C. 48, 543 S.E.2d 541 (2001); State v. Johnson, 350 S.C. 543, 567 S.E.2d 486 (Ct. App. 2002). In fact, the South Carolina Supreme Court conclusively resolved this issue in De La Cruz indicating

[w]e have held in the past that “[t]he penalty assessed for a particular offense is, except in the rarest of cases, ‘purely a matter of legislative prerogative,’ and the legislature’s judgment will not be disturbed.” State v. Smith, 275 S.C. 164, 167, 268 S.E.2d 276, 277 (1980) (quoting Rummel v. Estelle, 445 U.S. 263, 100 S.Ct. 1133, 63 L.Ed.2d 382 (1980)). Judicial discretion in sentencing, in suspending sentences, and in designating that sentences run concurrent or consecutive is subject to statutory restriction. See Mistretta v. United States, 488 U.S. 361, ----, 109 S.Ct. 647, 650, 102 L.Ed.2d 714, 725-726 (1989), wherein the United States Supreme Court noted, “Congress, of-course, has the power to fix the sentence for a federal crime, and the scope of judicial discretion with respect to a sentence is subject to congressional control.” (citing United States v. Wiltberger, 18 U.S. (5 Wheat) 76, 5 L.Ed. 37 (1820); Ex Parte United States, 242 U.S. 27, 37 S.Ct. 72, 61 L.Ed. 129 (1916)).

302 S.C. at 15-16, 393 S.E.2d at 186 (emphasis added).³ Similarly, the duration of an individual’s sex offender registration is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and that there is no judicial discretion over this duration without violating the South Carolina Constitution and South Carolina law. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-430; S.C. Code Ann. § 23-3-460 (setting forth lifetime registration in South Carolina in an unambiguously worded statute); Hendrix, 353 S.C. at 552, 579 S.E.2d at 325 (holding that “the length of time one must be listed on the sex offender registry is non-punitive, and it cannot constitute a deprivation of a constitutionally protected liberty interest.”). As such, the trial court properly exercised her discretion in granting summary judgment to respondents in this matter.

The appellant also attempts to assert that there is a material fact in dispute as to the existence or non-existence of the equitable relief sought in this matter. (Brief of Appellant pp. 5-6). This argument is without merit because any argument regarding the availability of an equitable remedy, or any remedy for that matter, is purely a matter of law. There is no factual dispute at issue whatsoever as to whether South Carolina courts can simply disregard the South Carolina law and remove an individual from the SORA registry in equity. As such, there is no material fact in dispute and trial court correctly granted judgment as a matter of law to the respondents in this matter. Therefore, the trial court's decision should be upheld and affirmed in its entirety.

II. The trial court did not err in granting summary judgment to respondents because the South Carolina Sex Offender Registry Act (SORA), S.C. Code §§ 23-3-400 et seq., provides adequate relief to all sex offenders in South Carolina, including appellant.

Respondents also assert that SORA provides adequate relief to all sex offenders, including the appellant. It is noteworthy yet again that there is no challenge whatsoever to the constitutionality of SORA in this action. (Tr. p. 13)(R. p. 37); see also State v. Walls, 348 S.C. at 31, 558 S.E.2d at 526 (holding South Carolina's registry constitutional and specifically finding that "the Act does not violate the ex post facto clauses of the state or federal constitutions"); Hendrix, 353 S.C. at 552, 579 S.E.2d at 325 (holding that "the length of time one must be listed on the sex offender registry is non-punitive, and it cannot constitute a deprivation of a constitutionally protected liberty interest."). Rather, the only argument set forth in this action is that the South Carolina Legislature enacted an incomplete statute and "should have" afforded individuals like the appellant a "more" meaningful opportunity to seek removal from the SORA registry. As discussed in Section I, supra, the duration of an individual's SORA registration requirement is purely a matter of legislative prerogative and whether or not the South Carolina Legislature "should" add additional language to the clear and unambiguous provisions of SORA is a matter for the Legislature that is not constitutionally subject to judicial review. See Id.

As noted by the trial court, the South Carolina Supreme Court has specifically held that "the court's equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute." Santee Cooper, 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123 (emphasis added). In addition, the Court has specifically held that meaning.” Buist v. Huggins, 367 S.C. 268, 276, 625 S.E.2d 636, 640 (2006) (internal quotes and citation omitted). Instead, the words of the statute must be given their plain and ordinary meaning without resorting to subtle or forced construction to limit or expand the statute’s operation. Id. Moreover, “it is beyond this Court’s power to effect a change in the statutes enacted by the Legislature.” State v. Corey D., 339 S.C. 107, 120, 529 S.E.2d 20, 27 (2000); see also Keyserling v. Beasley, 322 S.C. 83, 86, 470 S.E.2d 100, 101 (1996) (this Court does “not sit as a superlegislature to second guess the wisdom or folly of decisions of the General Assembly”).

If a statute's language is plain, unambiguous, and conveys a clear meaning, the rules of statutory interpretation are not needed and the court has no right to impose another

Key Corporate Capital, 373 S.C. at 59, 644 S.E.2d at 675 (emphasis added).

Moreover, the South Carolina Supreme Court has noted that “[e]quitable relief is generally available only where there is no adequate remedy at law” and that an “adequate legal remedy may be provided by statute.” Santee Cooper, 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123 (1989) (citing 27 Am.Jur. 2d, Equity, § 94 (1966) (emphasis added)). The Santee Cooper Court further noted that an “‘adequate’ remedy at law is one which is as certain, practical, complete and efficient to attain the ends of justice and its administration as the remedy in equity.” Id. This does not however mean that the person seeking relief must be eligible for the relief set forth in the statute. Rather, it means only that some certain definitive statutory relief exists. Key Corporate Capital, 373 S.C. 55, 644 S.E.2d 675 (2007); Santee Cooper, 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123. Furthermore, it is noteworthy that “[w]hen providing an equitable remedy, the court may not ignore statutes, rules, and other precedent.” Regions Bank, 394 S.C. at 254-55, 715 S.E.2d at 355 (citing Lonchar v. Thomas, 517 U.S. 314, 323, 116 S.Ct. 1293, 134 L.Ed.2d 440 (1996)).

Here, there is no dispute that some certain definitive statutory relief exists in SORA because § 23-3-430(E), (F), (G) clearly set forth definitive means by which an individual can seek removal from the SORA registry. However, despite the existence of definitive statutory relief, the appellant, who has not even sought to avail himself of such relief, argues that because the South Carolina Legislature “should have” added more avenues for relief and the courts should step in and add language to an unambiguously worded constitutional statute. As discussed in Section I, supra, for any court to fashion an equitable remedy in the face of an unambiguously worded statute such as SORA would be a clear violation of the South Carolina Constitution’s mandate for the separation of powers. See S.C. Const. art. I, § 8. As such, the trial court correctly held that “the court’s equitable powers must yield in the face of an unambiguously worded statute” and that “equity follows the law”. Regions Bank, 394 S.C. at 254-55, 715 S.E.2d at 355; Santee Cooper, 298 S.C. at 185, 379 S.E.2d at 123 (emphasis added). Because SORA sets forth an adequate remedy for the appellant, and all sex offenders in South Carolina, the trial court properly held that equitable relief is not available and properly exercised her discretion in granting respondents judgment as a matter of law in this matter. Therefore, the trial court’s decision should be upheld and affirmed in its entirety.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, based on the foregoing and the applicable laws of the State of South Carolina, this Court should uphold and affirm the trial court's decision in its entirety.

v.

Mark Keel, Director of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division and the State of South Carolina Respondent

PETITION FOR REHEARING

Appellant, Green, petitions the Court of Appeals to rehear/reconsider its ruling issued on May 11, 2017 in this matter based on, but not limited to, the following reasons;

A. The trial Court as well as the Court of Appeals have overlooked issues of material fact regarding remedies available for individuals for removal from the South Carolina Sexual Offender Registry, and;

B. The trial Court as well as the Court of Appeals has overlooked the fact that the Sex Offender Registry laws do not provide an adequate remedy and therefore equitable remedy should be made available, as appropriate.

For the reasons aforementioned the Court of Appeals should reconsider its decision.
