RE: State v. Breanna Flannery
Appellate Case No.: 2016-001977

SC Court of Appeals

Dear Ms. Kitchings,

The Record on Appeal is due to be served and filed today. I have just returned from a week long vacation in Seattle, which was preceded by a week-long freeze that took place in Charleston. I imagine Columbia experienced something similar, but due to a lack of salt or snowplows, roads remained unsafe for an entire week after the snow fell. As timing would have it, I immediately left for vacation in the day or so after the thaw. I landed in Charleston this morning expecting to print and file the required bound and unbound copies. However, Apple applied some sort of update to my computer, which ended my subscription to Microsoft.

Instead of the normal work I would expect to do on my office computer, my access to all Microsoft programs was completely restricted. This prompted my phoning Microsoft and ultimately having the problem solved, but only after precious hours of time ticked away in my attempts to meet the above-reference deadline. I had hoped to prepare and have the Record on Appeal ready for mailing, and even spoke with the clerk about what was required. But given the extreme weather event, followed by my previously planned vacation, and returning home to a computer system that would not function without nearly two hours of tech support, I am unable to timely submit my client's Record on Appeal.

While it is not my intention to cause unnecessary delay, I am hereby requesting an extra day to file the record on appeal. All copies, bound and unbound will be out in tomorrow's mail. I apologize for the delay, however, I can assure the Court, this request comes on the heels of a great deal of stressful planning and preparation gone awry.

With best wishes, I remain
