Re: Veritext Job #2279426

Dear Ms. Barfield:

I am in receipt of your letter to our Client Services Department dated January 11, 2018. As I believe we have conveyed to you previously, all of the parties did not show up to the deposition and therefore, it did not go forward. No one ordered a transcript or Certificate of Non-Appearance at that time. In the interim, the court reporter's computer was hacked and all of her files, including the brief transcript, were corrupted. Given technology today, this is not that unusual. Fortunately, this does not happen too often but it does occur. Our reporters are told to install the latest anti-virus software and to continually back up but mistakes do happen.

As previously stated, we are more than willing to provide you with a Certificate of Non-Appearance since the deposition did not go forward. We apologize again.

Very truly yours,
