

The Supreme Court of South Carolina

Travon Simuel, Petitioner

v.

State of South Carolina, Respondent

Appellate Case No. 2012-212851

---

ORDER

By order dated October 5, 2012, this appeal from the denial of petitioner's fourth application for post-conviction relief was dismissed because petitioner failed to show, as required by Rule 243(c), SCACR, an arguable basis for asserting the circuit court's determination that the application was untimely and impermissibly successive was erroneous. The order also prohibits petitioner from filing any further collateral actions in the circuit court challenging his convictions from 1998 without first obtaining permission from this Court to do so.

Petitioner has now filed a petition for rehearing. After careful consideration of the petition for rehearing, the Court is unable to discover that any material fact or principle of law has been either overlooked or disregarded, and hence, there is no basis for granting a rehearing. Accordingly, the petition for rehearing is denied.
