Hi Julie,

Is it possible that you could email the corrected transcript to me? Since the page count has not changed, I assume that the balance due of thirteen dollars is still the amount that I should send to you. I will put a check in the mail right away.

Hi Ms. Ashbrook,

I would like to order a transcript of the hearing held on June 15, 2017 in the Oldcastle APG South, Inc., et al versus Daniel B Albert, case # 2014-CP-23-05031. On the day of the hearing you estimated the cost of the transcript at $200.

Is $200 the correct amount that I should send to you, and if not, what is the correct amount? Do I simply mail a check to the address on the card you gave to me? Is a personal check okay? Please let me know the details so that I may properly order a transcript in this case within the ten day period within which I am required to order the transcript. I filed a notice of appeal on October 18, 2017. Since the ten day period ending on October 28, 2017 ends on a Saturday, I assume that I would have until Monday to complete the process to order the transcript, but it would be nice to complete it by tomorrow.

Unless you have some kind of order form that you want me to submit to you with my check, I will simply print a copy of this email and your response and include it with my check when I mail it to you.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter.

Hi Ms. Ashbrook,

I received the transcript and the invoice, but it was addressed to Daniel B. Hall instead of Daniel B. Albert, so you will want to correct that in the future if you mail anything else to me. One question that I have is what the procedure is for making corrections to the transcription. Most of the changes are probably minor, but there are some errors that could be substantive, and perhaps affect the record on appeal. Should I highlight portions that I believe were transcribed in error and note what I believe the accurate transcription should have been, or is there another procedure that I should follow?

I assume that the transcript was also provided to opposing counsel, is that the case? I assume that they would likewise have the opportunity to comment on the accuracy of the transcription, as well as the accuracy of any proposed changes that I make. Should I go ahead and send the check to you for thirteen dollars, as it is doubtful that corrections would add to the page count, or should I wait until after the transcript is final?

Feel free to call me at the number below if it is easier for you to discuss this by phone.

I apologize for addressing the letter incorrectly. I was working with Judge Hall that week, and I just did that inadvertently. I will correct it. If you don't think the transcript is correct, please tell me what you believe it should be by noting the changes you think it should be. I will then go check my audio to see if what you think it should be is correct or if the audio says differently. I will then notify you if there are any changes that need to be made. I do not believe opposing counsel has ordered it yet.
